Abbott Finds Surplus Quadrupled

Reports $121,500,000 In First Month, Aimed for $30,000,000

OTTAWA, May 26. (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott, aiming for a surplus of $30,000,000 in the current fiscal year, reported Friday that in the first month of the year his surplus amounted to $121,500 000.

But, he said, the figures for the first month cannot be "taken as indicative of the probable result for the fiscal year as a whole."

"April is always an abnormal month as a large portion of the expenditures made during April are attributable to the previous fiscal year and are charged to that year in the government's account."

Revenues amounted to $218,-300,000, an increase of $52,200,000 over the corresponding month of 1950. Expenditures totalled $96,-800,000, an increase of $3,800,-000.

Defence Expenditures

Mr. Abott's report showed that defence expenditure[illegible] 540,000 higher than a year ago. They totalled $25,646,243 compared with $20,101,340.

partment appeared for the first created defence production de-

Expenditures of the newly time and amounted to close to $300,000. A sum of $68,000 was earmarked for general and administrative expenditures and $200,000 for capital assistance to defence industries.

Family allowances at $26,274 showed an increase of more than $1,000,000.

On the revenue side, income tax collections amounted to more than $70,000,000 compared with $49,000,000 in the corresponding month of 1950. Corporation income tax collections were up to $59,600,000 from $38,127,000.

The yield from custom and excise taxes was $69,000,000 compared with $41,000,000.

In his budget speech April 10, Mr. Abbott estimated this year's revenues at $3,730,000,000 and expenditures at $3,700,000,000. This would give him a surplus of $30,000,000. In 1950-51, he estimated he would end the year with a surplus of $15,000,000, but finished with a surplus of $203,-000,000.

Coughs Up Diamond

LOS ANGELES, May 26. (AP)—"Cough up," police said, and Thomas R. Fasenmyer Jr., did. He coughed up a diamond. He had kept the stone in his throat three days, he said yesterday. It was part of $158,400 in gems stolen from the home of Mrs. Malcolm McNaughton Monday. Fasenmyer said he swallowed the diamond after his arrest. Police have $140,000 of the missing jewels.

Find New Issue Raised Over MacArthur

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) —Criticism of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's decision to send non-Asiatic troops to the Yalu River last November has raised a new issue in the Senate investigation of the General's dismisal from his Far Eastern commands.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, said Friday MacArthur acted contrary to established policy in letting non-Korean troops move close to Russia and Communist China. The joint chiefs of staff, Collins said, had advised MacArthur to halt United Nations forces some five miles south of the Manchurian order.

This was contradicted Friday night in New York by Maj.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief aide. Whitney said MacArthur was never restrained directly or indirectly from sending troops to the Yalu River.

Collins did not accuse MacArthur of "blatant disregard of orders."

Senator William F. Knowland (Rep.-Calif.) said today he felt MacArthur had no other choice when he used any troops available to him in his drive to the Manchurian border.

Likely Stir Trouble

But senator John J. Sparkman (Dem.-Ala.) said there was a strong feeling in the United Nations, with which he concurred, that use of non-Asiatic troops in far North Korea was likely to stir up trouble.

Collins touched off the new dispute in his initial appearance Friday before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committes inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal.

He was called back for further questioning today.

Collins said MacArthur used US troops in the Manchurian border area contrary to a policy directive of Sept. 27 "without advising us first."

This was denied by Whitney who said in a statement that MacArthur threw American troops into the Yalu area in compliance with the basic orders under which he was operating.

Bus Driver Held As 3 Killed

18 Other Passengers Injured In Truck Collision

MONTREAL, May 26. (CP)— Provincial Police today were holding a Montreal bus driver for questioning in the death of three of his passengers as the result of a collision with a truck-trailer.

Eighteen other passengers were injured, three of them severely, in the accident at Repentigny, 20 miles northeast of here.

Dead are: Ubald Tessier, 17, St. Paul l'Ermite, Que.; Miss Louise Desjardins, 20, Montreal; Leon Gaudette, 50, Joliette, Que.

In hospital here in critical condition were Gregoire Genereux, 18, and Andre Rene, 17, both of Joliette, and five-year-old Pierre Sauve of Montreal.

The driver, Sylvio Gregoire, 28, escaped unscathed from the wreckage of the Provincial Transport Company bus which was bound from Montreal to Joliette, 45 miles northeast of here. The side of the bus was ripped open by the truck, an automobile carrier that was returning to Montreal empty.

Send Five Ambulances

A Montreal hospital despatched five ambulances to the scene to shuttle the injured back here, and police sent a score of officers to handle traffic on the busy Montreal-Quebec highway and to care for passengers with minor injuries.

Leo-Paul Roy, St. Zotique, Que., driver of the truck owned by Charlton Transport, Ltd., of Oshawa, suffered shock and bruises.

His vehicle tore into the autobus as the latter was making a left turn from a sideroad onto the main highway, the impact spilling bus passengers on both sides of the road.

Tessier and Miss Desjardins were killed outright, while Gaudette died of a skull fracture shortly after he was admitted to hospital here.

Slightly Mixed

MEQUON, Wis., May 26. (AP) — Come July 14 and Barbara Sommer's mother will also be her mother-in-law. At the same time, Walter Sommer Jr.'s dad will become his father-in-law. That's because young Walter, 22, an army private, and Barbara, 19, will be married that day. And, of course, because Walter's father and Barbara's mother are man and wife. It was in 1948 that Walter, Sr., a widower with seven children, married Mrs. Eleanor Heise, a divorcee and the mother of two, both of whom took the new family name.

Oil Company Requests Arbitration

THE HAGUE, May 26. (AP)— The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company today requested the president of the International court of justice to appoint an arbitrator to settle its dispute with the government of Iran.

The request was announced by the registrar of the world court.

The company's communication invoked article 22 of the oil concession, dated April 29, 1933, which provides that differences between the parties shall be settled by arbitration.

Failing agreement on the choice of arbitrators, the article says, a third or sole arbitrator shall be appointed by the president of the world court at the request of either of the parties.

US Sends Note

TEHRAN, Iran, May 26—(CP) —The United States told Iran today she does not oppose Iran's wish to control her own oil resources but does, opposed one-sided cancellation of Iran's contract with the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

In a diplomatic memorandum handed to Iran by Ambassador Henry Grady the United States again urged Iran to settle this dispute—"which could undermine the unity of the free world"—by negotiation.

The memorandum, a reply to Iran's accusation of U.S. interference, said Iran had misconstrued the American attitude. The United States has a legitimate interest in the well-being of both Iran and Britain, and it considers a peaceful settlement of their "serious controversy" of the utmost importanee to the free world as a whole, it said.

UN Forces Smash Open Supply Route

Believe Most of Reds Retreating Rapidly From Front

TOKYO, May 26. (AP)— United Nations troops today forged a second foothold in Communist Korea and bolstered their original bridgehead in Communist territory.

The Reds continued to fall back all along the front.

US infantrymen rammed up the main central Korean highway northwest of captured Chunchon in a pouring rain and rolled about two miles beyond the 38th Parallel.

Red opposition was light as the infantry column stabbed within six miles of Hwachon, a former key Chinese bastion eight miles north of the pre-war political boundary.

To the east, American and French troops smashd through Chinese screening forces and swept up the Hongchon-Inje road. The thrust opened a direct supply route to the Allied bridgehead across the Choyang River on the east-central front.

Trap Tightened

The link-up with the bridgehead tightened the trap on suicidal Chinese fighting rear-guard actions to keep opeu a six-mile escape route in the mountains near the road.

A US task force reached Inje and South Korean forces to the east were reported to have occupied Yangyang, six miles north of th 38th Parallel on the east coast.

Allied units knifed across the parallel at several points on the east-central and eastern fronts Saturday. They advanced against almost no opposition from Chinese who, an officer said, surrendered "in numbers."

US marines took "many" prisoners who refused to fight. No estimate has been made of the number of captured Chinese.

Take More Prisoners

The officer said Allied forces "are taking more prisoners now than over before."

Princess Pats Relax After 5-Week Stint

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea, May 26—(CP)—The Princess Patricias relaxed today after a five-week stint during which they held defensive positions north of the Han River, then joined in the United Nations pursuit of the Chinese Communists following the stopping of the Red spring offensive in Korea.

(Reuters news agency reports received late Friday said Canadian and British troops were advancing Friday, dispersing groups of Communists as they moved.)

The Patricias' latest period in the line had only one brief break, and while much of it was spent in the Han defensive positions, the tour was wound up with a four-day advance which rolled back the front in their sector almost 12 miles.

Subway Train Stalls

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — A subway train stalled in a tunnel beneath the East river Friday, tying up rush-hour service and stranding thousands of homebound New Yorkers. Service from Manhattan to Queens halted for an hour and 10 minutes. Light inbound traffic was not interrupted.

Says Churchill Part Iroquois

TORONTO, May 26 — ,CP).— Winston Churchill can trace his ancestry back to the North American Indian, a relative said on Friday.

Sir Shane Leslie, first cousin of Britain's wartime Prime Minister, remarked in an interview that their maternal lineage can be traced back to a beauteous Indian maiden.

'Six generations ago," he said, "one of our ancestors, a Captain Wilcox, married an Indian halfcaste. I believe that should make Mr. Churchill and me about one-twentieth Iroquois."

Fire Threatens 20,000 Acres Of Good Timber

TORONTO, May 26 — (CP).— Fire fanned by high winds spread out of control in four districts of Northern Ontario today threatening destruction of almost 20,000 acres of valuable timber.

Largest outbreak was reported in Cabot Township in the Gogama district north-west of Sudbury, where 10,000 acres of birch forest are burning out of control. Lands Department officials said 200 men are currently battling the fire with more being brought in as quickly as possible. Rapid spread of the fire was aided by deadwood left from a previous fire in the area in 1941.

In Township 23, 32 miles northeast of Sault Ste. Marie, a fire in mixed pine forest is burning over 2,800 acres.

In the Surbury district, a fire in Brebeuf Township is reported out of control in 2,000 acres of mixed pine.

Firefighters in Clary Township, 62 miles northeast of Sudbury, are battling spreading flames over 1,100 acres of mixed wood.

All Planes Called In

Officials said all 34 Lands Department aircraft and five or six commercial planes have been enlisted to carry men and supplies to fight the fires. They said the fire hazard is extreme across the whole of the north and high in sectors farther south.

Closing of Timiskaming and Cochrane districts to all but essential travel was announced on Friday night. Officians said the areas, covering the northeast part of the province north or Sudbury, will remain closed until June 8 or until conditions improve. Burning permits in all sections have been cancelled indefinitely.

Officials said thunderstorms forecast for Ontario during the weekend would help curb fires burning but would 'do more harm than good" if accompanied by lightning.

A total of 40 other fires are reported under control and being patrolled in Ontario.

Pearson Has No Information On Red Peace Feelers

OTTAWA, May 26. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson, member of the UN cease-fire committee appointed to strive for a settlement in Korea, said Friday he has no official information on reported Communist peace feelers. He told the Commons committee on external affairs he had heard that Pravda, one of Moscow's leading newspapers, had expressed the hope in an editorial that the fighting in Korea will [illegible] 25, the anniversary of the outbreak of war there. The editorial indicated it was hoped the war would finish with the "status quo" being maintained. That is, there would be the Republics of South and North Korea.

Mr. Pearson said it was unusual for Communist newspapers to print editorials such as that in Pravda without official sanction.

In reply to questions, Mr. Pearson made these other points:

1. The UN should have available an armed force capable of taking to the field anywhere at anytime that aggression occurs.
2. It would be unwise to take steps to drive Russia out of UN.
3. The Red Government of China will not be allowed to shoot its way into membership in UN.
4. The External Affairs Department knows of no action which could be taken at this time against Mrs. Roscoe Rodd of Windsor, who in a recent broadcast from Moscow criticized the activities of UN troops in Korea.

Has Authority

Mr. Pearson told the committee that the UN commander in Korea has authority to direct his forces anywhere within the country. He has no authority to enter Manchuria.

Canada, he said, does not interfere with military policies in Korea. The country's views on general policy are expressed at regular meetings in Washington of all countries with troops in Korea.

Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra) asked why only 17 of the 53 nations which voted to oppose aggression in Korea had sent troops to the battlefields.

Mr. Pearson said he could not say why other countries had not sent troops. It had to be remembered, he said, that some of the 53 countries which voted against aggression were small. The sending of driblets of contingents to Korea would create a problem in the field.

Seamen Plan Demonstration

CANBERRA, May 26— (Reuters)—Australian Seamen's and Longshoremen's Unions have called a mass demonstration in Sydney for Sunday to protest against police raids on their offices Friday.

They have also asked the Australian Council of Trade Unions to call a conference of federal unions to discuss the campaign for repeal of the Crimes Act, under which the raids were made and under which any prosecutions would be launched.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies was expected to receive reports today on what was disclosed in documents seized in the raids, believed to have been connected with the ban on "black" New Zealand shipping imposed by the Communist-led executive of the Waterside Workers' Union. The boycott is in sympathy with the wage strike called three months ago by a New Zealand Longshoremen's Union, since been deregistered by the government.

4,500 Doctors Strike Against Egyptian Gov't

CAIRO, Egypt, May 26 (AP)— Some 4,500 Government-employed doctors went on a sitdown strike today for higher pay and improvement of conditions.

Today's move climaxed weeklong negotiations between the doctors and the health ministry.

In calling the walkout, the Syndicate of Government - employed Doctors said that physicians in Government hospitals and clinics will only attend to urgent cases "until the doctors' demands are satisfied."

RCAF Purchases 2 Jet Trainers

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP)—The air force said today it has purchased two United States T-33 jet trainers and that more are on their way.

The two craft arrived at Trenton, Friday night and soon will be switched over to the RCAF station at Dorval, Que., to train instructors.

Eventually, the two-seater aircraft, along with dozens of other T-33s to be obtained from the US will be located at the air force operational training unit at Chatham, now undergoing expansion.

The planes will be used to train pilots who will take over the high-powered jet fighters, the CF-100 Canuck and the F-86 Sabre, and may eventually be produced in Canada.

Plans to get production going in this country are under consideration by the defence production department.

Will Postpone Rail Inquest

SENNETERRE, Que., May 26— (CP)—An inquest into a Canadian National Railways collision Thursday that killed six railway men Friday night was postponed until today, pending further investigation and recovery of one body.

The inquest, ordered by Louis de Gonzague Bolduc, Senneterre district coroner, had been scheduled for Friday night.

Dr. Bolduc said five bodies had been taken to Val d'Or south of here. It was undecided whether the inquest will be held here or at Val d'Or.

Major US Railroads, Union Settle Two-Year Dispute

WASHINGTON, May 26—(AP) —The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the major railroads in the United States have settled their bitter two-year wage dispute. Three other rail unions remain at outs with the carriers.

The trainmen, headed by W. P. Kennedy, settled Friday night for a 33-cent hourly increase for yardmen and 18½ cents for those in road service, effective at various dates back to last Oct. 1.

Terms of the settlement between the 150,000 members of the Trainmen's Brotherhood and the carriers were being studied by the three other operating unions, the engineers, conductors, and firemen. However, they showed no immediate inclination to settle on the trainmen's terms.

The trainmen and conductors started out together in March 1949 seeking a 40-hour work week at 48 hours' pay for those in yard service and a substantial wage increase for those in train service.

After Army seizure of the railroads last August to prevent a strike of the trainmen and conductors, the firemen and engineers joined in a united front against the carriers. A tentative agreement reached Dec. 21 at the White House was not ratified by union locals although it was signed by the presidents of the four unions.

A stalemate has existed ever since.

The increases, announced in a joint union-railway statement, amount to $2.64 a day for yardmen and 1.48 a day for roadmen. They include the 12½-cent raise for yardmen and five cents for roadmen previously announced, and retroactive to Oct. 1. These were authorized by the Army.

Carriers estimated the cost of the over-all wage increases at $97,000,000 a year.

In addition to the wage provisions, the settlement calls for a 40-hour week to be established in principle for yardmen.

Failed To Douse Fire Bushworkers Jailed

SUDBURY, May 26 (CP)—Two district bushworkers charged with failing to put out a camp fire which sparked a 4,300-acre forest fire have been sentenced to jail. Juel Benard, 24, and Robert Kay, 25, were each given 60-day jail terms Friday.

The fire, which began May 13 and raged out of control for several days, has since burned through 4,300 acres in Aylmer, Telfer and McConnell townships about 40 miles eas tof here and is still burning.

Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe told the two it was hard to understand why they were so careless about fires, since they made their living by working in the bush.

Benard and Kay maintained they extinguished the fire after making a pot of tea within the timber limis of the Poupore Lumber Company on the east branch of the Wanapitei river.

Big Showdown In Italy Vote

ROME, May 26—(AP)—Italy's arch political foes—the Christian Democrat government party and the Communists—will have their first big showdown in three years Sunday. The test will be local elections throughout a third of the country.

Following the bitterest campaign since 1948, some 10,000,000 voters are expected to turn out to pick councils in 2,743 towns and 28 provinces.

At stake is control of the 'Gothic Line'—strong defence belt across northern Italy where the Communists now control most of the city and provincial administrations.

The elections will determine the municipal governments in the major cities of Milan, Genoa, Venice, Bologna and Florence.

Of the 2,843 town councils up for election Sunday, the Communists now control 1,170—with a total population of almost 7,000,000.

Almost every member of Premier Alcide de Gaspier's "Atlantic Pact" government spoke during Friday night's campaign wind-up. Under Italian law there can be no stumping today.

The voting will run all day Sunday and part of Monday. Counting is expected to start Monday afternoon.

Hint Arrest Soon In Ship Arson Fire

MONTREAL, May 26 (CP). — The Montreal Herald, in a special despatch today from Quebec, says a "source close to the Provincial Police said there was a possibility of an arrest 'within days' of the person or persons believed responsible for the Aug. 14 arson fire of the SS Quebec."

The 4,000-ton ship, owned by the Canada Steamship Lines, burned to the waterline at the pier at Tadoussac last August after fire broke out in a linen closet while she was off the mouth of the Saguenay River.

Seven persons lost their lives in the blaze.

UN Loudspeakers, Leaflets Used To Warn Reds In Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 26 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway told the United Nations today that his forces used loudspeaker broadcasts and leaflets to warn Communist foes in Korea that they faced certain death before which began the night of April 22.

Ridgway's report as commander of UN forces, covering Korea operations from April 16 to April 30, was transmitted today to secretary-general Trygve Lie by the US delegation. Since then, the UN army has turned the Chinese and North Korean Communists back across the 38th parallel after inflicting tens of thousands of casualties.

The Ridgway report said that the enemy had expanded his effective forces in Korea to more than 70 divisions for the offensive which began the nght of April 22.

"More than 355,000,000 leaflets have now been disseminated in Korea," Ridgway said. "Radio broadcasts, in conjunction with leaflest, have kept the Korean people informed on the renewed Communist offensive and its significance to Korea in terms of added destruction of life and property."

Ridgway also reported that more than 90,000 prisoners of war now are interned in a new prison camp on Koje-do Island, south of Pusan.

His report said also that enemy guerrilla forces now number about 12,000 and are on the defensive but that groups up to battalion size—about 1,000—have been in clashes in South-Central Korea.

Seven Section Men Escape Bad Injury

BROCKVILLE, May 26 (CP)— Seven Canadian National Railways section men escaped serious innjury on the mainline here Friday when their small gasoline-powered hand car jumped the track and turned over after striking stones, believed to have been placed on the rails by children.

Most seriously injured were Leopold Rochon of Brockville and Harry Jowett of Lyn, Ont. Both men received numerous cuts around the head and body and required hospital treatment while the remaining five were allowed to go home after doctors had treated minor cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred within the precincts of Brockville as the men were riding back to the CNR shops aftr working on a section of the main Toronto-Montreal line throughout the day.

Both provincial and railway police are investigating.

Civil Defence Warning Plan—Martin

Separate Channel Of Communications Likely, House Told

OTTAWA, May 26. (CP)—A special wireless network to flash word of an enemy's approach to civil defence organizations across Canada is under consideration, Health Minister Martin disclosed Friday night in a guarded statement in the Commons.

He said he didn't want to say too much about it, apparently for security reason, but he did indicate that civil defence groups may have their own separate channel of communications as a webb of warning from coast to coast. Two separate schemes for a special network are under examination, he said.

The armed forces already have their own highly-modernized communications network set to work as part of a team of men and machines to take on any enemy planes or troops.

The civil defence network would be designed to tip off those responsible for protection and care of the civilian populations.

Both communications would send their flashes from key armed forces centres at strategic spots. Civil defence liaison officers would be at those spots on a round-the-clock basis.

Making Headway

Mr. Martin disclosed that "this afternoon we made arrangements for the use of the communications equipment of two of the large communications companies in the country.... The terms of that use have not been established, but the discussions will continue next week. This is by no means yet perfected, but it is certainly in the stage of receiving consideration.

He stated earlier that he is hopeful of getting one telecommunications expert to give his services to the government free and that a special committee is investigating the whole question of communications for civil defence organizations.

The minister made the statement to Progressive Conservative questioners as the House moved through the tenth day of debate on $1,600,000,000 worth of defence estimates

Funds Inadequate

The day brought renewed charges by Progressive Conservative members, backed by Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, that the proposed $4,196,000 civil defence budget for this fiscal year is totally inadequate and will not do enough to help cities to prepare for the worst.

Mr. Martin replied Canada's program was worked out in discussions with the United States, the United Kingdom and the provinces. The armed forces must come first. There should be no "needless diversion of energy" from the fighting forces.

One place where not enough was being done, the minister admitted, is in informing the public about the dangers of attack and what they mean. This would be accelerated into a heavy educational program using pamphlets, films and talks

US Drops Hint Of H-Bomb Test

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The United States atomic chiefs threw out a dramatic hint Friday that the first tests of some kind of hydrogen bomb—perhaps the forerunner of a true "super bomb"—have just been successfully completed.

The announcement, perhaps foreshadowing American possession of the world's most powerful and destructive weapon, said:

"The test program included experiments contributing to thermonuclear weapons research."

"Thermonuclear weapons" means hydrogen bombs.

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 26 — (Reuters)—Demonstrators Friday night tore down Union Jacks flying beside the flags of the United Nations, France and the Irish Republic outside a Dublin restaurant.

While they did it, others occupied the attention of police by marching in the street outside demanding removal of the British flags because of the partition of Ireland and the presence of British troops in Northern Ireland.

The incident followed by 24 hours a grenade being thrown at the British Embassy here by Irish Nationalists.

Actor Son Fools Father, Makes More Money

"We thought it was a terrible business for a young man to go into," said Ira Needles, vice-president of the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Canada. He was speaking to the 10th annual conference of the Ontario Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants Friday night.

"There wasn't any money in it, we said, but he went into acting anyway, and now he's making more money than his old man." Mr. Needles was speaking of his son, William.

William Needles, better known to Peterborough Summer Theatre patrons as Bill, is one of Canada's up-and-coming young actors, both on radio and on the stage. He is best remembered here for his role as the wacky Elwood P. Dowd, Harvey's best friend.

His father was speaking to the accountants' conference on "Building for Leadership", and was using his son as an example of a point in his speech—the need in a leader of what he called "the will to win".

His son wouldn't go to university, said Mr. Needles. His interest in the theatre was too great. So, with an air of making the best of a "terrible" thing, said the father, the son was packed off to a theatrical school.

He didn't stay there long, but got into a stock company, and began on his road to making "more money than his old man."

UN Forces

A tank-infantry unit crossed the 38 north of Changgo on the west-central front Saturday for the second straight day.

South Korean units on the east-central front advanced nearly six miles Saturday with only light enemy contact.

Aerial spotters sighted 3,000 Communists retreating northwest into Inje on the east-central front and sighted groups of Reds fleeing northwest of Hwachon on the central front.

Captured Chinese said some of their comrades had committed suicide rather than face any more Allied fire power or risk being shot by their own officers for retreating.

A US Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds were not following their usual pattern of withdrawing in small groups and then reassembling.

He said there were "enemy on every trail and road north" from the central front.

Hurrying Out

"They just seem to want to get the hell out," the officer said.

Dwindling Chinese resistance Saturday indicated that most of the Reds who poured through a gap in United Nations lines at the start of the broken offensive had fled northwestward.

The Red screening forces, who fought fiercely Friday, faded into the hills Saturday, leaving many dead behind.

Nearly every advancing United Nations unit Saturday reported finding numerous Chinese dead—victims of the powerful Allied artillery and air barrages of the last few days.

In the west, South Korean units crossed the Imjin River some 25 miles northwest of Seoul. On their right flank, American units seized high ground nine miles north of Uijongbu and 20 miles north of Seoul.

Allied units had probed within one mile of the Red border Friday, near the confluence of the Imjin and Hantan Rivers about 30 miles north of Seoul.

AP correspondent Nate Polowetzky, at US Eighth Army headquarters, reported the general situation was one of Communist forces fleeing northward.

Air Defences Need Improving

PARIS, May 26 (AP)—Western Europe's air defences need a lot of improving before they could beat off an invader, military chieftains have learned.

Their lesson came in "Exercise Umbrella," the first test of air forces assigned by the Atlantic Pact nations to the command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The three-day exercise, biggest held in the West since the war, closed Friday night. It involved fighter and bomber forces of six nations—Britain, United States, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Denmark.

Exercise Umbrella was a test of the ability of fighter aircraft of the six countries to work together in fending off bomber attacks. Five hundred planes took part.

Break Up Meeting

PARIS, May 26—(Reuters)—More than 500 anti-Stalin Communists raced armed police and weeping reporters out of a building Friday night when a tear-gas bomb broke up the first electoral campaign meeting of the French breakaway Communist movement.

Find Coal Seam

CARDIFF, Wales, May 26. —(Reuters)—After two years' boring, experts have discovered a big new seam of anthracite coal in South Wales, which will yield 1,000,000 tons a year, it was announced Friday.

Dollar Higher

MONTREAL, May 26—(CP)—The American dollar today opened at 6 17/32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 higher than Friday's close. That is, it took $1.06 17/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.98 5/16, up ⅛.

Seeing World Marvin Johnston Soldier In Korea

Probably by now Marvin Johnston, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Johnston, 188 Rubidge St., will have had his first skirmish with the enemy in Korea.

He wrote to his parents on May 10, shortly before the long-awaited Chinese offensive began, saying that he had disembarked a few days before at a South Korean port.

The Peterborough youth is a qualified electrical mechanic, a trained foot-soldier and a paratrooper. He is one of the latest soldiers from Canada to fight under the United Nations banner as a member of the 25th Brigade, commanded by Brigadier J. C. Rockingham.

Johnston is a strapping lad, five-foot-eleven inches in height and weighing 170 pounds. He will not reach his 21st birthday till August.

His parents say it was the desire to "see the world" that caused him to join the army.

Was Sailor

He first struck out on his own at the age of 16 years. He joined the merchant marine and made a number of trips, most of them to Atlantic seaboard ports. But after a few months he packed in the sailoring life and headed back to Peterborough and the CGE plant.

He didn't come home to settle down, however. When the regular army began to make things more attractive for recruits, young Johnston decided to give it a try. And on February 9, 1949, he enlisted at Kingston in the RCEME.

The first indication his parents had that he was accepted was a postcard, written on board a train that was taking him to Chilliwack, BC. He was stationed there nearly two years, taking the RCEME course.

In Sweetbriar

Always wanting to be on the move, Johnston found the Sweetbriar scheme in the winter of 1950 a welcome relief from camp routine. Purpose of the exercise was to simulate fighting conditions in the Canadian north. United States and Canadian Army and Air Force units took part.

The soldiers slept outside in sleeping-bags in the snow while the thermometer plummeted to 50 and 60 below zero. They ate frozen food.

Johnston drove an army truck with heavy equipment on a nine-

SPR. MARVIN JOHNSTON

day journey, covering 1,700 miles from Wainwright, Alta., to Whitehorse in the Yukon. And he drove most of the way back again.

In Winnipeg Flood

Another routine breaker was the disastrous Winnipeg flood. With a detachment of 20 men he was flown from his base at Chilliwack to Winnipeg where he slugged sandbags in the desperate battle to hold back the rampaging Red River.

After a trip home to see the folks young Johnston was off again. This time it was to Rivers, Manitoba, where he became qualified in parachute jumping. He made his five jumps and received his wings.

By this time the Korean campaign was underway and Johnston transferred to the special force. He returned to Peterborough on embarkation leave and left on March 7 for Fort Lewis. There the force was put through final training and they sailed from Seattle April 19, arriving about May 3.

It was a non-stop trip of more than 5,000 miles from Seattle to a South Korean port. The only land the American and Canadian troops saw on the way over was a brief glimpse of the barren Aleutians.

Mrs. Johnston's Marvin's mother, says her only complaint is that her son doesn't give enough information in his letters. But he has indicated that all the servicemen in Canada's 25th Brigade are short of soap, shaving cream, writing paper and toothpaste.

The last letter she received from him was written May 10 and received May 23.

Sorry For Kids

He said the climate was very warm and he was already getting a good sunburn, and he also observed that he was sorry for Korean children. Thousands of them are orphaned and homeless, the inevitable victims of a struggle between two giant armies.

By this time he may have moved up with the main Canadian force, part of the Commonwealth division. If so he has seen action.

His parents, like parents everywhere, are proud of their son's soldiering record, but apprehensive too. The casualty list among the UN forces has been high. They are eagerly awaiting his next letter to see if he was in the line when the Chinese offensive thrust was apparently blunted and the UN counter-offensive begun.

Accountants Aid Business Success

At the afternoon session of the 10th annual conference of the Ontario Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants, major speakers were Norman R. Barfoot, and A. Stuart Hallamore.

Mr. Barfoot spoke on A Case Study of Small Business Controls which he suggested were necessary to anticipate profit. He said the "intricate systems employed by the great corporations" are applicable to the small industry.

Necessary were operational and maintenance controls, and good employee relations. Mr. Barfoot explained the value of the cost accountant's work in preparing these controls for use in the small business.

Second speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Hallamore, who discussed Meeting Management Cost Problems in a Small Business. Mr. Hallamore is from Ingersoll.

Mr. Hallamore pointed out that in a small business, whatever its form, the work of the cost accountant is more flexible than that of the accountant in a large industry.

The main purposes that costs serve, he said were: control of costs, setting of selling prices and directing management attention to the most profitable type of sales, valuation of inventory, forecasting future operation results, and the attainment of these objectives at as low a cost as possible.

Drops Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 26. (AP) —Bob Hope has dropped his $2,010,000 suit over who steals jokes from whom. His lawyer said Friday the comedian was satisfied that a story in the Nov. 6 issue of Life Magazine was not intended to ham him. The libel suit against Time, Incorporated, publisher of the magazine, charged the story implied Hope stole radio jokes from Fred Allen.

Campbellford Erects New Signs For Streets

CAMPBELLFORD, May 26 — (ENS). — The job of erecting new street name signs at all intersections in the town is now well under way. This project, along with the long-needed house numbering system recently installed, is hailed as a civic improvement.

Formerly, with no house numbers and practically no street name signs visible, a stranger was lost in the town, and out of town delivery trucks had great difficulties in locating the calls they were to make.

When the new numbers are listed in the new telephone directory the people of the town will have an advantage usually shared only by those in cities.

Maj.-Gen. Spry Given Award For Scouf Work

CHICAGO, May 26 (CP). — Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, CBE, DSO, chief executive commissioner of the Canadian Boy Scouts' Association, was among eight men today given awards for "distinguished service to boyhood."

They were given the award of the silver buffalo by the national council, Boy Scouts of America at its 41st annual meeting here.

The others, all Americans, included Ralph J. Bunche, director of the division of trusteeship of the United Nations; James L. Clark, New York explorer; James H. Douglas Jr., Chicago attorney; Edgar A. Guest, writer and poet of Detroit, and Raymond M. Miller, Washington public relations and trade consultant.

The silver buffalo award is made annually on the basis of noteworthy service to boyhood of a national or international character outside the line of regular duty.

Grew Up In Scouting

Maj.-Gen. Spry, who at 31 was the youngest major-general in the British Commonwealth forces during the Second World War, was described as a man who has "practically grown up in scouting."

His citation recalled that after his service in the army, he gave up an appointment as vice-chief of the general staff of the Canadian army in 1946 to "give executive leadership to the scout movement in Canada.

"General Spry has been a member of the international committee of the Boy Scout movement since August, 1949, and his interest in youth is world-wide," the citation said.

McCreary told the Ontario Medical Association's annual convention Friday.

Dr. McCreary said this identification before birth would make it possible to start treatment at the birth of children whose fathers have a positive RH factor and whose mothers have an RH negative factor.

Stock Markets Decline For Third Week

By BILL DANIELS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Prices were lower on stock markets this week for the third straight time. The loss was not as great as the previous week's sharp setback, but it was notable. The decline on all markets was a result of a steady slipping of prices throughout the week.

Trading was again slow as investors extended their cautious habits for a 14th week. Friday's volume on the Toronto Stock Exchange was the least it has been in five months.

The week opened on the downgrade with prices easing slowly all day Monday. In Toronto, industrials and base metals were lower over a broad front, while New York weakened at not so rapid a pace following moderate strength there Saturday. Mild support appeared in the final hour.

Prices advanced a little in early dealings Tuesday after Monday's late rally, but selling soon gained the upper hand. At the close losses were scattered across the board.

On Wednesday prices were again down. In New York the decline picked up speed and prices dropped over a wide list. On Canadian markets prices opened mixed and then eased in midsession. Towards the close the selling became intense as some investors straightened up their accounts for the next day's holiday.

Partial Recovery

Victoria Day, of course, was not celebrated in New York. Prices there continued falling from the opening bell. Late in the session, however, strong buying support appeared which sparked a partial recovery.

Friday was the brightest of the week as far as prices go. New York even managed enough strength for a small advance. Canadian markets opened mixed, tended a little higher at noon and then became irregular. Trading in Toronto was the quietest it has been since Dec. 26.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto Stock Exchange indices showed industrials down 6.80 at 314.64, golds 1.28 at 74.91, base metals 6.90 at 167.81 and western oils 2.31 at 100.68.

In the Montreal averages industrials were off 6.0 at 211.1, papers 31.22 at 757.35, banks 0.56 at 29.56, utilities 1.6 at 34.5, combined 4.5 at 168.9 and golds 2.83 at 58.66.

In New York The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was $1.80 at $90.80.

THE DAWN COMES UP LIKE THUNDER—On the road of Sinuiju, in North Korea, the dawn itself comes up quietly enough. Queen Mother Mary Active On Her 84th Birthday

By MARIE McGOWAN

LONDON, May 26 (Reuters)—Queen Mother Mary celebrated her 84th birthday today. She was to be guest of honor at the traditional birthday luncheon with other members of the royal family at Buckingham Palace.

The King, in bed with influenza, will perform another of the public eon to propose his annual toast in champagne to his mother.

In the afternoon Queen Mary, famous throughout the world as the embodiment of regal majesty, will perform another of the pulbic duties to which she still rigorously attends.

QUEEN MOTHER MARY

From the palace she will drive to Hyde Park to see Princess Elizabeth deputize for the King in presenting the King's color to the RAF.

On the eve of her birthday the Queen Mother, seemingly as erect, alert and queenly as she was 30 years ago, stood on the palace steps while the heiress to the throne performed another duty for her father.

Takes Salute

Princess Elizabeth, colonel of the crack Grenadier Guards Regiment, took the salute at a parade of its 3rd Battalion and presented new colors to it. The King is colonel-in-chief of the regiment.

Today's newspapers were full of pictures of the Queen, dressed in the style to which she has adhered for decades.

Flowered or swathed toques still sit absolutely straight on her meticulously - marcelled white hair. Her straight and narrow coats with their full collars never change their silhouette—no matter what fashion decrees.

Her strapped shoes with their Louis XIV heels have not for generations been seen on any other woman's feet.

Trained in the Victorian school of royalty with its rigid ideas of self-discipline, duty to the public and dignity, Queen Mary has not allowed even sciatica to interfere to any appreciable extent with the round of public duties which she fulfils with unrivalled queenly grace.

In recent years she has made but one concession to age — she uses a wheel-chair when attending a function which demands a lot of walking.

Despite her scorn for such "modernisms" as stream-lined automobiles, telephones and breakfast in bed, Queen Mary takes a keen interest in all contemporary events. She is an inveterate and enthusiastic theatregoer and attends many movie premieres.

But most of all, she is interested in art and antiques on which she is an authority.

Barred From Office

PANAMA, Panama, May 26 (Reuters).—The National Assembly Friday night unanimously condemned deposed President Arnuflo Arias for abusing his constitutional powers. It barred him forever from holding public office. Gromyko Ultimatum

PARIS, May 26 (Reuters). — Russia's Andrei Gromyko presented an "ultimatum" at Friday's meeting of the Big Four deputies. It insisted that the North Atlantic treaty must be on the agenda for a foreign ministers' meeting, a western spokesman said. Gromyko, the spokesman said, declared there would be no point in a foreign ministers' meeting if the treaty were not on the agenda.

TORONTO, May 26 (CP).—Ontario flue-cured tobacco growers have turned down a proposal to change their marketing system, it was learned Friday. The growers voted on the setting up of a marketing scheme under the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act, which would replace the present Marketing Association. Balloting, by mail, ended Thursday midnight.

Approve Agreement

DES MOINES, May 26 (AP).—The general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church Friday night approved "articles of agreement" drawn up as a basis for reunion with the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church. The resolution adopting the articles provides that if they are accepted by the Associate Reformed church this year a final vote will be taken in the United Presbyterian general assembly in 1952.

Caterpillars Worst In Years

TORONTO, May 26 (CP)—Tent caterpillars, in armies of millions, are eating their way through forests from Dryden and Sioux Lookout in northwest Ontario to the Ottawa River.

Not all areas are hit, and the caterpillars stay where possible in poplars, but lands' department officials say it is one of the worst years on record for the pests.

A lands department expert said the scourage would be ended in early July, when the caterpillars turn to moths. The moths, in turn, will lay eggs ot keep over the winter and hatch into more caterpillars.

Britain's Iranian Dilemma

The day of crisis is approaching rapidly in Iran. The Iranian premier Mossadegh has given the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company until Wednesday to appoint representatives to negotiate the handing over of the company. The appointment of representatives would imply that the company recognizes the legality of the actions of the Iranian government's action in ordering the nationalization of the oilfields. If the company accedes to Mossadegh's demands he will be able to impose his own terms. In this matter the company is doubtless being ruled by its largest shareholder, the British government, which has more than a 50% interest in the concern purchased in 1914 by the foresight of Winston Churchill for $10,000,000. The present value is estimated to be between $600,000,000 and $1,000,000,000, and is of enormous importance to Britain. Developed by British brains and British capital, it is unthinkable that Britain will let this priceless asset go without a murmur.

* * *

The dilemma that faces Britain is this: either she must resist by force or else consent to negotiate under duress. If she attempts the former she runs a grave risk of precipitating a third World War. It was revealed by an inspired leakage of information that she had alerted the Sixteenth Parachute Brigade for service in the Middle East. Previous to this she had given Iran a broad hint by sending warships on a "courtesy call" to Iranian ports. The Russians, who have traditionally nurtured designs on Iran from the North, have offered to station teams of locust fighters in Northern Iran; this sudden interest in the agricultural welfare of her neighbour cannot be entirely altruistic. Though there is a grave risk that Russia may step in if Britain lands troops in Iran she has not yet stated her attitude. Up to the present she has shown a strong inclination to allow her satellites to do the fighting. On the other hand she is bound by a mutual defence pact to come to the aid of Iran in case of aggression. She might very well side-step her military obligations on the grounds that British intervention was a limited police action designed to save British lives and property. If Russia decided not to intervene it would not take very long to overcome Iranian resistance. During the last War the occupation of the whole country was carried out in a matter of hours. Russia's official silence seems to argue that the Kremlin is unwilling to commit itself to defending Iran; nevertheless one can never be sure when dealing with these inscrutable figures, and Britain holds an awful responsibility. No wonder that America has thrown the whole weight of her influence on the side of—dare we say it?—appeasement.

* * *

The price of appeasement, Britain's second alternative, is high. She has already offered Iran a 50% share in the profits of the company, together with directorships on the board for Iranians, but even that is not enough for Mossadegh. He has fanned into flames the agitation against foreign ownership, and now he is being prodded from behind by his more hot-headed supporters. He cannot go back at this stage without committing political suicide, which in Iran is pretty well synonymous with simple suicide. On the other hand, if he turns down Britain's generous offer and goes ahead with nationalization he will be in even worse case. He had obviously been counting on retaining the services of British technicians or replacing them with Americans. If nationalization goes through he will be denied of both. He can call in the Russians to supply technical aid, but the last state of Iran would be soon far worse than the first. He might be able to scrape together a few Swiss, French and others, but this is doubtful. The Iranians themselves have not the necessary "know-how", and production would drop to a trickle at once. Moreover Britain, Iran's chief customer, would boycott the Iranian oilwells even though it cost her dear to do so, and America would probably do the same.

* * *

As we see it, not only Britain but also Iran has been forced into a tricky dilemma by the action of the extremists who now hold power. Russia, too, has a momentous choice to make. Next week is fraught with dynamite.

Sir Thomas Beecham urges people not to take everything he says very seriously. We are already accustomed to taking the utterances of elderly baronets with a grain of salt.

Elimination Of The Unfit

Dr. Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, England, has for many years been a thorn in the flesh of his colleagues on the episcopal bench and a source of misgiving to clergy and laity alike of the Church of England. He was chosen for his office in 1924 by Ramsay MacDonald, the Prime Minister of the first Labour Government in the United Kingdom, under the odd system whereby the state even to this day has the last word in high ecclesiastical appointments. It was under Ramsay MacDonald, too, that Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean", was appointed Dean of Canterbury. These two reverend gentlemen cannot complain of being neglected by the press. Their controversial utterances are continually being published and noised abroad. At the age of 77 the Bishop is still active—a word that is also used in connection with volcanoes. There is much that he says which is eminently sensible, though there are occasions when his opinions on religious matters would appear to be incompatible with membership even of that tolerant and many-sided body, the Church of England.

Dr. Barnes' latest pronouncement concerns the dangerous growth of the world's population. If things continue as at present we may soon reach a stage when there will not be enough to go round even in countries like Canada. This is a serious problem, first stated by Malthus in 1798. Dr. Barnes' opinion is that the elimination of "undesirable strains" is an answer to the question, presumably on the grounds that the undesirable strains show a tendency to be more prolific than the desirable ones. Moreover the preservation of the unfit lays a greater burden on the fit.

"Is the elimination of inferior human strains possible without sterilization or infanticide?" asks the bishop, and does not wait for an answer. There is obviously only one answer to this, namely that it is impossible.

The difficulty arises as to who is to tell the inferior from the average and superior. Under our democratic system it would probably be done by the medical profession, the modern priesthood. This excellent body of men has done and is doing a fine work for suffering humanity, but if they should start to set themselves up as the arbiters of human destiny we would rebel. On medical grounds the infant Alexander Pope would inevitably have been "eliminated" and the world would be the poorer. If William Blake were alive today he would almost certainly have been examined by a psychiatrist and pronounced insane.

Actually the children of past ages were probably fitter than today, for the simple reason that the mortality of infants was so great. Today even the unfit are surviving. Granting the admissibility of Dr. Barne's thesis, would it not be in the interests of the human race to forego the benefits of modern medical technique and allow the unfit children to perish? The Spartans of old used to expose their new-born children to the elements for a whole night in order to weed out the sickly. These are the logical conclusions of the bishop's theories. We would hesitate to advocate such steps, and yet we fear that we cannot propound an alternative that would be humane or efficacious. If it were humane it would not be efficacious; if efficacious it would certainly not be humane.

The Queen Mother Is Eighty-Four

We have heard some anxiety and surprise expressed because a recent photograph of Queen Mary showed her looking at an exhibition from the comfort of a wheel-chair. This is not really so remarkable when we reflect that Queen Mary is eighty-four today, and that her life has not been an easy one.

Not easy? some will say. Has she not had every comfort that wealth and rank can give her? Very true, but has she not also had every care and every responsibility that wealth and rank can give her, as well? And has she not faced every vicissitude of a long and exacting public life with unfailing courage and dignity? It is these qualities which have made her dear to millions of people, and which cause us to think of her with loyalty and affection upon this, her eighty-fourth birthday. She is a great lady, and great ladies have always been rarities.

Diary of a Sentimental Journey

by SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Packed this afternoon, trying to think of everything I might need during a week away from my base of supply. Whenever I have to do this I reflect that nobody with any real intelligence owns more than one pair of shoes; these may be transported from place to place on the feet, thereby removing any necessity to pack them. For it is a tragic fact of packing that when once a single pair of shoes has been put in a suit-case, there is no room for anything else except a few ties and handkerchiefs which may be crammed into the shoes themselves . . . I suffer from a neurotic fear that I will not have enough handkerchiefs when I am away from home. Socks do not worry me; I am confident about shirts; but I am convinced that I shall run short of handkerchiefs, and as I have not reconciled myself to the modern habit of blowing my nose on a bit of paper and then stuffing it down between the cushions of the nearest sofa I pack several dozen handkerchiefs—some for blowing, some for wiping my spectacles, some for waving farewells with, some for lending to women (who never have any of their own) and some merely to allay my fear of a handkerchief-famine.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: Passed some time in Toronto in the company of a Wise Man and Philosopher of my acquaintance, and as we walked about the streets I commented on the unhappy, disgruntled expressions of many of the women who passed us. "Why, O sage," said I, "do these females all look so miserable? Is there no love in their lives? Do their husbands not live up to their maiden dreams of a Fairy Prince? Are they short of money? Are they worrying about the international situation? Is it the cost of living which is chewing them? Speak, Wise One, and enlighten this miserable worm." "It's feet," said the Sage, simply. "Most women wear shoes that don't fit them. Now you may outrage many parts of the human frame without affecting the whole carcass, but not feet. Feet are basic. If your feet hurt you cannot be happy or look happy. Women are tough: they can live without love far better than men can. They can put up with disappointing husbands, poverty, world chaos and high prices. But even women, tough as they are, cannot ignore the agony of painful feet, and it is that agony which you see etched upon the faces about you. The only prince in fairyland who knew the way to a woman's heart was he who insisted that Cinderella wear shoes which fitted her. She alone lived happily ever after."

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Drove along one of the main highways of Western Ontario today and passed many young surveyors who were taking levels for some road work. Most of them had taken off their shirts and were naked to the waist, which made them look a little like figures in a government mural called "Labour." The yearning of the young male to show off his pectoral development is very strong, and is growing: indeed, the young man of today almost rivals his sister in this respect: both are, so to speak, well abreast of the times. These fellows were getting their first sunburn and some of them were an angry pink shade. But there they stood, scorning to protect themselves against a remarkably hot May sun. And once again I marvelled at the passion people have nowadays for getting brown. There are millions of people in the world who are suffering abominable limitations of their liberties and human rights for no other reason than that their skins are too dark. The lords of creation are those races whose skins approximate underdone pastry in colour. Then why, in the name of all that is reasonable, haven't the vainglorious white races the common sense and self-preserving instinct to stay as white as they can?

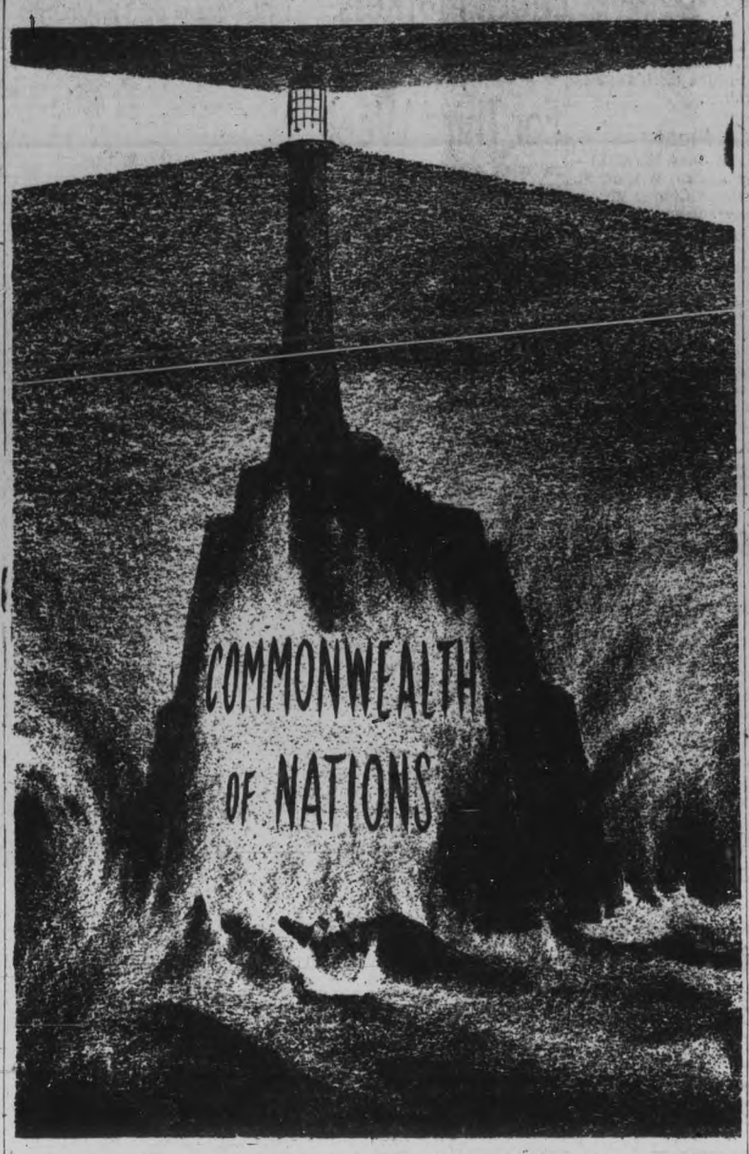
✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: I am in London (Ont.) for the finals of the Dominion Drama Festival, and once again I ponder on the fact that it would be better for many Canadian settlements if they had been named with less hope and more sense. This charming city of London (Ont.) will never fully be itself: it is bound forever to be a poor second-best to London (Eng.). Better to have called it Catfish Corners, so that its own charm would be thrown into relief, than to place it forever in the shadow of the Tower, the Abbey, St. Paul's, and all those substantial and insubstantial things which make London (Eng.) one of the wonders of the world . . . In one respect London (Ont.) has shown a very special wisdom. It has kept its nineteenth-century theatre, and it is now busy about three hundred nights of the year. Not long ago every Canadian town had its Opera House or its Grand Theatre. Most of them have been torn down, and now the cry goes up for Civic Centres and auditoriums, and ghastly cement warehouses are being built to take the places of those delightful old theatres, with their plaster cupids, their mythological paintings over the proscenium, their boxes, and their wonderful atmosphere of pleasure and excitement. We don't have pleasure and excitement now: we have planned recreation, instead.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: To a meeting this morning, and continued my observations of two of the types most commonly encountered at such gatherings, the Window Opener and the Window Closer. The former is likely to be a committee man who has had a thick night, and feels the need of oxygen: the latter is often a virtuous, buttoned-up type of man, nervous of draughts. As most meetings include a good number of pipe and cigar smokers the agony of the Opener is pitiful unless he gets his way. But it is usually the Closer who wins in the end. There are people who can close a window in such a way that they appear to be rebuking all the sins of the world.

✧ ✧ ✧



FRIDAY: As the place of my birth is not far from London (Ont.) I made a pious pilgrimage thither today and retraced the steps of my childhood. There it all was: the house in which I was born (for I am so incredibly old that I was born in a bed in a house, and not on a table in a hospital), the Town Hall where the Town Clerk's dog would do tricks, the church in which I sucked ghostly wisdom from the knees of several Sunday School teachers, the Tecumseh House Hotel, and—best of all—the Ferguson Opera House in which, at the age of three, I made my first appearance upon the stage; as theatres go, it has more of the atmosphere of the drama than many more modern playhouses, and possesses a drop-curtain upon which virtually every picturesque feature of the Continent of Europe is represented. I saw two houses which, as a child, I believed to be inhabited by witches, and The Pit—a dreadful Sheol on the edge of town, believed in my youth to be a favourite haunt of German Spies, who doubtless wanted to blow up the local canning factory. I found this Sentimental Journey quite exhausting, and returned to London in the shaky condition of a man who has had a good long look at his past.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: The end of a Dominion Drama Festival is always a nervous and exhausting day. Merely to see eight plays in a week is rough on the nervous system. Trying to guess which ones will win what awards complicates and heightens the tension. The atmosphere is that of a Welsh Eisteddfod, or an Irish horse-race. . . . During the course of his remarks the Adjudicator explained, much to his own satisfaction, why Bernard Shaw was not a good playwright. It is always safe to utter brave challenges to the dead, and tweak the nose of an eminent corpse. . . . When the judging was over, returned to the hotel for a coffee-and-sandwich beano; as coffee and sandwiches are not the gayest of fare, many guests refreshed themselves privily in upstairs rooms; the others sat about, looking like moulting birds, as people are apt to do when they have eaten too much bread. . . . Amused myself by counting the number of men present, and then computing the number who were bald; it came to 38 per cent. Of those who were bald, 14 per cent tried to conceal or minimize it by weaving their remaining hair into a fantastic mat, and plastering it to their naked pates. Wearied of these depressing calculations, and went to bed.

A ROCK AND A LIGHT

Earning A Higher Than Average Income

by BON VIVANT

TORONTO—I am standing at a crossroads. As a consistent reader of the classified section of the metropolitain papers, I've almost succumbed to those promises of a higher than average income. At the moment my income, for me, is average, but Mr. Abbott recently took a cut at it, and the lure of being one of those in the higher than average bracket is practically irresistible.

I find several fields of endeavour open. One, which has a great appeal, is that of finger print expert. The advertisement which invites me to study this profession in my spare time comes right out and says that this is "the steady pay profession, good times or bad!" It also boldly states that "any national emergency creates a greater need for experts in crime detection."

Both these statements make a chap think, but what really inclines me toward becoming a finger print expert is the illustration. This shows a handsome gent garbed in top hat, white tie and tails, putting on his gloves in front of an expensive looking night club. As nearly as I can make out he is identified as Operator No. 38.

I gather, more from the illustration than the text of the advertisement, that if you spent your spare time becoming a finger print expert, you go around all the time dolled up in evening clothes. It seems obvious that by taking this course you have no dealings with the seedier type of criminal. Only the high society jewel thieves come within your ken. Although it doesn't come right out and say so, it is a fair assumption that there is an unlimited expense account somewhere in the background, and more than likely jaunts to the criminal centres of Europe.

Attractive and all as the finger printing business appears at first glance there is something to be said for the stay-at-home. A glance at the evening paper opens up several of these "higher than average income jobs."

THE first one to catch my eye was a generous offer to help me build a business of my own. I find I don't need to invest one cent. All merchandise will be furnished on consignment, I will be financed and paid my profit weekly. All I need to be is reliable, own my own car and be ambitious. I shall receive a return, in this business, of $5,000 annually.

That sounded pretty good. Whether I am reliable is a moot point, but, along with the finance company, I do own my own car. The only sticker is that I'm not ambitious. I've not the slightest doubt that if I seized this opportunity I'd have to work. It sounds to me like one of those things where you attend pep meetings every Saturday, and gaze at a blackboard which records that a mysterious G. earned $250 last week, and a fellow identified as O. earned $175 his second week with the firm.

I'm afraid I'll have to pass this one up. When one of those high pressure spellbinders gets in front of a crowd and begins telling the boys how to sell, I'm all too apt to rush up and want to buy something. This, I have found, has a tendency to throw the meeting into something of a tizzy. However, I'll keep this one in mind.

THE next offer to arouse my interest didn't come right out and say anything about a higher than average income, but it did offer remuneration commensurate with experience and ability. It also said quite plainly that on this job you would have an opportunity of meeting executives in the packing house trade.

This sounded mighty enticing, but I'm afraid I don't know much about how to approach executives in the packing house trade. I only know one packing house executive and he is an elderly gentleman who once bought me an ice cream cone. Whether or not a reversal of this courtesy would be the Open Sesame to a packing house executive's pocket is doubtful in my mind. Besides, if you were kept waiting the cone might melt, or you would be caught eating it to save it, just as you were summoned to the presence, and doubtless remind the p.h.e. of raw material for bacon.

THE invitation to get on the gravy train that really appealed to me was the forthright inquiry as to whether or not I was a man of action. If I am I find I can earn over $150 a week, but I've got to be the type of individual not affected by conditions. It doesn't specify what conditions. Also I've got to be able to blame myself if my territory is not productive. This I find hard to do. I'm an escapist. There are enough people blaming me for things without my joining the ranks. That one tries a man too high, so for the good of all concerned I shall give it a miss.

The final opportunity I reluctantly turned down assured me that none of the men employed by this concern made less than $75 weekly or higher than $125. The trouble was that a knowledge of sewing machines was desirable. I know nothing about sewing machines, except, of course, that they sew, so another better than average income opportunity was consigned to limbo.

Finger print expert looks about my speed, if I could find assurance that I'd be the fellow in the evening togs, operating exclusively among the international crooks. The only thing holding me back is that I might find myself assigned to hunt down a local chicken stealing ring. Having once been bitten by a hen I live in mortal fear of the creatures.

It looks as though a slightly less than average income bracket is my sphere in life.

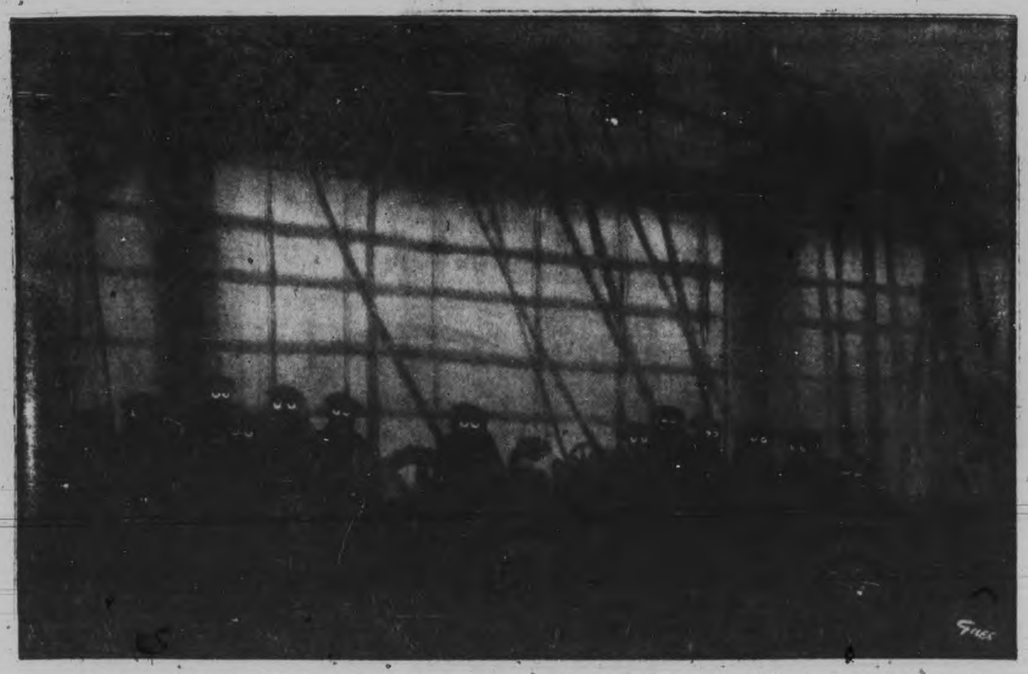
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, and saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.



When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel....

And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour. (Matt. 8: 5-10, 13.)

NOT HER WORRY

A sergeant on a course of training wrote home to his wife: "Darling, I'm not in the artillery now, I have been put in the infantry, but don't worry, for I shall be all right."

His wife wrote back: "Darling, why should I worry? You're in the infantry, not me."

Owing to a power cut it is impossible to see whether these workers in a Midlands factory are making jokes about the illuminations on the Festival site or not.

Old Simon Squid says the Queen's Birthday isn't fun any more. "How come, Old Timer?"

And Simon went into a long disgusted tirade. He told of a holiday trip with his son and family to the ancestral cottage, Bide-A-Wee. Rudely awakened from his afternoon nap on Thursday by the horn of the young people's car, the old gent was dumped into the back seat. His grandchildren urged their father to pass every car in the highway lineup. The trip to the lake was made in 21 minutes, a little under par.

A mahogany taxi launch dashed them across the lake to the island. They sprang to the dock and extracted Simon from bags of groceries and let him struggle up the flagstone steps as they raced to unlock the cottage, throw on the power switch and light the kerosene refrigerator.

Simon's grandsons had the boathouse opened, boats in the water and were soon roaring down the channel in a high-powered outboard. They had forgotten something at the Landing. A comely granddaughter in a wisp of a bathing suit rigged up the diving board herself, plunged in the water and sprinted a 100 yards to the red buoy and back again.

Daughter-in-law did quick miracles with a can opener and the rangette and rang an old handbell—she knew Gramp would like that sentimental old sound—to call her family to the evening meal. They poured in from various directions and bolted their food while the radio blared boogie-woogie.

Neighbors came from the next island before the dishes were done. The boys roared off again in the boat. A swain in a sailboat called to take granddaughter for a ride. The middle-agers and their visitors started a noisy game of canasta. Gramp could stand no more. He sneaked off to a bedroom over the boathouse, smoked on the balcony and listened to the whippoorwills in the dusk. And dreamed of Victoria Day at the island when he was a boy.

The train trip to the steamboat landing. . . The day-long trip up the lakes and the wholesome picnic lunches on hard-deck chairs. . . . The thrill of walking the narrow plank onto the island wharf. . . . The mountain of baggage that was toted to the cottage. . . . Taking off shutters, splitting firewood and filling the woodbox, digging out blocks of ice and filling the ice box. . . . Wrestling with carefully-stored mattresses. . . . The hot piney shut-up smell of the bedrooms . . . . The arrival of the supply boat in the morning with milk, fresh vegetables and honey. . . . The handsome gift of ten cents from his mother's large leather purse that he might spend at the Landing, sometime. . . . The first delicious drink from the rocky spring at the lower end of the island. . . . The paper Chinese lanterns that mice had destroyed through the winter. . . . The large framed Boer War lithographs in the living room and the pretty china oil lamps that hung in chains. . . . The skiff and canoes that must be water-soaked before using and the oars and paddles to be varnished. . . .

Old Simon remembered these things and many more. He was relieved the next day when the family said they must rush back to the city—his son and wife to attend a service club dinner, the grandchildren to a movie that hadn't even been shown in Toronto. But each had something to show for their high speed Victoria Day trip to Bide-A-Wee, sunburn, mosquito bites and poison ivy rash.

Simon Squid smiled. There were at least three things that hadn't changed from the days when he was a boy. But that was all.

Eight city fishermen went into the wilds of Haliburton last week-end for lake speckles and in three days took 20 beauties averaging 3½ to 4 pounds—the largest 5-12. They earned their fun, they said, after travelling the last mile or so by wagon and finally slugging three kickers over a tough portage to an unnamed lake. These stalwarts were Al Wilson, Cam Rowatt, Jack Hayward, Bud LaPlante, Bus Hutchison, Jack Arnott, Reg Moore and Bill Taylor. You only have to look closely at any one of them to reveal the unlucky lad who lost his false teeth. I haven't seem them all and they loyally withheld the name.

There is an observation post at Creek's Swamp on Highway 35, south of Lindsay, where conservation officers have been watching the spring evening antics of woodcock. During the three-week mating season males may be seen performing their curious spiralling flights, only two of them so far this year. Five were observed in '50 which indicates a gunner's toll last fall. In Audubon's day, 1822, two-day October flights of woodcock consisted of 40,000 birds or more.

A friend of mine tells me about driving over newly-calciumed county roads recently. He remarked that workers had dumped the empty chemical sacks along the way about every 20 yards or so. It was a mess. Funny thing, I listened to top brass of the Department of Highways who told of their strivings to beautify provincial highways. Isn't this sort of thing more ugly than numerous billboard hordings?

£80,000 Diamond Goes Under Axe Soon

By JOHN WORRALL in Cape Town

On his way to Antwerp by plane last week was M. Romi Goldmuntz, a Belgian diamond dealer, who has bought for the record price of £80,000 the 160-carat diamond found recently in South-west Africa. Following him by another plane is the diamond which is to be cut in Antwerp.

M. Goldmuntz plans to have the stone cut in four pieces. It will be a nerve-shattering operation that will take a cutter about four months. M. Goldmuntz will be left with about forty per cent of the diamond's carat worth at the finish of the operation. It will eventually find its way to the American market where it will earn valuable dollars for Belgium.

The diamond was found in the Consolidated Diamond Mine diggings at the mouth of the Orange River in South-West Africa. It is a perfect blue-white stone and was described by Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, South Africa's diamond king, as "the finest diamond in colour I have ever seen."

Worth £125,000

It has been calculated that its worth when cut and polished may be at least £125,000. M. Goldmuntz, however, says that he cannot yet say whether he will gain or lose by the time the stone has been cut and polished. "It is a speculation and everything depends on how the stone is split," he said.

M. Goldmuntz was on a visit to Sir Ernest Oppenheimer when the discovery of the diamond was announced and he made his offer immediately.

A Cape Town diamond cutter risks would have to be taken in splitting this valuable stone. If everything goes well, he told me, the dealer would be able to make about 25 per cent on the purchase price. If the cutter made a slip a heavy loss might be made on the deal.

He said that before a decision on how to split the stone was made several weeks would be spent in studying its formation. "The operation of cleaving a big diamond is something like splitting a piece of wood," he said. "If the axe follows a clean vein, the wood is split neatly. If the vein is irregular, however, the cleavage will be irregular. Similarly, a diamond must split cleanly down a vein or grain."

If this ultra-delicate operation is unsuccessful, the stone may crack and become starred and its value reduced to almost nothing.

Diamond cutters in this land of diamonds say that the job can be ruinous to a cutter's nerves. There is always the fear uppermost in his mind that a mistake may cost his firm thousands of pounds. This fear has caused many nervous breakdowns among cutters. In Holland there is a special sanatorium for cutters suffering from this illness. It takes from ten to twelve years to become a master cutter.

First Presbyterian Church In Norwood Erected In 1851

By HAZEL KELLY

Sunday, May 27, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Norwood, will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the opening of the first Presbyterian church in Norwood.

The first Presbyterian church in Norwood was a rough cast structure built on cedar posts.

The bottom of it was not enclosed, and consequently became a favorite resort of the sheep on hot days in summer and often duing the service their stamping and the thump, thump of their backs against the joists could be felt and heard quite easily by the worshippers.

When the church was opened in 1851 it was furnished with benches and lighted in the evening with candles hung from the walls in brackets.

Straight Pews

To snuff the candles, without extinguishing them, was an art. The pews were put in a year later when the Rev. David M. McAleese, D.D., was inducted into the charge. These pews were straight backed and had doors on the aisles.

Back in those early days, the offering was taken up in boxes fastened to the end of a rod and these were passed by the ushers to each individual in each pew.

The present church building was erected in 1878 when the Rev. T. F. Fetheringham, M.A., D.D., was the minister. This church is situated on Victoria St. (Highway 45) and has a very beautiful setting. It is a brick structure with a rather high steeple. A very lovely rose window adds a touch of beauty.

Whirlwind

Last year a freak whirlwind tore off a large section of the roof from each side of the front gable. But members and friends of the congregation quickly supplied the necessary funds to repair it.

On May 13 this year, the church was re-opened and some new furnishings were dedicated. The interior of the building was redecorated and a new lighting system was installed.

This year St. Andrew's celebrates its centennial and the guest speaker is to be the Rev. D. P. Rowland, M.C., of York Memorial Church in Toronto.

A centennial banquet will be held on the Monday evening and the guest speaker for this occasion is to be the Rev. Prof. F. Scott MacKenzie, D.Th., D.C.L., D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The Rev. R. D. Duncanson is the minister of this charge.

Good Time To Catch Up On Garden Chores

By HENRY PREE

Now is the time to do many garden chores which were postponed because of unfavorable weather.

The perennial border needs cleaning up and many old plants should be dug up, divided and planted in enriched soil.

Phlox and delphiniums are two basic perennials which benefit by division every second or third year. Chrysanthemums should be divided every spring.

The lawn, too, demands attention—and one thing the gardener must bear in mind is that weeds are always with us. Weed seeds are constantly being blown on the lawn from our neighbor's and any method calculated permanently to rid the lawn of weeds by simply eliminating the present crop is due to failure.

The secret of an apparently weedless lawn is to keep it well seeded with good seed, seed regularly with a good, complete balanced plant food, mowing regularly, taking care not to cut it shorter than one and one-half inches, and to water copiously during dry weather. Chemical weed killers should be used at the proper time.

Little bedding dahlias can be grown speedily and economically from seed. They require only three and one-half months from time of seed sowing to first blooms. Unwin's dwarf hybrids, English creations, are thoroughly dependable.

Coltnss scarlet gem produces brilliant single flowers in profusion on 18-inch-high plants.

Statice or sea pink is easy to grow and makes a fine display in the garden. It is also a good cut flower.

If the stems are placed in water for about a week and gradually dried in the container, the color will keep better. Perennial statice may be had in many shades.

Dumosa has light lavender blossoms which, when dried, change to silvery gray. Latifolia has immense sprays of lavender-purple blossoms. Elegantissima has larger blossoms, of bluish tint.

Gardening Questions

Q—Can horse-radish be grown from seed?

A—Horse-radish seed does not mature well, so the crop is grown from root cuttings, or sets, purchased in spring at garden supply shops. After thoroughly preparing the ground, plant the sets either in a horizontal or a perpendicular position. When planting in a horizontal position, make a furrow with the hoe about four inches deep, lay the roots 18 inches apart in the bottom, and cover with two or three inches of soil. The thicker portion of the set must be raised an inch or two above the smaller end when planting. When planting the roots in a perpendicular position, use a sharp stick one inch in diameter to make a hole in which to drop the set, allowing the thick end to remain about an inch below the surface. From four to eight sprouts will start growing, but all except the strongest are broken off.

Q—Some insect yearly attacks my delphinium plants causing a blackening and distortion of the leaves. What is it and how can it be controlled?

A—Sounds like cyclamen mite, a tiny insect that can be seen only with a magnifying glass. Spray with dimite, ¼ teaspoon to one quart of water. DDT is not effective.

THE TIME I'VE LOST IN WOOING

The time I've lost in wooing,
In watching and pursuing,
The light that lies
In woman's eyes,
Has been my heart's undoing.
Though wisdom oft has sought me,
I scorned the lore she brought me,
My only books
Were woman's looks,
And folly's all they've taught me.

Her smile when Beauty granted,
I hung with gaze enchanted,
Like him the Sprite,
Whom maids by night
Oft meet in glen that's haunted.
Like him too Beauty won me,
But while her eyes were on me,
If once their ray
Was turned away
O! winds could not outrun me.

And are those follies going?
And is my proud heart growing
Too cold or wise
For brilliant eyes
Again to set it glowing?
No, vain, alas! th' endeavour
From bonds so sweet to sever;
Poor wisdom's chance
Against a glance
Is now as weak as ever.

Progress of Peterborough: LXXII

Writings of Isabella Valancy Crawford On Highest Plane of City Poet's Works

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

On a far higher plane than the output of local versifiers already mentioned was the work of another Peterborough poet, Isabella Valancy Crawford (1850-87) whose earlier years in Lakefield were mentioned in Article XLVII. The elderly Dr. Stephen Crawford moved, with his wife and three children, from Lakefield to Peterborough, probably in 1870, and began to practice in a house near the corner of Water and Charlotte streets, facing the market square, with its back windows overlooking the Otonabee. Thus ideally situated to observe the life of the busy town, the reserved and lonely Irish girl began writing poems which have won her belatedly a distinguished place in Canadian literature. Because the ailing father found it hard to support his family, she turned to short-story writing, but the few she had printed in Leslie's and other American magazines brought in only a few dolars, and the family lived on the generosity of Dr. Crawford's brother. One story won a $600 prize in competition, but she obtained only $100 for it, when the prize-giving company failed. Dr. Crawford died in 1875, and the son vanished into the northern bush; the widow with Isabella and her invalid sister Emma moved to "a little roughcast cottage hidden behind lilac bushes on Brock St." where they struggled in poverty-stricken obscurity; when the invalid sister died a year or two later, Isabella and her mother were left alone.

Peterborough cannot be proud of its treatment of Isabella Valancy Crawford, which was compounded of smug ignorance and shabby materialism. Katherine Wallis, famous sculptor who is still living and largely unappreciated by her native city of Peterborough, wrote some years ago: "I vaguely remember her (IVC) coming to St. John's Church, a slight, colourless, unnoticeable figure. She seems to have made few friends, and the notice she attracted in Peterborough was a mocking and derisive one. The idea of an unknown girl calling herself anything so unusual as 'Valancy' and above all things writing poetry, seemed to the good people a most ridiculous and presumptuous thing. I remember the very mocking comments and alas, I have heard the confession of a child who ran and called after her the name which seemed to strike as an epithet of derision

EPITAPH

Within this place lies Abraham the civil,
Who never did good, who never did evil:
Too ill then for God, too good for the devil.

—John Weever: Epigramme (1599)

. . . We look back and feel sick and humiliated that a great part of the tragedy took place here in our own town. . . ." Only a few people locally recognized her ability; it is said that Mrs. J. D. Hall used to read Miss Crawford's poetry aloud to her children whenever it appeared in the papers and magazines.

Kawartha Inspiration

Some of Isabella Valancy Crawford's finest work stemmed from her realization of the beauty and tradition of Kawartha lakes, islands and rivers. In such poems as "Said the Canoe", "The Dark Stag", "The Lily Bed", and "The Camp of Souls", she vividly pictured "the strong and fierce muskallunge", "the white locks of tall waterfalls", "the red torches of the sumach", and "the bitter marshes and tangled swamp" of the Indians' favourite hunting-ground:

"And canoes like flakes of the silvery snow
Thro' the tall rustling ricebeds come and go."

In one of her finest poems, "The City Tree", she remembered the Kawarthas:

"I stand within the stony arid town,
I gaze forever on the narrow street,
I hear forever passing up and down
The ceaseless tramp of feet.
I know no brotherhood with far-locked woods,
Where branches bourgeon from a kindred sap,
Where o'er mossed roots, in cool green solitudes,
Small silver brooklets lap."

In "A Hungry Day," she told the story of the Irish emigrant settlers and their early struggles: "We've got a tidy place, the saints be praised.
As nice a farm as ever brogan trod. . .
A hundred acres. . ."

Insight Into Pioneers

In her longest poem, "Malcolm's Katie," she showed deep insight into pioneer problems:

"Then came smooth-coated men with eager eyes
And talked of steamers on the cliff-bound lakes,
And iron tracks across the prairie lands,
And mills to crush the quartz of wealthy hills,
And mills to saw the great wide-armed trees,
And mills to grind the singing stream of grain.
And with such busy clamour mingled still
The throbbing music of the bold, bright axe—
The steel tongue of the present; and the wail
Of falling forests—voices of the past. . ."

About 1880, Mrs. Crawford and Isabella moved to Toronto in order to be closer to the publishers, and many of her poems appeared in the Toronto newspapers and magazines. As everyone was discussing the opening of the Prairie West, she drew on her imagination to create a long vivid dialect poem called "Old Spookses' Pass." Her only book was published in 1884 with the awkward title "Old Spookses' Pass, Malcolm's Katie, and Other Poems"; this little paper-covered book, ignored by the public but praised by a few persons of insight, is now extremely rare.

Isabella died in 1887 and was brought for burial to Little Lake Cemetery in Peterborough. On Nov. 2, 1900, a group of her admirers erected on her grave a Celtic Cross of granite seven feet high, on two blocks of marble. It was fitting that John Garvin, B.A., of Peterborough was instrumental in arousing appreciation of Miss Crawford's poetry, by publishing in 1905 her "Collected Poems," and paying tribute also in his book "Canadian Poets" in 1916; Mrs. John Garvin (Katherine Hale) in 1923 carried on the good work by preparing a short book entitled "Isabella Valancy Crawford." Peterborough, however, after 80 years, continues to be strangely unappreciative of Isabella Valancy Crawford, the authentic (if Victorian) voice of the Kawarthas.

Marmora's First Town Hall Built In 1856; Cost £450

By W. J. COTTRELL

Marmora's first town hall was erected in the second half of the year 1856 by William Blakely and Obadiah Johnston at a cost of £450. The builders were apparently residents of Madoc Township, since of the four men to furnish sureties, three were of that township.

First mention of the proposal to build a Town Hall occurs in the minutes of Marmora Township Council for April 1st 1856 when it is stated that "the day for receiving tenders for the Town Hall is postponed until April 19."

On April 19, Daniel Grant Bowen, treasurer of the Council for that year, brought in six tenders for the building of the Hall as follows:

William B. Emery and Thomas H. Eaton £500; Thomas Rickey, £378; John Brooks, £475; Joseph Green, £480; Francis Clexton, £472.10.0; Joseph Leggitt, £500.

A motion was then passed "that in consequence of the lowest tender not being satisfactory in his manner it is resolved that the sum of £425 be paid for the building of a Town Hall in the Township of Marmora according to plans and that the clerk advertise accordingly." Thus it happened that William Blakely and Obadiah Johnston presented their tender at the meeting on June 28.

The building was to be completed by the first day of December 1856 and at the July meeting, Thomas Wright was appointed to superintend the building.

Half-Penny In The Pound

A few interesting items appear in minutes of the Council 1852-1856. One half penny in the pound was levied in 1852 in addition to "available money now in hand for the purpose of paying County, Township, School and Asylum taxes for that year."

A motion was passed Nov. 2nd 1852 "that this Council do give their concurrence to a grant of £50,000 to be made towards the building of a railroad from Belleville to Peterborough providing the line already laid out through the back part of the Township of Rawdon be adhered to.

At the meeting held Nov. 22nd 1853 the Council considered that Mrs. Margaret Brady who was keeping a boarding house (on Forsyth Street) came under the Bylaw requiring that all keepers of houses of public entertainment should pay four pounds in currency as license and she was assessed accordingly.

Tenders For Bridge

At the January meeting in 1854 tenders were called for a bridge across the mouth of Beaver Creek according to the present plan, "One loaded butment at each side of the river built of flatted cedar four feet above the high-water mark. Five stringers 10 inches by 16 and 61 feet long covered with flatted cedar six inches thick. The bridge to be 16 feet wide to be finished on or before the 15th day of Octobr next."

At the same meeting John S. Brown was paid the sum of three pounds for building a bridge across the river Moira on Lot 18 in the 11th concession.

On April 29th 1854 a petition was received from Sanford Baker praying for a road to be opened from some point in Marmora to Mud Turtle Lake in the Township of Lake but nothing seems to have emanated from it.

The meeting held on Oct. 24 is slated to have taken place in the school room at the Iron Works (undoubtedly the now ruined stone building near the river that served as Marmora's first school). At the meeting of the Council held Nov. 22nd 1854, a Mr. Syms was present to read a letter from Mr. Scott, president of the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway Company requesting a meeting of this Council to take into consideration whether or not it will be of great importance to this Township to forward a petition to the Legislature for a charter to build a rail or tram road from the Marmora Iron Works to some point on the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway. The outcome was the passing of a motion by Salomon Johns seconded by Laughlin Hughes to this effect.

And so using the written words of George Wiggins, the Township Clerk of these days, I close with "Thus endeth the business of Marmora Township Council for 1856," to continue further research at an early date.

Petes Beat Mimico, 15-7 In Rugged Lacrosse Fray

Flashing a lot of scoring punch in every quarter, the Petes beat Mimico Mounties 15-7 here last night before more than 2,000 fans for their second straight OLA senior "A" win. It was a fast, rugged tilt with the locals drawing 10 of the 14 penalties, which included majors in the second quarter to Ross Powless and Don MacPhail for fighting, both drawing blood. Bob Thorpe left with a hurt leg in the fourth.

LED THE WAY—Curly Mason led the attack for the Petes' lacrossers here last night as they beat Mimico Mounties 15-7, the Owen Sound ace—who played hockey for Petes last winter—scoring four goals and aiding on another.

The count was 3-0 for the Crowe squad in the initial inning, 8-4 for them at halftime and 11-5 going into the fourth. Referee Piper Bain took quite a ride from the fans for calling so many penalties against the home team. The Petes were without Jerry Fitzgerald—an injured hand—and Russ Slater, who hasn't reported yet; and the visitors were minus Archie and Ken Dixon, Bill Rankin and Ed Sandford, though the latter hasn't signed yet.

Fought Hard

The Mouties, led by the scrappy MacPhail, fought furiously all through and looked pretty solid from the goal out. But the Petes had an edge on the atack, and they checked hard, getting good goal-tending again from Moon Wootton. While play was cautious in the first frame, it opened up well the last three quarters, with the Petes able to count a few exra every time the Mounties whittled the count down a bit. They were frequently shorthanded with so many penalties, but killed them off well. Each side protested on one goal scored, but both were allowed.

Curly Mason led the attack with four goals and an assist for the victors, while Ike Hildebrand and Bob Thorpe also shone with four points apiece. Other potent factors offensively were Don Ashbee, Harry Wipper, Don Crowe and Em Creighton with three scoring point each, Ross Powless aiding on two goals, as Nit O'Hearn and Arn Dugan were in on one each. McKay scored a brace for the losers, with Horwood, MacPhail, McLean, Downer and Riley getting the others. Single assists also went to Knox, Lubbick, McLean, Goalie Hartley, Simpson and rugged Don MacPhail.

Teams:

Mimico — Goal, Hartley; defence, Simpson and Gilkinson; centre, Lubbick; wings, MacPhail and Downer; rover, McLean; alternates, Riley, Gray, Knox, Horwood, Hay, McKay and Taylor.

Carter Takes Boxing Crown From Williams

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—Jimmy Carter, the mystery man of boxing, held the world lightweight championship today and defiantly declared he is ready to prove "I'm no cheese champ."

A comparative stranger even in his own home town, the 27-year-old Harlem Negro knocked the crown off Ike Williams' groggy head Friday night when he stopped the weight-weakened defending champion in 2:49 of the 14th rounder in a 15-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

The flatnosed, ex-GI knocked down scowling Ike four times and was leading on the scorecards of all three officials when referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout as Williams staggered to his feet after taking a six-count.

Told there is a possibility the NBA might not consider him as champion, Carter said "I'm going to give Williams a return bout and I'll knock him out quicker the next time. And after Ike, I'll take on anyone who deserves a chance and can bring in some money."

Irked At Williams

The NBA, irked at Williams for not defending his title often enough, said Carter, rated 12th in its rankings, was not considered a proper opponent. A high ranking NA official, who asked not to be named, indicated however that Carter might be recognized if he agrees to meet certain challengers within a definite period.

The bitter, battered and glum ex-champion, who nursed lumps under both eyes, said, "I lost because I took off too much weight too fast. It will be different the next time."

They will probably meet in the Garden again within 60 to 90 days.

There were many skeptics who doubted whether Ike could ever make 135 pounds again. He had to make two trips to the scales at the weigh-in Friday. He weighed 135¾ the first time and had to sweat for an hour and a half to get off the excess weight.

Frick said he met secretly with the Giants manager and owner Horace Stoneham Friday at his league affice

"The fine still stands," said Frick. "It was a friendly chat They asked me questions and I cleared things up for them"

Indicating his continued keen interest in athletics — he was a fine competitor himself as a young man — the Governor-General has this to say in a May Olympic buletin: "I want to bring again to the notice of my fellow countrymen the importance of giving our fullest support to the teams which will represent Canada in the 1952 Olympic Games. We all know the value physical fitness plays in the health and happiness of a nation. Nothing furthers this more than the encouragement of amateur athletics. The Olympic Games are not only an ideal meeting ground for the youth of all nations, but provide that stimulus to attain the perfection of physical fitness and development of character through the principles of good sportsmanship."

There might be a link with the above sentiments in this item by Milt Dunnell in The Toronto Star: "Our Mr Jocko Thomas, who covers the police beat, is a long-time rooter for the home side. So, in sending along a memo that Kingston Penitentiary Saints (what's in a name?) have been admitted to the Kingston softball association, Jocko mentions with a touch of civic pride that there are many Toronto boys on the Kingston team. Of necessity, the Saints will play only 'home' games. Nonsense aside, it's a smart move by the recreational director of the 'Pen.'. The regrettable angle is that the lads who are trying for places on the Portsmouth Varsity didn't spend more time on softball when they were on the outside."

Change In Puck Rule

CAHA has adopted a new rule on icing the puck, and the slower NHL will likely follow suit. In the past, icing was called when the puck was fired into enemy territory behind the goal line from back of the centre red line Now, it's called icing if the attacking side bangs the puck into the opposing end from outside the defenders' blue line It is aimed at doing away with a lot of slap-bang shinny, rough stuff in the corners and pile-ups at the goal-mouth. It should put the emphasis back on stick-handling as forwards will have to carry the puck in there instead of pitching it forward for half the length of the arena. And that's all to the good with us.

Howie Dalton has called for an open practice for peewees of the minor baseball association this aft at four on the Orphanage diamond, weather being right. We're glad to see experienced senior players — not many though, alas — like Howie taking an interest in the boys. "They've got to start sometime," Dalton says, "and they might as well learn the game right as kids. I want to play with the Petes again, but at the moment I'm trying to get the peewees under my charge properly organized, as it's important work." That's quite true in all lines of minor ball — as it is in other minor sports — but too few established ace athletes will take a hand. We'd like to see Howie back soon, too, in the senior lineup.

Cash Customers Out

Ideal weather—apart from the cursed mosquitoes brought by it —prevailed at Miller Bowl last e'en and, lo, a goodly crowd was there. A bit more than 2,000 saw the Petes trim Mimico Mounties 15-7, their second straight OLA win in as many starts. They're off to take on the bolstered Toronto West Yorks tomorrow aft in a fixture at Riverdale Terrace, a place Pick Hines has an interest in. Jerry Fitzgerald sat it out with an injured mitt, Russ Slater hasn't shown up yet, and Bob Thorpe left in the fourth with an injured leg. At that, Mounties were shorthanded some, too, the Dixons working and Bill Rankin being on the injured list. They haven't Ed Sandford signed as yet.

* * * * * *

'Twas a tidy tussle, rugged enough in spots, with the Petes drawing more penalties. Piper Bain watched Peterborough carefully and drew the fans' ire. One fight and some roughing, with a lot of good lacrosse served up. Lally Lalonde was another local absentee, but he hasn't yet received a release from the Quebec loop where he played last year. Moon Wootton clicked okay again in goal and had to be on his toes as scrappy Don MacPhail and his buddies bored in often. But the Petes deserved the duke on their play, with the leading attackers being Curly Mason, Ike Hildebrand, Bob Thorpe, Harry Wipper and Don Ashbee. Three assists each went to Don Crowe and Emmett Creighton. The Mimico scoring was well spread around.

Charles To Win Over Maxim Happened Twice

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CHICAGO —(NEA)— Ezzard Charles and Joey Maxim officially open the outdoor season indoors, May 30, which is about as much sense as the beak-busting business makes these days.

Maxim—real name Guiseppe Antonio Berardinelli—has tackled no one of consequence since Jack Kearns made him a Tiger Man by having him flatten Freddie Mills in 10 rounds and win the light-heavyweight leadership in London, Jan. 24, 1950. ➡

That is as good a reason as any for picking Charles to make his eighth successful defense of the heavyweight title in less than two years. It figures to go the full 15 rounds at the Chicago Stadium.

Charles may also win from force of habit.

Two Decisions

Ezzard the Gizzard took two 10-round decisions from Maxim in 1942, and the Cleveland delicatessen proprietor's case this trip is built on his dropping a split 15-round decision to the Cincinnati Negro in the latter's old home town, Feb. 28, 1949. For a pair of boxers, the fight was close and fiercely contested, with the referee deciding in favor of the visitor.

It is anticipated that Charles at 184 will be no more than four pounds heavier than the challenger.

With Charles eager to be touched by bucks-office magic and Maxim presented with the big opportunity, there are likely to be pyrotechnics on this occasion, too.

Want New Faces

But the fans would prefer new faces.

This is made crystal clear by the front office's frank announcement that no more than 11,000 are expected to pay something like $115,000 at from $5 to $25 on Memorial Day night, a most unusual time for a fight, especially inside.

The joint is not air conditioned, and not a few recall the second edition between Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano, when the former wilted with the collars. There are 18,000 seats.

The gross will be swelled $100,000 by the television and radio fee. Charles collects 40 per cent, Maxim 20.

Louis to Fight

Joe Louis and Lee Savold collide in the Battle of the Ancients at New York's Polo Grounds on June 13.

Over Maxim, Charles is committed to tackle the antiquated Jersey Joe Walcott for the third time in a benefit production in Pittsburgh in July.

With Louis and Charles coming through, as they figure to do, their return is booked for September.

Meanwhile, three pleasing and richly-qualified new stars—Irish Bob Murphy, Rex Layne and Harry Matthews—are crowded out of the championship picture.

Murphy will be tossed a bone, provided Jake LaMotta, now a light-heavyweight, shows up at the Polo Grounds, June 27.

Layne has to settle for the built-up Rocky Marciano at Yankee Stadium, July 18.

Kid Matthews, who decisively defeated Murphy at Madison Square Gardens last March 2, in the best fight of the indoor season, obviously doesn't belong to the union.

It's the same old faces, or no one of consequence these days, it seems.

Anything goes on TV.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The field for the 173rd running of the Epsom Derby was cut to 41 Friday by the scratching of three colts—including one which died last November.

At the same time one of the big doubts about the mile-and-a-half classic next Wednesday was cleared up with the announcement that champion jockey Gordon Richards will ride Sir Victor Sassoon's Stokes.

Meanwhile the Aga Khan decided to rely solely on Fraise Du Bois the Second and took Neron and Malekzadeh out of the race.

The third scratched was Fast Anchor, a dead Irish horse listed among the final acceptors by mistake.

Phil Marchildon, former major league pitcher released earlier this season by Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, has been signed by Guelph Maple Leafs of the Intercounty Baseball League.

General manager Frank Gnup announced the signing Friday night. Marchildon, who has been hampered by a nervous ailment in recent years, may make his first start Tuesday when Brantford Red Sox play in Guelph.

Marchildon, a native of Penetanguishene, played with Philadelphia Athletics in the American League.

At Inglewood, Calif., jockey Ray York sustained his second broken collar bone in four months when his mount fell and threw him during the sixth race at Hollywood Park.

It was his left collar bone, the same he broke in a fall Feb. 6 at Santa Anita Park.

A verdict in favor of Cleveland Indians' baseball pitcher Bob Feller was returned in Superior Court Friday in a $25,000 breach of contract suit brought against the fireballer by a Boston shirt firm.

Feller was sued for damages by John E. Jenner and John W. Ward. They contended Feller failed to fulfill a personal appearance contract in connection with a sale of their shirts June 26, 1948.

New Jersey's law against sports bribes was strengthened Friday to impose stiffer penalties on persons offering inducements for losing efforts.

Law amendments raised the maximum penalties for convicted bribemakers to a $10,000 fine and a 10-year prison sentence. Previous limits were a $5,000 fine and a seven-year jail term.

At Porthcawl, Wales, dead-tired Charlie Coe and dapper Dick Chapman smashed the last British hopes of lifting the American mortgage on their amateur golf championship Friday.

The two former US champions meet today over 36 holes in the third all-American final in five years. Chapman will have played in all three. He never has won.

The 40-year-old Chapman was five under par for the 30 holes he needed to put the skids under two Irish hopes—Joe Carr and Cecil Beamish. He ousted both by scores of 4 and 3.

Coe, the 27-year-old former University of Oklahoma star, played unbeatable golf as he edged Sammy Urzetta, the current US champion, 3 and 2, in the morning quarter-final. And he had enough left to down Albero Evans, of Wales, 4 and 2, in the afternoon.

Ottawa Giants Edge Wings In 1-0 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Ottawa's brilliant pitching staff is keeping the Giants in the thick of the International League pennant race.

George Bamberger came up with the latest gem Friday night as he hurled the Giants to a 1-0 two-hit triumph over the runner-up Rochester Red Wings.

The shutout was the fifth by a Giant moundsman. It also was the third two-hitter recorded by a Giant pitcher. Giant pitchers also have come up with two one-hitters.

Bamberger and Rochester's Jack Faszholz were locked in a scoreless duel until the eighth when the Giants scored. Neal Watlington drove in Ziggy Jasinski with a fly ball. The defeat ended Faszholz' five game winning streak. The fourth place Giants trail pacesetting Montreal by five games.

Turn Back Le-

The third-place Syracuse Chiefs moved to within a game of Rochester as Jack Griffore turned back Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2.

Vic Power and newcomer Whitey Platt drove in all of Syracuse's runs. Power knocked in three on a single and homer and Platt the others on a pair of singles. Lew Morton and Fred Collins homered to account for Toronto's tallies.

Blix Donnelly, 1944 Cardinal World Series star, pitched the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-2 triumph over Buffalo Bisons. Russ Kerns drove in three runs on a homer and single to spark the Oriole attack. Archie Wilson homered for the Bisons in the first with one on. Donnelly, in gaining his first victory, allowed six hits.

Montreal and Springfield were idle.

Chicago Sox Do It Again Crush Cleveland By 6-4

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Richards is out front in the manager of the year race for his masterful job of piloting the amazing Chicago White Sox.

Rookie Richards inherited a chronic second division team but he has the Sox running on all cylinders today.

The Sox, primarily a collection of players culled from other clubs, are riding the crest of an eight game winning streak today and breathing on the neck of the defending champion New York Yankees.

Only one player, rookie Jim Busby, who helped the Sox to a 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians Friday night, is a product of the Chicago farm system. All the others were either obtained in trades or bought from other farm systems.

Billy Pierce, who broke into the majors with Detroit, scattered 11 hits in gaining the nod over Indian ace Bob Lemon. The Sox collected 10 safeties including home runs by Ed Robinson and Phil Masi.

The Sox hopped on Lemon for three runs in the second inning and were never headed.

Pierce blanked the Indians until the sixth when Birdie Tebbetts belted a three-run pinch-hit double. The loss was Lemon's fourth straight.

Whip Athletics

The victory kept the Sox two games behind New York. The Yanks defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5.

Lefty Ed Lopat started for the Yanks and gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat. Lopat was knocked out of the box for the first time this season when the A's rallied for three runs in the eighth inning.

The Yanks wiped out a 2-1 deficit with a four run rally in the third inning against loser Alex Kellner. Gerry Coleman's two-run single was the key blow of the rally. Gil McDougald socked a homer, double and single to lead New York's ten hit attack.

Boston's up and coming Red Sox smeared the Washington Senators, 14-2. Chuck Stobbs coasted to his fifth victory allowing only six hits.

The Sox shelled Con Marrero and Alton Brown for 19 hits. Ted Williams paced the assault, driving in four runs and scoring three on a homer, two doubles and a single. The loss was Marrero's first in six decisions.

Home runs by Don Lenhardt and Johnny Bero led the St. Louis Browns to a 4-3 triumph over the Tigers in a night game at Detroit.

Winning Homer

Bero, a former Tiger, won the game with a home run in the seventh inning. The blow, his first of the year, snapped a 3-3 tie. Lenhardt connected with one on in the opening inning. Vic Wertz clouted two home runs for the Tigers.

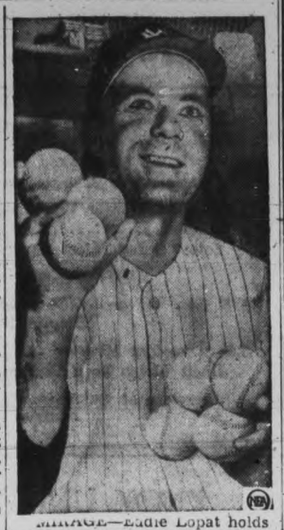
Al Widmar went all the way to post his third conquest. He permitted 11 hits. Hal Newhouser, gunning for his fifth straight victory, was the loser.

Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn "meal ticket," took hold of a bat to insure his sixth straight win, 4-3, over Boston. The Preacher singled home catcher Roy Campanella with the deciding run in the seventh.

The Brooks upped their lead to three games by winning while St. Louis lost to Cincinnati, 5-1.

Once again the home run was a big factor in the Dodger success. Campanella led the attack on Vern Bickford with his third homer of the year, a double and two singles.

Decisive Blow



Connie [illegible] decisive blow in an 11-inning struggle between Cincinnati and St. Louis with a grand slam homer off Red Munger in the 11th.

The New York Giants came from behind and downed the Phillies, 8-5. The Giants shoved over five runs in the eighth inning. Whitey Lockman's two-run double was the big blow of the uprising.

Willie Mays, highly regarded Giant recruit up from Minneapolis, didn't hit in five trips in his major league debut.

The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1, in the only day game. Murry Dickson allowed only five hits including a homer by Andy Pafko as he breezed to his sixth victory.

George Metkovich spearheaded the Pirate assault by driving in five runs on a homer, double and two singles. Ralph Kiner also homered for the Pirates.

MIRAGE—Eddie Lopat holds seven baseballs, one for each of the straight victories with which the Yankees' left-hander started the season. Opposing batters seldom see one. He had the resplendent earned - run average of 1.29. He won No. 8 last night, although he was knocked from the box in the eighth inning.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Billy Conn, tuning up for his heavyweight title bout against Joe Louis, won a technical knockout over Buddy Knox at Pittsburgh 10 years ago today. Conn, later defeated in his bid for the title, battered Knox into helplessness in the eighth round of their scheduled 15-round bout before a crowd of 27,000.

Blasting Out of Traps By Hitting Through Sand

By ELLSWORTH VINES

Perhaps the most common hazard is the sand trap.

The best method of escaping is to blast, hitting the sand behind the ball with a solid blow.

If the trap is far from the green, naturally it is better to hit the ball if possible to get the greatest distance, but the first objective is to get the ball out of the trap.

Swing through the sand, not just into it.

A strong follow through is as necessary to trouble shots as tee, fairway and green shots.

An open stance is best to use on trap and trouble shots.

Stand well over the ball, but don't crowd it.

A three-quarter arc swing is generally best for trap shots to the green.

But, of course, distance requires more power.

No matter what the distance, woods should rarely be used in traps, then only by an expert.

Chipping also is a poor way to hit the green from a trap, as a chip shot requires roll and becomes very hard to control when shot from sand.

Every course has hazards, but the toughest bunker is the one every golfer carries in his head—the mental attitude which says this or that shot is too tough.

If you think you are going to fail, you're a cinch to do just that.

Increase your pleasure while reducing your handicap and the size of your ulcer by applying the simplest fundamentals of the swing.

TROUBLE SHOOTER — An essential of the sand shot, demonstrated by Ellsworth Vines is to stand well over the ball, without crowding it.

Rich Heritage To Be Found Lessons Through Suffering

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

In Tennyson's poem, "Locksley Hall," the English poet, quoting the ealier poet, Dante, wrote:

". . . this is truth the poet sings. That a sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things."

Whether or not it be true, it was amply verified in the experience of the Jews in exile, when, upon the fall of the South-in the kingdom of Judah, all but a small remnant of the people were carried off to Babylon.

The sorrow and the crown of sorrow have never anywhere in literature been more poignantly expressed than in the brief nine verses of the 137th Psalm.

The fact that the Psalm ends on a terrible note of imprecation might seem to detract from its beauty, but is understandable in times like our own, when war and exile, if they evoke great heroism and courageous endurance, bring out also from the darker depths of the soul expressions of passionate recrimination and vengeance.

The Jews in Babylon, in suffering and exile, valued too late the heritage that they had lost. But great prophets arose among them to remind them of what that heritage had been.

Thus out of suffering and exile came the noblest heights of Old Testament religion and prophecy, in chapters such as those in the latter part of the Book of Isaiah, that glow with the fervent love of Zion, and that portray a redeemed and glorified Israel in which all nations can be blest.

It is a satisfaction to realize that we ourselves are a part of the fulfillment of that prophetic vision and courageous world outlook. The best that we are, and in all that we hope to become, has its direct and most intimate source in our heritage from Judaism and Christianity. In ancient fact and in prophecy that heritage reaches back into what Israel learned through suffering. God had not cast away His people.

A word of warning, however, I think is necessary, when we speak of learning and betterment through suffering. We should not on that account assume any blessed-be-suffering attitude. Suffering is not something to be sought, or glorified. It would have been better if the Jewish people had never failed in response to God's call and covenant.

Jesus in His teaching and experience taught us about suffering. He was not an ascetic. He emphasized joy. In contrast with John the Baptist he described Himself as having come eating and drinking; and in His last hours as He approached the Cross, He prayed earnestly that the cup might pass.

But He submitted prayerfully to the will of God, and in that He fulfilled His divine purpose. We, too, may learn through Him to accept and endure what may befall us; but even near that closing hour Jesus bade His disciples to be of good cheer. The joy, of which Paul wrote so profoundly, is the heritage of the Christian.

WIND-SOME BOY — The contrabass clarinet, one of the rarest horns in musical captivity, is the chosen instrument of young Eddie Sills of Atlanta, Ga. The horn has a rich, velvety tone. Eddie's is one of about 15 in the US, and only one in Georgia.

Kindly Host

HAMILTON—(CP)—A pair of sparrows took over squatters' rights in a mailbox at the home of William Yeardye. He co-operated by placing a sign on the box, "Please leave mail under door; birds have taken over." Shortly after, there were four eggs in the nest.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CII. No. 123 — SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1951

PAUSE FOR MOMENT—St. George's Anglican church volunteer workers paused for a brief second Friday night while painting the exterior of the church, the first part of a planned redecorating program. For the past week volunteers have been applying the first coat of white paint. The church is preparing for a visit by the Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Bishop of the Toronto Diocese, on June 6. The group above are: supervisor V. H. Mills, Jack McWilliams, the Rev. H. J. Scuse and Leo Jones.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Cash In Bank $9,590 In Fire Fund

Groups Organizing To Raise Money For Fire Victims

The Mayor's Fire Fund showed this morning cash in the bank of $9,590 as reported by W. R. Wallace, accountant at the Bank of Montreal.

There is still a substantial amount solidly pledged, but not yet showing in the treasury, apart from the subscriptions which will be just a little later than this week's giving.

Mayor Swanston has had word from the Boy Scouts that they are going to put on a special paper drive, hoping to get at least $1,000 for the fund. To help the youngsters beforehand, His Worship is asking the public to save up paper for this purpose.

Mr. Wallace received this morning a cheque for $250 from the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co., and another for $520 from the factory and office workers of Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Co.

There is also a football game next Friday night under lights at Exhibition Park. A Toronto team has offered to come down to meet local all-stars.

COMPLETES 40 YEARS TEACHING—Miss Helen Gerrard, a home economics teacher at PCVS for the past 23 years, will retire in June after 40 years of teaching in St. Thomas, London and PCVS. Her years of service were recognized at PCVS by the students with a thundering ovation. Miss Mary Craw (left), president of the Student Council, presented Miss Gerrard (right) with a brooch on behalf of the students.

Festival Winners Please Audience With Concert

A capacity audience was treated to an excellent amateur concert Friday evening at the Collegiate auditorium. This evening's entertainment brought to an end the Peterborough Kiwanis Club Fifth Annual Music Competition Festival.

Those who did not attend this concert missed an evening of the finest amateur talent in the city and surrounding district. And those who did attend enjoyed the best of the musical and verse speaking talent brought to the fore by the festival itself.

600 Entries

Following a week's festival session, May 15-22, which drew more than 600 entries from as far away as Toronto and Orillia, the Kiwanis Club presented what they promised—an interesting and diversified program.

With music predominating each performance in the evening's entertainment received strong applause from an appreciative audience. Tiny youngsters in the Confederation School Rhythm Band and just as young pianists and vocalists, entertained with ability and stage deportment that compared quite favorably with that of the more mature performers.

PCVS Singers

The "beautiful tone, balance and tuning," described by adjudicator John Clements was evident in the singing of Slumber Song by the PCVS Choral Club under the direction of Melville Curtis.

From this group's performance on, the selections on the program increased in precision and musicianship, as a maturer approach was presented by the older performers.

Variety was introduced by Miss Betty M. Jones of Peterborough reciting The Crowning of Dreaming John, and Miss Brenda Wakely of Port Hope, winner of the William A. Richardson award for public sepaking.

Coventry Singers

The Coventry Singers under the direction of John Hooper, George St. United Church Choir directed by Charles Allen, Robert D. Willis of Toronto and John Moore of Reaboro demonstrated in their Friday evening's singing that they justly deserved the high praise awarded them by both Mr. Clement and Gordon Thorne, festival adjudicators. This was also the case in the performance of the PCVS Band under the direction of Albert Croasdale.

Kiwanis Club president, G. C. Hancock was master of ceremonies. In his opening remarks of welcome, Mr. G. C. Hancock thanked both the citizens of Peterborough and the out-of-town entrants for their support.

"The Kiwanis Club considers the festival a most important project. As such we want to be able to continue sponsoring it, but only the public's support will make this possible," he stated.

During the evening festival winners were presented with their awards.

Miss H. Gerrard Retires, Teacher 40 Years

With a thundering ovation the PCVS students recognized Friday the 23 years of service by Miss Helen Gerrard, home economics teacher. She is retiring in June from the teaching staff.

Miss Mary Craw, president of the Student Council, told the students that Miss Gerrard joined the staff when the school first became the collegiate and vocational school.

"Now she leaves with the second collegiate in sight."

Miss Craw briefly mentioned Miss Gerrard's service during World War Two when with the students of the home economics department more than 2,500 garments were made in the school. During the summer of 1940 the students under Miss Gerrard's leadership worked making garments.

Miss Gerrard said Friday that she believed the best times of her teaching at PCVS were when the student body was only about 700. She explained that the teachers became better acquainted with the students then.

"Now I don't know half of them."

Miss Gerrard will complete 40 years of teaching this June. She began in St. Thomas, then later moved to London and finally to PCVS.

Two Girls Break Legs Both Sent To Hospital

Two two-year-old girls are in St. Joseph's hospital with fractured legs received late Friday.

Margaret Greenwood, infant daughter of Archibald Greenwood, 415 Downie St., was run over by a car late Friday afternoon. She was brought to hospital by her father, and an X-ray revealed that she had a fractured right leg.

While playing outside her home, 109 McDonnel St., Susan Jane Miller fell and fractured her left leg. So Susan could not not run away and yet have freedom to play, her mother put her in a baby harness and attached it to a length of rope that was tied to the house.

It is believed that another child playing it the vicinity tripped over the rope jerking the tot violently off her feet.

DISTRICT FIRE SERVICES

Ald. A. B. Burrows, chairman of the fire, water and light committee, has called a meeting for Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. for discussion of fire services of the district. Chiefs of the Lakefield, Omemee, Smith suburban, Bridgenorth, are being invited to attend with Chief George Smith of the local department.

Last Train From Pt. Hope Enters City Friday, Other Centres Cut Off

Rail Service Began 80 Years Ago With Wood Burning Engines Through Countryside To Lake Ontario

The whistle of the old Port Hope-Peterborough passenger train will be heard for the last time blowing its warning blasts approaching the highways on the southwestern approach to this city Friday evening, June 1, shortly after 6 o'clock. Crossing Lake St. into Bethune St., its bell will toll the end of a transport service that began more than three-quarters of a century ago with the jubilation not only of the town of Peterborough but also of its neighboring communities of North and South Monaghan, Cavan and Millbrook, and further south through the hills of Hope to the lake front.

Two-Hour Trip

As the Midland Railway in 1875, its passenger train made the trip to Peterborough in more than two hours. Those were the days of the wood-burning locomotives. The stocking of fuel was usually a winter job of felling, cutting and piling fire-box lengths of hardwood either at or between stations. Their locations depended on circumstances of both convenience and need.

Those engines with the mushroom smoke-stacks were weak in horsepower as compared with the improved and modern types of the last 40 and 50 years. They lacked the sustained pressure of steam that could be raised over a steadily flaming heat when coal came into use.

It was slow going for the passengers of that long-ago day, up the long and fairly steep grades here and there between Millbrook and Port Hope. However, time was not so important in 1875 as it appears to be in 1951. The late afternoon train left Port Hope at 5.30 o'clock and was due in Peterborough at 7.40, puffing two hours and ten minutes on the way.

Three Daily

The schedule and the service must have suited the people of those 1870's, as indicated by the three trains daily (going and coming) in 1878.

But, all that was long ago when facilities of travel were few, and railway extensions opened new outlets into the world beyond the horizons that had long yielded so slowly to the old stage coaches moving along rough roads.

The CNR issued its laconic ultimatum this week. The last trip to Port Hope will be next Friday, leaving here at noon and returning at 6 p.m. (EDT).

Bethune St. that was once permitted to the old railway as a convenience of entry, will hear the knell of the passenger service that was inaugurated with promise of trade and passenger connections with the outer world.

The rails will be lifted by the CNR between Port Hope and Millbrook, but they will still remain at the busy crossings in the centre of Peterborough.

The public has been gradually conditioned to this announcement and its diminishing significance, and apparently few care much beyond sentiment about this final phase of a curtailment in CNR service that has been increasingly imminent during the last ten years.

3 Aims Outlined For Leaders By Executive

A three fold objective of leaders in business was outlined Friday night by Ira G. Needles, vice-president of the B. F. Goodrich Company of Canada.

He was speaking to the 10th annual convention of the Ontario Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants on the subject "Building for Leadership."

The three points of the objective were: making money for the stockholders, keeping employees happy, and keeping the customers happy.

The stockholders had put their money and trust into the business, and good leadership would ensure a good return for them on their investment.

Particularly today, said Mr. Needles, management must be skilled in keeping employees happy. There must be a feeling of permanence in their jobs, and all the other inducements an employer can offer—pension plans, health and group insurance, etc.

To keep the customers happy, the manufacturer must give them a good product, and sell and promote it well.

At the conclusion, the chairman, R. H. Metcalfe of Toronto, announced that the Peterborough chapter of the society had been awarded the Furney trophy for the greatest percentage increase in membership of any chapter in Canada.

Civic greetings were brought to the dinner meeting by Mayor M. J. Swanston, and A. T. Crate, president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, brought greetings from his society.

Past president Harold Dwight presented student awards to four members. The gold and silver medals in advanced cost accounting were awarded to Lorne Cartwright, and Gordon Campbell, and the silver medal for industrial legislation was given to Norman K. Michener.

A duo piano team of Mrs. Marion Aman and Mrs. Elsie Flett played three melodies, Nola, Malaguena, and Deep Purple. As an encore, they played Liebefreud.

Miss Helen Hajnik, accompanied by Mrs. Aman, sang The Road to the Isles, They Didn't Believe Me, Annie Laurie, and as an encore, None But the Lonely Heart.

Mr. Needles was introduced by Hugh McDermid of Kitchener and thanked by Gordon Hodgson of Peterborough.

Coffee Money Given To Fund

Major Everitt, corps leader of the Salvation Army, sent a cheque for $116.45 to Major Swanston Friday, with an explanation that will be of interest to many citizens who contributed the sum of which that is the unspent balance.

As reported at the time, Ald. Norman Graham started a collection during the progress of the fire last Saturday to pay for the coffee and sandwiches that were being distributed among the firemen and their volunteer helpers.

The total of that collection was $402.80, and Major Everitt requested Mayor Swanston to relay the information to those who gave so generously.

All the supplies, including sandwiches, cigarettes and meals for those firemen who worked both long and late, were obtained from Churchill Cafe. Salvation Army and Red Cross workers were given every facility by the staff of Churchill. The cafe bill totalled $286.35.

Remaining in that fund is $116.45 and the cheque for that amount to the Mayor's Fire Fund closes the brief account.

Incidentally, the Salvation Army has made its own contribution of $100 to the Fire Fund.

Too Few Teachers Graduate Normal Results Announced

Appeals from school boards are still being made at the Peterborough Normal School for teachers, but the supply is inadequate, Leo W. Copp, principal, said today. Earlier this week the students were informed whether they had to write the final examinations or not and how many. This year 25 students out of the 125 attending were recommended for the first class interim certificate to the Department of Education by the teaching staff. These students have no examinations to write.

No student this year will have to write the maximum number of 10 papers, but the remainder will be writing between one and nine papers each.

Compare Well

Mr. Copp said that the results this year "compare favorably with other best years." A few more, he added, didn't have to write than in former years.

He also noted that four of the five students destined for the Peterborough public school teaching staff were among the 25 not writing. The other student has only one paper.

Examinations will begin Monday at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the week.

Not only the past term's students will be writing next week. Teachers on short courses and others trying to improve their qualifications will be writing also. This year the Peterborough Normal school has several teachers from Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan writing the Ontario examinations to secure a teaching certificate for this province.

John Londerville, C. E. Potts and F. B. Smitheram, all Normal school masters, will begin marking Ontario Normal school papers next Wednesday at the University of Toronto. The remainder of the staff will join the trio on Monday, June 4.

Men Of Parish Redecorate St. George's

Blow torchs and paint brushes have been busy this week in St. George's Anglican church parish in the southend. The men of the church have been working during the evenings on the first stage of a redecorating program which will include eventually the exterior ond interior of the church as well as the church grounds.

Volunteering their labor, the men have been working each evening in groups of 10 and sometimes more. On Friday night they expected to complete the first coat of paint on the exterior. Parts of the front and back were yet to be finished.

The new minister, the Rev. H. J. Scuse, is pitching in with the others and acting as assistant supervisor to V. H. Mills. Mr. Scuse said that the church will have two coats of white and will be trimmed with either dark green or maroon

Mr Scuse said that for the past few years the congregation has been talking about building a new church. For that reason little work has been done on the present church to keep it in good repair. Until the new church is erected, he said, it was decided it would be a wise move to keep up the present church.

The women of the Afternoon Guild voted to supply the paint if the parish men would do the painting. This agreed upon, the project was then placed under the leadership of Mr. Mills and the work by the men, on a voluntary basis.

A second reason for the redecorating program is the visit of the Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Bishop of the Toronto Diocese, on June 6. He will conduct the induction service of Mr. Skuce who succeeded the Rev. E. C. Moore early this month. Mr. Scuse came to Peterborough from charges in the Cannington district

Three Black Bear Cubs Entertain Kinmount Daily

For the past several weekends the main attraction in the Kinmount area has been the three black bear cubs penned at the home of Walter Scott, conservation officer for the Department of Lands and Forests.

Now nicknamed the "Kinmount Triplets" the mischievous cubs have had no respect for their new home. They were housed in a large wire cage with a dog house in one corner, and an upstairs verandah for sleeping warm summer nights. These modest belongings have been nearly chewed away.

Amy, the lone female, plays the role of "lady of the home." While her rough brothers scream and push at each other to grab the food, Amy waits until in their excitement they drop the morsels.

Immediately her womanly manners are forgotten. She chucks the food into her mouth and swalows.

Her expression changes quickly and she gives her greedy brothers a look which seems to say "Such manners."

All are marvellous athletes. They climb, crawl and dive across the enclosure. But their main source of enjoyment is the plank which leads to their verandah, which they treat like a greasy pole. This play usually involves two while the other waits a turn.

Amy has her specialty acts which are not quite as rough as her brothers. Her favorite trick is to thoroughly soak two paws in a water-filled dishpan and then to charge at the bars of the cage. The water sprays over her visitors as she hits against the bars.

One recent visitor will remember criticising Amy. She didn't like a remark he made and before he could move, Amy went into her act and he received an extra large spray in the face.

Mr. Scott is hoping that a zoo will soon take the cubs. Their mother was dead when the cubs were found and they were too young to fend for themselves.

But until that time the cubs will be enjoying their stay in Kinmount, the centre of attraction.

Correct Trim Well Laid Adds Beauty, Use To Home

Good finishing materials for the interior of the house are, in builders' language, called "trim." The term covers baseboards, doors, door and window casings, chair rails, wainscotting, picture moldings, dados and all the elements of decorative woodwork.

The casings around doors and windows are known in architecture as architraves. They are built in two forms. In one the corner joints are mitred to a diagonal fit. In the other the sides, top and bottom are shorter by a few inches than the width of the window or door opening, and the space is filled with a square block of wood, plain or ornamentally carved, set at the top corners and also at the base, where it connects the casing with the baseboard.

All baseboards, dados, wainscotting, chair rails and picture moldings should be put on the full length of the material. When they are spliced the joints may show after the house has settled in position. All the material used in these finishes should be of the finest grade and it all should be thoroughly dried before it is applied. In a new building where the heat has been turned on to dry the plaster it is well to store the trim in the house so that any accumulated moisture will dry out.

Trim should be applied so that no nail holes show when the work is in position. If small-headed nails are used, and sunk below the surface of the wood with a nailset, and if the holes are puttied, a smooth surface may be achieved.

Stairways

Stairways are also considered part of the trim for the interior. They may be obtained in standard stock sizes to conform to the clearance between floors of the modern house. They come in assembled groups of members ready to be fitted by the workmen on the job. This does not apply to those stairways which include unusual landings which are sometimes made necessary by the partitioning of rooms on the upper floors.

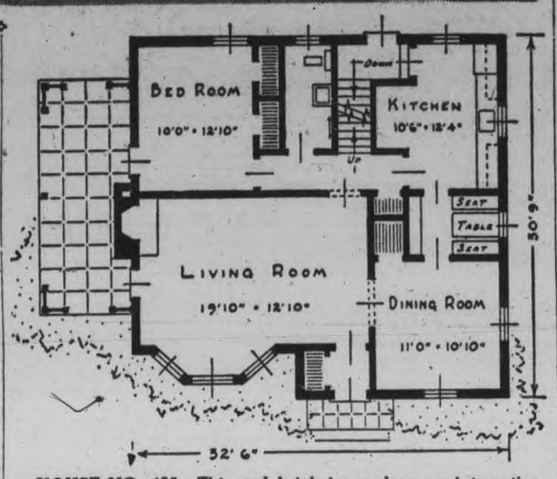
The specially built stairway is a job for the skilled workman. In planning the house it must be accurately set at the proper place. It must be calculated to give comfortable passage for ascent and descent.

The total length of the stairway from the surface of the lower floor to the surface of the upper floor to which it leads is called the "rise." The length of the floor space taken up by the construction is called the "run" of the stairs. The angle of inclination at which the stair rises is called its "pitch." The "staircase" is the material which encloses the side and bottom of the stairs.

The horizontal surface on which the foot is set in ascent or descent is known as the "tread." The vertical facing at the end of the toe as you ascend is the "riser." The "string board" is the supporting piece of lumber at each end on the steps. If there is a groove in the "string board" into which the ends of the steps are inserted the construction is called a "closed string." If the steps rest on pieces attached to the "string board" it is an "open string."

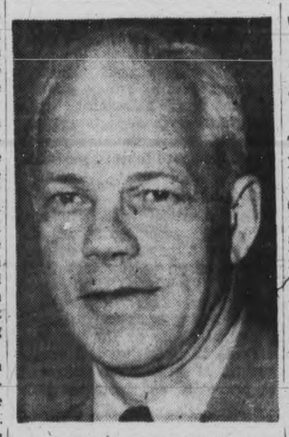
Minimum and maximum measurements govern the requirements for comfort in the risers and treads of the stairway. The tread should not be less than 9 inches wide. The riser should not be higher than 8 inches. A rule-of-thumb used in proportioning steps is that tread width, multiplied by riser height, both in inches, should equal 75.

When he constructs the specially built stairway, the workman sets the position of the first and last risers. The distance between those point is divided according to the width of the treads desired. If the distance is, say, 15 feet, and 10-inch treads are wanted, then it is seen that there will be 18 treads. There will be 19 risers because the purpose of the last tread is served by the surface of the upper floor.



Finish Floors

After walls have been plastered or wallboard applied, and when all the wood trim has been installed, it is time to put down floors of hardwood in those rooms for which they have been chosen. The finish floor will be only as satisfactory as the sub-floor is substantial and level. If floor beams are long it may be necessary to give them additional support, especially if the finish floor is of heavy material or if the floor is to sustain a heavy weight of furniture or equipment.



The finish floor can be level and smooth only if there is no sagging of timbers and no warning of buckling of the material in the sub-floor. Before the surface floor is laid the sub-flooring should have dried out thoroughly and it should have been of good kiln-dried material. Otherwise defects which are not readily curable will appear in the finished floor.

A layer of heavy building felt should be laid between the two floorings. This will make the floor smoother and prevent creaking, the cause of which is the rubbing of unseparated floor boards.

HOUSE NO. 465—This red brick home has an interesting facade—enhanced by its tasteful foundation planting. Outstanding room in the house is the big living room, with its wide bay window and the fireplace tucked in the corner. A French door leads to the screened porch, which is clearly in view in the picture below. Having a very attractive first-floor bedroom, with a washroom close by, makes this house ideal for solving the "in-law" guest problem. Upstairs are two family bedrooms and bathroom. The kitchen is large and bright, with a good-sized cupboard for mops, brooms and vacuum sweeper. Notice the breakfast room between the kitchen and the dining room. House contains about 21,000 cubic feet with porch. For working drawings write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Farouk's Favorite? (Cairo Says No)

Dark-haired, willowy Dawlath Soliman, an Egyptian torso dancer, caused quite a stir in Frankfurt, Germany, when she was billed as one of King Farouk's favorite entertainers. The Egyptian consul-general objected to use of the newly wed Egyptian king's name and called newspaper statements that Dawlath had thrilled the monarch "disrespectful."

Movie Column

Thinks Movies Too Hard On Reporters

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 26 (AP)—Is grouse in season? I'm in trouble if it isn't, because today I feel like grousing.

So here goes . . . Aren't the movies going overboard on the sympathetic portrayals of newspapermen? In the Ben Hogan biog, the heavy was a nasty golf columnist, the like of which I've never seen. In a new pro football flicker, the villain is again a columnist who picks on Paul Douglas because he's a has-been. But the biggest blow comes in "Ace in the Hole," in which Kirk Douglas plays the blackest double-dyed louse in journalistic history . . . and while we're on the subject, hasn't Douglas gone overboard in his playing of heels? He can't be that much of a rat all the time.

The Voice's Troubles

Nothing gives me a bigger case of the yawns that reading about Frankie Sinatra's troubles with Ava Gardner . . .

Ever wonder what happened to the Frank Merriwell ending in which the football hero scores the winning thouchdown in the last minute? It's revived in "The Guy who Came Back." Paul Douglas carries the ball.

TV Woes

Wonder why such a polished gent as Bob Hope seems so nervous on TV . . . West coast viewers continue to gripe about being sluffed off in TV programming. They see kinescopes of eastern shows that look as though they were photographed by candlelight. Also, they are subjected to dated programs. They're getting Mother's Day shows now.

How did they get by with that off-color burlesque routine in the new Danny Kaye film? . . . Pardon me if I don't shed any tears over the movie executives who are having their salaries cut by from $4,000 to $2,000 . . . I wish they had told the real story of Caruso in the film biog instead of the glossy Hollywood version. Truth is more exciting than fiction.

Road Committee Meets May 29

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—The first meeting of a committee appointed by the Canadian Good Roads Association to conduct a country-wide survey of Canada's highway problems will be held in Toronto May 29.

C. W. Gilchrist, managing director of the association, said the committee will investigate all phases of road problems from traffic congestion to the role of roads in civil defence and standardization of traffic signals.

The committee, composed of seven experts under the chairmanship of Dean R. M. Hardy of the University of Alberta, will make a report to the annual meeting of the association next November.

One of the considerations of the committee will be creation of a national institute for the co-ordination of technical research and the stimulation of highway development, similar to institutes maintained for that purpose in the United States and abroad.

Meetings will be held in several Canadian cities.

Ask Sweepstakes Be Legalized

OWEN SOUND, May 26 (CP)— A resolution urging the federal government to legalize sweepstakes with the proceeds going to hospitals will be placed before the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves at its annual meeting here last week. The suggestion comes from Welland city council.

The meeting, expected to attract more than 200 municipal heads, will open Thursday and continue to Saturday. Premier Frost will address delegates at a dinner tendered by the province Thursday night.

He has promised to announce the make-up of a provincial-municipal committee which will review the fiscal relations and responsibilities of the two levels of government.

A resolution which has received wide endorsation is one from Fort William petitioning the provincial government to enlarge local police commissions by the addition of one member from council. The mayor or reeve of a municipality now is automatically a police commissioner. Kingston, Peterborough, Waterloo, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, St. Thomas, Chatham, Windsor, North Bay, Sudbury, Stratford, Sarnia, Oshawa, Brantford and Niagara Falls have endorsed the proposal.

Sect Has Trouble Getting Auditorium

MONTREAL, May 26 (CP).— An international rally of the Witnesses of Jehovah got under way as scheduled Friday, but not before a complicated legal tangle was unsnarled.

The affair started off when the Witnesses obtained a court order from Mr. Justice Alfred Smith giving them the right to use the suburban Verdun Auditorium.

Mr. Justice Fabre Surveyer then issued municipal authorities an injunction forbidding the sect to use the auditorium.

Thursday Mr. Justice Surveyer suspended his injunction and Friday quashed it.

Mr. Justice Surveyer said he quashed the injunction in view of the prior court order obtained by the sect.

He told a dinner meeting of the Royal Canadian Air Force Association that Canada is going to produce the plane in its entirety, complete with engines, and is going to "produce them for the whole of the North American Continent."

Canada probably will soon be the only country in the world producing this sleek little trainer on which trainees from Canada's North Atlantic allies will get their initial flying in the new expanded NATO air training plan.

Jamaica Wants Control Dollars

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—A Canadian trade commissioner said Friday that Jamaica, land of sugar and rum, would like to get control from Britain over the spending of the colony's earned dollars and do more trade with Canada.

Mr. Palmer, Canadian trade commissioner in Jamaica, along with Grant Major of Ottawa, trade commissioner in Trinidad, arrived to help advise Canada in new trade talks with the British West Indies.

Ukrainian Church Opens In Toronto

TORONTO—(CP)—With colorful ceremonial the former Dale Presbyterian Church was dedicated here recently under a new name — St. Nicholas Ukrainian Roman Catholic Church.

More than 4,500 churchmen and spectators jammed the old building and overflowed on the surounding streets to see James Cardinal McGuigan and Bishop Isidore Borecky conduct the dedication ceremony.

Mounting the steps with altar boys and church dignitaries, Bishop Borecky presented the gift of bread and salt to the cardinal who then blessed the church. Then, moving to the altar, a prototype of the 11th century St. Sophia's cathedral in Kiev, the clergy took their places for the dedication.

In a brief address, Cardinal McGuigan told the Ukrainian gathering that "while we are happy here, the church in your own country has been taken away."

"It might possibly be that your children may be able to go back to their own country and their own churches," he said.

Bishop Borecky said: "This church will serve as a place of worship for the great number of our faithful and especially for those who have recently fled their native land because of the ruthless communist persecution."

Charge UK Taylor Forged Three Canadian Passports

LONDON, May 26 (CP).—Edward Frenette, 53, suburban Clerkenwell tailor, was committed for trial Friday in Bow Street Criminal Court on a charge of forging Canadian passports.

Bail was refused on the plea of Prospector J. S. Williams that the case was one of great gravity, affecting the interest of the state.

The prosecution charged that Frenette, in 1948, provided forged passports, purported to be issued by the Canadian Government, to three men from a Sicilian village. The men subsequently came to Britain and by means of the bogus passports obtained identity papers and ration books.

Detective Sgt. Neil Sutherland said that in his search of Frenette's premises he had found a number of letters in Italian, some personal descriptive forms and 16 passport photographs of nine different people.

Sutherland said this information resulted in the arrest of four Italians in London. They did not appear in court Friday, however.

Sonia Bissett Designs Gown For Empire Day Wedding

One of the loveliest weddings of the spring season took place on Empire Day, at seven o'clock in the evening, at Mark St. United church. The bride was Miss Sonia Ann Bissett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bissett of Peterborough, and the groom Mr. David Graham Clark Donaldson (Scotty), son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Donaldson of Davidson, Sask.

Their nuptial vows were pledged before the Rev. B. S. Morwood in a setting of white lilacs and candlelight. Traditional wedding music was played by organist Mrs. R. C. Searles and Miss Margaret Rutherford sang before and during the ceremony and during signing of the register, choosing: I Walk With You, The Lord's Prayer, and O Perfect Love.

Mr. Bissett gave his daughter in mariage and she was attended by Miss Norma Heath of Sault Ste. Marie, maid of honor, Miss Margaret Brunton of Hamilton, cousin of the groom, and Miss Jackie Ballantyne of Peterborough, bridesmaids, with Miss Carol Heath of Sault Ste. Marie as flower girl.

The groomsman was Mr. Vaughan Taylor and Mr. Frank Cowan of Sudbury and Mr. Bob Fleming were ushers.

The bride originated the design of her wedding gown and it was fashioned of French lace and tulle with the long train of tulle frills and the overskirt and part of the train of lace. It was finished with short sleeves and a sweetheart neckline and she wore a string of pearls to match her pearl-studded tiara which held her fingertip veil of tulle. She carried a white Bible topped with white gardenias with streamers of white lilacs.

Long white organdy frocks with bertha collars were designed for the attendants and each wore a wide sash of pink satin and floral headdress and carried a basket of white lilacs. The flower girl wore an organdy poke bonnet to match her dress and carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas.

For her daughter's weding, Mrs. Bissett chose a floor-length gown of tangerine crepe and navy hat and accessories and she wore a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Graham Brunton of Hamilton, who represented the groom's mother, was wearing a gown of navy lace with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held at the Club Aragon which was decorated for the occasion with white lilacs and candles.

Afterwards the couple left to spend a honeymoon in the United States. The bride went away in an apple green French design dress with brown velvet pyramid coat and brown picture hat and gloves and was wearing a gardenia corsage.

On return they will take up residence in their new home at Lake Chemong.

YW Gym Pageant All Ready For 2-Night Showing

The annual YWCA Gymnasium Pageant is just about ready for the production nights, next Thursday and Friday, at the Brock Ballroom—two nights this year to accommodate the crowd.

Semi-final rehearsals have been held and on Tuesday evening Miss Caroline Littlefield will give the performers a costume rehearsal of the program which she has prepared.

The big attraction will, of course, be the charming ballet of "Topsy Turvy Beautyland" with "Miss Debutante of 1951" the star.

As the story unfolds in the dance, Miss Debutante will be seen surrounded by the dainty luxuries of today; Boudoir Pillows in pastel shades, brilliant Rouge and Lipstick, adorable Powder Puffs in blue and pink, exquisite Perfumes in gorgeous gown of fuschia, Beauty Patches in black and white.

Then naughty, little, fluffy Persian Kittens will tease the purple and gold Bell Hops, tiny, many colored Love Birds will bring a Love Letter to My Lady, and finally the Sweethearts will dance through the dream of Miss Debutante who is enchanting in a silver and white gown.

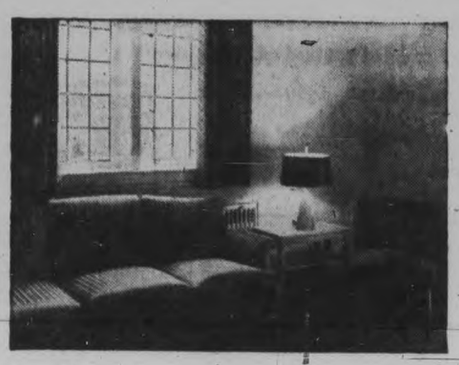
Hundreds of gym girls from wee tots to seniors will take part in the Gym Review. They will do clever routines, majorette, ball and wand exercises, and in recognition of the YWCA holding its 60th anniversary this year, the Senior Ballet will give a dance from the "Gay Nineties."

Tickets have been on sale by Y members for some weeks and are going well for both nights. The Lions Club is again supplying ushers so that all may find good seats for the performances.

What's Right?

Your child and several of his friends are playing too rough in the house and making too much noise.

WRONG: Yell at them to be quiet or you'll send all the children home.



RIGHT: Tell them quietly but firmly they will have to quit playing so noisily or go out of doors to play. This can be done in such a way that you won't embarrass your child before his guests.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Man Unknowingly Resents Two Daughters' Boy Friends

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married twenty-three years and have two girls, one 19, the other 16 years old. As long as the children were young, all was harmony in our home. But now that the girls have grown up there come the boy friends and late hours. Two or three times, some times four times a week, they are out and do not come home until 12 or 1 o'clock or even 2 o'clock, and when I told them how indecent this was and forbade them to do i. my wife took their part and told me I was old fashioned. This brought about such dissension that I have left my family to live alone. Did I do the right thing? Don't you think my daughters acted selfishly? W. M. K.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: I think that you are perhaps one of the fathers who, without realizing it, are a little jealous of their daughters' boy friends. Many men are like that. It comes with a shock to some fathers that their little girls have grown up and are interestd in other men besides them and that Father isn't the center of their universe any more.

Remember Your Youth

Also, I think you have forgotten your youth. No doubt you tell your children that when you were young you never desired any amusement beyond staying at home with your dear parents and reading an improving book. You never went to parties or stayed out later than 10 o'clock. What the young people of today are coming to, you shudder to think. All of which is parental propaganda, as you well know. For you know that when you were young you were just as fun-loving and restless and craved excitement just as much as the youngsters do today.

Perhaps if you would remember your own youth, you would be more sympathetic toward your daughters who care only following the course of nature in wanting to have boy friends and go places and do things while they are young. It is just what you did when you were young and, although your father prophesied that you would come to no good end with your gadding, you turned out pretty well after all, didn't you?

My advice to you is to go back home and make peace with your wife and girls and be more lenient with them. All of you must be miserable with this break-up of the family and with each side cherishing a feeling of resentment. So kiss and make up. You need you for protection. and they will be a lot more willing to take your advice if you don't make it so drastic and arbitrary.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in my early teens and have liked a boy eight years my senior for some time. He is in the Army and is going overseas. He wants to become engaged, secretly, so that he will be sure I am waiting when he comes home. He says I could go out with other boys if I wished to. My parents wouldn't allow me to become engaged so young, I know. I wouldn't want to become engaged publicly, anyway, because then people would talk if I went out with other boys and I certainly don't want to sit home. Do you think the secret engagement is a good idea?

ANSRWER: I think it is a very foolish idea, indeed. You're too young to think of engagements at all, and the fact that you want to keep on going with other boys while your would-be-fiance is overseas should be indication enough that he's not of first importance in your young life. You can keep up a friendly correspondence with this boy, sending him all the news of the gang and home town happenings, but keep it on a friendship basis—nothing more serious.

It is a deplorable thing when young boys and girls rush into engagements and marriages because the lad is going into foreign (or even domestic) military service. There are many complex, emotional reasons for this situation, but on the other hand such involvements are often spontaneous gestures—just a lark, as it were. In either event, they are more often regretted than not, and the sensible parting, especially among youthful teen-agers, is the friendly one.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young girl who has been going out regularly with a boy for about eight months, but my mother will never let me go anywhere without my little brother being along. That makes it embarrassing for me, and I am afraid it will make me lose the boy. What shall I do?

J. O. P.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your mother is making a mistake in making little brother tag you. No boy will stand for that long. Tell her that your conscience and sense of right and wrong is a lot better chaperon than any little boy. And that she will have to trust you to live up to the principles she has taught you.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION: I have wanted to write to you for over two weeks because I thought you would like to know I have a new nine-cubic-foot electric refrigerator. There are only two of us in the family—Herb. is my husband—the one I refer to in letters to you—so I have hopes of making up desserts and putting it on trays all ready to carry to the table. Would you mind printing some dessert recipes that may be prepared ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator. In time I hope to learn to make icebox rolls and cookies and will be asking for those.

QUEENIE

ANSWER: I am happy with Queenie. I know what a joy it is to have such a lovely piece of equipment to work with. I think it gives all of your cooking a lift.

Here is a simple basic recipe you can use all summer as the fruits come into season.

Fruit Freeze

Use either strawberries, raspberries, dark red cherries, peaches or apricots.

Into large bowl put 1 cup well crushed fresh fruit, 1¼ cups of granulated sugar, 1 egg white and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Beat under electric beater or with rotary beater until it is very light and stiff almost as a beaten egg white alone. Pour into 1 large or 2 medium freezing trays and let freeze at low temperature about 5 or 6 hours. This does not require stirring during freezing process. Serve in tall-stemmed glasses and pipe whipped cream around border with icing tube and put choice berry or cherry or half peach or apricot on top according to which fruit you used in the "freeze."

I will give you a recipe for Pineapple Bavarian Cream. It will teach you how to make "Bavarians" from various fruits.

Pineapple Bavarian Cream

Two tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 1 can gated pineapple, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ pint cream. Soak the gelatine in cold water and heat the pineapple, add sugar, lemon juice and soaked gelatine. Remove from heat and stir. Chill in pan of ice water, stirring; when this begins to thicken, fold in the cream which has been beaten until stiff. Pour into serving-glasses, garnish top with cherry, and put in refrigerator to chill.

Orange Charlotte

One and one-half tablespons gelatine, 1-3 cup cold water, 1-3 cup boiling water, 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice or pulp, whites 3 eggs, ⅛ pint cream. Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in boiling water, strain, and add sugar, lemon juice, orange juice and pulp. Chill in pan of ice water; when quite thick but not set beat with wire spoon or whisk until frothy, then fold in whites of eggs beaten stiff and whipped cream. Line a mould alternately with segments of orange with membrane peeled off, and fingers of sponge cake or lady fingers. Turn mixture in, smooth it over evenly and chill.

Write to me, Queenie, when you are ready to make up the other recipes you mentioned.

QUESTION: I have an English boarder who is very amiable and I would like to please him with some English dishes. Would you tell me how to prepare smoked kippers? ELLEN

ANSWER: Unwrap and wipe kippers with damp cloth, put on broiler pan, brush with melted butter, sprinkle with lemon juice, broil under very hot broiler until skin is golden and puffs up a little. Oven should be so hot from below, too, that they are cooked underneath and do not need turning over. Serve with lemon wedges.

Inhalation of aluminum vapor in the changing room is a general practice to prevent silicosis in Canadian mines.

CARVETH—In loving memory of our dear father, Mr. Melvin Carveth, who passed on to be with the Lord, just one year ago, May 26, 1950.
And our dear mother Elva Carveth, who died November 26, 1936.
God called them home,
It was their will,
But in our hearts
We love them still.
Their memory is as dear today,
As in the hour they passed away.
We often sit and think of them
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Doris and sons Everett and Cecil.

MARTIN—In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas, who passed away May 26, 1950.

—Always remembered by his wife.

MONK—In loving memory of our grandson, Gnr. W. H. Alex Monk, who lost his life in a canoe accident on Lake Chicots, Quebec, May 27th, 1950, while in training with the Canadian Army.

Age shall not weary him, nor the years condemn,
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember him.
—Mr. and Mrs. Alex H. Monk, Bethany.

MORROW—In memory of my loving husband, Fred Morrow, who passed away May 26th, 1939.
There are flowers in the garden
Their beauty we behold,
They tell us of God's wonders,
And the mighty power He holds.
He beheld a faithful servant,
Toiling along life's way,
And spoke to him so sweetly,
Come abide with Me today.
The days have passed so swiftly,
Just like the sands of time,
And we long for that wonderful meeting,
Then you will place your hand in mine.
—Ever remembered by wife and daughters Isabel, Lillian and son Cecil.

THOMAS—In loving memory of Mr. George William Thomas, who passed away, 27th of May, 1950.

That grief can call its own.

CITIZENS SAVE PAPER

An appeal is being made by the Boy Scout Association to the citizens of Peterborough to save all waste paper for a special drive on June 5. On that Tuesday, under the complete organization of the Scout association, the cub packs, scout troops and other scouting groups will hold a collection, with all proceeds for the Mayor's Fund. Usually the Scouts collect about eight freight carloads of waste paper, but on this particular drive they hope to set a record.—D.G

Legion Fair Held In Omemee

OMEMEE, May 26—(ENS)—A street fair, sponsored by the Omemee Branch of the Caandian Legion BESL, on the evening of May 24, provided holiday entertainment for many i nthe vicinity of Omemee and from nearby towns.

The first softball game of the seasor on Omemee athletic field drew the local fans in the afternoon, when Mount Pleasant and Omemee played, with Omemee edging a win of 10-9. At the end of the third innings it was 6-5 in favor of Mount Pleasant and their lead increased to 9-6 at the end of the sixth. At that point their luck ran out. Omemee made four runs in the eighth and when Mount Pleasant struck out one, two, three in the first of the ninth the game was called. The teams: Mount Pleasant, pitcher G. Soubourin, c C. R. Craig, 1b K. Bryans, 2b R. Jamieson, 3b Glen Draicup, rf M. Fee, cf W. Mitchell, ss Gerry Bryans, lf R. McLean.

Omemee: p E. Johnson, c K. Hickson, 1b Tom Stephenson, 2b J. Scott, 3b Bill Weir, rf D. Fox, cf T. J. Pogue, ss O. Crawford, lf J. Evans.

The evening began with an amateur contest with C. R. Vaughan as chairman. There were three classes of competitors — junior, intermediate and senior.

In the junior class, 6-11 years, Eileen Hill was awarded first for piano playing of "Clap Hands" and "Schnitzelbahnk." Marie Robinson got second for tap dancing to a violin accompaniment by Mr. Robert Graham, and Bob Young's recitation, "The Giant Fierce," placed third.

Joan and Loraine Hyland's vocal duet, "My Happiness," won first in the intermediate class, 12-16 years. They were accompanied on the piano by their mother, Mrs. Byron Hyland. Paul Whitmore and Grant Sibley in Negro guise as Sam and Joe, singing "Shortnin' Bread" to Joan Whitmore's accompaniment, were placed second, and third was Marilyn Hart playing "Clementine."

First in the seniors was Clare Fox singing "Waltz of Kentucky" and "A Rose from the Garden of Prayer," to his own guitar accompaniment. Robert Graham was second with his violin. He played "The Crooked Stovepipe" and "Soldier's Joy." Miss Marion Rea, Mrs. J. Hayes, and W. D. Weir judged the contest, Mrs. Hayes reporting the judges' decision and presenting the awards.

Bingo and other games were played on the village square and there was dancing in the hall with Jim Black and his Red River Ramblers. The chief attraction for the small fry was riding the Shetland pony which was the object of a draw. John Maxwell, of Bank of Toronto, Peterborough, won the pony, but chose the alternative of $150. A second prize of $20 worth of groceries went to Mrs. Harry Sanderson, and Eileen Hill won the third, $10 worth of groceries.

Auxiliary Plan Euchre

HAVELOCK, May 26 (ENS)—During the business session at a meeting of the Ladies' Legion Auxiliary in the Legion Hall on Wednesday night, it was decided to hold another euchre party on May 30 as the previous ones had been very successful.

Mrs. Harry Agnew gave a demonstration of nylon plastic ware. This was followed with refreshments served by the refreshment and entertainment committee.

PCVS Council $1,018 Surplus

PCVS' Student Council completed the school year with $1,018.93 in the bank as compared with only $752.33 from 1949-50. Miss Carol McKenzie, treasurer, told the students Friday at the senior assembly. Outstanding items to be paid amount to $250.

Miss McKenzie reported that the students this year through candy sales, teacher-student volleyball, basketball, hockey and softball games, and other money-raising efforts collected $773.72. This was more than the average requested by the council in the fall; then a minimum per student was set at 50 cents. This money is in the school improvement fund.

The auditorium seating plan with five outside agencies employing it raised $105. Other receipts were: novelties committee, $100; At Home committee, $150; return of loan to BAA, $100; Concert Band, $100; Bell Telephone Co. commission, $9.30; receipts public address system, $20.50.

The Council's expenditures amounted to $1,293.32, the largest items being $345 for jackets for the band, the printing of seating plan tickets amounting to $180; grants and loans to various school committees and associations.

Donald Hillis, secretary, told the students that three new policies were adopted this term. The first was to limit the amount of money given to outside organizations but to use the money received to improve the school and the school organizations. The second was to give gifts to the retiring teachers only and third to favor local merchants by having tenders in making purchases if the price and quality of goods is satisfactory.

An amendment to the Council's constitution allowed the Key clubs, all YMCA and YWCA clubs representation in the Students Council but as they are not school organizations were not allowed a vote on any proposals. Mr. Hillis explained that the amendment proved "profitable because of the services offered by these clubs."

Supreme Court Docket Cut Down

COBOURG, May 26 (ENS).—A docket of 15 cases on the non-jury list of Supreme Court was whittled down rapidly this week when settlements or transfers to other courts disposed of the bulk of the actions, with the exception of several divorce cases which were disposed of quickly. Mr. Justice Barlow presided.

Transferred from the Surrogate Court, an action based on a claim by Edith Foster against the estate of H. B. Foster of Bowmanville, was settled. Also settled was the action brought by Anthony Mayer, Oshawa contractor, against George A. Weltz, Trenton Motor Sales, being a dispute over a garage constructed by the plaintiff. Plaintiff sought specific performance of contract or damages of $14,000.

A claim for $1,633.42 brought by Wilbert Malcolm of Manvers Township against Leslie Bristow, based on wood lots, was traversed to the next court. Settlement was reached in the action brought by J. E. Ayrhart of Campbellford against James Jacobs, Campbellford tinsmith, over the installation of an oil burner by the defendant in plaintiff's house. Plaintiff s

Record Crowds See Sports Day At Bethany

BETHANY, May 26—(ENS)—Record crowds attended at the afternoon sports events and evening entertainment held in Bethany on Victoria Day under the auspices of the Athletic Association. The parade to the park was led by Lloyd Capstick's Boys' Band with little June Wright as the trim majorette.

Entries in the parade were judged by the Rev. James Hampson and the Rev. T. S. Gault and the following prizes given: first for best decorated boy's tricycle under 8 years, Bobby Patton; second, Bobby Edmunds; first prize best decorated girl's tricycle under 5 years, Dianne Mulligan; second prize, Allan Bristow; best decorated boy's bicycle, Ross Smith; second, Ross Jordan; best decorated girl's bicycle, Leone Jordan; second, Catharine Reynols; best decorated vehicle in adult section, Harry Ryley; second, Neals and Reid garage; best comic entry, Donald Smith.

Races: Girls 6 years and under, first Sharon Bigelow, second Sharon Capstick; boys 6 and under, first John Jackson, second Ronald Jackson; girls 10 and under, first Phyllis Bristow, second Doris Timms; boys 10 and under, Neil Finney; girls 15 and under, first Marie Carr, second Stella Carpenter; boys 15 and under, first Barry Smith, second Bobby Ryley.

In the race open to ball players only, clocked by stop watch for the fastest time around the baseball diamond, Marie Carr was the winner in the girls' section, Bert Gibb in the boys' section. A tug of war between North and South Manners was won by South with Edgar Bee was captain.

A prize was also given to the youngest baby at the park, Ronald Millson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Millson. The prize for the oldest gentleman attending the sports events went to L. H. Staples. Aubrey Bland, of Mount Pleasant, was the umpire for the two baseball games. Bethany took the first game with Millbrook, score 5-1. Janetville were winners in the second game with a 10-1 victory over Bethany. G. M. McPherson, Millbrook, was behind the plate for the girls' softball game, the Bethany girls leading over Orono with a 28-10 score.

Evening entertainment found the town hall well packed beyond capacity for the variety program. Twelve-year-old June Wright gave several tap and ballet dancing numbers. The remaining artists were all from Peterborough: Ted Bradshaw, magician, assisted by his wife, Marian; Mrs. Francis Margaret Horsnell soprano soloist, chose selections which appealed to the audience, "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," "Love Here Is My Heart," "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "One Night of Love," accompanied at the piano by Bob Johnston; "Buzz" Horsnell really "buzzed" through a series of clever imitations of sound effects. A barbershop quartette, "The Four Hoarsemen" was particularly enjoyed in the "The Old Songs" which included their own arrangements of "Moonlight Lou," "Coney Island Baby," "Wait Till the Sun Shines Nelly," "Down Among the Sheltering Palms," "Sweet Roses of Morn," "Mr. Moon," and "Moon Medley."

A SHOT AND A MISS—Valerie Ball displays excellent for in the shot put at the University of London's Athletic Union Meeting. She also set a new university record in the 440-yard run, won her heat in the 100-yard dash and competed in the high jump.

Suspension Rule Causes Stir For Sports Fans

HALIFAX, May 26 (CP) — Canadian amateur hockey will have a different look next season, but whether you think it's old or new will depend on how long you have been watching the game.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, winding up its 38th annual convention here Friday, approved several new rules and amended some old ones designed to pepping up the game.

Main idea behind many is to bring back the old stick-handling days and get away from the rough-house play of the last few seasons.

Main change in the rule book deals with icing the puck. If the puck crosses the goal line from the blue line, it now will be considered iced. The delegates thought the previous ruling, that the puck was iced if it was fired from the red line, encouraged ganging.

Too Little Action

President D. G. Grimston and Secretary George Dudley, voting against the change, said there would be "precious little" action around the goal—the big thrill in hockey.

Another eye-raising ruling provides a one-year suspension and forfeit of the game for any player or team official who takes a team from the ice, fails to ice a team or refuses a referee's order to start play within two minutes. There is no appeal from the suspension.

Along the same lines, a player leaving the bench while there is an argument on the ice, now will be penalized. Previously he was penalized only if he took part in the argument.

Left Over

Suggestions that the red line be eliminated and the blue line moved up five feet and that one face-off spot in front of the net replace the two to either side now in use, were left over for joint discussion by the National Hockey League and the CAHA.

The association decided to continue the major series if all leagues affected enter the competition and post a $5,000 bond before July 15 guaranteeing their winner will participate in the playoffs.

Each Maritime and Ontario major team will be allowed eight imports and six will be granted British Columbia senior squads instead of the present four.

Winnipeg Buffaloes, Edmonton Mercurys and St. Francis Xavier University of Antigonish, N.S., applied for the Canadian berth at the Olympic games in Oslo next year but final decision was left to the officers.

Entire Slate Re-Elected

The entire slate was re-elected. They are: President, D. G. Grimston, New Westminster, B.C.; first vice-president, W. B. George, Kemptville, Ont.; second vice-president, J. R. Dunn, Winnipeg. A. W. Pickard of Regina is past president.

Financial reports on the 1950-51 playoffs showed that the juniors got the largest slice of the cake. Out of the major series, champion Valleyfield Braves took $5,900 and runner-up Toronto St. Mike's $5,000. Sydney will collect $2,700 for their six-game series with Valleyfield.

On the junior scene, Winnipeg Monarchs received $14,275; Regina $12,325 and champion Barrie Flyers $8,475. Inkerman Rockets will get $9,425 and Halifax St. Mary's $4,350.

Mr. Lawrence said local athletic groups cannot make changes in the rules and still comply with regulations of the International Athletic Federation.

A Night On The Town Causes Hardly Any Pain At All

By JACK SCOTT

My wife and I are stepping out this evening for a festive evening at one of the leading night clubs and I dread it.

We wouldn't be going at all if I had my way. I have a brand new novel and I'd like nothing better than just to prop myself up in front of the open fire, kick off my shoes, open a bottle of ale and get a little of that quiet joy. George is the same way. He is the other husband in the case. He came right out with it and said he'd rather just stay home and read the funny papers. I'll say this for George, he has courage.

But the ladies get restless every once in awhile. They get to wonder if they're missing something. They get wistful and start throwing out little hints ("We haven't been out together for months") and pretty soon you feel the trap biting into your ankles.

Well, the beginning—the part where you're still in your own home and your right mind—is really quite pleasant.

You know how it is. Your wife goes into the bathroom and takes the curlers out of her hair and fusses around for an hour or so, humming tuneless little songs and doing heaven knows what. When she comes out she looks pretty darn wonderful, too, and you get a little excited. Not much, but a little.

Then you get dressed yourself. This takes about four minutes. You look pretty good, too. You look very good, really. There's just nothing like a shave at night to bring out those clean, chiselled features of yours.

After that the other couple comes by and you have one for the road. There's a smooth dance band on the radio. Lots of room for dancing. Plenty of ice available. If you could just stay right there you'd probably have a whale of a time.

But, no, the Night Club is tooting its Pied Piper flute and like the Indians, you have your reservations. Everyone laughs generously at your little sally and you're off.

The Rat Race

If you wanted to analyze the thing, I suppose you could say that people go to night clubs to drink, dance, listen to popular music in colorful surroundings and to dine. That would be a fair summary, wouldn't it?

In actual fact, the night club seems to go to endless pains to make each of these things as difficult as possible. They are downright cunning about it.

The drinking you know about. The gay, sophisticated little old night club patron suddenly takes on the semblance of a yahoo from the Kentucky hills, pours jolting slugs while crouched furtively in the shelter of a table cloth, and mixes the grog with tepid ginger or lukewarm water, depending on his ability to catch a waiter's eye. I'd just as soon go climb into a box car and have a little canned heat as drink in a night club.

That brings us to the dancing. This ritual is performed on a square of floor presumably designed for a troupe of performing mice. Most dance floors are specially built to hold exactly one-tenth of the number of people who will be dancing and it is sometimes hard to decide if it's just a lively piece or if there really is a riot going on out there.

Under the swirling clouds of blue cigarette smoke, in the faint, dungeon light which night clubs affect in the interests of the customer's morale, a great congealed mass of humanity may be seen shuffling and pushing its way around a sort of corral in anti-clockwise migrations like a lot of lost souls trying to find escape into the daylight.

The art of dancing becomes merely a question of survival for one must be ever alert to avoid the elbow in the eye, head-on collisions at intersections and possibly fatal wounds from one of those night-blooming perennials who decides to "jitterbug."

And the music! The music, by miracle of modern acoustics, consists mainly of a distant thumping of cannibal drums. This is a decided break, as anyone knows who has actually been within hearing range of a night club orchestra. I could make more music, myself with a comb and a piece of toilet paper.

For years I tried to figure out what this music sounded like and then one night, when I thought real hard, it came to me. It sounded like an old Victrola playing under water.

Now You Dine

The absolute height of the gracious living one encounters in a night club is the dinner, which brings us to the subject of chicken deep fried in embalming fluid.

It must be said to the credit of the waiters and waitresses that they are sensitive people who do their best to avoid meeting your eye when making delivery of this token offering. It is usually found, lying there, after you've returned to your table from a number of sprints about the track.

I suspect that night club chefs all come from the same family and have the same secret recipes, like the Boola-Boola medicine men with the formula for shrinking human heads. Embalming fluid is merely my offhand guess. It may be one of a number of types of formaldehyde or astringent.

Whatever it is, the dreadful remains of the chicken have a withered, puckered look and a taste that would scare off a hungry vulture. Reposing alongside this wizened fowl is a soggy cold deck of "french fries" the size of railway ties.

The result of this prison camp repast, plus the burning taste of the alcohol in its most uncivilized form, the lungs gasping weakly from the effect of stale tobacco smoke, the leg muscles twitching from the human treadmill of the dance floor, produces a fortunate state of paralysis which permits the night club patron to survive even the shock of the check, which looks like an estimate for the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Gosh, I can hardly wait to get started.

SENT SOUTHWARD—Korean civilians, ordered out of the combat zone, are put on trucks for the trip to the south. They were told to leave, since there may be spies among them and because they wander about, trip flares and set off land mines.

The Search For a Sitter

By NANCY CLEAVER

"Sitting," or substituting for a mother, in the care of her child, is a regular money-making occupation for many teen age girls and older women as well. It is not limited to the "weaker sex." Quite a number of older boy students try their hand at it too! Because the demand is so great, a reliable sitter can get steady part-time employment.

A mother needs an occasional change from looking after children and doing housework. Her outlook on life and general health benefit from a short time away from the house, when she can do whatever she pleases—shop, go to a movie, attend a meeting or play bridge. A full time maid is out of the price range of most families. The assistance of a baby sitter has become an almost universal practice.

It takes time and energy and good judgment to find a sitter who suits any particular home or family. One mother often recommends a sitter to another mother. A church group leader of adolescents sometimes mentions the names of possible sitters. Occasionally the "ad" section of the daily paper carries notices of people eager to offer their services to care for children or parents searching for sitters.

An interview with a sitter and a check on at least two of her references, and on her health are essential before a sitter is engaged. By her promptness, her appearance, her voice and language, a mother can gain a fairly accurate picture of the prospective sitter's home background. The relationship between a mother and sitter is a fairly intimate one. If the two are attracted to each other when they first meet, arrangements are more likely to work out in a satisfactory way for both employer and employee.

Being a mother is a twenty-four hour a day job. When mother delegates her responsibility for a short time to some one else, she must feel confident that the sitter is a suitable person. What should a mother look for in the person of a satisfactory helper to mind her children in her absence? What are the qualifications for a baby sitter?

Parents want to know that their children are safe and they would like to feel that they are also happy. But the first requirement of a sitter is certainly that the child or children be kept from danger.

Careful parents are constantly checking to make sure that the home environment of babies and children is as free as possible from accident hazards. At the same time a sitter must be an alert person. No one can foresee what may happen to a baby or an active child!

The medicine cabinet should be out of reach and locked. But a sitter should not bury herself in a magazine and be quite oblivious to small Junior's attempts to climb up and pry open the forbidden door.

Mothers appreciate a baby sitter who acts like a responsible person—and takes the same care of the house as she would of her own home. A sitter brings her own careless or careful habits with her. Marks of a well-brought up adolescent are unmistakable and are valued.

What about the minimum age level of a sitter? A very young girl should not have to act in an emergency. For that reason, in some places, age fourteen is suggested as the youngest age for a sitter. Age is not always a reliable standard because a fifteen year old, with several younger brothers and sisters is likely to be more experienced in handling youngsters than many eighteen year old "only" girls.

People who are not attracted to children, even if they are hard pressed for money, should not be sitters. If they dislike their work they will not do it well. Children know instinctively whether or not another person is interested in them. They respond to kindness and affection as a flower turns to the sunshine.

A mother may not realize at once that a sitter is not genuinely fond of her child. But if the child's comments reveal that he does not matter to the sitter, if he shows no desire to see her again, better part with the sitter at once and look for another one!

Thousands Of Reds Give Up As UN Troops Close Trap

12 In Lake 3 Hours As Flames Roar By In Big Forest Fire

TIMMINS, May 28. (CP)—A nurse and 11 men clung to their overturned canoes in Loonwing Lake for three hours Saturday to escape the flames swirling about their isolated camp. A 50,000-acre forest fire that originated in the Gogama district, 65 miles south of here, destroyed their cabins, a radio shack, a diamond drilling outfit and personal belongings before it swept farther north. The nurse, Mrs. Roy Poughney, went to the Dominion Gulf Exploration Company prospectors' camp Friday for a weekend visit with her husband.

The rescued party said a wall of flames leaping 150 feet into the air appeared south of the tiny lake Saturday afternoon.

"The flames moved in so fast we just had time to toss a few personal belongings into two canoes," Mrs. Poughney said. "It was so dark from the smoke you could not see 10 feet in front of you."

She said the wind and flames suddenly leaped across the 25 feet between the shore and the island and the canoes were overturned.

"We hung there until it passed," she said. "We had to stay there three hours before it was safe to go ashore."

Tents Dunked In Lake

The tents were saved by submerging them in the water. A tractor also was spared by driving it into the lake.

The party managed to return to the island and spent a sleepless night watching the flames roar farther north.

On Sinclair Lake, a crew of diamond drillers also was forced to take to the water for safety. The five men paddled up and down the lake Saturday night as the flames rolled past.

Bush pilots Rusty Blakey and Jay Pipe tried to rescue both parties Saturday but were unable to see through the smoke.

They said an impenetrable pall covered an area 50 miles square and rose as high as 15,000 feet in the air. They could not see where the fire began or ended, they added.

Both parties were rescued on Sunday.

Lands Department officials said today all but one of Ontario's forest fires are under control following scattered showers across the province overnight.

Officials said the one fire not under control was a 55,000-acre outbreak in birch, pine and dead timber in the Gogama district. They said more than 650 men patrolling are conducting mop-up operations and barring high winds expect to have it under control later today.

Earlier, officials had reported all fires under control but later reports indicated the Gogama outbreak was not yet at the controlled stage. Damage in the Gogama fire is confined to an area previously burned over in 1941.

Officials said more than 1,000 bush workers and trained firefighters aided in battling the outbreaks. They said rain has reduced the fire hazard from "extreme" to "medium to high" in all areas

Iran Refuses To Recognize World Court

TEHRAN, Iran, May 28. (AP)—Iran refused today to recognize the jurisdiction of the international court in the dispute with Britain over nationalization of Iranian oil resources.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi announced that the Iranian foreign office rejected a notification from the world court of the complaint lodged Saturday by Britain and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Britain earlier had notified Iran of Referral of the dispute to the world court at The Hague, asking that the United Nations-approved body name an arbiter.

The deputy premier said foreign minister Bagher Kazami informed the court Iran would not send a representative for any hearing on the matter.

Reds Watch Chance

Meanwhile, Iran's Communists were moving to take advantage of heated Nationalist emotions stirred by the oil dispute.

Red-front organizations scheduled country-wide mass meetings to "fight imperialistic oil companies." The government, headed by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, was reported arranging for tanks, armored cars and special troops to maintain order.

Meanwhile non - Communist Moslem fanatics, who have threatened a holy war against the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, grew more restive.

They pointed out that although Mossadegh fathered the nationalization law, which ostensibly seized the properties of the $1,000,000,000 AIOC 26 days ago, the company still is doing business without interference.

Mossadegh is in further trouble because the company stopped paying royalties after passage of the law. These royalties make up most of Iran's income and consequently the government is living from hand to mouth.

Observers fear that in the present unsettled atmosphere either of the two extremist groups might stage a lightning coup and seize control of the country.

The AIOC made a conciliatory gesture Sunday to try to calm the troubled waters. Board chairman Sir William Fraser, in a letter to Iran's finance minister, announced that the company's resident manager, N. R. Seddon, would attend one meeting of the Oil Nationalization Board "as a measure of respect to the Imperial Government and the Iranian parliament."

Anti-Reds Lead Italian Voting

ROME, May 28 — (AP). — Premier Alcide de Gasperi's anti-Red coalition took a lead over its Communist opponents in the first small trickle of returns today from Italy's municipal elections.

The reports came from scattered precincts and small towns in nine of the 28 provinces which balloted Sunday and today for town and provincial councils.

Only 115 of the 2,735 municipalities had reported partial results three hours after the polls closed.

Premier de Gasperi's Christian Democrat Party was credited with wresting one town—Castello Cordino in the northern province of Trent—from the Communists and their fellow-travelling Socialist allies.

Fights also are on for control of the big Communist-controlled cities of Bologna, Florence, Genoa and Milan.

Earl Of Jersey Sells Estate, Taxes Too High

LONDON, May 28—(AP)—The Earl of Jersey has sold his estate of some 7,500 acres in Wales because of high taxes.

The estate includes many farms, houses and small factories. The name of the purchaser was not disclosed. The sale price was reported to have been about £400,000.

Jersey, 41, told reporters "It is the usual story of rising costs and crippling taxation which has forced me to take this course."

The Marquess of Bute sold half the city of Cardiff 13 years ago for a reported £20,000,000.

Rest of Patricias Out of Line After 5-Week Fight

WEST SECTOR, Korea, May 28. (CP) — Sharp Canadian eyes scanned the 38th Parallel unavailingly Sunday night for the slightest trace of a vanished enemy.

A hard, tough sweep that closed in on the parallel on a broad front saw Brig. John Rockingham's 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade advance six map miles Sunday. The troops probably marched twice that as they went up mountains, down valleys and along winding trails.

Since the Brigade kicked off Friday there had been nothing spectacular about the operation in pursuit of the fleeing Chinese Reds except the aggressiveness with which it was pursued.

Drinking Bout Ends In Death

BRANTFORD, May 28—(CP)—Police said today Edward Nakluski, 34, is being held on a nominal charge of vagrancy following the death Sunday of Thomas A. Byers, 45, in a hotel room here. Death is believed to have followed a lengthy drinking bout.

Police said Byers was left to lie on the hotel room floor for two days without Nakluski doing anything for him.

Nakluski telephoned police Sunday from the hotel that Byers had died. The body was removed to hospital for an autopsy after examination by Coroner Dr. A. J. Craven.

Deputy Chief Constable George Kerr said no report on the post mortem was yet available.

Byers is believed to have succumbed to alcohol poisoning, police said. Both men had evidently consumed large quantities of wine during the past two weeks, Deputy Chief Kerr said.

Fishing Boat Swamped One Of Six Drowns

SUDBURY, May 28 (CP).—Alfred Roy, 26, of Sudbury was drowned Sunday when a skiff carrying a party of six Sudbury residents on a fishing trip was swamped in a sudden squall in the French river, 49 miles east of here.

Onlookers said Roy, Sudbury miner, was drowned in the river channel after a three-foot wave flooded the skiff and swept the occupants into the water. The others clung to the side of the overturned boat until rescued by fisherman R. Englehart of Sudbury.

They were Roy's wife, Georgette; Mrs. Baptiste Roy; her daughter, Stella; and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Giroux, all of Sudbury.

Blame Douks For Blast As CPR Tracks Blown Up

CASTLEGAR, B.C., May 28—(CP)—Canadian Pacific Railway tracks one mile from this interior town were blasted early today by a mysterious explosion.

"It looks like the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors again," an RCMP officer said.

He declined further comment, saying only that an investigation was under way.

The blast was heard here and in neighboring communities.

It is just over a year since the radical Sons of Freedom started their last reign of terror by setting fire to their nearby headquarters village of Krestova.

The fire raids went on spasmodically for two weeks and hundreds of Sons were sentenced to prison terms for arson and nude parading.

Many were later pardoned as the government sought to end 50 years of strife in the Kootenays.

A consultative committee on Doukhobors was set up and it has been decided, with agreement of the Sons, to settle the Freedomites in some other area of British Columbia.

The committee is believed about ready to announce its choice of location.

(The Sons of Freedom, about 2,000 in number are not to be confused with the 10,000 orthodox Doukhobors, who have lived peacefully in the Kootenays for decades.)

The Sons, descendants of Russian immigrants who still speak Russian, have at different times conducted bomb and fire raids to protest "man-made" laws. CPR tracks have been the target on previous raids in past years.

St. Laurent Says Exploitation Must Be Avoided

MONTREAL, May 28 (CP). — Prime Minister St. Laurent said today that western world plans to aid under-developed countries will succeed only if accompanied by a "genuine conception of human equality."

If all the various schemes for economic aid are to work, they "must be free of anything which the peoples in less developed areas will have reason to regard as exploitation," Mr. St. Laurent said.

He made this reference to the United Nations technical assistance program, President Truman's point-four policy and the Commonwealth Colombo plan for aid to South and Southeast Asia in a speech prepared for delivery before the International Congress of Junior Chambers of Commerce.

Must Give Encouragement

Mr. St. Laurent said the "more fortunate countries must find some means of encouraging the industrial development of the less developed countries."

"Now the old-fashioned way of encouraging development was by what used to be called international investment. Unfortunately, international investment all too frequently seemed to the people of the less developed countries to be economic imperialism or exploitation by so-called imperialist countries."

Too often, in fact, added the Prime Minister, "real abuses" have been associated with such investment schemes where they have been attempts to control political affairs of less developed regions.

"But these abuses should not blind us to the fact that some form of international investment is absolutely indispensable if we are ever to establish a better balance in the world."

Russia Denies Peace Feelers

UNITED NATIONS, NY, May 28 — (AP). — Russia's Jakob A. Malik said today through a spokesman that reports of Russian peace feelers to the United States over Korea are "completely groundless."

The comment of the chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations came several days after reports were published here that the Russians were interested in talking about ending the Korean conflict along the 38th Parallel, and had made overtures to American delegates.

Asked if the Russian denial of peace moves applied to one part of the reports or to all, the spokesman said the denial was meant to apply "fully."

Halifax Flyer Wrecked Engine, Two Cars Overturn

DAVELUYVILLE, Que., May 28. (CP)—Body of A. Bissonnette of Charny, Que., engineer of the Canadian National Railways' crack Scotian, part of which was derailed Sunday night, was found today beneath the overturned locomotive. The engine, baggage car and the mail car plowed off the tracks and overturned near here Sunday night dragging four passenger cars with them. The passenger cars remained upright, DAVELUYVILLE, Que. (CP) —The death of Fireman A. Paquet in hospital today brought to two the death toll in Sunday night's wreck.

however, and a CNR spokesman said there were no injuries among the passengers.

Daveluyville is some 65 miles east of Drummondville, Que.

The engineer, missing and believed pinned beneath his overturned cab, was listed as A. Bissonette of Charny, Que.

Injured and in hospital at nearby Victoriaville is fireman A. Paquet, also of Charny. Extent of his injuries were not immediately available.

Third person reported injured was mail clerk Alderich Noel of Levis, Que. His injuries are believed to be of a minor nature as he was treated on the spot.

Happened At Midnight

The accident, cause of which is not yet known, occurred at 11:55 p.m. EDT Sunday night, almost three hours after the train left Montreal.

CNR officials said the train would be brought back a short distance to Aston and rerouted via Victoriaville to Levis, opposite Quebec City.

It was expected a delay of some seven hours would result.

Sunday night's wreck was the fourth on CNR lines in less than a week.

Six CNR employees died near Parent in northwestern Quebec last Thursday when a freight train and a ballast train collided head on. Five others were injured.

The previous day, there were two other accidents near Napanee, Ont. There were no injuries reported in either derailment but traffic was tied up while wreckage was cleared away and torn lines repaired.

Cavendish Barn, House Burned

Provincial police and Department of Lands and Forests officials are investigating a fire that Saturday night burned to the ground an eight-room, two-storey log house and an old barn on Lot Five, Concession One, Cavendish township. Cause of the fire is unknown.

The house and the barn are empty and are owned by Donald Windover, Gull Lake.

The 180-acre property is used as a dumping ground for the John Carew Lumber Co., Lindsay. Logs are left there before being reshipped.

A forest ranger and three extra men were dispatched from Lindsay Saturday night to fight the fire. They were unable to save the house and barn but prevented the blaze from spreading beyond a half-acre of scrub land.

Quints Observe 17th Birthday

CALLANDER, Ont., May 28 — (CP)—The quintuplets were 17 years old today. They celebrated with a party and a holiday from school.

"Of course we gave them a holiday," said their father, Oliva Dionne. "You're only 17 once, you know—and it's a very important birthday."

Just 17 years ago—May 28, 1934, was the date—Annette, Cecile, Emilie, Marie and Yvonne, were born in a farmhouse near this Northern Ontario town.

For their birthday the five each received a camera from their parents. Mr. Dionne said the girls have had thousands of pictures taken of them.

"And I thought it was about time they started taking some—with their own cameras."

Most of the day was spent at the family's summer cottage on nearby Trout Lake. It began early—at 8 a.m.—with celebration of mass in the Dionne's private chapel. The evening was reserved for the birthday supper attended by the sisters' five brothers and three sisters and the 10 other teen-aged girls who attend school with them.

State Funeral For Blamey

SYDNEY, Australia, May 28—(AP)—A mourning Australia today made ready a state funeral for Field Marshal Sir Thomas Blamey, first Australian to attain that top British military rank.

Blamey was the country's foremost military hero, commander-in-chief of Allied land forces under Gen. MacArthur in the Second World War. He died in Heidelberg military hospital, Melbourne, Sunday after almost a year of illness. He was 67.

The funeral, with full military honors, will take place Wednesday afternoon.

Red China Takes Over Tibet Under Guise Of Liberation

TOKYO, May 28—(AP)—Communist China has announced with much fanfare that it is taking over Tibet—under the guise of a treaty of "liberation."

The Peiping radio, in a broadcast heard here, said the terms provide for Red Chinese control of Tibet's national defence, foreign affairs and trade.

The Chinese Red army invaded the Himalayan 'roof-of-the-world' last October. Tibet's ragged troops were routed in Eastern Tibet without putting up a major fight but the Chinese were unable to take Lhasa, the capital.

With his priestly government, the 17-year-old Dalai Lama—Tibet's spiritual-temporal ruler—fled over the windy snow-mantled passes from his capital at Lhasa to Yatung on the Indian border.

The Chinese didn't chase him. Instead, they set up a border government for Tibet in the neighbor Chinese province of Sikang. Then they set about arranging "peace" terms with a Tibetan delegation and pushing forward a claimant to power—the rival Panchen Lama, who has never been in Tibet as far as is known.

The Red treaty announced by Peiping radio promised to establish the Panchen Lama in power. But the broadcast hinted clearly at a partition of Tibet. It also said the status and power of the Dalai Lama would continue unchanged.

How this was to be achieved was not explained.

The treaty provisions would place all the mountain country squarely under the Communist thumb.

Find Communist Resistance Begins To Stiffen As Allies Push Deeper

Chinese Army Appears In Full Retreat But General Warns Enemy Has Plenty of Reserves, May Strike

TOKYO, May 28. (AP)—Communist resistance stiffened today as United Nations troops pushed deeper into Communist Korea after taking the war's greatest bag of prisoners. But Lt.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet said the Chinese Communists had lost their nerve and retreated when they couldn't crack the US 2nd Division. "He (the enemy) lost his nerve. He just quit and pulled out," added the UN ground commander. US Eighth Army headquarters announced 3,000 Reds surrendered Sunday. Another 2,000 were taken last week.

Most of the 5,000 were captured in a great box-like trap, 25 miles across and 10 miles deep. The lid of the trap is the Hwachon reservoir with UN forces anchored at each side in Inje and Hwachon. Both are in North Korea.

New Prongs

UN forces drove new prongs Monday across the 38th parallel, already punctured at half a dozen points. South Koreans smashed into Sakchang, 4½ miles north of the parallel and 10 miles west of Hwachon. Americans moved up on their western flank.

Reds put up stiffening resistance against advanced forces Monday. And fewer surrendered.

A strong allied task force shoved 10 miles beyond captured Inje into North Korea. It was turned back with withering fire from a Red road block near the village of Hangye, nine miles north of the parallel. This UN force had driven from another Hangye, 27 air miles south, from which the allied counter-offensive jumped off last week.

With isolated exceptions, the Reds were in full retreat.

But the retreat, "fast as it is," said Lt.-Gen. James A Van Fleet, does not necessarily mean any end to the war.

"How far he (the enemy) will retreat I do not know," the UN ground commander said. 'He still has plenty of reserves and great latent capabilities. He can smash us again if he wants to. But there's no denying his troops have low morale right now and they are very weary and ill-fed."

Fire Truck, 2 Cars Collide, 5 Injured

TRENTON, May 28 (CP) — Five persons were injured Sunday in a three-way crash of a fire truck and two automobiles.

The fire truck, driven by Gerald Lewis, was on the way to a fire. Lewis was alone in the truck. When it reached No. 2 highway, the truck collided with a car driven by Charles Claus, of Batawa, then went out of control and hit another driven by George Baitley, 65, of RR 1, Wellington.

Most seriously hurt was Baitley, taken to Trenton Memorial Hospital with a fractured skull. The other injured, all passengers in the Claus car, were: Mr. Claus, his daughters, Mona, 11, and Margo, 9, and Andrew Clements.

Two Vehicles Strike Boy, Youth 14 Dies

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP) — David Stone, 14-year-old cyclist struck by two motor vehicles only minutes apart, died today.

Lunn Carter of suburban New Toronto was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and Samuel Dunbar of Port Credit, was charged with careless driving.

Police said the suburban Lake- [illegible] from his bicycle Saturday by a truck which failed to stop. Minutes later while spectators waited for an ambulance, an old-model car hit the boy and carried him 25 feet on the front bumper before hurling him to the road again.

Failed To Stop

Larry Ash, 12, riding along highway No. 2 with David, said a panel truck swerved across the road, struck David's bicycle and "roared up the road" without stopping.

"About five or six people gathered around David where he was kneeling on the edge of the pavement," Larry added. "The car came along and knocked him down and went over him again."

Police said headlights on the car were poor and brakes faulty.

Say Red Guns Take Highest Toll

WASHINGTON, May 28—(AP)—Modern, electronically - aimed anti-aircraft guns—and not the spectacular Russian-designed MIG 15 jet fighters—are taking the heaviest toll of American planes in the Korean war.

Of the more than 200 US air force planes lost to enemy action in 11 months of war, the great majority has been downed by fire from the ground — everything ranging from rifle fire to heavy flak. Because the air force guards such details, the proportion of aircraft lost to flak and to enemy planes may not be stated.

The Reds' ground gunners, using radar-directed weapons, have hit B-29 bombers at altitudes well above 20,000 feet in air raids during recent weeks.

This radar equipment, like the planes the Chinese and North Koreans forces use, is presumed of Russian manufacture and much of it probably was copied from the substantial amounts of radar equipment given the Soviets by the United States and Britain during the Second World War. The three were allies.

Say Red Jet Egines Superior To UN Model

WASHINGTON, May 28. (AP) —Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg told Senators today a Russian-built fighter plane used by the Chinese Communists in Korea has a jet engine "superior to any we have."

Vandenberg, the Air Force chief of staff, made the statement at the Senate inquiry into Korean war policy and the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Vandenberg said the United States is operating with a "shoe string" air force and cannot afford to throw all its power into bombing of Manchuria. He concurred in the orders to MacArthur not to bomb north of the Yalu River—the border between Korea and Manchuria.

In reply to questions by Senator Richard Russell, Vandenberg said indications are that "mass production methods of a very excellent aircraft are now a capability of the Russians."

Lone Survivor Of Gloucesters Found By Greeks

By JOHN RANDOLPH,

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, May 28 (AP).—Help reached Britain's lost 1st Battalion of the Gloucestershire Regiment—but it came a month too late for all but one dazed and unbelieving survivor.

He was Pte. Lionel Essex who crawled from the scene of massacre the night of April 25 and hid with a kindly Korean family for 33 days. A Greek patrol found him last night in a pouring rainstorm.

With the exception of the 49 men who fought their way back from the trap, he is the only survivor of some 600 Britons who battled for two days after they were surrounded by two Chinese corps.

The rest of the battalion, except for some who must have been taken prisoner, were also found Sunday—still lying in the hill trap or scooped into shallow graves by the Chinese.

Wrecked Equipment

At the foot of the hill was the wreckage of the battalion — vehicles and equipment—burned trucks, wrecked Bren gun carriers scattered ammunition and smashed machine-guns.

This story was told by Major P. Pantelis Kalamakis, Greek officer who found the British soldier.

"We went into the village of Paegan just below the Imjin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

"A Korean ran up and shouted. He pulled our sleeves. . . .

"We went in and saw this Englishman . . he was thin, pale and hairy.

"He said, nearly as I remember: 'For this moment, I waited. I prayed to God you'd come.' "

The Major said Essex cried and then laughed.

"I wanted to make him happy," the major said. "I started to sing to him. I sang a song of yours Bless 'Em All.

As the Koreans carried Essex back, the major said, the soldier told his story.

The Chinese had over-run the Gloucester's position after Essex had been wounded in the leg. A Chinese came up and shot him in the arm and the other leg while he lay on the ground.

Essex played dead and after the Chinese had crawled away. Next day the Koreans found him.

Northumberland Leads Durham In Population Increase

PORT HOPE, May 28—Population of Northumberland County has increased by 1,593 more persons than Durham County during the past eight years. This information came to light in the recently released 1951 Third Economic Survey of Ontario. Population of the two counties is 58,430.

The total increase in Northumberland County has been 2,238 persons as compared to 645 in Durham.

The shifting of 1,947 Canadians into Northumberland accounted for the major portion of the population increase. To this was added 301 births, 13 displaced persons and 23 emigrants.

Durham County had a total of 694 births; but this population increase was cut by 327 deaths. In addition 12 displaced persons and 40 emigrants came to the county and 306 Canadians changed their place of residence.

The survey reports Northumberland as topping Durham in acreage and value per acre of farmland. Durham has 185,150 acres at a value of $29.96 per acre for a total farmland value of $5,546,470. There are 205,150 acres with an average value of $33.26 per acre totalling $6,833,820 in Northumberland.

Young Pup Fined Assaulted Man

"We must teach these young pups a bit of discipline," Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, declared today in police court. He had asked for a two-month jail sentence for James Atkins, 420 Rubidge St., who was charged with assault.

"The streets are hardly safe for a peaceful citizen," Mr. Bradshaw said.

Magistrate W. R. Philp fined Atkins $20 and $6.25 costs.

Atkins was charged after an unprovoked attack on Ralph Myers, 301 Reid St.

Myers testified he was buying a newspaper on April 28 in a Charlotte St. cigar store. "Somebody came up behind me and said: 'You think you're smart, calling the police.' I turned around and saw the accused.

"I told him if he didn't mind his business I would call the police. I went out and he followed me down the street toward George St.

"He pulled my hat over my eyes, tripped me and hit me several times on the head."

Myers said he had never seen the accused before. Atkins, who entered no defence, said he didn't remember the incident. "If he says I hit him, I must have, but I don't remember it," he said.

The crown submitted Atkins' record, which showed convictions for joyriding and assault.

Prices Advancing On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP)— Prices climbed upward in extremely quiet trading on the Stock Market today. Gains ranged to more than $1.

Papers led industrials ahead, and steels, agricultures, constructions, foods, liquors and refining oils followed. Utilities, banks, manufacturing companies and retail stores were mixed. Trading in the section was dull, but there were a handful of issues up a point or so.

Hudson Bay headed base metals upward with a $1.25 jump. Noranda and Consolidated Smelters added $1 and United Keno Hill, Waite Amulet, Steep Rock, Quemont, International Nickel, and East Sullivan advanced fractions.

Western oils edged upward.

Golds attracted little interest. Senior producers were mixed and almost unchanged while several secondary golds added pennies.

Have Court Showdown On Transit Strike

DETROIT, May 28 — (AP) — This city's 38-day transit strike comes to a court showdown today, with drivers pledged to continue the bitter dispute until their demands are met.

Show cause hearings on injunctions asked by the city and a taxpayer were scheduled by Judge Ira W. Jayne. The city's petition would prevent the union from interfering with any move to resume operations.

The union seeks an 8½-cent-an-hour raise, from its present base of $1.67½. The city offered five cents on the condition that fringe benefits of an equal amount be dropped by the union.

It was a great hunt, with two teams matching wits to clear the area and reach the parallel first.

It ended in a tie.

Using tanks, the teams probed nooks and crannies, dugouts, or any places conceivably capable of hiding the Chinese. They advanced sensitive to the hidden peril of mines and booby traps.

Speedy Retreat

Everything indicated the speed with which the enemy decamped. Both outfits uncovered abandoned Chinese mules, complete with harness, scattered equipment and still-hot rice bowls left by the fleeing foe.

While Eastern Ontario troops fought a battle every thousand yards, French-speaking troops to the east, also operating in hilly country, chalked up an unopposed 5,000-yard gain.

Elsewhere, the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, which relaxed Saturday after five weeks in the line, was notified that it will be rejoining the 25th Brigade as soon as possible. The Patricias left the rest of the brigade at Fort Lewis, Wash., last November, when they sailed for Korea. The rest of the brigade under Rockingham arrived in Korea a few weeks ago.

The Patricias now are with another Brigade operating some 15 miles to the east of the 25th Brigade's sector.

Rockingham's force went into action Friday pointed in the direction of the 38th parallel and at nightfall of the first day they had rolled their front back seven miles with some units still in contact with the retreating enemy.

Eastern Ontario and French-speaking ... prisoners.

Operating on a broad clearing action, Rockingham's troops followed in the wake of a US armored tank force which went clear to the 38th parallel.

Cut Wide Swoth

The battalions cut a wide swath in taking towns. By nightfall Friday they were tangled in brisk fire fights with Chinese troops in the hills.

The Ontario boys slithered their way to summits averaging 1,100 feet.

A company under Major Don Duncan of Hamilton, followed up two Napalm (jellied-gasoline bombs) air strikes to seize the first.

It was a craggy, 1,500-foot hill approached by a ridge almost as long. Their every step, transforming the sodden soil into greasy mud, was a labor. They slithered, and lost two feet for every three gained. Their soaking uniforms hung heavy on their bodies, sending sivulets down their limbs as pockets of water formed and vanished at every movement.

Duncan's company was nearing the top when a company under Major Dick Medland of Toronto was sent through. Even before he launched his assault, Medland passed back three prisoners, who surrendered at his approach waving UN safe-conduct passes. They were escorted back to headquarters.

Textbook Operation

A 1,100-foot objective was taken in a text-book operation in the same kind of weather. Light forces under Lieut. Ed. Mastronardi of Toronto were shot ahead into a cluster of villages to draw fire.

The ruse worked, and Major Harry Boates of Glace Bay, N. S. took a company on the next hill knowing where the enemy's first line of defence was.

Peterson In Action

Friday's main fighting was done by an Eastern Ontario company under Major Jack Peterson of St. Thomas, and formerly of Peterborough.

All but the last stages of the first day's battle induction were a breeze for these cheerful troops, who went in chipper, joking and really looking for a fight.

The main fighting, for possession of a long, spiny ridge, was done by a platoon under Lieut. David Renwick of St Catharines and Hamilton. There a dozen Chinese bodies were found lying in the area covered by Renwick's men, while mortar fire directed by Lieut. John Barrett of Kingston is believed to have inflicted considerably more casualties.

Said Peterson, who directed the battle:

"He laid in a beautiful shoot. He could not have placed them better with his own hands."

Peterson said Renwick's men cleared two lines of enemy positions on a ridge—one row manned by riflemen, a second by riflemen and machine gunners—before bumping into a third which was stoutly defended by well-aimed grenades.

Grenades Poor

"But their grenades were not worth a damn," said Peterson.

Over on the French-speaking sector, things were — to quote Rockingham — getting "Awfully matey."

Like the Ontario troops, the French-speaking boys had thoroughly cleared more than six miles of plainland and rolling country similar to the Western Ontario farmlands around Galt and Guelph. They checked peasant cottages, ditches, and bush lots — everywhere enemy stragglers could hide

Austria Elects New President

VIENNA, May 28 — (AP) — Austria's new Socialist president, 78-year-old Dr. Theodor Koerner, pledged himself today to abide by his country's constitution and to "act instead of talk."

Koerner, a bitter anti-Communist and Vienna's Lord Mayor since the Second World War, defeated the People's Party (Conservative) candidate, Dr. Heinrich Gleissner, in a runoff election Sunday.

The white-bearded former general of the Austro-Hungarian Imperial Army can be expected to follow two aims after he takes the oath of office, probably June 20.

1. He has said he will devote the six years of his presidential term to the fervent hope of all Austrians—attainment of liberation from the occupation troops of Russia and the West.

2. He will reject all attempts by Austria's Communist party to capitalize upon the help they gave him in his election.

... surrendering by the hundreds, or scores. There was no over-all estimate. But hints from the front lines suggested thousands were giving up the fight.

The Reds abandoned huge stores of ammunition in their flight. Airmen reported the Red retreat "in central Korea resembled a rout."

(Canadian troops moved in with the big allied push. Canadian Press correspondent Bill Boss reported that the Canadians were in sight of the 38th parallel after an advance Sunday of six air miles. Earlier, Boss said the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade, set loose against the Reds for the first time Friday, shoved stubborn Chinese Communists off three heights and moved ahead north of Uijongbu.

(Reuters News Agency reported today US and Canadian units advanced nearly five miles to cross the 38th parallel towards Yongpyong, 20 miles northeast of Munsan.)

The allied advance cut off escape routes and may have knocked the Reds out as a serious threat for at least three months, US Eighth Army officers said.

The advance was general across the 125-mile front. It punctured the 38th parallel on almost every main highway.

Hwachon, seven miles inside Red Korea on the central front, and Inje, four miles above the border on the east-central front, were firmly in United Nations hands. Both are key towns on Red escape highways.

Police Net Nails Car Drivers In Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, May 28 — (ENS)—Police of the town are waging a campaign to enforce traffic regulations on the streets of the municipality.

Chief Constable George H. Hardy has set up check-points at strategic points on the main approaches to the town, to check speeders and drivers' licences. These checks have resulted in a number of charges being laid under the Highway Traffic Act involving speeding, faulty lights, driving without a licence, driving while licence under suspension, faulty brakes, failure to stop at stop streets and having liquor illegally.

A large number of charges are pending and will be aired in court but many of the guilty parties sent in written pleas of guilty with their fines.

Having received a number of complaints regarding the noise made by motorcyclists using the streets of the town for race tracks, the police chief said he is going to clamp down on these offenders. The chief said that while he hopes it will not be necessary to lay charges against the youths on their motorcycles, he would not hesitate to do so. The Highway Traffic Act covers this type of offence under Section 15 (1 and 2) and the police will not hesitate to use it.

Trade Expansion Hoped By BWI

OTTAWA, May 28 — (CP). — A senior member of a British West Indies trade delegation said Sunday that the next move in attempts to expand BWI trade with Canada is up to the United Kingdom.

Simon Bloomberg, chairman of Jamaica's Import Control Board, was optimistic that Britain, despite the need of dollars for defence, likely will meet the move by allowing the British colonies to use more of their dollars to buy Canadian goods.

"We in the West Indies are hoping that sufficient dollars will be provided to enable us to take full advantage of anything Canada has to offer," the 56-year-old official said in an interview.

"We realize that Canada's trade relations with the West Indies are traditional, and go back for hundreds of years. It is out earnest wish that in the near future we are able to get back to normal [illegible]."

The BWI-Canada talks will go into their third and final day today. The talks are closed to the press.

Speared Fish Anger Cobourg Sportsmen

COBOURG, May 28—(ENS)—Several speared rainbow trout which were wounded and died later, have appeared on the banks of Shelter Valley Creek and have aroused sportsmen to demand that something be done about it. Bill Owens, well-known Oshawa angler, recently came upon a rainbow which had been killed with a spear and Mr. Owens reported his discovery to a number of Cobourg sportsmen, recommending that the Department of Lands and Forests be advised.

There have been cases of brown trout found dead on the Ganarska River banks near Port Hope but the fact that only one wound mark was found in each fish led the fish and game inspector to conclude that a blue heron was responsible there.

Charlie Smith, Sr. of Cobourg, one of the best-known anglers in these parts, scoffs at the idea that the blue heron might be responsible for the devastation among the rainbows in Shelter Valley Creek.

"No blue heron is going to jab a rainbow down in deep water where the rainbows hang out. Furthermore a blue heron doesn't leave two holes in the fish or one hole and a graze mark. Sure, two-legged birds are to blame but they are two-legged birds wielding spears. I saw more than one fish that has been killed that way and it is high time something was done about it," Charlie Smith said.

Change Fishing Methods

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The United States Fish and Wildlife Service plans to conduct large-scale tests to determine the commercial feasibility of freezing whole fish at sea. If successful, the service believes, "the practice would eventually mean an increase in the income of the individual fisherman, advanced efficiency of the industry as a whole, facilitate marketing, and possibly increase consumption and acceptability of uniform high-quality fish."

Warns Rotarians: Go Slow On Expansion

ATANTIC CITY, N. J., May 28 —(CP)— President Arthur Legueux of Quebec City told the 42nd annual convention of the Rotary International today that Rotarian concepts of friendliness and service to humanity must not be weakened through expansion of the organization.

Legueux, addressing an estimated 12,000 Rotarians and members of their families representing about 60 countries at Convention Hall, said "There is a danger of over-organization" in the Rotary movement.

"We don't want to get away from the simplicity of our beginning . . Rotary exists to serve humanity."

Saying that the growth of the Rotary International to an all-time high of 347,000 members in 7,300 clubs in 83 countries is important, the Quebec investment banker cautioned against expansion.

Warns Experiment.

"Ours is an experiment in feeling . . . our product is friendliness. We are what our individual members do . . . we could double our membership, greatly better our financial position, increase our importance . . . and yet, if individual Rotarian service decreased, we'd not be better off. We'd be slipping back."

Legueux has travelled extensively since his election at Rotary's convention in Detroit last year, visiting Rotary clubs in North and South America, Europe and North Africa. During his presidency 246 new clubs have been organized in 33 countries.

The convention ends Thursday.

Give Artificial Respiration For 22 Hours, Woman Dies

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., May 28 (AP)—A 33-year-old mother died early today after firemen administered artificial respiration for 22 hours and a special iron lung was being rushed to her sickroom.

Mrs. Pauline Lineau, wife of a factory worker, had suffered from rare myasthenia, a disease producing muscular weakness, for seven years. But her condition became critical after she underwent a cesarean section operation Friday. The baby girl died a few hours after birth.

Saturday Mrs. Lineau had difficulty breathing. She was placed in an iron lung, but its fastening around her throat nearly choked her and she had to be taken out.

So, beginning about 2 a.m. Sunday, firemen started giving artificial respiration.

Meanwhile, the hospital looked for another respirator, which fastens with a chest clamp instead of a neckpiece. One was located at University Hospital in Ann Arbor, about 70 miles east of here.

Police started it on a rush trip.

But Mrs. Lineau took a bad turn. She died as the iron lung was at Battle Creek's city limits.

Rev. T. Coughlan Holds First Mass

HASTINGS, May 28. (ENS)—Rev. Timothy B. Coughlan celebrated his First Solemn High Mass in the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Hastings, a week ago. Assisting Father Coughlan in the Sancturary were his brother, Rev. John. F. Coughlan as Deacon, his cousins, Rev. Francis Fitzpatrick as Subdeacon and Fr. Neil McKenty, S.J., as master of ceremonies, and Emmett Coughlan, younger brother as Thurifer. The children's choir of the parish sang for the High Mass under the direction of Sister Macrena of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Convent.

The sermon was preached by Rev. J. J. McCarthy, P.P. of Douro, a nativeof Hastings.

At the end of the mass a presentation was made to Father Coughlan on behalf of the parish by the executive of the Holy Name Society. Leo Cleary read the address, welcoming the young priest back to his boyhood parish. Vincent Keogan then presented Father Coughlan with a purse of money on behalf of the members of the parish.

Father Coughlan expressed his gratitude, first for the fact that he had been elevated to the dignity of the priesthood, and then for the kindness shown to him on this occasion by the members of the parish.

While Father Coughlan gave his blessing to each member of the congregation, Rev. A. Ingram, a classmate from Ottawa and Mr. Robert Fleury of St. Augustine's Seminary sang a number of sacred hymns.

Following the mass, a dinner was served in the town hall under the supervision of the Catholic Women's League. In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the newly ordained priest's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. O'Shea.

Pax Americana

The U.S.A. is engaged at present in what is certainly the most remarkable change in national policy in all its history, but the majority of the American people do not seem to understand it. There is danger that unless the people as a whole can be made to understand what their government is doing, and to give their full support to government policy, the whole great plan may fall into ruin, and the hopes of the democratic world will be ruined with it. As a British commentator has said: "Here is the real American drama—the drama of a nation of gigantic physical strength and excellent brain power, but whose brains and limbs are somehow in danger of becoming disconnected."

* * *

In as simple a form as we can explain it, the situation is this: the American people regard the Korean war as an end in itself, and are anxious to win that war as decisively as possible for the sake of national prestige; when that war is won they want to relax again into "normalcy"—meaning a condition comparable to that which existed before 1939. But the Administration, headed by President Truman and with that very great soldier and statesman General Marshall as its chief shaper of policy, wants to make the U.S.A. an immensely powerful military force, linked by treaty with the other great democratic powers (of which the Atlantic Pact is an example) and capable of maintaining and guaranteeing the peace of the world. Just as Rome, by a similar policy, gave the world security under the Pax Romana, the U.S.A. seeks to establish a Pax Americana.

* * *

What could be better, we ask. Of course such a plan is attractive to us, as Canadians, because we have a British tradition of international alliances, and are members of a Commonwealth which is itself a great alliance. But our thinking on such a matter differs sharply from that of our American cousins, who traditionally mistrust alliances, and who want to keep themselves to themselves, letting other nations work out their destiny as best they may. It is plain, of course, that this policy does not exist in the minds of all Americans, and that it does not affect matters of trade in the minds of any of them. But fear of entangling military alliances is very strong in their national tradition.

* * *

Lacking the experience which was gained by imperialist nations of the past, the American people do not take a long view of military matters. That is why they are so eager to finish the Korean war, by any means possible, and to bring their troops home. They do not realize that the winning of the Korean war would mean nothing if they are not prepared to engage in other, similar wars for many years to come. They would like to have a tough foreign policy—meaning that they would issue warnings and menaces to aggressor nations—linked with an easy defence policy—meaning that they would not have to be taxed to keep great military forces. But the Administration sees that the best hope of world peace is for the U.S.A. to have a comparatively mild foreign policy, backed up by an invincible military force.

* * *

The Administration has done much to bring about such a state of affairs. It is doubtful if the average American citizen realizes that military orders are being placed at the rate of five billions of dollars a month with armament and equipment makers, and that the aim of the Administration is a highly-trained fighting force of 3,500,000 men. All this is part of a long-term policy to make a fundamental change in the world balance of power; the result of such a change would be to make the U.S.A. the strongest force in a world-wide alliance for peace. President Truman represents this long plan; General MacArthur represents the short plan, which sees nothing beyond victory in Korea.

* * *

Unfortunately, MacArthur appeals to sentiment, and with the majority in the U.S.A., as with the majority anywhere, sentiment is more readily understood than reason. President Truman, and even more particularly General Marshall, stand for reason, and they have not as yet done much to make their policy clear or attractive to the electorate. If they do not do so in time, they may lose the 1952 election, and although the U.S.A. would never return to its old policy of isolation, it would certainly do nothing to advance the Marshall concept of a world peace depending upon the armed might of the U.S.A.

* * *

The U.S.A. approaches this great destiny late in history; there are no spoils of empire to be gained from it, at least not by the easy and direct means open to the Romans. Britain has virtually dissolved the last great Empire, replacing it with a group of self-governing, loosely-allied states with predominantly British traditions of government and justice. But if the U.S.A. can carry out the great plan of Marshall and Truman, its Pax Americana may be the noblest world federation that history has yet seen. We must hope for its success, for if it fails a new and terrible chaos may overcome us.

Democratic, But Not Parliamentary

It is hardly surprising to learn that a number of United States Republicans now hope for an early closing of the Great Debate they entered into so enthusiastically after the dismissal of General MacArthur. Several of their debaters have managed to embarrass the party, and it is feared that the cumulative effect of these embarrassments will do the party little good at next year's Presidential election.

One of the latest of these incidents occurred when Alexander Wiley, senior Republican Senator from Wisconsin, proposed that the President be summoned to testify at committee hearings. Senator Wiley thought the appearance of the President should be "preferably voluntary," but "if the President refused," the committee should consider issuing a subpoena. He declared there were "more than ample precedents for such testimony, both on a voluntary and compulsory basis, in the history of our own Government and of other democratic systems."

That statement rebounded twice. For one thing, Senator Wiley cited no United States' precedent which would hold water. That in itself gave Democratic critics a branch to saw off, but they made much more of the fact that Senator Wiley, after twelve years at Washington, appeared to think that the United States had a parliamentary system. This, the critics indicated, showed a lack of perceptiveness which tended to discredit in advance any suggestion from the Wisconsin Senator.

As one critic pointed out, the chief characteristic of a parliamentary system is that the Executive is a part of, and is responsible to, the Legislature. In the United States, of course, the Executive and Legislative arms of Government are distinctly divided; the President, in carrying out his constitutional functions, is not answerable to Congress, as the Prime Minister of Canada is responsible to Parliament. It is true that a high degree of co-operation between President and Congress is not only possible but also most desirable, but the Senate has no right whatever to cross-examine the President, who is responsible only to the people of the United States.

Senator Wiley's suggestion was patently absurd, and served only to confuse the issue momentarily. Critics have now clarified it, and the clarification is an added reason for Republican eagerness to end the Great Debate.

The Comedy Of Peron's Bomb

Two months ago the people of Argentina were informed that one of their scientists, Dr. Ronald Richter, had discovered a new means of releasing atomic energy, which meant that they had not only the means of making A-bombs, but of making them more cheaply than anyone else. How the Argentinians received this news we do not know, but their dictator, President Juan Peron and his wife Evita (who recently made an interesting comparison between her husband and Christ) were delighted, and the Peronista Medal of Merit was conferred upon Richter.

Among scientists in the free world there was scepticism about Dr. Richter's great discovery. Indeed, some eminent scientists said flatly that Richter was a quack; but the press of Argentina—so loyal to Peron since La Prensa was handed over to the trade unions—did not trouble to reprint or confute such accusations.

Now Peron has ordered the arrest of Dr. Richter, and Argentinian army scientists have declared his discovery to be a bluff. Presumably somebody will have to be at the head of the great laboratory and atomic energy plant which was opened on May 19, but it will not be Richter.

People who are fond of discerning poetic justice in the chaos of world affairs will no doubt make the most of this situation, so embarrassing for Peron: the phoney government has been deceived by phoney science, and the biter has been bitten. Alas, if it were only true that morally corrupt governments received only corrupt service from their scientists! But unfortunately it is not so. All the more reason, therefore, why we should laugh in this instance, where justice has been worked out with the neatness of a stage comedy.

Foam rubber formerly used in falsies will be put in contour maps, by government order. The serious student of contours, however, will continue his scientific work unperturbed.

Musical Notes

by
PETER PIPER

THE fifth Annual Kiwanis Music Festival has come and gone. Some good performances were heard. Most people found the comments of the two adjudicators helpful and entertaining. Even adjudicators are human, and sometimes their verdicts are hard to understand, but this year I heard remarkably little cavilling at their choices. It is only natural that competitors should want to win in their class, and likewise that their parents, relatives, teachers and others with a "vested interest" should like to see their horse come in first, but the verdict of the adjudicator should be taken in good part. The main aim of these festivals is to raise the general level of musical performance, and everything else, the marks, certificates and prizes are subordinate to this. Not that the value of the competitive element should be ignored; it is a great stimulus to effort. I have spoken with our adjudicators on the relative merits and demerits of competitive and non-competitive festivals, and as a result I have decided to modify the views that I expressed in this column about eighteen months ago, when I said that I thought there was a place for both. Our adjudicators, who have both had experience of competitive and non-competitive festivals both in England and in Canada were emphatic in their condemnation of the latter, which they said were sponsored mainly by an "arty-crafty' clique which held that the art of music was sullied by such a mundane matter as competition. This idea of competition killing music simply will not bear examination. As a matter of fact the experience of the adjudicators showed that where the competitive element was eliminated from the festivals the standard of performance went down. It is possible that our adjudicators may have had exceptional experiences brought about by unknown factors, but on the whole I am inclined to give due weight to their opinion on this topic.

✧ ✧ ✧

ATTENDANCES at the Festival were disappointing this year. I feel that the public might have supported it better than it did. The public is like a wayward woman, that has to be wooed in the right way. They are apt to shy at high-pressure salesmanship, and yet an air of dignified aloofness is equally unsuccessful. The personal touch is the most promising avenue of approach in this city. It needs a band of devoted enthusiasts ringing up and telephoning friends and acquaintances. This takes time and energy, but it really works, and I offer this suggestion to the Kiwanis Club (to whom be all credit) for what it is worth. Once again the syllabus was out late this year, but I understand that a special effort will be made in future to get it out much sooner—I would suggest September as a desirable date. If this is done I am sure that entries will be much greater. This is fully recognized by the organizers, but difficulties and delays over which they have no control have arisen in the past.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE birds have been exceptionally full of song these last few days, not the least at dawn. I am afraid that I do not usually feel in the most receptive mood when awakened early in the morning by their carolling, but there is a wonderful variety in their songs that has inspired many a composer to put pen to paper. Most of the birds thus honoured are, as might be expected, European species. The cuckoo is heard in Delius's "On Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring". Haydn's Toy Symphony, Daquin's "le coucou", and many other pieces. It is associated with spring, when its notes are clearest and most frequent. The lark is popular, too: Vaughan Williams' "The Lark Ascending", Tschaikovsky's "La Chanson de l'alouette", not to speak of our own French Canadian "Alouette" demonstrate this. The slow movement of Beethoven's Pastoral Symphony contains a passage with a delightfully stylized representation of the combined songs of the cuckoo, the quail and the nightingale. This last-named warbler is justly famed for its ecstatic bursts of song. Towards the end of the eighteenth century a German named Bechstein recorded it as follows:

Tiouou, tiouou, tiouou, tiouou
Shpe tiou tokoua;
Tio, tio, tio, tio,
Kououtio, kououtio, kououtio, kououtio,
Tokus, tshouo, tskouo, tskous,
Tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii, tsii,
Tsii, tsii.
Tsirrhading.
Tsi, tsi, si, tosi, si, si, si, si, si, si, si,
Tsorre, tsorre, tsorre, tsorre, tsorreki;
Tsatu, tsatu, tsatu, tsatu, tsatu, tsatu,
Tsatu, tsi,
Dlo, dlo, dlo, dla, dlo, dlo, dlo, dlo, dlo,
Kouiou trrrrrrrrrtyt,
Lu, lu, lu, ly, ly, li, li, li, li.

Even those who have never heard a nightingale sing and don't know the difference between a lesser dimwit and a crested barbecue can recapture by the aid of this little "poem" some inkling of the song that moved Keats to write one of his loveliest (and most hackneyed) poems.

✧ ✧ ✧

AN intense cyclone is centred on the musical world of the United States and is due to move North at any moment. To mix metaphors (a favourite pastime of mine) the opening shot was fired by Virgil Thomson, Music Editor of the New York Herald-Tribune. Virgil Thomson is a man of great talents. He studied under Nadia Boulanger, was an organist of some note, and has a longish list of compositions to his credit, including the opera Four Saints in Three Acts, with a libretto by Gertrude Stein. He is a representative of the cosmopolitan type of American that established their headquarters on the left bank of the Seine in the Twenties. As a critic he is sharp and mordant, with a tendency towards being dogmatic and pompous He lacks the encyclopedic background of a Newman or a Tovey, but he has a good nose for what he likes. He has unleashed his thunder against the organizers of the chains of subscription concerts such as the Community Concert Association, asserting that the programmes of the lesser-known artists are "censored in the most arbitrary fashion" by headquarters in New York. According to him the promoters of these concerts are "playing safe" to such an extent that they are narrowing the choice of artists down to the most restricted repertoire of tried favourites. We had already heard that this was happening in certain cases, and we felt that these gentlemen in New York were sadly underestimating our musical tastes. The lack of English songs, from the Elizabethans down to the present day, in the programmes of song recitals, is a case in point. Nevertheless Mr. Thomson has spoiled a good case by overstatement. The hazards of concert promotion are great indeed, and the general public cannot be pushed; they must be led. All the same the promoters would be very much in error if they were led to suppose that criticism of their policy is restricted to a small clique of New York intellectuals led by Mr. Thomson. They have their critics right here in Canada who feel that they are being "played down to". It is time for a change.

"FADING AWAY"

Pity The Poor Russian Scholars

(CALGARY HERALD)

A COVEY of Russian experts is busy on a new 50-volume work to be called "The Great Soviet Encyclopaedia." This opus is to replace an earlier edition, published in 1948 after 2 years' work, which is now said to be crawling with "crude theoretical and political errors." The first three volumes of the second edition are now available.

Mr. Dean Acheson, the U.S. Secretary of State, has the honour of being included among the A's of the second edition; he is described glowingly as "a leader of aggressive anti-Soviet policy who advocates war against Russia, China, Korea and the other People's Democracies." Doubtless, as the Soviet encyclopaedists work their way through the Russian alphabet, other public figures may expect to find themselves written up with characteristic Russian friendliness.

All the same, we do not envy the editors of this encyclopaedia. Since the 1948 edition is now found to be full of crude errors, we presume that most of its editors have moved to Siberia. But the neatest trick of the week would be to produce any kind of encyclopaedia in Russia which didn't appear full of mistakes after a couple of years.

The first edition, for example, probably had a couple of nice things to say about Marshal Tito, the people's friend, who is now a reactionary Fascist beast with dripping jaws, and, doubtless, will be so described in the second edition. But what if Tito and Uncle Joe kiss and make up before the T section of the second edition hits the street? Another batch of editors, we presume, will march off to the salt-mines.

The same is true all over. The article on genetics cannot endorse both the theories of Lysenko and the traditional theories held by practically every other geneticist on earth, including Britain's J. B. S. Haldane who is a Communist. They must choose one or the other. Right now, Lysenko is the white-haired boy, but it only needs one of his fancy strains of wheat to turn out to be a dud to send him to Siberia and his theories down the drain.

There was a time when Earl Browder was a Communist hero; now, we understand, he is a capitalist stooge. Thorez of France is regarded with some suspicion, and nobody knows where the Cominform's axe will fall next. The trouble with encyclopaedias is that they are supposed to be fairly permanent—not, for example, like Pravda, which is here today and gone tomorrow. And you can't be publishing a new encyclopedia every week or ten days.

So if Uncle Joe offers us a couple of million roubles a week to go and work on his encyclopaedia, we shall decline with thanks, preferring to remain in Calargy and fend off enraged subscribers to The Herald. We respectfully suggest that the scholars already employed on the project would be well advised to do the same.

Canadians Prefer Winnie

(St. Catharines Standard)

The report has it now that Prime Minister Attlee will go to the country in the autumn, after the close of the British Festival. The Ottawa Journal makes this judicial comment:

"Whether Churchill back in power will be a good thing for Britain or bad, is not for Canadians to say. What can be said, though, is that any government with a good working majority must be a good thing for Britain, as for any country."

There can be cordial agreement with the foregoing viewpoint, whether Canadians have a right to say anything about a change of government being a good thing or not for the United Kingdom. Inasmuch as Canada has a very big interest in strong friendly relations between the United Kingdom and the United States, and that such relations in recent months have been cracking badly, an expression of concern by Canadian newspapers is not out of place. Mr. Churchill, aged as he is, knows the right note to strike to improve relations, and whoever might succeed him would unquestionably follow his line.

There is no doubt, too, that Britain needs a strong government with a good working majority. And by all the present omens, such is not remotely possible for a continuance of the socialist regime. Therefore, Churchill back in power would be a good thing; decidedly so. The municipal elections in the Kingdom have shown another big swing to the Tories, right in Labour strongholds such as Leeds and Bradford. These and other things indicate that the government has lost the confidence of the people. Mr. Attlee has lost Cripps, Ernest Bevin and there has been defection from his policy of the firebrand, Aneurin Bevan, but a vote-getter none the less.

Yes, Canadians may say it if they wish, anything would be better than the present government in Britain and Mr. Churchill and his party are the only alternative.

We can hold the road like an Alfa Romeo—we can take corners like a Jaguar . . .

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying....Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine. (Ezek. 18: 1, 4.)

✧ ✧ ✧

At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me....

Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 18: 1-5, 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Quench not the Spirit....Prove all things; hold fast that which is good....

And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. (I Thess. 5: 19, 21, 23.)

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. (II Cor. 5: 1.)

'Planting By The Moon'

(Ottawa Journal)

The countryman considers himself a scientific, progressive agriculturist. For 17 years he has been running fertilizer, mulching and irrigation experiments. As a believer in the scientific approach to all problems he takes no stock in this business of planting by the moon. And yet—is it pure superstition? Or is there a fundamental truth involved that husbandmen discovered long ago? There are perspicacious citizens who firmly believe that root crops do best when planted in the dark of the moon and that crops which grow above ground are best planted in the light phase. For years some farmers have butchered just before the full of the moon to guard against pork shrinking.

According to research, the Babylonians invented astrology some 4,000 years ago. The Egyptians worked out a complicated astral system in which each part of the human body was governed by a star. The Greeks perfected the zodiac system and added plants and animals to the association of objects affected by sun, moon and light planets. There is also the case on record of a Yale scientist who studied the infinitesimal electric changes occurring in plant tissues. In attempting to correlate these with humidity, barometric pressure, etc., all he could discover was that they coincided with phases of the moon.

There are years when the moon planting techniques seem to give better results; there are other reasons when one can find no noticeable correlation. But perhaps there is a lesson here for man. If one can get good crops of peas, tomatoes and broccoli by planting in the light luna phase, and good potatoes, beets, carrots and radishes by planting in the dark of the moon, why shouldn't he accept this?

A psychologist once said that the necessity for making so many decisions today is one reason for the turmoil of society. We know the moon's pull influences tides of the ocean; we have assumed moonlight and roses have an influence on young people. Perhaps after all there is something to this planting by the light of the moon.

Ontario Bush Fires

(Montreal Star)

The outbreak of bush fires which Ontario is fighting is not unusual. Something of the sort seems to occur every spring, unfortunately, though one would be inclined to think that the woods would still be wet enough to make widespreading blazes unlikely. The period before new growth gets started, however, is dangerous. Rather unusual, though, is proof so clear of the part carelessness, not to say downright criminal foolishness, plays in causing the regular loss.

If there is something ludicrous about having to run for your life from a fire built to dry a pair of socks, there is nothing in any way amusing about the final scene. That is how one of the worst of the Ontario outbreaks started, when a lumberjack thinking of his foot comfort built a "little" fire in defiance of explicit police warnings. The socks went up in smoke with the first of nearly a thousand acres of timberland, and their owner and his companions nearly went the same way.

Prosecution is threatened, and it should be carried out in any case such as this in which the responsibility is so clear and the irresponsibility so great. A fine or a few days in jail would help, and perhaps a month or two at forced reclamation work would help still more. It would probably be most educational in the cases of sportsmen like those charged with letting a camp fire grow into a 25-acre bush fire at the Sault.

Reserve Army Counter-Attack Wins Battle

ST. MARYS, May 28 (CP). — Three reserve army regiments swarmed across Trout Creek southeast of here, drove a token aggressor force from a pine woods and captured a high crest of land Sunday in a counter-attack that featured the two-day Exercise Crocus.

More than 1,000 members of reserve army and air force units took part in the mock battle.

The Oxford Rifles of Woodstock, commanded by Lt.-Col. Norman Wilkins, spearheaded the counter-attack, aided by the Perth Regiment of Stratford and the Highland Light Infantry of Galt.

About 20 Harvard aircraft from three RCAF reserve squadrons took part. They were from No. 420 of London, 424 of Hamilton and 411 of Toronto. Mustang fighter planes were unable to take part in the exercise because of a low cloud ceiling.

Japan's Merchant Marine Better Than at War's End

By O. H. P. KING

TOKYO, May 28 — (AP) — Japan's merchant marine is just about back on its sea legs.

Japanese vessels now are permitted to enter ports of 47 countries—33 under blanket clearance and 14 for specific purposes.

Japan today has more ships and tonnage than she had at the end of the Second World War.

In 1945, she had 452 operable ocean-going vessels for 747,112 gross tons. On March 31, 1951, she had 762 vessels totalling 1,526,291 gross tons.

Col. Harold T. Miller, head of transportation for the American occupation force, said two services to North America are being arranged which, with others already in operation will give Japanese ships access to almost all ports needed for well-rounded operations.

Four Major Tasks

Miller listed four major tasks faced by occupation officials concerned with shipping:

1. "We had to wipe out all elements of subsidy to Japanese shipping . . . and make sure foreign competitors, who didn't want to see new competition with either government subsidies or government operation, would have no basis for complaint.
2. "We had to get ships into classifications to meet international standards for safety at sea."
3. "We had to get Japan back into the tramp service, which we did first with individual clearances, then blanket clearances.
4. "We had to see the resumpton of berth term service into the major runs of the world."

Berth, liner or common carrier service following to these places and in this order: Okinawa, South America via Africa, Bangkok, India and Pakistan. Berth lines service also is primarily a freight service.

Indonesia Next

Next route granted probably will be to Indonesia.

The Japanese transportation ministry expects authorization of a regular freighter service to southeast African ports shortly. Runs to the east and west coast of America also are expected shortly.

The transportation ministry estimates the shipping industry needs $198,333,333 this year for building, remodeling, refloating and purchasing vessels. Of this total, $121,666,667 has been raised.

Hydro Starts 5-Mile Tunnel

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP) — Construction of a five-mile power tunnel, part of the Ontario Hydro Commission's Niagara project will get under way today.

The tunnel, believed the largest of its kind in the world, will take water from the Niagara River to the commission's Sir Adam Beck generating stations at nearby Queenston. With a finished diameter of 45 to 51 feet, it will be capable of carrying 20,000 cubic feet of water a second to the station.

Contractors will use 440,000 cubic yards of concrete lining and 17,000 tons of structural steel supports in building the tunnel. Sections of it will be bored directly beneath the city of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Oil Refinery Completed 6 Months Ahead

By ROMAN JIMINEZ

FAWLEY, England, May 28 — (AP)— Britain and the United States have joined forces to push to completion Europe's biggest oil refinery six months ahead of schedule.

Representing an investment of £37,500,000 ($110,625,000), the project was started near here only two years ago by Anglo-American Oil Co., now newly-named Esso Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. (N.J.).

Next October the refinery will be delivering 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline a day—well ahead of the January, 1952, deadline for the first phase of the project.

Its construction on a 450-acre site is a happy tale of Anglo-American co-operation. Only one per cent of the 1,000 employed on the project are Americans. They are the engineering supervisors.

Th new refinery, which will produce 25 per cent of the refined output of the United Kingdom, will sharply reduce Britain's dollar expenditures for oil products.

Crude oil from the Near East will feed it. This will obviate Britain's need to import more costly refined products from the US.

Only One of Many

Fawley is only one of the new refineries sprouting up throughout Britain. In Fawley itself there was a pre-war refinery, also built for Esso, with a capacity of 900,000 tons a year. Its younger, bigger counterpart will eventually produce 6,000,000 tons a year.

Other post-war refineries are the Shell units at Stanlow and Shellhaven—designed to process, on completion in 1952, 2,800,000 and 3,200,000 tons of crude oil a year each.

At Coryton, the American Vacuum Oil Company is building another one, to process 900,000 tons a year.

British imports of crude oil for refining were about one-sixth of total oil imports before the war. Now they represent 45 per cent. When the refineries now under construction are in full operation, practically no refined oil will be imported.

Lasses open softball play this e'en in the Bowl d'Ashburnham, weather being right. A double-header, first fray going seven and the other under the arcs. Marincs play Woollens, with Ashby's vs. Westclox in the nightcap. Prexy Bill Flint will have the schedule out in a day or two, we expect. These four clubs, plus Cobourg, make up the girls' league this semester, and games here are in twin bills each Monday and Wednesday night, with tilts in Cobourg on Friday. CGE are absentees this year after being loop originals and continuous keen contestants for, lo, these many years. Anyway, an opening ceremony and two tussles on tap to start things this p.m.

* * * * * *

Mens softball goes tomorrow night there when Revoy Motors meet UEW at seven, followed by Orphans against Lakefield. Their Thursday setup is UEW vs. Orphans, and Lakefield vs. Revoy's. The UE squad was in last season and so were the league-sponsored Orphans, but Lakefield and Revoy's are newcomers, carrying of course a number of players familiar to loop fans in past seasons with various clubs. The City Softball League serves up a good brand of ball, sending the winner into OASA senior "B" playdowns and sometimes the runner-up goes into intermediate "A". Games are lively, with lots of arguments, and the fans usually turn out for these tilts in goodly numbers.

* * * * * *

Then Came The Rains

Petes' lacrossers drove to Toronto yester aft for a game but it rained just before the starting time, and the tilt was postponed. So, they'll have to make the trip again, but will get travelling expenses next time. Riverdale Terrace is a swank layout, but it has a terrazo floor in now for roller skating, and very little rain makes it as slippery as four Philadelphia lawyers. Quite a few Peterborough fans, who drove up, were disappointed, too. Don Crowe has called a practice for eight p.m. tomorrow in preparation for a grim grind coming up, starting here Friday (against Toronto) with eight games in 12 days.

A few nights ago—golly, we're on the go so much lately we can't recall anything offhand—we took in a nice "do" for an hour when the champ bowlers were presented with the Calvert Cup. Phil Pryde and his "Has Beens" took the open tourney title this spring at Playfair, and George VanKoughnett arranged the celebration for bowlers and wives. While there, we talked a minute with Mayor Max Swanston, who dropped in to make the presentation—and how His Mayorship really gets around for this, that and the other! Anyway, he said he was quite anxious to see action on the Memorial Centre and would be checking into angles on it this week. We got the impression that he was pretty sure it would be located in Morrow Park as soon as a few wrinkles were ironed out, and that this ironing would be done right away.

Petes Take The Lead

Edging the Merchants 7-6 in 10 frames at Oshawa on Saturday, the Petes took over the lead in the Viaduct Baseball League with their third win in a row. Bill Edger and Lefty Lauer pitched on pretty even terms and both sides were loose defensively. Fred Plato led the Whitehill crew at bat with two for three, while Bill Huntley smashed a triple and single in five, and he scored the winning run in overtime. Bill was used in left field this time with Al Menzies back of the plate. Both are good clouters as a rule. A wild pitch and an error set up the money marker in the 10th. Actually, the Petes should have taken the tilt in regulation time. They play Thursday in Toronto.

* * * * * *

Let's see what is doing in soccer. There's an exhibition game listed for under the lights at 8.30 Wednesday night in Morrow Park. It's between Toronto All-Stars and the Peterborough Uniteds (composed of UE and O'Halloran players), proceeds going to the fire fund. On Saturday, the Belleville-UEW game was cancelled while O'Halloran's went to Batawa and dropped a 5-0 Eastern League verdict. They were shy several regular players and started with but 10 men, while Batawa had a full team, plus reserves—so they ran 'em off their feet gradually. Games this Saturday: O'Halloran's at Brockville, and Batawa vs. UEW here.

MAJOR FACTOR—Major Factor, left, wins the King's Plate going away, with Libertine second, and Bear Field coming up on the rail to take third place. The victory brought the 50 Guineas and $21,400 to the E. P. Taylor stable which also won the Plate with Epic in 1949. Inset E. P. Taylor receives the Golden Guineas from Viscount Alexander. Libertine is owned by Jack Smallman of London, Ont., Bear Field is from the Jim Fair stable of Gainsville, Ont. Britannia, another Taylor entry, led over most of the 1⅛-mile route, but faded in the stretch as Major Factor rolled to victory in 1:53, one second slower than the Plate record.

Royals Take Doubleheader, Leafs Victors

By The Associated Press

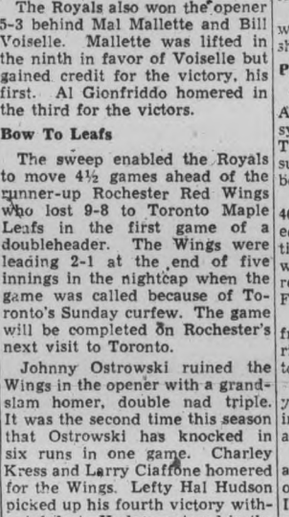
Montreal Royals, International League pace-setters, expect to lose either Bob Alexander or Clarence (Bud) Podbielan in the next few days.

Both Alexander and Podbielan are under observation by officials of the parent Brooklyn Dodgers. The two crack righthanders have won 11 of Montreal's 26 victories. There's a vacancy on the Dodger staff because of Erv Palica's arm trouble.

Dodger coach Clyde Sukeforth and scout John Corriden were in the stands Sunday as Podbielan turned back Springfield Cubs 6-1 in the second game of a doubleheader. Podbielan scattered six hits and lost his shutout when Carm Mauro homered in the sixth inning. George Shuba whacked a three-run homer in the third inning to clinch the victory. Podbielan helped his own cause with a two-run triple.

The Royals also won the opener 5-3 behind Mal Mallette and Bill Voiselle. Mallette was lifted in the ninth in favor of Voiselle but gained credit for the victory, his first. Al Gionfriddo homered in the third for the victors.

Bow To Leafs



The sweep enabled the Royals to move 4½ games ahead of the runner-up Rochester Red Wings who lost 9-8 to Toronto Maple Leafs in the first game of a doubleheader. The Wings were leading 2-1 at the end of five innings in the nightcap when the game was called because of Toronto's Sunday curfew. The game will be completed on Rochester's next visit to Toronto.

Johnny Ostrowski ruined the Wings in the opener with a grand-slam homer, double nad triple. It was the second time this season that Ostrowski has knocked in six runs in one game. Charley Kress and Larry Ciaffone homered for the Wings. Lefty Hal Hudson picked up his fourth victory without defeat. Hudson entered in the eighth, shifted to the outfield and returned to the mound in the ninth.

Ottawa Giants and Syracuse Chiefs battled to a seven inning 0-0 tie. The game was called because of rain. The scheduled double-header between Baltimore and Buffalo was rained out.

Major Factor's Win Surprise In 92nd Running Of Plate

By JOHN PATERSON

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP) — Major Factor, Cinderella half of the E. P. Taylor entry, came from far back in a dramatic stretch run Saturday to win the 92nd running of the historic King's Plate.

So lightly regarded in the extensive stable of the Toronto industrialist that he ran five times last year in claiming races for as low as $2,200, the three-year-old brown gelding won the biggest purse in the history of North America's oldest continuously-run horse race.

Second in the bulky 21-horse field was Libertine, the favorite, from the Medway stable of London, Ont. Fourth was highly-regarded Britannia, other half of the Taylor entry, and winter-book favorite. Britannia, one of last year's leading two-year-olds, won the 1950 Princess Elizabeth and Coronation Stakes.

In plate trials a week previously Britannia won in fast time while Major Factor—who won no big races as a two-year-old—was a dismal eighth. In the big race Saturday, Britannia faltered after leading most of the way.

The Taylor entry paid $8.30 to win, $3.80 for place and $2.75 show.

Presents Cup

The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, presented the cup, symbolic of the plate, to Mr. Taylor as 35,000 watched beneath sultry skies which turned to rain before the afternoon ended.

Major Factor's share of the $21,400 purse—plus 50 guineas donated by the King—was $16,155. His time of one minute and 53 seconds was a full second behind the race record established in 1949 by Jim Fair's Last Mark.

Alf Bavington, Toronto-born free-lance jockey who usually rides entries for the plate, failed to train to expectations.

Bavington, who served four years in the Canadian army during the Second World War, said in an interview:

"We had only one horse beaten at the paddock turn. Later, with only three-eighths of a mile to go, I looked up and saw a solid wall of horses ahead of me. My horse had lots of run but there was no way to get through the big crowd. So I steered him to the middle of the track, burned him with my whip and we were home."

Sure Of Victory

E. P. Taylor, whose Epic had won the plate in 1949, had confidence in Major Factor. He told Bavington before the race, "You have the best horse, you'll win the race."

Shy, quiet-spoken Pete McCann, trainer and former jockey who twice had losing mounts in the spring classic, favored Britannia. When presentations were made after the race, McCann shunned the spotlight and stayed with his fellow-horsemen in the paddock area.

The bulky field, largest since 1933 when King O'Connor led 22 starters home, was away evenly. The favored Libertine was bothered after the start, jockey Johnny Dewhurst said. Another jockey, Jim. Nichol, one of three imports from the United States for the race, also said his horse, Mount Branca, didn't like the soft filled-in ground of his outside post position.

Bowmanville Edges Port Hope Ontarios

PORT HOPE, May 28—Bowmanville Brookdales took over first place in the OBA Lakeshore Intermediate League by edging Port Hope Ontarios, 7-6, here Saturday.

Don Legree replaced Gord Sturrock on the Bowmanville mound in the fourth inning and spaced four hits, while his teammates overcame a 6-3 deficit.

Playing-Manager Maxie Yourth led the Brooks' hitting with three bingles and a like number of RBI's, while Ted Bagnell, Tom Hooper and Ken Furey banged out two each. Horace Baxter's three-for-five plate performance was the Ontarios' best.

An Iron Easier To Use Than Wood Playing Hard Ground

By ELLSWORTH VINES
Tournament Star

Hard ground is a hazard every bit as troublesome as sand, although most golfers don't realize it.

Hence, they usually do well as they do not suffer the mental disability that accompanies most hazards.

The best way to handle a ball on hard ground is to concentrate more on hitting it before hitting the ground.

Any club may be used on a hard surface, but don't be afraid to lay into it.

Actually, an iron is easier to use than a wood, but in all instances strive to hit the ball first.

The procedure of hitting off rocky ground is the same.

If the ball is lying in a position to allow no room for a full backswing, the greatest hazard you can encounter is one of mental surrender.

Many of your chip and approach shots are without full backswings, so why not try the same shot when you encounter obstacles on the swing?

Again, in the rough, such as high grass, the main objective is to get out in one stroke.

Use the same kind of club as on sand and water shots.

Open the face slightly as well as the stance and loft the ball out.

In high grass, try to hit the ball first, as the interference of grass will obviously deflect the club from its desired course.

SAME DEAL—In the rough, Sam Snead uses same club as on sand and water shots.

Petes Take Viaduct Lead Beating Oshawa In 10th

OSHAWA, May 28 — Peterborough took over top position in the Viaduct Major Baseball League race on Saturday afternoon when they nosed out Oshawa Merchants 7-6 in a weird 10-inning contest that was climaxed by the flukiest of one of 14 errors which the game produced.

The Liftlock City squad were full value for their win on the day's play but box score figures would hardly indicate this. Each team pounded the rival hurler for a total of a dozen safeties, neither pitcher did much in the way of strike-outs, either, and the winners had eight errors chalked against them compared with six for the homesters. However, the Petes were never behind in the contest. They bunched their hits for three pairs of runs in the first half of the game and would have won in regulation time but for third baseman Gord Hanna's home-run blow, out of the Kinsmen Civic Memorial Stadium over the right field wall, which tied the score in the bottom of the eighth.

Huntley Scores

The big break of the game came in the tenth, when Bill Huntley, heavy-hitting outfielder from Ottawa, smashed his fifth successive drive into left field. He had a single and a triple on two of his previous blows and was retired by catches deep in left field territory on the other two. This one in the tenth, to open the inning, looked at first like another extra-base blow but speedy Bill Cook of the homesters ran back and iver to the foul line and got under the ball for what appeared to be a fine catch. However, the impact broke the webbing in the fielder's glove and the ball rolled out and fell to the ground, as Huntley pulled into second.

While Bill Edger, next batter, was working Lefty Lauer for a walk, the Oshawa hurler uncorked a wild pitch. Catcher Mike McArthur hurried to recover and made a desperate throw to third which was low. The ball went into the outfield and Huntley romped home with what proved the unearned, winning run.

Built Up Lead

Marines enjoyed a 5-run lead at one stage. They opened with a pair of hits by Joe Lowery and Andy Milne, plus a stolen base to the former, a walk to Fred Plato and a costly infield error on Al Menzies' grounder. Three hits, by Huntley, Lowery and Johnny Denofrio plus two more errors, gave the Peterborough nine two more in the second frame. In the fifth, after Plato and Joe Stewart had each singled, Bill Huntley smacked his long triple, with two out, to make the score 6-1.

The Merchants got one run on three hits and two errors, in the first inning. A base-running boner that was turned into a double play prevented the homesters from making more out of this splurge. However, in the fifth, they bunched four hits, along with three Peterborough bobbles for a four-run rally to creep up within 6-5 and set the stage for Hanna's homer in the eighth.

Bill Cook, victim of the game's toughest break, was top hitter for the day, with three safeties, while Fred Plato had two for three to lead the Petes.

Chicago Sox Do It Again Take Twin Bill From Indians

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Another wonder team in Chicago?

In 1906 the White Sox were hailed as the "hitless wonders." Today, the Sox can be called the "pickup wonders."

The baseball world laughed when the White Sox raided rival clubs last winter for surplus material. But nobody is laughing at manager Paul Richards' Ragamuffins now.

How can you laugh off an 11-game winning streak—all on enemy ground? The Sox completed their road trip Sunday with a sweep of their twin bill in Cleveland, 5-2 and 6-4. Those two triumphs, coupled with New York's split with Philadelphia Athletics, moved Chicago to within one game of the American League-leading Yankees.

"Them fellers look like they mean business," Yankee manager Casey Stengel remarked. "Here we've been worryin' about them fellers in Boston and Cleveland. And all the time it's them fellers in Chicago we should have been watchin'."

This praise for a club made up of such castoffs as regulars Ed Robinson and Ed Stewart (Senators), Gus Niahros, Randy Gumpert and Ken Holcombe (Yankees), Al Zarilla, Joe Dobson and Harry Dorish (Red Sox), Nelson Fox and Paul Lehner (Athletics), Orestes Minoso (Indians), Saul Rogovin and Billy Pierce (Tigers), Phil Masi (Braves) and Bob Dillinger (Pirates).

Opens Home Stand

Chicago opens a long home stand tonight against St. Louis Browns. And they'll be shooting at the league's longest winning streak, home and away. The record is 19, set by the hitless wonders in '05 and tied by the 1947 Yankees.

Zarilla was the batting star. His two-run homer in the seventh provided the winning runs of the second game. Earlier, he had doubled in two runs. It was his two-run double that snapped a 2-2 tie in the first game.

Gus Zernial, Philadelphia's new home-run walloper, drove in four runs to lead the A's to a split with the Yankees. The Yanks won the opener, 9-0, the A's the second 7-4. It was the second loss in 19 home games for the Yankees this season.

Boston's Red Sox made it wins Nos. 6 and 7 with 9-3 and 7-1 victories over Washington. Ted Williams socked two left-field doubles and a single to right in the first game, and smashed a grand-slam homer in the second.

Divide Twin Bill

The Tigers and Browns divided a doubleheader. The Tigers took the opener 3-2 and the Browns the second 8-3. Virgil Trucks, making his first start of the season, gained his initial victory. Outfielder Steve Souchock was the big Bengal gun. He slammed a homer and double, scored the winning run and threw out a man at home.

Rain curtailed National League activity. In the only games played, the Cardinals ripped Cincinnati Reds 6-1 in St. Louis and New York Giants shut out the Phillies in Philadelphia 2-0.

Sal Maglie blanked the Phils with two hits for his seventh straight victory. The win put the fifth-place Giants over the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Stan Musial drove in four Cardinal runs with successive homers in the first and third innings.

Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Cubs double header in Chicago and the scheduled single game between Boston Braves and Dodgers in Brooklyn.

Champion Bowlers Presented With Cup

The "Has Beens," winners of the open team championship in bowling for city players—the tourney being held this spring at Playfair—were presented Saturday night with the Calvert Trophy at a get-together in the Empress Hotel. Mayor Max Swanston presented the cup to Phil Pryde, captain of the team, the other players being: Doug Abraham, Gene Reynolds, "Tic" Caccavella and Alf Mattucci.

The trophy was put up as an annual challenge cup in open team play among the strongest bowling teams of the city. No one from outside the city may compete for this trophy, though other prizes are offered in the spring tournament. George VanKoughnett arranged the "do," at which bowlers of various leagues and their wives or girl friends attended. Jim Wilson, president of the Major Bowling League and the CGE bowlers, was on hand as well as representatives of the City Bowling League.

"GREY CUP OR BUST," seems to be the slogan for the Montreal Alouettes as they head for the next football campaign. Recently Lew Hayman announced that he had signed on an assistant, Rocco Pirro, ABOVE, as line coach. This is a new departure, indeed, for Alouettes in general, Hayman in particular. In the five-year history of the club, Lewis Edward Hayman has shouldered the coaching burden. Very gamely, too, has he shouldered the blame for defeats. Lightly has he taken the credit for the wins, notably the Grey Cup coup in 1949. So now, Lachrymose Lew, as somebody once tagged him, has taken on somebody to share his worries. Rocco Pirro moves into a spot occupied in the past two years by fabulous Frankie Filchock. Filchock was the standout in 1949. Last year he reverted to the ranks, an ordinary football player, no match for Al Dekdebrun of Argonauts, nor Special Delivery Jones of Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a scoring way.

Hockey Scout George Walker Dies Suddenly

FORT WILLIAM, May 28 (CP) —George E. (Squib) Walker, dean of the Canadian hockey scouts, died unexpectedly of a heart seizure at his home here Sunday. He was 56.

Chief scout for Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League and a well-known figure in Canadian hockey circles for more than a quarter of a century, Mr. Walker was stricken late Saturday and died three hours later.

He had been in good health up until has fatal attack, and was making preparations for a fishing trip on Sunday with friends.

A native of Toronto, Mr. Walker was associated with the Maple Leaf organization for 30 years, first as scout and later as chief scout. He was Toronto's chief scout for the last 10 years. He made Fort William his home for the last 30 years.

Popular Man

His work took him to all parts of Canada in search of hockey talent for the Maple Leafs. He was popular and highly respected by fans, players, managers and coaches with whom he came in contact.

During the First World War he served overseas in France for four years as a gunner in the 25th Canadian Field Battery. Following his return from service he was manager of a local clothing store and was also in the life insurance business before taking up scouting on a full-time basis.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marjory Ryde, of Toronto and a sister, Athole Walker of Fort William. Funeral will be held here Tuesday.

BEDS OF TULIPS

All the flower beds at Canadian General Electric Company have been bright all week in the bloom of red, yellow and white tulips. They are gay color grouping against the green of the lawns.

RECEIVES DIPLOMA

Robert C. Crone, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Crone, Church of the Open Bible, was one of more than 60 seniors who Friday received diplomas from the Bob Jones University, Greenville, South Carolina.

MEMORIAL PLAQUE

Ald. A. B. Burrows and Mayor Swanston have been authorized by the council to consider the placing of a permanent plaque at the fire hall, commemorating the deaths of the three firemen, George Reynolds, Grover Deck and Orville Rome, and Earl Spencley, volunteer, who died in the George St. fire Sat., May 19. It was suggested by City Clerk Outram.

FROM LOUIS YEOTES

The Examiner has received a postcard from Louis Yeotes who is visiting his mother and other members of his family in Athens, Greece. It shows a picture of the stadium of the Greek capital and companies of the Evzones, famed infantry of the Greek Army, in their ceremonial dress.

CARS HIT PASSING

Two cars were slightly damaged on George St. Saturday afternoon when one tried to pass the other and they collided. Drivers were Robert J. Orde, 249 Reid St., and W. H. Harrison, 109 Bennett St. Both were southbound on George St., and Harrison tried to pass Orde's car. His right rear bumper was caught by the left fender of Orde's auto.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE

The Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada is being held in Sydenham Church, Kingston, May 29 to June 1. The Rev. H. G. Douglas and Mrs. E. L. Sackville, Peterborough Presbytery representatives to the Settlement Committee of the Conference, left this morning to attend the pre-conference meeting of this committee.

CHEAPEST DRUNK

"Couldn't you make that a little cheaper? It's a first offence," said Arthur McKinley, Keene, who had been fined $10 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp today.

"That's the minimum under the act," said the magistrate. McKinley had just pleaded guilty to being drunk.

"Okay," McKinley said.

"BY" AND "LINE", two dog-gone tired reporters, look as though they have just about "had the course" and are ready to write "30" to the end of a busy newspaper week. Draped over an editorial room typewriter, "By," (Left) is decked out in a traditional eyeshade, while "Line," having laid his spectacles down seems to have lost interest in everything, except going home. Car Rolls Over Girl Shaken Up

Marilyn McCullouch, 16, Perry St., received body cuts and a severe shaking up Sunday when the car in which she was a passenger rolled over in the ditch on the 11th concession of North Monaghan.

She was taken to Civic Hospital. An X-ray revealed no bones broken.

Miss McCullouch was a passenger in a car driven by Norman Eales, 18, Grady Ave. The car somehow went out of control on the gravel concession road, two miles east of Highway 28, and rolled over on its roof in the south ditch. It was going east at the time of the accident.

Eales escaped injury as did two other passengers—James Smith, 18, Frank St., and Paul Evans, 16, Lansdowne St.

Damage to the car is estimated at $450. OPP Constable Jack McKendry investigted.

William O'Brien, 22, Douro, a passenger in another car that overturned on Sunday, received a cut on the head but did not require hospital treatment.

The car, owned by another Toronto man, was driven by John V. O'Brien, 23, Toronto. It received $400 damage after flipping over in the ditch on Highway 7, east, near Brookside pavilion.

The driver told police that visibility was poor and he didn't see a car in front of him until he was almost on top of it. To avoid a collision he swerved right and turned over in the ditch, neatly wedged between two trees.

OPP Constable C. A. Naismith investigated.

Band Concerts To Be Held Sunday Nights In Summer

Arranged by the recreation commission, the 1951 series of summer band concerts at Nicholls Oval will begin Sunday night, Alex Sinclair, recreation director, said today. The Salvation Army band will be presenting the first program.

The weekly programs will be performed by the Salvation Army Band, the Citizens Band, the Peterborough Film Council and bands from outside cities. So far only one outside band has been scheduled, the Oshawa band for August 12.

The Peterborough Film Council has been allotted three nights, July 1, July 22 and August 5. The council will also provide films for combined band and film concerts with the two Peterborough bands on June 10, June 24, August 19 and 26.

The remaining programs will be by the bands.

This year two extra concerts have been added for King Edward Park. These will be held on Wednesday evenings, the first July 4 by the Salvation Army band and on July 18 by the Citizens' Band.

The committee may change several of the Sunday night concerts to Riverside Bowl but no definite decision has been made.

The schedule is:

June 3—Salvation Army. June 10—Salvation Army and Film Council. June 17—Citizens' Band. June 24—Citizens' Band and Film Council. July 1—Film Council. July 4—Salvation Army (King Edward Park). July 8—Citizens' Band. July 15—Salvation Army. July 18—Citizens' Band (King Edward Park). July 22—Film Council. July 29—Variety concert. August 5—Film Council. August 12—Oshawa Band. August 19—Salvation Army and Film Council. August 26 Citizens' Band and Film Council.

Gained Fame In 1905 Swim

George Heben Corsan, 93, Islington, of international swimming fame in the early 1900's and of late a vegetarian and known as "the Nut Man"—suffered a 20-foot fall from one of his nut trees on Sunday. His neck was broken in two places.

Mr. Corsan was grafting buds on an English walnut tree when the accident occurred. He was found lying beside the tree by his son, Edward, who rushed him to Western Hospital.

During his swimming heyday, he gained fame in Peterborough in 1905 when he entered a non-competitive swimming workout in the Trent Canal with his friend Harry Strickland, now of Bobcaygeon. It was not a race but hundreds of citizens lined the canal banks and the superstructure of the Lift Lock to watch the outcome.

It was recorded that Mr. Corsan became ill, ascribed to an overhearty breakfast, about a mile from the race's goal and was taken aboard the accompanying launch "Rob Roy", owned by the late R. M. Roy. Although Mr. Strickland finished the swim there was neither winner nor loser to the event.

The feat was highly creditable to both swimmers, a nine-mile endurance test. Mr. Strickland's age at that time was 34 years and of Mr. Corsan, 46. The Peterborough Examiner of that day recorded the event as "the Canadian record for long distance swimming."

Jack M. Taylor Division Head

Jack M. Taylor, Hector G. McKenzie and Charles E. Lasenby have all received recent promotions at the CGE.

Mr. Taylor, former division manager in Small Motors was promoted to the post of manager of motor-generator division, succeeding the late M. F. Doris.

The new manufacturing superintendent of the motor-generator is Mr. McKenzie, formerly general foreman of the machine shop.

Mr. Lasenby has been appointed to succeed Mr. McKenzie as general foreman of the machine shop, moving up from the post of assistant general foreman of the shop.

The pastor, the Rev. J. N. Lovelace conducted the service with the Alderville choir in charge of the music.

The deceased, who had been working in Toronto was on May 5 found severely burned in his bed. It was believed he fell asleep while smoking. No hope was held out for his recovery.

Mr. Gray was born in Alderville and spent his entire life here except for short periods working in Toronto.

High Court To Hear Seven Cases

Hearings Resumed, Too Many Trials At Former Sittings

Seven civil actions are set down for trial at the adjourned non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court, resuming today with Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson presiding.

Two divorce cases and one alimony case are also listed.

William Leslie Bristow, Millbrook, is suing Bruce Parker, Peterborough lumberman, for failing to live up to the terms of an agreement entered into in July, 1946. The plaintiff claims Mr. Parker agreed to pay $3,000 for timber and trees on a lot owned by him in Cavan.

Mr. Parker claims he did not pay and will not pay the full amount because he was prevented from cutting timber by the Ganaraska River Conservation Authority.

The De Laval Co. is suing the International Harvester Co. for $2,000 and court costs as the result of the wrecking of a company car in a car-truck collision October 25, 1950, on Highway 28.

That was the accident in which Gordon A. Ham, 45, Aylmer St. was killed. Mr. Ham was De Laval sales manager and was driving the company car south on Highway 28 when it collided with the northbound truck driven by Glen A. Anderson, 25, McKellar St., salesman for the International Harvester Co.

Mr. Anderson is named as co-defendant.

Mrs. Elizabeth Irene Howard, Peterborough, is suing Rosina Reid, Hunter St. beauty parlor operator, for injuries, pain and suffering sustained when she received second degree scalp burns while having her hair curled.

An employee of the beauty parlor was in attendance at the time.

Murny Howe, Picton contractor, is suing Peterborough city for breach of contract. He had a contract to take possession of the old MacPherson house, 493 Water St., that was pulled down a year ago to make room for the new city hall building.

He claims that certain fixtures and brick and fill were missing and taken by another party, contrary to the terms of the contract.

The Imperial Bank has enterd an action against Tilford and George Love, Reach township farmers, who allegedly were guarantors to the bank when a loan of $15,000 was made to their brother, Oswald Love.

Oswald Love borrowed the money for his droving and housing business and did not repay the bank loan. The bank is asking for the $15,000 plus six per cent interest since August, 1950, plus costs of the action.

Two daughters and a son of the late Mark Wainwright, Douro township are disputing ownership of the land left by their father in 1910. They are Samuel Frederick Wainwright, and Georgina Jamieson and May Jane Davidson, all of Peterborough.

The land under dispute is a 10-acre property, lot one, concession 12, Douro.

William G. Harrison and his wife Dolly, Princess St., and Ernest G. Johnston, also of Peterborough, are plaintiffs in an action against Ernest E. Malone, Quebec. All three claim injuries after a car accident west of Bowmanville 29, 1949, alllegedly caused by Malone's negligence.

A total of $7,500 plus costs of the action, is being asked.

The first week of the non-jury sittings began four weeks ago today with Mr. Justice Treleaven presiding. Because of the heavy docket a second week was necessary and the sittings were adjourned till today.

Driver Hits Fender, Laughs, Drives Away

It wasn't funny to Clare O'Brien, Indian River, when his truck was struck by a car in a Simcoe St. hotel yard.

But, said O'Brien, the car driver just laughed and drove away after he had backed into O'Brien's truck, damaging the left front fender.

O'Brien reported the car's license number to police, who are investigating.

Minor Accidents Lay Low Four People

Four Peterborough residents were treated in Civic hospital over the weekend for various mishaps. None of the injuries is serious.

Harold Patton, 48, River Rd. S., is now resting at home after being treated for a badly cut wrist. Mr. Patton was tapping a milk bottle on his hand to shake out some milk tickets when the already cracked bottle shattered.

It cut the inside of his wrist badly, narrowly missing a tendon.

David Ingram, 18, 1107 Clonsilla Ave., was knocked unconscious late Saturday night when a piece of wood flew up and struck him behind the left ear. He received skin abrasions and was taken to hospital for observation. Later today he is expected home.

The youth was at a weiner roast and was chopping a bough for firewood when a chunk, severed by an axe, flew up and struck him.

Miss Ethel Garbutt, 60, 325 Rubidge St., was admitted to hospital early Saturday night with a fractured left arm. She received it in a fall. Miss Garbutt is a teacher at Confederation school.

Spiro Yeotes, 37, 446 Gordon Ave., received a possible fractured cheek bone when he fell downstairs shortly after midnight, Sunday morning.

Cars Hit At Corner, Considerable Damage

Considerable damage was done to a car driven by Raymond O. Taylor, 119 Robinson St., Saturday evening when it was in collision with an auto driven by Donald MacFarlane, RR 8, Peterborough.

Taylor told police he was driving east on Park Hill Rd. and stopped for the stop sign at George St. He saw a northbound car on George St., and thought it would continue north.

MacFarlane told police he signalled a left turn. He said that Taylor didn't stop at George St., and three passengers in MacFarlane's car supported his statement.

WINS PRIZE

Ormond Allison Weir, son of Mrs. M. Weir, 215 Dublin St., passed his final year, Queen's University Medical School, Kingston. Mr. Weir was also a winner of a professor's prize in radiology.

Red Faces

If you have noticed that men walk up and down George St. with a slightly embarrassed air and keep their eyes averted from the store windows, this is the reason:

Peterborough has many stores which sell to women. From what these stores display in their windows, the Peterborough women are mostly interested in unmentionables.

Bishop Berry Dedicates OtonabeeChurch

"This grand edifice is raised to God's honor and glory, and to you it is a source and powerhouse of God's blessing", said Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough at the official opening and blessing of the church of Our Lady of the Assumption in Otonabee township Sunday afternoon.

Bishop Berry commended the people of the parish for the excellent spirit they had shown in its establishment. He congratulated the pastor, Rev. W. C. McCarney, on the leadership he had given to the parishioners, and invoked the blessing of God on the new church and its people.

The church was crowded for the ceremony of the blessing and dedication. His Excellency was assisted by Rev. Father McCarney and Rev. Gerard Sullivan of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The event brought together 25 priests of the diocese who assisted in the prayers and especially in the offering of the Litany of the Saints.

Bishop Berry also administered the sacrament of Confirmation to the class of 42 boys and girls of the parish. He was attended by Rev. S. J. Coffey, Bowmanville, and Rev. H. Fitzgerald, Warkworth. His special address to the children concluded that part of the afternoon's rites.

After the ceremonial features luncheon was served by the women of the parish. Among those attending were Reeve R. R. Stewart and members of the council of Otonabee township, and Mayor M. J. Swanston of Peterborough.

2 Girls, 4, Hurt In Accidents

Two four-year-old girls were injured in city accidents over the weekend. They are: Dianne Gaspary, 787 Duffus St., and Marie Thompson, 464 Parnell St

Dianne suffered a cut leg when her leg was wedged between a milk wagon and the front wheel of her tricycle Sunday morning at Duffus St. and Ford Ave.

Driver of the milk wagon, Melville Blodgett, RR 3, Peterborough, said he didn't see the girl as he turned off Ford Ave. to go east on Duffus St.

The injury occurred when the seat was torn from the tricycle, and the seat post was shoved into the fleshy part of her leg. She was taken to hospital for treatment.

Marie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, suffered bruises Friday afternoon when the right rear fender of a car knocked her down on Park St. near Lake St.

Driver of the car, Harry Schwartz, 700 Elcombe Cresc., said he was driving south on Park St. just past Lake when the girl stepped off the west curb into the path of the car.

Schwartz said he swerved to the left, but the right rear fender brushed the child, knocking her down. Her knees, chin and forehead were bruised, but not badly.

Say Defence Major Topic Of Quebec Meet

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

When the Canadian Manufacturers' Association meets in Quebec June 4-6, it will be the fourth time the association has held its annual meeting there. The other years were 1905, 1921 and 1936.

Since the first meeting in 1905, the association, the city and Quebec province have all grown a great deal. The association has moved from a membership of a few hundred to a present 6,600. The city, in the last six years alone, has added 70 industries with a capital investment of more than $17,000,000. The province has changed from one in which agriculture was dominant to one in which industry has the biggest part.

The province now has 12,000 manufacturing enterprises, employing 400,000 people and producing $4,000,000,000 worth of goods yearly.

Major Concerns

Material shortages, defence needs and inflated prices will be major concerns of the coming meeting. Labor Minister Gregg will attend a conference of manpower and industrial relations. Both Defence Production Minister Howe and Defence Minister Claxton will take part in a conference of defence and production. Principal co-ordinators and officials of government departments affected will also be there.

Premier Duplessis of Quebec will address the annual dinner June 5. Other speakers during the three days will include:

Dr. William Y. Elliott, assistant to the director, office of Defence Administration, Washington; Senator Wallace F. Bennett, of Utah, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States; F. H. Climer (Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company), Akron, Ohio; H. W. Anderson (General Motors Corporation), Detroit; and a considerable list of Canadian industrialists and government officials.

Lt.-Gen. C. Foulkes, chairman, chiefs of staff committee, Department of National Defence, and Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman, Defence Research Board, Ottawa, will address the meeting on "International Aspects of Defence."

Post-convention Trip

A post-convention trip will be made to Arvida, Que.

W. F. Holding of Toronto is this year's president. Hugh Crombie, Montreal, is first vice-president, and in ordinary course, will become president at the Quebec meeting. G. K. Shiels, Toronto, is second vice-president and, as such, is scheduled to become first vice-president. The new second vice-president will be chosen during the meeting.

J. C. Macfarlane, Toronto, is treasurer; J. T. Stirrett, general manager; and E. G. Reburn, general secretary Head office is in Toronto.

"The association is primarily a service organization. Its basic aim is to encourage the growth and development of manufacturing in Canada and promote the interests of Canadian industries and their employees. It supplies its members with up-to-date information on a wide range of subjects—export opportunities, trade regulations, legislation, transportation, taxation, and so on."

Train 400 Young Officers In Special Science Classes

By SYDNEY WEILAND

SHRIVENHAM, Berkshire, England, May 28 —(Reuters)— Four hundred soldiers who wear their uniform once a week are leading a drive to make Britain's modern army science-minded.

Four professors and a score of university lecturers are helping them.

The army wants its men to understand the mechanics of weapons as well as how to use them in battle.

At the Military College of Science here classrooms are crammed with enthusiastic young officers working hard for university degrees.

The modern buildings in which the college opened in 1945 are unlike any other army barracks in Britain. There are no parades, no fatigue duties, no drill.

The officer-students regard it as an ordinary university, and the background of college life is maintained. As students, they wear sports jackets and slacks.

Once a Week

Only on Thursdays does the college resemble a military establishment. Then, uniforms and brightly-polished "Sam Browne" belts are brought out for the traditional regimental dinner in the officers' mess.

Each man has a tutor, a lieutenant-colonel, who directs his studies. But the day-to-day tuition is given by civilian experts for the subjects taught are not in themselves military.

Studies range from mathematics to meteorology, from electricity to explosives. Students learn the secrets of atomic physics, winged projectiles, chemistry, ballistics, rockets and the capability of armor.

"We want the soldier to be able to talk on equal terms with the civilian technician," says the commandant, Maj.-Gen. William Eldridge. "The man who uses the scientist's product should know as much about it as the scientist himself."

THROUGH THE VALLEY—A tank-infantry team of the 25th Division moves through a Korean valley on a reconnaissance patrol, as counter-attacking UN troops cut the main supply route for Communists fighting in the south and east. Tank-infantry task forces drove within five miles of the 38th Parallel in the west.

HAVELOCK, May 28 (ENS)— Mrs. Garnet Emery and Mrs. Henry Gerow were joint hostesses for a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss June Cunneyworth, of Peterborough, whose marriage to Gordon Cecil Toms will take place here June 2. The latter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Toms, of Havelock.

Post and Mrs. H. Gerow. Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh was the accompanist for a sing-song and conducted two contests which were won by Miss Ruby McIntyre and Mrs. M. Whitney.

Those present were: Mesdames Jack Phillips, Peterborough, E. D. Chiles, R. Dooley, A. Robinson, F. Chase, H. Hubble, F. R. Vanderburgh, B. Post, M. Whitney, W. Daloe, Garnet Rutherford, B. Longmuir, A. McIntyre, W. Ketchem, Rae Williams, Miss Ruby McIntyre. Those who were unable to attend but sent gifts were: Mesdames F. Bennett, W. J. Nobes, W. Hayes, Y. Pomeroy, W. Stevenson.

Safety Straps Urged For Cars

PASADENA, Calif., May 28—(AP)—Swerving to avoid a collision, the big sedan careened onto a traffic island, bounced off two sturdy traffic signs, rolled along on two wheels until it righted itself and came to a screaming stop.

"I wasn't thrown out because I was strapped in," said William W. Harper. He wasn't hurt. Both fore and after seats of his sedan are equipped with safety belts, identical with those used in planes.

The mishap, which occurred a month ago, emphasizes Harper's argument that it is more important to equip cars with straps than it is planes.

Harper, 44, a legal counsellor on physical evidence, has induced the Pasadena police department to try them on several of its cars.

He explains that most people are hurt in accidents because they are thrown against some part of the car or thrown out. At the moment of a crash, the car stops suddenly, but the occupants "keep on going" until they hit something.

Ask Greater Effort Get More Newsprint

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP) —A House of Representatives committee Sunday called for vigorous government efforts to overcome a serious shortage of newsprint.

The judiciary sub-committee on monopoly power, headed by Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem. N. Y.) said it had learned the shortage does not hamper United States newspapers alone but is a "disease which has plagued the free presses of the entire world."

It said shortages can be expected to persist until new production capacity is established.

Russ-Italian Talks May Break Down

ROME, May 28 —(AP)— Hints that Russian-Italian negotiations on war reparations assessed against the Rome government threaten to break down appeared in the Italian press today.

A statement from "competent sources" carried by the Italian news agency Ansa said that wide differences separated the two governments of the value of Italian assets in Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary, an important part of the reparations under the treaty.

Under an accord signed in Moscow in December, 1948, Italy agreed to a reparations payment of $100,000,000 to Russia. Payment was to be in Italian assets in the three satellite countries and in industrial products.

Ansa said Italy contends that the Romanian-Bulgaria-Hungarian assets are worth more than the $100,000,000 total while Russia contends their value is from $11,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Post-War Service In Europe Notable IODE Work Feature

SASKATOON, Sask., May 28 — (CP) — In dollars-and-cents value alone Canada's 31,000-member Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire last year shipper $51,387 in clothing and bedding and $32,217 in food to Britain.

These figures don't include the $46,619 in goods distributed throughout Europe. Nor do they tell the story of the numerous little services contributed by women in IODE chapters across Canada toward the well-being of persons in other countries.

Mrs. K. I. G. Drope of Toronto, the Order's post-war service convener, reported to the IODE annual meeting that the organization's post-war service work in money and kind during the year totalled $176,863.

Still Need Help

The committee feels the people of Great Britain and certain countries are still in need of assistance.

"In what better way can we fight Communism in far-off lands than by sharing with those who are less fortunate and suffering because of this deadly ism," said Mrs. Drope.

In Austria, Italy, Greece and British-occupied Germany, the British Save the Children Fund had distributed on behalf of the IODE used and new clothing and bedding worth $46,619.

At the Order's request the Soldiers, Sailors and Airmen's Families Association of Great Britain had undertaken to supply the Canadian Women's Club with clothing for Canadian veterans and their families living in Britain.

Used as Specified

In conclusion Mrs. Drope said that every dollar given to the IODE national funds for a specific purpose is used "in its entirety" for that purpose.

A picture of IODE work in the welfare field was given by the convener of that committee, Mrs. C. V. Mulligan, Toronto.

In all the Order contributed $232,832 in money and goods for welfare in Canada. This didn't even count the work done during the Winnipeg flood a year ago. At that time the IODE was recognized as the medium for clothing and bedding distribution. Goods to an estimated value of $300,000 were handled.

Mrs. Mulligan said that with the increase in living costs more persons would require such assistance as the Order could give.

Mrs. G. G. Sinclair of Toronto, gave delegates an idea of the number of visits members of the order have made to veterans hospitals in the last year.

"One province alone—and by no means the largest—reports 11,248 visits made during the year," she said in her report of the ex-service personnel committee.

Find Housewives In Germany Spoiling Plan

By VINCENT BUIST

BERLIN, May 28 —(Reuters)— Two million housewives who prefer the kitchen to the factory are holding up East Germany's economic planners.

The East German five-year plan, which started last January, demands 2,000,000 extra hands. Half a million must be found this year if industry is to be kept geared to a rising production rate.

Since nearly all able-bodied male workers are already absorbed in the zone's economic structure, fresh labor must be taken from the home and the schools.

Labor Minister Roman Chwalek recently spoke of a new law which would put all women between the ages of 20 and 45 into industry. He admitted that the zone's economic plan is "doomed to failure" if the 2,000,000 housewives continue their resistance to factory work.

Communist spokesmen admit that they expect the fight against "out-of-date" notions to be long and hard. They feel confident, however, that if East German welfare and social services are improved, women will be more willing to go into the factories.

Orders have gone out to factories to enlarge kindergartens and enable mothers to work at the factory bench.

If the new law drafting women into industry is put into effect, men in jobs which can be done as well by women are likely to be moved to more arduous tasks. The best male labor will be concentrated in the basic industries—mining, steel mills and heavy-machine factories.

Guest speaker was the Rev. F. K. Malane who was introduced by Mrs. Robert Baldwin. Father Malane gave a very interesting talk choosing as his subject "Influence".

"It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness," he said. He outlined a movement started six years ago in America on the conviction that the individual exercising personal initiative and developing within himself, a strong personal responsibility, can go far to change the dangerous trends abroad today and to restore to every segment of life, divine truth and human integrity.

"Since this movement has started countless numbers have been stimulated to go into the four fields of influence — education, government, labor-relation and communications or writings—to work as hard to preserve our country as those bent on destroying it. One of the best ways to get rid of weeds is to plant something in their stead," said Father Malane.

He spoke of the influence from the home by good women urging that they give their families a purpose, a goal.

In closing Father Malane urged that people think in terms of the world; that they pray for the world as well as for their own homes and that they dispose their children to live lives of purpose; that they get authorative information on candidates in elections and vote and persuade others to vote. "Be God's hand-maidens in restoring to a weary heart-sick world the peace for which Christ suffered and died."

Miss Vivian Sullivan thanked Father Malane on behalf of the members.

Bra Purse Boon To Women Going On Trip

NEW YORK (CP)—Now milady's First National Bank has a new safety deposit vault.

It's known as the bosom friend —a small, plastic-lined crepe purse that can be snap-fastened to both shoulder straps and tucked inside the bra In it the wearer can carry "anywhere from 12 to 15 folded bills according to your size."

The inventor, Mrs. John D. Robinson of Wallace, N. C., said here the idea came to her years ago when she was travelling all over the country attending women's meetings.

"Women are always losing their purses," she said. "I've never been to a meeting yet where that hasn't happened.'

Women long ago thought up the trick of carrying extra cash in a handkerchief tucked down inside the neckline.

But for Mrs. Robinson, that wasn't good enough.

"It is likely to bulge. And money belts are scratchy."

Commercial Venture

And so the bosom friend was born. It was not until quite recently, though, that Mrs. Robinson began to realize the commercial possibilities of her idea.

Then she took out a patent, set up sewing machines in the garage (her doctor-husband now parks his car under the porte-cochere), and seven women began manufacture of the gadget. In the last year more than 5,000 of them have been sold in department stores and to service women through post exchanges in North Carolina and neighboring states. Now Mrs. Robinson is trying to broaden her market.

Up to now, Mrs. Robinson admits, the invention has not made her fortune—"we use up $500 worth of material before you can say scat." But she adds proudly that her bosom friends have been used "everywhere in the world except Korea and China."

"I look on it as an answer to a woman's prayer."

Now she is working on another project, a bosom friend for men which "should be fine for fishermen and hunters."

Marilyn Armitage Marries In Traditional Gown of Satin

Miss Marilyn A. Armitage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Armitage, Park St., became the bride of Mr. Robert William Lasenby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lasenby on Saturday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral.

The nine o'clock ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Monsignor P. P. Butler who said the nuptial mass.

Mauve and white lilacs formed a lovely setting at the altar. Organist Mrs. R. G. Aman played the wedding music and Miss Helen Hajnik sang during signing of the register "On this day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was lovely in a traditional gown of white bridal satin and Chantilly lace with nylon poke edged with tiny seed pearls. The skirt had a tunic effect of the lace with a scalloped edging and was finished at the back with a bustle and long train of satin. Her veil was of sheer silk illusion with embroidered edge and fell to fingertip length from a wreath of orange blossoms. Her white prayer book was topped with white gardenias and ribbon. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lois Nolan attended as maid of honor, Miss Rosemary McConkey as bridesmaid and the bride's sister Miss Nancy Armitage was junior bridesmaid. Miss Nolan wore a bouffant frock of Maytime blue nylon marquisette over taffeta and Miss McConkey was identically dressed in shell pink. The junior bridesmaid's dress was yellow marquisette over maize taffeta and made with Peter Pan collar and trimmed with pearl buttons. All wore matching mittens and halos of net, and two carried nosegays of pink sweet peas and the latter a nosegay of mauve sweet peas.

Canadians Praise Work of UNICEF Through Greece

MONTREAL —(CP)— A Canadian woman who attended the anual conference in Greece of the International Council of Women is back home again, full of praise for the work UNICEF is doing in feeding Europe's needy children.

Mrs. R. J. Marshall of Agincourt, spoke highly of the work of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. During a brief stop-over here she stressed the value of its feeding program in the schools.

Mrs. Marshall, now completing her fifth consecutive term as president of the National Council of Women, left for Europe March 9. Accompanying her were three other Canadian women — Mrs. Edward Savage, Montreal; Mrs. George Klinck, Toronto; Miss Elizabeth Long, also of Toronto, head of the Women's Affairs Division of the CBC.

Voted For First

Mrs. Marshall said the delegates were particularly pleased to be in Greece when the Greek women were being allowed to vote for the first time.

Of the effects of the last war she said most children in Greece were seriously affected. Malnutrition and fear have left their stamp on the young faces. She said the girls seem to have recovered more quickly than the boys from the more evident effects.

She said some 330,000 Greek children are orphans. Of the 28,000 children kidnapped and taken across northern borders, only 75 have been returned alive.

DOROTHY DIX

Pack Up And Leave House When Wife Starts To Sulk

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for more than six years. I have never been away from home overnight. Even when my work kept me until 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning I would drive seven miles to get home. I have always given my wife everything she wanted that I could possibly afford and have treated her with the greatest kindness, but the trouble is she doesn't want me to leave the house even in the daytime, and when I do she sulks and won't say a word, which is worse than raising Cain. I have a business that requires my personal attention all the time, and this attitude of my wife's makes it very hard for me to see to things properly. Just picture a man coming home from work, all tired out, and finding his wife walking around, not saying what is the matter, but acting as if she had just found out something dreadful about him. And this will go on for days. I am about crazy. What can I do? F. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: When a wife put on her martyr crown, passes into the silence and goes about looking injured and aggrieved, it is because she is trying to call attention to herself, for one thing. For another, she is working off her grudge against somebody or her disgruntlement with life in general on her family, who are the only ones on whim she can vent her spleen.

She Wants Spotlight

She wants to make them as miserable and dissatisfied as she is, and she gets a sadistic pleasure in torturing even those she loves. Also, she wants to be petted and made much of, have everybody inquire what is the matter, and prostrate themselves before her and apologize for the things they haven't done.

The more you give in to that kind of a wife the oftener she will have her glum spells. She has found out that that is the easiest way to work you and she will do it for all it is worth. But you can stop her if you have the courage to just simply tell her where she gets off when she gets one of her tantrums and let her know you are not going to stand it. The next time she begins to get dour and sullen, pack your bag and tell her you are going to the hotel to stay until she cheers up; that when she feels bright and chirpy again she can telephone and you will come home.

That will hold her, for there is no good in putting on an act if there is nobody to see it or notice what one is doing.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I would like to know how you can get rid of spongers who are always dropping in to see you around meal time. We have some married friends who just walk in and say they are hungry and as soon as they eat they run off, leaving me with the dishes. Why can't people learn a few manners? I like to have company eat with us, but I would like to invite them and not have people think I am running a restaurant. These people are in for supper at least four nights a week. What can I do without coming straight to the point and telling them to eat home, then stop by to see us? STELLA

ANSWER: One cure that has been quite effective in cases where it has been tried is a little hard on your own family but if you take them into your confidence, they'll be glad to co-operate. As long as you know these people drop in four nights a week, plan a week of very drab and dull meals—even to the point of having beans every night, and not much of them. Apologize sweetly, and tell them you're having an economy wave. A tasty snack parked in the refrigerator for the family's delectation when the guests have departed will take the sting from the skimpy supper, and I don't think the spongers will come back too often.

Getting rid of spongers requires drastic measures. They are impervious to any hints and if nothing else works the only way to get rid of them is to be very blunt and tell them the welcome mat is wearing thin. I know this isn't a pleasant thing to do, but weighing the chances of offending selfish people against your own family's welfare leaves little choice but to boot the grafters by fair means or foul.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young girl going with a young boy who is fine in every way. My problem is that his father is very lazy and people say he'll be just like his dad. Do you think I'd be taking a chance in marrying him? I don't think he is lazy because he does most of his father's work on the warm. M. L. B.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Fortunately, lazy fathers do not always beget lazy sons. In fact, a son often profits by the example of the sorry pass to which his shiftless father has brought himself and his family. The difference between diligence and sloth is not hard to spot. If your young man works around the farm willingly, purposefully and resolutely, rather than shiftlessly, you can be assured no trace of laziness is in his make-up.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"And now, may I present the president of the Practical Jokers' Society ——?"

Sex Comics Criticized At Annual IODE Meeting

SASKATOON, May 28 (CP)—Sex comics were criticized in a report at today's opening session of the annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., IODE educational secretary, said in a report prepared for delivery to the convention that "considerable pressure" has been put on the federal government for relaxation of restrictions on such books.

Since the ban was applied on crime comics, the sex comic or "so-called 'passion literature'" has made its appearance, she said.

Provincial educational secretaries are conducting a survey on sex comics. However final results are not yet available.

Other reports were given by the empire correspondence convener, Ethel Raymond of Brantford, and the organizing secretary, Mrs. R. M. Walkey of Toronto.

Membership Growth

Membership in the IODE has grown by 267 to 31,311 in the last year, said Mrs. Walkey. Chapters across Canada totalled 923, against 921 in 1950.

She advised that the continued prosperity of the organization "required an ever-increasing membership."

"Let us make it our first duty for the coming year to do everything possible to add to our numbers," she concluded.

Miss Raymond reported the Order's pen-pal program has been stepped up until now there are 4,512 Canadian children corresponding with children in other parts of the British Commonwealth. This is 500 more than in 1950.

Ontario Heads

Ontario led with 3,022 links; Saskatchewan followed with 72; Alberta 230; Nova Scotia 121; Manitoba 180; Quebec 97.

Links have been established between Ontario schools and 10 private or public schools in the United Kingdom and two high schools in India, said Miss Raymond whose report represented a part of the educational summary given by Mrs. Detwiler.

In concluding her report Mrs. Detwiler noted that modern schools face "a thorny problem" in deciding "whether the schools re-inforce nationalism—or inspire internationalism."

She said she found the Canadian mind seems "deeply worried" about Canada's school systems.

"In the vast literature on education there is every evidence of discontent rather than complacency, of blame instead of praise," she said. "There is an uneasy feeling that the schools have failed to do their job."

Mrs. Detwiler told the meeting that during the year the IODE helped 719 young Canadians financially, thus enabling them to continue their studies. A total of $7,548 was spent on this work.

Chapters also offered a total of 2,853 prizes worth $8,507. Of these prizes 1,773 were books.

AGRICULTURAL ARMY

Including casual workers and the women's land army, Britain had 842,900 farm workers in 1950.

Keep Portions Small, Fix Up Meals For Young Eaters

By MARY MOORE.

Are the meals that you serve to your toddler so attractive that he cannot ignore them or are you crazy to the point of distraction over his not eating?

For a year or so we thought that Marianne would take a nurse's training course, but during this past school year, while she is in Grade 13 we have been gradually changing our minds.

Sh was asked if she would do some volunteer work in one of the day nurseries, so every Friday afternoon from 3:45 to 6 she helps out—and loves it

The little tots range from two to five years in age and some arrive as early as 7 am and some stay as late as 6:15 pm

Eat At Nursery

A few eat all of their meals at the Day Nursery. Although they are supposed to arrive with their "breakfasts inside of them" as one little four-year-old told Marianne.

When Marianne does finally get home on Friday evening and we are slowly starving waiting for her, she monopolizes the conversation all during dinner, regaling us with the antics of the nurselings.

Because she is allotted a certain number of them to feed, the meals are described in detail.

For instance last Friday for supper they were served

Day Nursery Supper Menu

Baked Potato Plus Skins
Pats of Cheese
Leaves of Lettuce
Squares of Buttered Whole Wheat Bread
Orange Eighths
Milk Arrowroot More Milk

Size of portions is of great importance. Keep portions very small.

If children are offered small portions, no food is wasted. Of greater significence, a child is never permitted to leave any quantity of food on his plate. He knows he can come back for as many servings as he desires, but of course, no dessert if the first course is not eaten.

Potato Skins

At last Friday's meal the baked potato was scraped from the shell and mashed with a little butter. The skins were cut into approximately 1½-inch squares and buttered a little. Marianne said the children were so accustomed by training at the school to eating the skins that they all reached for them and came back for more.

(MORAL: Don't you be the guilty one at the table that trains your children not to eat baked potato skins, by not eating them yourself!)

✧ ✧ ✧

Other Sample Supper Menus

Notice the careful balance of these supper meals. Since the children have a meat meal at noon the protein content is present, but not in abundance.

Nursery Meal No. 2: Thick Pea Soup — ham - flavored; cottage-cheese filled celery sticks 2 inches long; whole wheat bread squares buttered; (Marianne says the normal size of a piece of bread for nursery school children is 1/6 of a slice with crust on—and always whole wheat); fruit cup of fresh oranges and grapefruit and sliced banana; arrowroot biscuits; milk and more milk.

Number 3: Macaroni and cheese or halves of hard-cooked egg, whole wheat bread and butter squares, carrot strips, applesauce, arrowroot, milk.

Number 4: Thick vegetable soup, tiny cheese sandwiches, cabbage salad, prunes, milk.

Number 5: Melted cheese in custard cups (processed cheese); unbuttered whole wheat bread fingers to dip in melted cheese, tiny pieces of head lettuce leaves, bread pudding with raisins, milk.

Vandoos Have 37th Birthday While In Korea

By BILL BOSS

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea, May 28—(CP)—The 2nd battalion of the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec City Sunday celebrated the regiment's 37th anniversary in a business-as-usual manner as part of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade in the Korean fighting.

The regimental spirit runs deep and at 1 a.m. Sunday, Pte. Fernand Dube shook the battalion's commanding officer, Lt. - Col. Jacques Dextraze, D.S.O., of Montreal, who was sleeping lightly in his headquarters caravan.

Col. Dextraze woke quickly since the "Vandoos" have been rolling back the United Nations front in this sector for the past three days with the C. O. ever ready to respond to developments.

But this was no counter-attack. Dube woke him saying: "Congratulations are in order, sir. The battalion is 37 years old today."

Can't Forget

Dube, a member of the regular Army, has the regimental traditions at his fingertips and a birthday is not one to forget. The battalion thought it was just another day until nightfall when Col. Dextraze spoke over the command wireless set.

He congratulated his men on their performance of the last three days and said they had upheld the regiment's traditions and urged them to continue their good work. He also told the troops that he had sent a message to the 1st battalion on their behalf.

Brig. John Rockingham, brigade commander, also signalled congratulations to the battalion and during one of his frequent visits to battalion headquarters added a personal touch. As Col. Dextraze was preparing to send the Vandoos forward to the 38th parallel dividing north and south Korea Brig. Rockingham said:

"Well, you're certainly celebrating your birthday in a grand way."

Chinese Surrendering New Russ Weapons

WEST CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, May 28 (Reuters).—Modern Russian-type weapons, never seen before in the Korean war, are being laid down by thousands of Chinese surrendering on this front.

Allied units rounding up dejected prisoners have seized eight truckloads of these new weapons and their ammunition.

The booty in the last 24 hours has included recoilless rifles stamped 1950—replicas of the American recoilless gun—heavy machine-guns and tripods for use in aircraft, and new Browning-type machine-guns mounted on small wheel carriages.

The Americans have also captured powerful Russian-type fragmentation grenades and hundreds of new drum-type sub-machine guns.

Court Dismisses Assault Charge

A charge of assault against Reginald Herron, Hunter St. E., was dismissed today by Magistrate W. R. Philp. Herron, charged with assaulting Ray McIlmoyle, pleaded not guilty.

McIlmoyle testified he went to a party at Herron's, was asked to leave and went out in front and sat in a car. Herron came along, said McIlmoyle owed him $7, and started a fight, McIlmoyle said.

McIlmoyle said he wasn't sure whether Herron or another man had hit him. He said there were two of them. Constable Andre Dalton said McIlmoyle's left eye was bruised and his nose was bleeding.

Herron testified that after McIlmoyle was told to leave, a girl, Velma Jacobs, went out with him and took a cat from Herron's house.

"I went out and reached in the car window to get the cat. They tried to drag me into the car through the window," said Herron. He admitted hitting McIlmoyle "in self-defence."

Herron pleaded not guilty to a charge of causing a disturbance but was found guilty and fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

14 Lose Lives In Fatalities In E. Canada

By The Canadian Press

Fourteen persons lost their lives in fatalities in eastern Canada during the week-end, with nine of the deaths in Quebec, four in Ontario and one in Nova Scotia.

Three of the four persons who lost their lives in Ontario were drowned. Electrocution accounted for the other death in that province.

In Quebec, drownings resulted in three deaths, traffic accidents took three other lives and three persons died in an explosion, a train wreck and by asphyxiation. The Nova Scotia fatality was in a drowning accident.

Larry Hynes, 23-year-old assistant bartender at the Minawassi Hotel in Timagami, was drowned Sunday when a canoe upset in Lake Timagami on a fishing trip. Two companions swam to shore.

Alfred Roy, 26-year-old Sudbury miner, was drowned Sunday while fishing with five other Sudbury residents in the French river 49 miles east of Sudbury. Their boat overturned in a sudden squall and all but Roy were rescued.

The overturning of a canoe in a squall at Parry Sound caused the drowning of Sam Osborne, 19, of Toronto.

Man Electrocuted

John Hutcheon, 37-year-old Hydro worker from Alderwood, near Toronto, was electrocuted at Hamilton. A boom he was operating came in contact with a high-tension line.

Two of the Quebec drownings were in the Montreal area. Gilles Paradis, 11, fell into a water-filled quarry near his Montreal home. An unidentified man jumped off a bridge into Riviere des Prairies.

Antoine Boivin, 26, was drowned at Riviere du Moulin in north-eastern Quebec.

In the same district, Guy Gamours, 8, died after he was hit by a truck.

Claude Levielle, 20, of St. Philippe D'Argenteuil, Que., was killed when his motorcycle hit a calf on the highway.

Raymond Rivard, 37, of Farnham, Que., died after he was struck by an automobile.

Lucien Fournier, 33, of Montreal, was asphyxiated in his automobile at St. Michel, near Montreal.

Mike Borday, 60, also of Montreal, died in an explosion that wrecked a food products building.

At Daveluyville, Que., the engine, baggage car and mail car of a Canadian National Railways passenger train bound from Montreal to Halifax left the rails and overturned and the engineer, A. Bissonnette of Charney, Que., is missing and believed killed. He is thought to be pinned under the overturned cab.

Retail Sales Increasing Despite Curbs On Buying

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP). — Despite restrictions on credit buying imposed late last year, retail sales in the first quarter of 1951 were 19 per cent higher than a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported Saturday.

During that period, the country's retail trade amounted to $2,154,000,000, compared with $1,806,000,000 in the first quarter of 1950.

The March total was $814,000,000, compared with $686,000,000 in March last year, and only in Saskatchewan did March sales fall below the level for March, 1950.

In that province an 11 per cent decrease was recorded, while Ontario and Quebec, which normally account for about three-fifths of Canada's retail trade, had gains of 25 per cent and 24 per cent, respectively. increases in the remaining provinces ranged from 16 per cent in British Columbia to 8 per cent in Alberta.

The increases indicated that restrictions on consumer credit buying have not hampered sales. In December, the government announced that instalment purchases must be limited to a "one-third down and 12 months to pay" basis. Later the down payment was increased to one-half for automobiles.

Easter shopping this year occurred mainly in March while last year it was spread over March and April, the report said.

Most Sales Up

All trades with the exception of fuel dealers had increased sales in March compared with a year earlier. Pre-budget buying is believed largely responsible for a 37 per cent increase in March purchases of motor vehicles. Sales for the month totalled $162,000,000—the highest monthly total for the trade.

Variety stores recorded a 33 per cent gain, a particularly large rise in sales volume for this kind of business. All four trades in the apparel group had large sales increases, ranging from 25 per cent in men's clothing stores to 17 per cent for women's clothing stores.

Appliance and radio dealers' sales were 23 per cent higher. Grocery and combination stores advanced 21 per cent, the largest monthly rise in many months. Chain and combination stores which account for approximately 40 per cent of total food store sales, had a gain of 33 per cent in sales volume. Meat store sales were up 20 per cent.

Arctic Explorer L. Ellsworth Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP). — Explorer Lincoln Ellsworth, 71, died Saturday night following a heart attack.

Ellsworth's last major trip of exploration was a flight into the interior of Antarctica, 1939, when he claimed 381,000 square miles for the United States.

In 1925, with another famous Arctic explorer, Capt. Roald Amundsen, Ellsworth set out by plane, intent on being the first to reach the North Pole by air.

During the trip, in two planes, they surveyed 120,000 square miles of unknown territory. But head winds kept them from their goal.

They came down on the ice, and Ellsworth's plane was wrecked. It took a month for the men to join forces and get their remaining plane into the air.

It flew to within one mile of North Cape, Spitzbergen, then came down again, this time on the open sea. They were rescued by a sealer.

Travelled Under Water

Ellsworth also journeyed in the Arctic under water. In 1931 he directed a scientific investigation for Wilkins - Ellsworth trans-Arctic submarine expedition.

Ellsworth conquered the North Pole in 1926 with Amundsen, in a semi-rigid dirigible, the Norge.

Son of a wealthy Ohio coalmine operator, Ellsworth financed the polar flight.

The North Pole conquered, Ellsworth turned his eyes southward. In January, 1934, he and Bernt Balchen were ready to fly across the Antarctic.

A submarine upheaval wrecked their plane as it rested on the ice. They went back in 1935 and flew successfully over considerable new territory.

The next winter Ellsworth, with Herbert Hollick-Kenyon as pilot, gave the world a scare by disappearing in the Antarctic. They were cut off by radio failure and later rescued by an Australian patrol ship.

Rap Controls On World Trade

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The International Monetary Fund said Sunday the growth of world trade is being hampered by unnecessary restrictions, including controls which limit the exchange of one country's money for another's.

A 160-page report adopted unanimously by its directors urged speedy "relaxation or removal" of these restrictions, declaring that would result in greater productive efficiency" and more goods and services being obtained from limited world resources.

Officials said at a press conference the fund's articles of agreement specify that none of the 49 member countries may keep restrictions on exchange transactions after March 1952, without the fund's approval.

Refuse To Allow Quebec Sunday Labor

BAIE COMEAU, Que., May 28—(CP)—Sunday labor by Quebec pulp and paper mill workers, suggested in some quarters as the answer to the newsprint shortage, will not be permitted by the Quebec government.

Premier Duplessis said "the first law, is the divine law," the church will always remain a rampart against subversive ideas and workers must not be deprived of church-going habits.

"Workers must be able to spend at least one day with ther families—Sunday."

UK Detectives Guard Ki Ming Derby Favorite

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters)—Detectives, in the best Nat Gould tradition, stood guard today on the stable of Ki Ming, Chinese-owned 17-2 favorite for Wednesday's Epsom derby.

The two thousand guineas victor stands to win more than $110,000 in stake money and side bets for owner "Lucky Billy" Ley On who runs a London chop suey restaurant. And that wily Oriental is taking no chances.

Ki Ming, trained by former jockey Michael Beary at South Fawley Manor, near Wantage, Berkshire, has so far escaped the coughing epidemic which trimmed a record derby field to 37 during the week-end and left two others doubtful starters for the 12-furlong colts' classic.

Quick Return, Titian, Prince Douilly and Selector II were scratched Saturday and Anamnestes and King Cardinal reported doubtful.

If the 35 probables go to the post Wednesday they'll break the record of 32 established in 1862 when Caractacus won the blue ribbon. The prize money of £19,386 also constitutes a record in the 171-year history of the race.

Movie Column

Boris Karloff To Live In New York

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 28 (AP)—Still haunted by the ghost of Frankenstein's monster, Boris Karloff is ending his 32-year residence of Hollywood.

The English-born actor told me he is selling his Hollywood house and will make his home in New York. This is partly due to the heavyfooted monster which catapulted him to fame 20 years ago.

Before playing in "Frankenstein," he was just another character actor. He had been here since 1919 without making any great impression on the movie public. But after that memorable film, his name was synonymous with menace.

"Yes, I was typed," he sighed. "But then, I guess everyone is in the movies, even juveniles."

In recent years, he has turned to the stage in an attempt to shed the label. He had notable success along those lines in "Peter Pan" with Jean Arthur. But he returned to Hollywood to play a dull-witted servant in a thriller called "The Door." After he finishes the film, he's leaving for New York.

Stage Lure

"I think the first love of any actor is the stage," he admitted. "And actually, I have been away from Hollywood more than I have been here in the past 10 years. I spent 3½ years in 'Arsenic and Old Lace,' another six months with it overseas and two years in 'Peter Pan.'

"Also, there are more things to keep an actor busy in New York. You have the stage, television and radio. Out here it's mostly pictures."

I asked Karloff if he has seen any of the new type of thrill picture—the science fiction film.

"No, but I'd like to," he answered. "I understand they now have monsters who are vegetables. Fascinating!"

Capsule Review

"Hard, Fast and Beautiful" continues the current fad of looking into the field of sports. This one is a hard-bitten view of the young athletes who make a racket of playing tournament tennis. Sally Forrest is the player who turns from innocence to cynicism, pushed along by her ruthless mother, Claire Trevor. Dramatic values are skillfully presented by director Ida Lupino.

C. J. McGonigal of Edmonton and William Horne of Calgary, crawled out dry as the steel framework of the twisted bridge held the overturned truck a foot above water. Gibbons is 20 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Nut Grower 94 Has Broken Neck

TORONTO, May 28 — (CP) — George Hebden Corsan, 94-year-old nut grower and physical culturist, suffered a broken neck Sunday in a 20-foot fall from a ladder on his 25-acre Echo Valley farm in suburban Islington.

He broke his neck in two places while examining grafted buds on an English walnut tree. He was found, still conscious, by his son Edward, and protested against being moved to hospital here for X-ray examinations.

Hospital officials said his condition was "not very good."

Dr. W. K. Fenton said he had suffered the same type of fracture suffered by men hanged on the gallows. "One break missed severing the spinal cord by one-quarter of an inch," the doctor said.

Offer Reward Of $10,500 For India's Bandit Chief

By B. V. S. RAO

RAJKOT, India, May 28 (AP) The government of Saurashtra, a new Indian state composed of former princely holdings in the Kathiawar Peninsula, has offered a reward of 50,000 rupees ($10,500) for the seizure dead or alive of India's top bandit chief.

He is Bhupat Makwana, a 35-year-old Hindu. Police accuse him of at least 40 murders committed in the course of armed robberies against the inhabitants of 27 villages.

Sparsely-settled Kathiawar in western India affords a happy hunting ground for Bhupat, who is a crack shot and a fast and wild driver.

Once a Soldier

Bhupat once served as a soldier in the "Provisional Government of Junagadh," where he worked for leader Samaldas Gandhi. At the time of partition revolt swept the area when Hindu residents of Junagadh opposed the action of the Nawab of Junagadh in joining Pakistan. Finally the Nawab fled to Pakistan leaving the Indian Hindus in control.

The bandit leader took up robbery as a profession following the end of this short campaign. First he looted the homes of well-to-do farmers, shooting without hesitation whenever he was opposed.

Then he formed a bandit gang and turned his attention to the richer villages. Reports of his ventures always stress his kindliness toward women and his "sharing" of his loot with the poor.

Unable to trap the fast-moving Bhupat, police officials enlisted the aid of the Indian army. Numerous traps were laid for his capture. Each time Bhupat, warned by his associates, managed to escape.

Recently police spies brought back word that Bhupat is overconfident and boastful. He holds drinking bouts frequently, they say, and laughs at the effort of the law to capture him.

Lose Two Divisions Trying To Halt Strong Allied Push

TOKYO, May 30. (Wednesday)—(AP)—South Korean troops stabbed forward 12 miles Tuesday against little or no opposition to seize the east coast port of Kansong, 26 miles inside North Korea. Other United Nations forces on the central front gained control of an important ridge overlooking the escape route for thousands of Korean and Chinese Communists at the eastern end of the Hwachon reservoir. The Allied push was designed to slam the door on Red troops still south of the reservoir, said a pooled dispatch.

The Allies were within four miles southeast of Yanggu on the last ridgeline leading to that strategic town.

The Reds fought bitterly to delay the Allied troops on the mountainous central front but gains of as much as 4,500 yards (almost three miles) were scored by powerful Allied tank and artillery-supported task forces.

2 Divisions Wiped Out

(Two Chinese divisions were wiped out in a four-day battle on the central front, south of the 38th Parallel. The US Eighth Army said the Chinese lost 18,000 men—killed, wounded or captured—in the single battle. Smaller but equally-stubborn fights raged across Korea north of 38. Allied troops were held to limited gains. Stiffest action was in the centre of the peninsula where UN troops tried to seal off the Hwachon reservoir.

Field dispatches reported Allied troops behind the fighting front knifed five miles up the Hyon-Inje road to link with Americans fighting slowly southward.

But a strong force moving northwest of Inje fought for two days to reach and capture a minor road junction 3½ miles from the death-ridden town.

Bogged Down

A delayed and heavily-censored dispatch from AP correspondent Tom Bradshaw said a powerful UN task force bogged down Monday northeast of Inje.

Other armored units ran into the same trouble as they headed northwest toward Yanggu, 10 miles away on the end of Hwachon reservoir. AP correspondent Jim Becker reported Americans hacked out one mile Tuesday against rugged opposition.

South Koreans advanced to the southern banks of the 20-mile-long reservoir.

At its western tip, US marines were engaged in sharp, fierce fights with Red Koreans east, west and north of the town of Hwachon. Hwachon is the central spearhead of the 125-mile UN battleline.

Communist troops threw up stiff defences against every other UN penetration to the west.

UK Rearmament Speed-up Recommended

LONDON, May 29. (CP)— A drive to step up Britain's rearmament program is recommended in the latest report released by the Commons select committee on estimates.

The report underlines a warning that unless round-the-clock work shifts are adopted by defence industries, the rate of production may be seriously slowed because scarce machine tools are not being fully used.

It discloses that the time-lag between ordering and taking delivery of machine tools varies from eight months for clothing to as much as 24 months for a new type of aircraft.

To meet this and other production problems, the report urges the government to:

1. Develop a bold policy of upgrading semi-skilled workers, dilution of skilled labor in every practical way, and encouraging women to return to industrial employment.

Allocation of Materials

2. Work out an effective system of allocating scarce raw materials.

3. Reduce administrative formalities which are delaying construction of new factories for defence works.

4. Conduct a census of all machine tools needed for defence which may have to be requisitioned and extend sub-contracting for tools in urgent demand.

The committee says workers have been leaving the machine-tool industry because of better wages paid in industries meeting boom export demands. It deplores the effect of the call-up of apprentices, and urges adoption of measures for vigorous development of schemes for training. It also suggests efforts to secure more trained scientific workers.

US To Reveal Size Of Force

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 29 (AP).—Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, said Monday night the US would disclose soon how many troops it would earmark for use by the UN in future emergencies.

This was the first official announcement that the US would contribute to a global emergency force, although it originated the uniting-for-peace resolution under which the proposed UN army is being set up.

Austin made his declaration in a speech prepared for delivery before the 42nd annual convention of the Rotary International.

In Ottawa, it was recalled that Canada was the first country definitely to commit a specific military force to back her UN obligations.

"Dead Man" Gives Policeman Shock

WHITTIER, Calif., May 29 (AP)—Ever have a dead man ask you for a cigarette?

Reaching an automobile wreck Tuesday, Patrolmen Joe Wilson and Ben Gomez found William Fryer, 35, lying still beside his overturned car.

They could detect no heartbeat, no pulse. Tossing a blanket over Fryer, they called for an ambulance.

Then the blanket stirred.

Fryer sat up and asked: "Anybody got a cigarette?"

He only had a bump on his head.

No information was available about his proposed weekend visit to Northern Ireland.

The King decided Monday to cancel plans to attend the Derby at Epsom Downs with other members of the Royal Family Wednesday. The Queen, Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret will attend the flat-racing classic.

Forest Fire Curbed At Timmins

100,000 Acres Bush Swept By Flames, Fear New Outbreak

TORONTO, May 29. (CP)—Weary firefighters, aided by a cover of patrolling aircraft, stood guard along the 250-mile rim of a giant forest fire which they brought under control Monday 60 miles south of Timmins.

Forest protection officials said the fire, which had crackled northward from Gogama district across almost 100,000 acres of pine, birch and slash, might break out again at a number of points unless more rain fell.

An inch of rain late Sunday and early Monday helped check the fire's advance, but flames continued to shoot up Monday under clear skies.

The weather office here forecast sunny, warm weather in the area today, with light winds.

Warm Weather

"They're in for a few days of warm weather now," a forecaster said. "It looks like more bad forest fire weather."

At last reports, however, all fires in the province were under control. A total of 23 were burning Monday.

Damage in the Gogama-Timmins fire in its weekend race through seven townships was chiefly to an area of birch and pine timber, where a similar fire burned 10 years ago and where dead trees aided the spread of the new one.

Although the Sunday night rain together with scattered showers Monday night, reduced extreme fire hazards, the danger of new blazes was still regarded by officials as "medium to high."

A travel ban in Cochrane and Timiskaming districts will remain in effect until conditions mprove.

Stresses Danger Of Atom Attack

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP).—Even large cities like Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver will need help from other cities if they are atom bombed, a civil defence expert said today.

"Even the largest urban area in Canada with thorough mobilization of local resources of personnel, supplies and facilities would require considerable assistance from other areas to deal with the problems created by an atomic burst," said Dr. K. C. Charron.

Dr Charron is a member of the civil defence planning group of the Federal Health and Welfare Department.

He was one of a group of Canadian experts who gave prepared talks on what to do during and before a national emergency or disaster to the 1951 biennial meeting of the Canadian Hospital Council.

Free Giant Tanker From Lake Shoal

SARNIA, May 29 (CP).—The giant new Imperial Oil tanker Redwater was freed from a shoal in Lake Huron today after being aground for several hours.

Full details of the grounding were not available, but it is believed to have occurred in a dense fog at 11 p.m EDT Monday at a point about two miles north of Sarnia. She was freed about 8:35 a.m.

The tanker Imperial Sarnia assisted.

Latest reports reaching here said the Redwater was standing idle in the shipping lane. No explanation was given for her failure to proceed to port here as scheduled.

Reporter Stuck With POW No One Wants Lonely Red

By JIM BECKER

WITH THE US MARINES IN EAST-CENTRAL KOREA, May 29 (AP)—I had a Communist Chinese soldier on my hands today. I thought for a while I would have to take him home with me. Only by subterfuge was I able to rid myself of him.

I found him this morning. You might even say I captured him.

There he was cowering in the bushes as I walked by. He stood up with his hands raised and smiled.

I took him to my jeep and put him in the front seat. He never made a move and he never stopped grinning.

First I stopped some Marine infantrymen coming down the road "You want a prisoner," I asked.

"What would we do with him?" one asked.

At the next crossroads I met a military policeman.

"Here's a prisoner for you."

"I don't want him," said the MP. "Take him to the rear. And move on you are blocking traffic."

After about a mile, I passed a prisoner of war processing point for a battalion.

I stopped, motioned to my captive to wait, and went inside.

There was a corporal sitting on a box. In the back were a batch of forlorn-looking Chinese in assorted uniforms.

"Ive got a prisoner outside in the jeep," I told the corporal.

"Who are you?" he asked.

I told him.

"We only process prisoners captured by our own battalion. Take him back to the rear," he said.

I tried one more MP, without much hope, and he merely pointed and said:

"Take him to the rear."

A short distance down the road I passed a regimental command post. I drove right inside.

There was a POW stockade but I knew they wouldn't want junior.

So I drove right up to the S-2 (Intelligence) tent. I motioned to the laughting lad to follow me. He came along quietly.

circled around to the rear of the tent, looked carefully in all directions and then opened the flap and shoved my captive, still grinning, inside.

I hope they have better luck getting rid of him than I did.

OUT OF CONTROL FOR 348 FEET, this 1950-model car occupied by two Oshawa men crashed into an elm tree, south of Apsley. William Sauder, 25, driver, and David Cisok, 35, passenger, both were injured as a result of the crash. In the background OPP Constable Bert Howden is seen surveying the gap the car tore in the rail fence after being bounced 20 feet through the air when it hit a rock on the shoulder of the highway.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

50,000 In Tehran Stage Anti-British Demonstration

TEHRAN, Iran, May 29. (AP)—A demonstration by 50,000 persons in Tehran today opened a Communist-front barrage against the British and Americans keyed to the explosive oil issue. Tanks and troop-trucks patrolled the tense capital. It was the biggest Communist-front demonstration thus far in Tehran, and it was the signal for other demonstrations planned at key points throughout Iran, called by the Communist Tudeh party as a protest against "British-American imperialism."

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, chief target of the demonstrators, announced it was authorizing the wives and children of its British, Pakistani and Indian employees to quit Abadan, the oil port, "on leave" at company expense. Holdings of the company, controlled by the British government, are marked for nationalization by the Iranian government.

N. R. Seddon, representative of the company in Iran, was to see the Iranian finance minister Wednesday—the deadline of an ultimatum to the company to confer with the Iranian government on how the liquidation of the firm's holdings will be accomplished.

Luncheon Meeting

US Ambassador Henry F. Grady arranged a luncheon meeting, meanwhile, with Sir Francis Shepherd, the British amabssador, and F. Mohammed Mossadech, Iran's Nationalist premier who has sparked the nationalization program. This meeting was to be the first meeting of the three together, and in view of Grady's offer to mediate the dispute, was looked upon by some as an optimistic sign that informal talks could widen into formal negotiations.

The demonstrations are sponsored by the Society of Fight Imperialistic Oil Companies in Iran, which western observers have tagged as a Communist front. The demonstrations are advertised to last three weeks.

Meanwhile the British-Iranian oil dispute remained deadlocked following Iran's flat rejection yesterday of steps by Britain to take the case to the International Court of Justice (World Court) at the Hague.

Iranian government officials are interested in some kind of compromise in the Iran oil dispute the London Financial Times says today.

Canadians Make 7-Mile Advance

WEST SECTOR, Korea, May 29 (CP)—Sherman tanks of the Lord Strathcona Horse under Major Jim Quinn, of Saskatoon, probed seven miles north of the 38th Parallel Monday and captured three prisoners but failed to find any trace of a larger Chinese force.

The tanks of the Winnipeg unit had Filipino troops riding on their backs.

Eastern Ontario and French-speaking infantrymen patrolled forward afoot, having the easiest day since committed last Friday.

Light patrols of the Royal Canadian Regiment from London, Ont., also probed north of the parallel in a quiet day.

The RCR received congratulation from Brig. John Rockingham, commander of Canada's 25th Brigade for clearing Chinese from the last 15 miles of South Korea in its sector.

"You've far exceeded the high expectations I had of your ability in operations," he said.

Britain Begs Iran To Negotiate

Morrison Tells MP's London Makes Compromise Offer

LONDON, May 29. (AP) — Britain pleaded with Iran today to negotiate the tense Iranian oil issue in an atmosphere of good will, "taking full account of the dangerous potentialities of the present situation."

The British statement, delivered by Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison in the House of Commons, rejected one-sided Iranian action in nationalizing the giant Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, and said Britain is ready to accept some form of nationalization of her oil interest in Iran.

Moscow issued another propaganda blast on the issue today. Its Literary Gazette charged Britain with trying to blackmail Iran and frighten the Iranians with military force.

Compromise Plan

Morrison told the House of Commons that Britain's ambassador, Sir Francis Shepherd, has informed Iran that Britain is ready for some form of nationalization of Iranian oil provided the action is "satisfactory in other respects."

However, he said, so far the Iranian government "has not seen fit to respond in any way to (Britain's) repeated suggestions of negotiation." On the contrary, he said, Iran has indicated she intends to go ahead on her own with the nationalization program.

Britain's government controls the Anglo-Iranian Company, sole exploiter of Iranian oil. The Iranian Majlis (parliament) has pushed through a nationalization law taking over the British holdings.

Morrison told the House of Commons the British government could not accept a one-sided action by Iran, whose government has indicated it would go ahead on its own with the nationalization program.

He said the British government "earnestly hopes wiser counsels, taking full account of the dangerous potentialities of the present situation, will prevail in Tehran and that negotiations can be initiated in an atmosphere of reason and goodwill."

Plane Crashes 3 Fliers Hurt

LONDON, Ont., May 29 (CP)—Three fliers from the RCAF station at Centralia were injured seriously today when their two-engined training plane crashed and burned three-quarters of a mile north of the airport.

Names were withheld until next-of-kin have been notified.

Three ambulances, escorted by provincial and city police, rushed the injured to Westminster Hospital.

A Centralia spokesman said cause of the crash was unknown.

An unidentified farmer was reported to have pulled two of the men from the wreck.

One was either thrown clear or was able to extricate himself.

Army Waging Fight Against Drug Addiction

TOKYO, May 29 — (AP). — While United Nations troops battle to destroy the Communist forces, army medics behind the lines are waging a relentless fight against drug addiction.

They say they are winning.

The medical authorities deny published stories that the use of drugs has become a major problem among troops in Japan and Korea.

Maj.-Gen. Edgar H. Hume, Surgeon-General of the Far East Command, expressed surprise when informed such stories had been circulated. "No such major problem exists," he said.

Hume said admissions to army hospitals of drug addicts were "normal and about the same as experience in any civilian hospital in the United States."

Boiler Room Fire

TOKYO, May 29 (Reuters—A fire which started in the boiler room of the 6,300-ton Japanese freighter Amazon Maru off Oshima Island, Izu archipelago south of Tokyo, was still burning today. Latest reports reaching here said the skipper and more than 40 of the crew have been rescued from the ship.

Rescue Teams Find Bodies of 14 Men Little Hope Held

EASINGTON, Durham, England, May 29. (AP)—A violent explosion buried 78 British coal miners today behind a tunnel full of thousands of rocks. The bodies of 14 men were dragged out by rescuers and one man was taken out badly crushed and burned, but by late afternoon 63 still were entombed.

Twelve brigades of rescuers worked in teams through the tumbled rocks attempting to clear 1,000 yards of blocked tunnel to reach the blast area, 900 feet underground at the large Easington coal pit.

H. E. Collins, production manager of the Durham Coal Mining Division, said "We have not given up hope." But Fuel Minister Philip Noel-Baker told the House of Commons he feared it was "not at all probable" that any of the trapped men could have escaped through old tunnels branching off from the gas-laden explosion site.

By early afternoon rescue parties had driven through more than 300 yards of debris. Mining officials said the coal face, where it is believed the majority of men are trapped, was another 700 yards away.

Fresh air was being forced through neighboring seams in hopes it would filter through to the men.

2 Blown Clear

The violent blast blew two men clear of the tumbling debris. One said he was lifted and tossed 60 yards down the tunnel. Another said he was thrown 20 to 30 yards.

"A great cloud of black gas" poured down the shaft, said George Williams, twin brother of 19-year-old Matthew Williams who was the first brought out alive.

The explosion caught the miners just as the day shift was relieving the night workers about 1¼ miles from the bottom of the pit hoisting shaft.

Cause of the disaster was not known.

Have Little Hope

One of the rescue workers told reporters "It is unlikely that any of the miners still in there are alive. It was terribly hot and we got some idea of the force of the explosion."

Crowds of relatives and friends waited anxiously at the pithead in a cold wind blowing off the North Sea.

The Easington Colliery, one of the largest in the Durham county coalfield, is 10 miles east of the city of Durham. Part of its workings runs under the North Sea.

Bogus Inspector Steals $10,000

MONTREAL, May 29 (CP). — A "federal inspector" checking in bogus currency Monday night fled with $10,000 from the St. Zotique Caisse Populaire in the city's north end.

Accountant Jean Marie Messier told police the bank had been closed more than two hours when a man knocked on the front door. Messier said he was alone checking the people's bank books.

He told the stranger the bank was closed. The latter said he was a federal inspector verifying counterfeit bills.

Messier said he let the man in and the latter asked to see $10 bills. Then the "inspector" drew a revolver, emptied the wickets and fled.

Tourist Spending Higher In Ontario

TORONTO, May 29. (CP)—Ontario's tourist industry got off to a good start this year, Travel Minister Cecile said here Monday night. Tourist spending to date was 11½ per cent above last year's figure.

It was "entirely fitting that Ontario should aspire to be one of the very great vacation lands of the world," Mr. Cecile said in a speech prepared for delivery over a network of Ontario radio stations in the CBC's free-time "Provincial Affairs" series.

More than 500,000 tourists were welcomed last year at 15 reception centres at important points of entry, he said. Provincial inspectors licensed more than 4,800 tourist establishments last year, and this year 1,000 names had been added to the travel department's listings.

Three Wise Magistrates Meet Match In Six Dogs

WEST HARTLEPOOL, Durham, England, May 29—(AP)—Six wise dogs with a special air of innocence met up Monday with the three wise magistrates of West Hartlepool.

The three wise magistrates stared sternly at the six wise dogs and sought to determine which one—or more—was the culprit—or culprits—that liked an occasional nip of human leg.

But the six wise dogs are six remarkably identical Collies belonging to George Roberts, and they sat with a calm and satisfied air while their owner said he couldn't tell which was the one to be punished.

Ernest Raddle, who complained to the police that he was on the receiving end of one of those occasional nips, said he didn't know which it was either.

"We've had this trouble before," Police Inspector Alan Armstrong told the three wise magistrates. "We are told one of them has bitten somebody, but by the time we get there, it's back with the others and it's impossible to tell which it is."

The three wise magistrates stared sternly at the six dogs, and the canine sextet looked back happily with waggish not-me airs that betrayed no one.

So the three magistrates conferred quietly for a few moments. Then Magistrate W. T. Hogg announced they had arrived at a solution.

The court, he informed the owner of the six wise dogs, was ordering that The dog must be kept under control.

"And it's up to you to decide which one it is," said the magistrate.

Voting Breaks Red Hold On North Italy

ROME, May 29 (AP). — An anti-Communist coalition has broken the extreme left wing hold on Italy's "Red North."

Incomplete returns today indicated Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Atlantic Pact front had given the Reds their worst beating in five years in provincial elections.

The Communists were kicked out of five provincial capital administrations they had held since 1945. De Gasperi's forces took a heavy majority of council seats in elections which ended Monday for a third of the country. The rest of the country votes later

Interior ministry results in 530 of 554 provincial council seats gave the anti-Communist bloc — a combination of the majority Christian Democratic party, the Republican, Liberal and anti-Communist Socialist parties —336 places to 164 for the Communist-leftwing Socialist bloc.

The returns, nearly complete, indicated that the anti-Communists won a majority of provincial council seats in 21 of the 28 provinces, and the Communists won in six provinces. One province did not vote for councillors. The anti-Communists also won in 21 of 28 provincial capitals.

Two Top Prizes

The parties led by De Gasperi won the port cities of Venice and Genoa—two top prizes in the municipal elections—and three other province capital administrations which were Communist for five years.

Two contests, at Bologna and Imperia, where Communists and their left Socialist allies have majorities now, still are undecided

A late vote count from 306 of 329 precincts gave the pro-Communist bloc 104,815 votes to 102,776 for the De Gasperi forces, and observers familiar with the city forecast that the left wing would keep control of Bologna's government by a narrow margin.

Bologna, Ravenna and Rovigo were the only three of the Communist Gothic-line citadels voting this week. In the other nine, stretching from the Lugirian Sea to the Adriatic, the vote test will come June 10, when another third of the country votes.

Non-Stop Flight Over North Pole

OSLO, Norway, May 29 (AP)—Charles Blair started a non-stop solo flight over the North Pole today in the converted P-51 Mustang fighter in which he set the non-stop New York - to - London record last Jan. 31. Fairbanks, Alaska, is his destination.

Carrying the first polar airmail—3,000 letters—Blair took off from Oslo's Gardermoen air base. He planned to land at Bardu, in northern Norway, for refueling this afternoon, then leave immediately on the non-stop hop of 3,300 miles across the top of the world.

Princess Has To Sell Furniture To Pay Bill

LEEDS, England, May 29 (Reuters).—The Princess Royal, sister of the King, must sell some of her furniture to help pay death duties for her husband, her agents said here Monday night.

Four years after the death of her husband, the sixth Earl of Harewood, the 54-year-old Princess will see some of her treasured possessions auctioned off next month.

The Earl was estimated to have left almost $1,000,000. Already one of the family homes and 14,000 acres of land have been sold.

House Approves Abolishing Fiat Prerogative

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP). — The Commons Monday night approved a government move to abolish a centuries-old Royal prerogative based on the belief that the King can do no wrong.

It gave second reading to a Bill which will free individuals from the necessity of obtaining the Crown's permission before they can take action against it in the courts.

That permission—a fiat—goes back to the days of King Edward I of Britain. In actual practice, permission rarely has been refused in this country.

Justice Minister Garson, introducing the legislation, said it represented a "clear recognition" of the realities of present-day life. It also would give assurance that the government would not hide behind a refusal to grant a fiat.

Welcomes Change

John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre), welcoming the change, urged the government to allow individuals to take action against the Crown in courts other than the Exchequer Court. At present, the suits can be launched only in that court.

A fourth measure, amending the Customs Act, won final passage after George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, urged the government not to take action which would allow transport trucks to increase the size of loads from United States points.

He opposed a section which would allow trucks to carry goods in bond from a warehouse in the United States to a warehouse in Canada. At present, the goods must be unloaded at border crossing points and appraised for customs purposes.

He moved that the Bill be referred to a committee for further study, but the motion was defeated 57 to 19.

Revenue Minister McCann, sponsoring the legislation, said the time had come when trucks should be treated in the same way as railways and allowed to carry goods in bond.

The legislation would have no immediate effect. Before using it, trucking firms would have to find out from the provincial governments whether they could use the highways and would have to establish warehouses.

Four Priests Of District Celebrate 25th Anniversary

To the four priests of the diocese of Peterborough who this morning celberated at St. Peter's Cathedral the 25th anniversary of their ordination, Bishop Gerald Berry, as head of the diocese, made public expression of thanks in their decision of response to the vocation to which God had called them.

In the years of preparation, His Excellency said, the candidate had the liberty of saying 'no' before taking the final step in Holy Orders. On May 29, 1926, Rev. Leo Cleary of Kirkfield, Rev. Harry Black of Grafton, Rev. W. C. McCarney of Otonabee and Rev. V. J. Corkery of Peterborough, had accepted a responsibility which today represented 100 years in the service of God and the church and its people.

"May God bless and prosper you in your work during the years of life which remain to you," said Bishop Berry in a grateful tribute to the four priests who were ordained by the late Archbishop M. J. O'Brien. Together they had been instruments of a great volume of God's grace and favor.

Monsignor J. J. O'Leary of Sault Ste. Marie in the morning sermon said that the truly Catholic home was the fruitful ground in which priestly vocations had their root. Godly parents and family prayer provided an inspiring atmosphere for youth recognizing that Jesus Christ had chosen men to carry on the work of His church, the apostles and their successors.

Monsignor O'Leary quoted from the gospels details of the commission with which Jesus had charged them..."All power is given to Me in heaven and on earth; going therefore teach ye all nations...He that heareth you, heareth Me; and he that despiseth you, despiseth Me...Receive ye the Holy Ghost, whose sins ye shall give forgive, they are forgiven them..."

The four priests of today's jubilee had faithfully served "God, their country and you," Monsignor O'Leary said, and asked the people to remember them in their prayers and also to pray for vocations because the harvst and the need were great.

Congratulations of the clergy of the diocese were conveyed in an address read by Rev. J. C. Moloney of Campbellford, and their gifts were presented at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Bishop Berry was the celebrant at the main altar, and the four priests of the jubilee day separately offered their masses of thanksgiving at side altars.

Vulture Caught In Wolf Trap

LINDSAY, May 29.—Ambrose Ferrn, brother of a Kinmount farmer, Frank Ferrn, received the shock of his life Sunday. While inspecting a wolf trap on his brother's farm, he found not a wolf but a strange-looking bird of enormous size. Later Wallace Scott, Lands and Forests overseer, saw the bird, and the men concluded it was a vulture.

James Allen, Ferrn's brother-in-law, said that the bird was much like a hawk or eagle about its head which had a small, red tuft down the back. Its wingspread measured five feet, seven inches, and its legs were scaly, said to be common to vultures.

A dictionary's description of a vulture helped make the final decision. It said:

"Any of the certain large raptorial birds of temperate and tropical regions, allied to the hawks, eagles and falcons, but having weaker claws, and the head usually naked. They subsist chiefly or entirely on carrion. They constitute two families, Vulturidae or the Old World vultures which are only slightly distinguished from the hawks, and the Cathartidae. Among them are some of the largest birds of flight and nearly all are graceful on the wing."

Prices Rise Slowly On Stock Market

TORONTO, May 29 — (CP).—Prices climbed slowly as the session progressed on the Stock Market today.

Prices moved ahead at the opening following Monday's advance and continued edging higher. Trading was again extremely quiet. Volume for the first three hours of 640,000 shares was about 169,000 shares more than the same period yesterday.

Industrials posted gains ranging from fractions to more than a point. Papers led the way with a solid column of plus signs and steels, utilities, agricultures, foods refining oils and textiles followed. The rest of the board was mixed.

Base metals eased at the opening and then mustered enough support to show a majority of issues ahead. United Keno Hill, International Nickel, Consolidated Smelters, Falconbridge, and East Sullivan were up fractions, while Steep Rock, Labrador, Normetal and Noranda eased.

Western oils, like base metals, were higher with a slightly mixed tinge. Royalite, Home Oil, Jupiter, Anglo-Canadian, Calgary and Edmonton and Calvan Consolidated posted small advances while Gridoil, National Petroleum, Del Rio and Federated Petroleum weakened.

Golds were mixed with little change following their late rally yesterday.

The Exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials up 2.20 at 321.16, goods down .04 at 77.60, base metals up .82 at 173.00, and Western oils up .96 at 103.1.

Lose Two

None, however, approached the scope of the four-day battle on the central front where two Chinese divisions were eliminated. The US Eighth Army said 12,974 Reds were killed or wounded in the battle northwest of Chunchon. Another 5,028 were captured.

Americans and South Koreans surrounded and hacked to pieces two full Chinese divisions in this battle. A briefing officer said only a few scattered Red units survived.

But the costly Chinese stand may have allowed the bulk of retreating Red forces to slip back across the 38th parallel and escape pursuing UN forces.

The allied counter-attack had pushed the Reds back 30 to 40 miles. It virtually wiped out gains the Communists made in two costly spring offensives. The Reds, by Eighth Army estimates, paid nearly 150,000 casualties for those temporary gains.

Deepest Penetration

The UN comeback drive had carried the allies north across 38 at almost every major road crossing. The deepest penetration was on the east coast. There South Koreans were dug in Tuesday morning at Sokcho, 14 miles north of the parellel, under the supporting guns of US warships standing offshore.

Bobcaygeon Flier In England For Five Weeks

ST. EVAL,, Cornwall, England, May 29 (CP)—Officers and men of the RCAF 405 Maritime Squadron Monday received their first briefing in England after a transatlantic flight through mist and rain.

Led by Sqdn. Ldr. A. G. (Digger) Dagg of Vancouver, the squadron of six Lancasters and two North Star heavy transports flew in from Goose Bay, Labrador, Sunday.

The Canadians will remain in the United Kingdom for five weeks of intensive anti-submarine training with the RAF coastal command. They will operate from Ballykelly, Northern Ireland, and St. Eval.

Close to 75 per cent of the air crews are graduates of the RCAF's post-war training scheme and the visit here is the first for all except Flt.-Lt. L. H. Croft of Flin Flon, Man., who served in Cornwall during the Second World War.

First Delivered

The squadron's wartime Lancasters, modified for maritime reconnaissance, are the first of these specially-built aircraft to be delivered to the RCAF. Manufactured in Canada, they saw service during the war from United Kingdom bases.

Three-quarters of the flight was made high above the clouds, and for the most of the way they had flown through a dazzling display of northern lights.

With food brought from home, the Canadians entertained the station's personnel at a dinner Monday night. Other functions will be arranged later.

The RCAF boys, who less than a month ago flew non-stop across Canada to prepare for the ocean jaunt, will return to their Greenwood, N.S., base at the end of June.

In addition to Dagg, pilot-captains of the planes are: Sqdn. Ldr. R. J. Gordon of Bobcaygeon, Flt. Lt. R. F. Epps, of Winnipeg; Flt. Lt. R. J. Beatty of Calgary; FO J. E. Johnson of Gimli, Man.; and FO H. J. Garden of Enfield, N.S.

Fear Ottawa Man Victim Of Foul Play

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP) — Police said today they are investigating the possibility that John Hausler, 55-year-old theatre-owner, may have been a victim of foul play.

Hausler has been missing for more than a week in rugged bush country of the Lake Ste. Germaine area, 25 miles north of Ottawa.

Hausler left Ottawa May 21 with a companion for a fishing trip at Denholm Angling Club on Lake Ste. Germaine. The Ottawa theatre-owner left his companion in the early afternoon and has not been seen since.

A haversack and fishing rod left atop a rock near the lake shore led police to fear the sportsman drowned while fishing.

New Association To Develop Two-Way Trade

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The Canadian Association of British Manufacturers and Agencies has been formed in Canada for the development of United Kingdom - Canadian two-way trade.

It is a final step in the co-ordination of existing organizations which have been working for the same purpose. Its formation is announced by L. J. B Forbes, of Toronto, its first president.

Headquarters will be in Toronto, but it is planned to develop a country-wide network as soon as practicable. One of the declared purposes of the new organization is:

"To foster good relations between British manufacturers and purchasers and consumers in Canada of British-made goods, and to assist in resolving differences that may arise between a British manufacturer and a Canadian purchaser."

The British Trade Centre in Toronto will be the executive instrument of the association and will also provide for continuing the policies of the Dollar Sterling Trade Board, on the Canadian side, and the Dollar Exports Board on the British side.

Reorganized

The dollar Sterling Board has been reconstituted in Canada as the Dollar Sterling Trade Advisory Council and the Dollar Exports Board in the United Kingdom will be reorganized along similar lines.

The announcement of the formation of the Canadian Association of British Manufacturers says in part:

"It has been the widespread feeling among traders in both countries that a nation-wide organization in Canada is essential; an organization that would be fully representative of the British industries and the National Industrial and Commercial Associations in the UK on the one hand, and British manufacturing and selling organizations in Canada on the other. Plans to this end have now been finalized in the establishment of the CABMA."

The following have been elected to the council of the new organization:

Mr. Forbes; C. Garfield Abbey, Montreal, and George H. Crane-Williams, Toronto, vice-presidents; A. M. Brown, Thomas C. Harrington, Thomas Oakley, J. M. Paterson, James I. Simpson, C. H. Wilkins, and J. F. F. McQueen, all Toronto; J. D. McKeown, J. S. Langlands, D. MacCallum, Ralph B. Chillas, and J. B. Hartley, all of Montreal.

John L. Bonus is general manager and secretary and Hugh D. Scully, formerly Canadian consul general in New York, is Canadian advisor. Stuart C. Legge is secretary of the dollar sterling trade advisory council.

In case any one is puzzled by the initials L. J. B. Forbes, the new president, they stand for Louis Jex-Blake Forbes, in honor of Louisa Jex-Blake, first woman graduate in medicine of Edinburgh University, a friend of his mother.

Cobourg Delays Purchase Of New Pumper

COBOURG, May 29 — (ENS) —Cobourg town council in a session which lasted from 8.15 p.m. last night until 12.30 a.m., dealt with the question of buying a new fire pumper and also considered several tenders for paving and sewers.

On the fire pumper question, after studying three tenders, from Bickle-Seagrave, from La-France and one from the Four-Wheeled-Drive Truck Co., the council decided to defer action until they had consulted with the Hamilton Township Council in connection with a joint fire protection plan. There has been a move for some time to bring about a fire fighting service which would be quartered in Cobourg and would serve both the town of Cobourg and the nearby Hamilton township. A scheme would have to be worked out which would be based on either the township paying so much per alarm answered in the rural sections or a direct share of the cost of the equipment.

Council let the sidewalk tender for 8,750 square feet at 40 cents a square foot; a repaving job of 300 feet on William Street for $4,405.50; sewers on Buchan and D'Arcy sts., for $9,696. A tender for $9,624.50 for paving on Spencer St., was higher than expected and was tabled in order to consult with the ratepayers on that street. The paving on William St. is in the estimates while the other work is to be done under local improvement by-laws.

Tenders for the new fire pumper, ranged from $26,000 to $30,000.

Top Essayist Rotary Speaker

CAMPBELLFORD, May 29 — (ENS)—Four students of Grade XIII of the Campbellford High School were guests at the Monday noon luncheon of the Rotary club. These students were the winners in the Rotary essay contest on the subject of the 'United Nations'.

Winner of the contest, and guest speaker at the meeting, was Grant MacColl, son of Rotarian Past President N. Alex MacColl. He won as first prize, a trip to Ottawa to study government in the citizenship project sponsored by the Ottawa Rotary Club.

Florence Brown, Gwen McCulloch and Basil Darrah were the three runners' up in the contest and also received a gift from the club, presented by Owen Watson.

President Franklin Linton introduced the speaker, and told a little of his background.

Grant first read his prize-winning essay to the club, and thanked the members for the opportunity to visit the capital city. He told many interesting highlights of the trip and of the noted heads of Canada's government that he had met. Photographs of many of these, taken during his four day visit, were passed among the members.

He said the one thing that will always be in his mind regarding the trip, was when he was presented with a certificate of Canadian citizenship by the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent. He showed the certificate to the members, many of whom although they are Canadian citizens, have never seen a certificate of its kind before. Speaking of his visit to Government House, Grant said the reception was warm and friendly. Visits to the National Research Council, the Mint and many other places of interest made the trip one which will never be forgotten, he said.

W. Kingston thanked the speaker, and Arthur K. Loucks presented Barney with a plaque as a memento of his talk to the local club.

An inter-club meeting will be held at Batawa on Wednesday evening, and a large number of members of the Campbellford club will attend. Ross Richardson is organizing the local members for the trip.

Korean Comeback

The latest Red offensive in Korea has been bloodily repulsed, and once again U.N. troops have crossed the thirty-eighth parallel. The Red Chinese Army is estimated to be incapable of launching another major offensive for three months, by which time the seasonal rains will be in full swing, bogging down friend and foe alike.

* * *

This is a remarkable achievement of U.N. arms. The Chinese attacked in great numbers, and struck at the weakest point, the sector held by two South Korean divisions, breaking through to the South. The gap was plugged by the U.S. 3rd division. Elsewhere the heroic stand of the Gloucesters blunted the enemy's attack.

* * *

But perhaps the most remarkable feature of the fighting has been the lightning recovery of the U.N. forces. It might have been expected that they would have required considerable time for regrouping and reinforcement after the heavy fighting, but contrary to expectations they have hit back with deadly speed, exploiting to the full the disorganized state of the Reds after the costly failure of their offensive and not allowing them a breathing space. It is evident which side has suffered more.

* * *

In war, numbers and discipline are factors of great importance. As the cynical proverb says, "God is on the side of the big battalions." But this is not always true. It has been demonstrated that numbers, unless they are overwhelming, will not prevail against superior fire-power backed by morale. David armed with a sling and indomitable faith will always overcome the clumsy and ill-equipped Goliath.

* * *

The formation of a Commonwealth division in Korea, with Canadians fighting side by side with Australians and Britons, is a notable addition to the U.N. forces and should go some way towards making them more representative of the U.N. as a whole. Not unnaturally the Americans have got the idea that they are fighting virtually alone, and their own press has as a whole done little to disabuse them of it. The Commonwealth division should act as a corrective to this impression. We note with satisfaction that several Canadian officers have been appointed to serve on the divisional staff, one of them in the key position of G.S.O.1. It is to be hoped that officers from the Commonwealth division will be appointed to serve at Corps and Army level in posts where they can make the Commonwealth division's viewpoint heard in the higher counsels of the military authorities.

Our Duty To The Past

In an interesting article by Ken MacTaggart, the Toronto Globe and Mail calls attention to the fact that the city of Toronto is doing nothing to preserve Fort York, and that this link with our past is falling into ruin. Toronto holds its large Exhibition Grounds on condition that Fort York be preserved, and that condition is not being fulfilled. We feel that the Dominion Government should take steps to see that Toronto lives up to its bargain.

We have not many buildings in Canada which are associated with the early history of our country, but those which do exist should be carefully preserved. Fort George, at Niagara-on-the-Lake, is well maintained, and so is Fort Henry at Kingston. Great numbers of people visit them every year, and these visitors are not only American tourists, but Canadians who have a feeling for the past of their country. The neglect of Fort York is inexcusable, and we cannot understand how it has been permitted in a city which contains so many people with expert knowledge of Canadian history as Toronto.

Everywhere in Canada there is an increasing national consciousness — a growing realization of the interest and importance of what happened in this country in its early days, and a desire to see buildings and sites connected with our early history. Now it is a fact well-known in every country which prides itself on its national monuments that the site of a historical incident is of trivial interest compared with the actual building in which it happened. Unless Toronto does its duty by Fort York that monument will soon be nothing but a site, or perhaps a "restoration" in which only a few scraps of the original building remain. National pride demands that the Fort be protected, at once.

Princess And Pontiff

There has been some criticism of Princess Elizabeth for her visit to the Pope during her recent stay in Italy. This criticism is not very well-founded, besides being unfair. It may be safely assumed that the visit was arranged for the Princess, and therefore any blame that might attach to it should be directed elsewhere. It is not the custom of the Royal Family to justify their conduct in releases to the Press: they are schooled to keep rigorously aloof from controversy.

To us it appears perfectly right and proper that Princess Elizabeth should have made a courtesy call on the Pope, as the leader of the largest Christian body in the world. In the United Kingdom alone there are no less than three million and a half Roman Catholics, while in Canada there are 4,800,000. In addition to that the Pope is the head of the small sovereign state of the Vatican City.

Such a visit in no way shows identity of opinion. There is as little danger of Princess Elizabeth becoming a Roman Catholic as there is of the Pope joining the Church of England. It is a courtesy call, and as such it is a welcome gesture in these days. If we had a little more courtesy and less mud-slinging in international relations we should be a step nearer understanding.

It is fashionable to belittle the value of politeness. A young lady once complained to the painter Whistler that the politeness of the French was all on the surface. Whistler, who was a wise and witty American, replied that it was a very good place for it to be.

Gerrymandering In France

The Oxford Dictionary gives the following definition of the word "gerrymander": "transitive verb. Manipulate (constituency &c.) so as to give undue influence to some class &c." This is what the French have just succeeded in doing to their own electoral law. The French ever since the Revolution have been fascinated by experiments in constitution-building, and there are few ideas that they have not already tried in this field. Up till recently the system of proportional representation has been in force. Under this system the numerical strength of the various parties amongst the voters is reflected in the composition of the House. The elector does not vote for a candidate to a constituency, as there are no constituencies: instead he votes for a party list. Under the system of representation by constituencies, such as we have here, it is a theoretical possibility for a party with a minority of total votes polled throughout the country to obtain a majority in the House; for example, if all the seats won are won by a narrow majority while the seats lost are lost by a large majority: this actually happened in Britain in 1929, when the Conservatives polled more votes than Labour but won less seats. In practice this happens rarely. The usual effect of our system is that the party with a majority wins far more seats than it would under proportional representation: this makes for a stable government. Under proportional representation the smaller parties are favoured, and the government is almost forced to go into coalition. It is continually threatened by new alignments of parties, which frequently upset the government and render a stable policy almost impossible.

The French have now abandoned proportional representation as impracticable, and advocates of this system in other countries will be dismayed. Unfortunately, in their efforts to ensure that the Communists will not get in at the next election they have framed their new electoral law in such a way as to leave them open to the charge of gerrymandering, which the Communists in all countries will be quick to exploit, regardless of the fact that political freedom is unknown behind the iron curtain. At the last election the Communists came out as the largest single French party, but a coalition of the three main centre parties in France, the Socialists, the M.R.P. and the Radical Socialists, governed together, forming a majority in the house so long as their interests coincided. This, of course, is quite legitimate, as the Communists were either unable or unwilling to combine with other parties in order to obtain a working majority for themselves.

Under the new electoral law, however, votes of parties that have made alliances in constituencies will be allowed to be pooled together. It is obvious that the alliances were made before the law was passed, and that it is all part of a deal to keep the Communists out. Much as we deplore the strength of Communism in France we feel that this method of keeping down their representation is questionable, to say the least. Moreover it establishes a dangerous precedent when one tampers with election laws in order to benefit a particular section; there is always a possibility that the law so carefully framed may one day rebound on its sponsors. With Gaullists on one side and Communists on the other, democracy in France is not in a very healthy condition. We believe that the patient is in need of mild sedatives rather than heady cocktails.

The Legacy Of Sherlock Holmes

By PHILIP TOYNBEE

CONAN Doyle was a passionate believer in the more naive forms of spiritualism. For his own sake, one must hope that he was mistaken, for if he is still aware of what happens in our living world, he must be a bitterly disappointed spirit. For the cult of Sherlock Holmes has reached its apogee in the Festival of Britain reconstruction of his Baker Street flat in London. It is brilliantly done, and could have been done only for this one emperor of fictional detectives. None of Holmes' successors has ever been so circumstantially described. When one visits this Baker Street jeu d'esprit it is almost impossible to remember that no such person as Holmes ever existed, except in the brilliant imagination of his creator, and in the responsive imagination of Conan Doyle's multitudinous readers. It seems that nothing has been omitted—from the Persian slipper in which the great detective kept his tobacco, to Dr. Watson's stethoscope and top hat. Yet Conan Doyle himself regarded his most memorable creation as a triviality — an exasperating triviality. He believed that he would be remembered for his historical novels and he bitterly resented the public's overwhelming preference for Holmes. In his murderous anger Conan Doyle attempted to kill Holmes half way through that immortal career, and it was with the greatest reluctance that he brought him back to life again.

✧ ✧ ✧

SHERLOCK Holmes was not the first, nor even the most ingenious of fictional detectives. Modern devotees of the cult could justly apply his own cruel sneer at Watson to the master himself. "Elementary, my dear old boy" would not be amiss on the lips of Lord Peter Whimsey, or "Elementary mon ami" from ageless, incredible Hercule Poirot. But there it is—all and every one of them are incredible. To reconstruct Poirot's living room would be a bare and ridiculous exploit. He is a mere mechanism, and we never mistake him for anything else, whereas Holmes compells our credulity as perhaps no other single character in fiction has ever done.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET it is patently true that Holmes is responsible for the genre. He is the begetter of Poirot, Whimsey, Father Brown and the vast legion of others, utterly unlike him though they all are. He is the begetter, but he is not in himself an adequate explanation for their subsequent multiplication. It is indeed difficult to find one, although a great many have been, at different times, provided. Sadism, that most facile of jargon terms, adequately covers the appetite for the tougher forms of modern American fiction, and for its lamentable imitation in England. Sheer healthy excitement was evoked by John Buchan, and the too-little remembered Sapper. But the great majority of modern detective stories are neither bloodthirsty or eventful. The murder is a stereotyped formality, which, if only because it is so confidently expected, evokes not one shudder of horror or dismay. Indeed, I remember a brilliant short story in which the crime was not murder but cheating at cards, and the interest which the author excited was far greater than in the lethal majority. Nor is there any adventurous interest in this majority. It is true that many detective story writers now provide us with more than one murder, but mere multiplications of formality does not create event.

✧ ✧ ✧

GUILTY highbrows pretend that they read these books as an intellectual exercise, much as they casually mull over a crossword puzzle in the morning train. I do not believe it. Only a very small minority of these writers are scrupulously fair in providing adequate clues, and the highbrows by no means confine their attention to this minority.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN myself I have detected two confused motives for the addiction to detective stories. The first is a simple desire for surprise. Contrary to the highbrow pretension, I am irritated and dismayed when I believe that I have guessed the solution before the denouement is reached. Indeed, I read the anteclimatic material hastily, and with a deliberate suspension of speculation, so that I may be adequately surprised at exactly the moment when the author wished me to be so. In other words, the more improbable the solution, the better pleased I am.

✧ ✧ ✧

AND the second pleasure I find is precisely in the improbability of the whole multiple yet stereotyped world which is created by these books. Their charm lies largely in their utter implausibility, and the most mistaken writers of all are those who make a painstaking effort at verisimilitude.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN this connection a particularly irritating contemporary habit is the constant phrase, "Of course, if this had been a detective story.... but real life is not like that"). Take, for example, the fascinating English middle classes of Miss Agatha Christie—the squire, the doctor, the solicitor, the retired colonel. They bear almost no relation whatever to the reality we know, in which, for example, the colonel hates golf and visits the British Museum reading-room whenever he is in London, and the solicitor, far from having a complexion like parchment and a dry little cough, is an irresponsible and loud-mouthed drunkard.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN fact, reassurance is one of the pleasures we derive from these supposedly alarming creations. These worlds, each of which we know so well, will always conform most rigidly to the pattern which we have been taught to expect. Even the murder itself is an aspect of this conformity — witness the agitated dismay which we feel when it is too long delayed. There is comfort in expectation vindicated. Yet it must not be wholly vindicated. So we are pleased by the familiarity of the background, yet titivated by a surprise ending. Both are utterly and delightfully unlike real life, which is full of minor and disagreeable surprises, but miserably lacking in denouement.

Census Invades Privacy

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

IT has been known for some time that the census of 1951 would be considerably more searching than its predecessors. There are probably valid enough reasons to justify certain requests for categories of information, not previously available to government departments. Not only is the economy becoming steadily more complex but also, for better or worse, the role of government is expanding and reliable information is the basis of sound policy.

So long as the questions are necessary and so long as there is no unjustifiable poking and prying into the private affairs of citizens, no serious objection is likely to be taken to the census form.

The 1951 census form is at hand and is to be appraised from these standpoints. The form which must be answered by all citizens consists of 29 questions. Their content strongly suggests that there has been inadequate resistance to the pressure always exerted upon the Bureau of Statistics for information which is neither necessary nor proper, except to the minds of over-zealous bureaucrats.

OFFICIAL curiosity is manifest as always over national origin which means simply the nationality of one's father. Much of the information so gathered is bound to be misleading; presumably one's father could be a Bulgarian national though his mother and all his ancestors for centuries had been Swedes. Insofar as it is accurate, it is probably of limited utility though it continues to exercise an inexplicable fascination over various official minds.

Queetion 20 is astonishing. "What did this person do mostly during the week ending June 2, 1951?" There are eight possible answers: Worked; with a job but not at work; looked for work; keeping house; going to school; retired or voluntarily idle; other; permanently unable to work.

What is the point in all this? Insofar as the information is necessary, why can it not be obtained through the regular employment services? Question 21 is even more objectionable: "In addition, did this person do any work for pay or profit " Question 22 continues in the same vein: "How many hours did this person work?"

These are succeeded by another flurry, addressed to those "with a job but not at work". The name of the firm or business is sought, the type of business or industry, occupation within the industry, whether the reported occupation was the person's usual occupation and finally "class of worker", the listed categories being wage or salary earner, own account, employer, no pay.

Of such questions in general it may be said that they are not all obviously necessary, that where the information is necessary it could be obtained readily enough from other sources and that the line of questioning suggests an unwarrantable invasion of the private affairs of citizens.

The census taker is duly warned on the census form that his report is confidential and cannot be used for purposes of taxation, investigation or regulation of any kind. That is the law of the land. Citizens are nevertheless asked to disclose the number of weeks worked for wages and salary during the 12 months prior to June, 1951 and their approximate wage and salary earnings over that period. This is both unnecessary and objectionable.

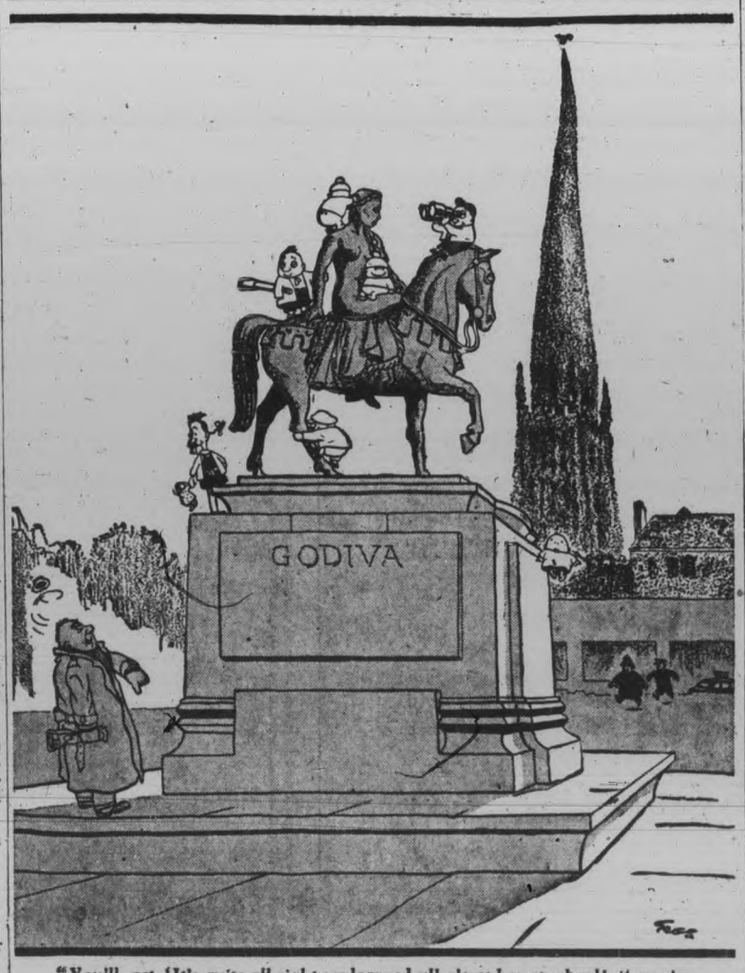
IT should be borne in mind that the last census cost the country $4,000,000. The population is up about 20 per cent. but the cost of this census will exceed $9,000,000. The price of increased governmental curiosity would indeed come a lot higher but for the fact that new methods and the use of electronic statistical machines are expected to effect important savings all along the line.

These questions then cost a great deal of money which in one form or another is extracted from the citizens who answer them.

Some queries as noted are of obvious necessity. Others yield a mass of information which on past experience disappears into vast reams of paper never again to see the light of day.

The 1951 census sheet appears to be overloaded with questions which are at best dubious and at worst an unwarranted invasion of private affairs and an indefensible waste of public money.



OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

After a motor accident the unfortunate victim was carried into a house near by. A few minutes later a young man ran up the steps and rang the bell.

"Excuse me," he said to the maid who opened the door, "can I see the gentleman who was brought here?"

"I'm afraid not," replied the girl; "he hasn't come to his senses yet."

"Good!" said the other. "That'll suit me. I want to sell him another car."

"You'll get 'It's-quite-all-right-we-learned-all-about-her-at-school' if you're not all down here in ten seconds."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place...

For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices: but this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you. (Jer. 7: 3, 22, 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world? And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you....

When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand:) then let them which be in Judaea flee into the mountains:

For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect. (Matt. 24: 1-4, 15, 16, 21-24.)

Provincial Police Underpaid

(Toronto Daily Star)

Evidence given before the legislative committee on law enforcement indicates clearly that Ontario provincial police are underpaid. It comes as a surprise to the public to learn that members of the provincial force get substantially less than municipal constables in most Ontario cities. In view of the onerous and responsible nature of their duties, committee members appeared unanimous that provincial constables should be paid at a rate at least comparable with that of city police. Citizens generally will surely agree that provincial police salaries should equal what is paid in cities like Toronto, Windsor and Hamilton.

A provincial constable starts at $2,140 a year plus a cost-of-living bonus of $20 a month, making his initial yearly salary $2,380. In Toronto, policemen begin at $2,864 and a number of recruits were recently taken on in Windsor at $3,000 a year. The starting salary in Hamilton just about equals the maximum of the provincial police schedule. After 5½ years of satisfactory service a provincial policeman can get the maximum salary of $2,740 plus a cost-of-living bonus of $240, bringing his annual earnings to $2,980. This is just $116 a year above the beginner's pay on the Toronto force and less than a rookie policeman receives in Windsor. It is $470 a year less than a first-class constable gets on the Toronto force.

The disparity in pay is wider when working conditions are considered. Provincial police must work 48 hours a week, six full eight-hour days, but time spent in police court is not included in this. Municipal police forces, on the whole, work fewer hours and for the most part have advantages in regard to holidays and overtime pay for court attendance. Some of them have the benefit of escalator clauses providing for pay increases as the cost of living rises. Provincial constables on duty in Guelph, Niagara Falls, Peterborough and Kingston get less than their municipal counterparts with similar experience in those cities.

It is little wonder that under these circumstances the rate of resignations of provincial policemen is unusually high.

A Few Souvenirs For Moscow

(New York Times)

Of all the abundant evidence of Soviet hypocrisy in international relations none is more vivid than the seventeen crates of television sets, refrigerators and washing machines assembled on Pier 60 when Soviet delegates to the United Nations and members of the Soviet Embassy staff sailed for home on Tuesday. How many numberless times the Russian purchasers of those goods must have delivered or helped prepare denunciation of the American standard of living and American "concentration on war production." How many numberless times must they have extolled the superiority of the Soviet way of life to our own. Yet when they prepared to depart for their native "paradise" they took care to stock up on these goods because they knew full well that television sets, refrigerators and washing machines are either unobtainable there or obtainable only at fantastically high prices. Like Shostakovich, who stocked up on American cigarets, and Gubitchev, who bought a television set here, these gentlemen, by their purchases, give the most eloquent testimony of the lies which are the chief stock in trade of Soviet propaganda.

Moisture Record Boosts Optimism In Grain Belt

By The Canadian Press

The prairie farmer wears a satisfied smile these days as he surveys his broad acres. Moisture reserves across the grain belt are reported good to excellent and conditions generally are favorable for heavy yields.

Throughout the winter and spring, precipitation has been more than adequate in Alberta and Saskatchewan and a shade below normal in Manitoba. Alberta reported precipitation 24 per cent above normal, Saskatchewan had an excess of 20 per cent while the over-all picture in Manitoba showed a decrease of one per cent.

Statistics compiled by the Meteorological Division of the Department of Transport for the period from Aug. 1, 1950, to April 30, 1951, show precipitation was greater in Southern Alberta where the increase over normal was 43 per cent. In the Northern Area of the Province it was 19 per cent and in central Alberta, 12 per cent.

Records for Saskatchewan were all on the right side of the ledger. In the Southeast the increase over normal was 25 per cent, in the Southwest, 15 per cent, and in the North, 19 per cent. Western Manitoba showed an increase of four per cent, but the Eastern section of the province noted a deficiency of five per cent.

Favorable Conditions

Generally favorable conditions prevailed during the first two weeks of May and seeding in most prairie areas is well advanced.

After a comparatively dry fall, heavy snowfalls occurred over practically the whole of Alberta with excess ranging as high as 100 per cent in the Northern area during November and February. During the first four months of 1951 total precipitation in central Alberta was 60 to 90 per cent above normal. The only deficiencies in southern Alberta during the nine months under review were registered in August and September.

Heavy snow during the winter months and April rains were largely responsible for the good showing in southwestern and southeastern Saskatchewan. In northern districts the only deficiencies were reported in August and September, but October rainfall was twice the normal amount.

Precipitation in eastern Manitoba was, less than normal during most of the nine-month period, but April rains made for a brighter picture. In western areas the best months were October and December when precipitation was about 30 per cent above normal.

Minister Leaves Norwood For Chalk River

HAVELOCK, May 29 (ENS)—The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, MA, BD, of Havelock United Church, has received and accepted a call to the Chalk River-Deep River charge in the Renfrew Presbytery. The church at Deep River is a community church while the one at Chalk River belongs to the United Church of Canada. There is a possibility that a United Church established at Ralphton, 12 miles north of Deep River will this summer become a third point in the charge.

Mr. Vanderburgh was ordained in the ministry of the United Church of Canada, in Toronto in 1929. He graduated in Arts from Victoria College in 19256, receiving his BA degree. In 1927 he graduated from Toronto University with an MA degree. He then took a two-year course in theology at Emmanuel College, Toronto, followed by two years at the Union Theological Seminary at New York, where he secured his BD degree in 1930.

After graduating in 1930, Mr. Vanderburgh served for three months at White River, going from there to his first charge at Little Rapids in Algoma, 50 miles from Sault Ste. Marie. He also held charges at Sebright, 17 miles east of Orillia, and Zion, Kingston, coming to the Havelock-Trent River charge from Oakwood in 1947.

Mr. Vanderburgh expects to take over the duties of his new charge September 1, or sometime in August. Mr. Vanderburgh is one of three ministers from all of Canada who will represent the Home Mission Board of the United Church of Canada at the interdenominational school for rural leaders to be held at the Garrett Biblical Institute, Northwestern University Campus, Evanston, Illinois, USA, from June 18 to July 20.

Springville YPU Gives Comedy

SPRINGVILLE, May 29 (ENS)—The dramatic group of Springville YPU presented their four-act comedy, "Where the Lane Turned," to a capacity audience on Friday evening.

COMMANDS 27TH — Brig. Geoffrey Walsh, 41, of Brantford, Ont., is commander of Canada's new 27th Brigade Group. Brig. Walsh, who has been serving as Commander, Eastern Ontario Area, will have headquarters at Valcartier, Que. During the Second World War, he led the 1st Battalion, Royal Canadian Engineers in the raid on Spiszbergen and later served throughout the Sicilian and Italian Campaigns.

The first three acts take place at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon (Roger Hanbidge and Margaret Earle playing these parts). Guests at this home are Mrs. Smythe (Lois Paddock) a high-brow summer boarder and her son Algernon (Howard Johnston) who insists on being called "Thomas".

To this hospitable home, after an accident, comes Mr. Jasper Fernley, a New York millionaire (Edward Hall), his daughter Laura Fernley (Dianne Cullen) and her French maid (Lila Seymour), an Englishman (Ralph McLean) in love with the millionaire's daughter and the chauffeur (Carl Preston) who knows all about cars but detests pitching hay.

Dr. Roger Austin (Mark Lowes) is the capable physician called to attend the seriously-injured millionaire and by chance a nurse, Joyce Carmondy (Myrna Seymour) whom Dr. Austin had previously been specially interested in when they had met in a New York hospital.

Vincent Grafton, a scoundrel (Gerald Minnie) assisted by Ivan Rowan provided excitement in attempts at kidnapping but these were foiled by the alert Algernon.

Mrs. Carman Seymour was the director and at the close of the evening, Lois Paddock, on behalf of the group presented Mrs. Seymour with a lovely bouquet of flowers and voiced the appreciation of the group. Mrs. Seymour thanked them for their co-operation and especially thanked Mr. Paddock for making the new scenery for the Young People's Dramatic Group.

Between the third and fourth act, Hazel McIntosh gave a humorous monologue "Aunt Ann and the Ants."

MISS BRICE ILL — Fanny Brice, 60, veteran stage and radio comedienne, is "critically ill" in a Hollywood hospital after being stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage. Miss Brice created the famous "Baby Snooks."

Morrison Prepares To Defend Oil Action

LONDON, May 29 (Reuters)—The Labor Government today prepared to defend its handling of the Iranian oil crisis against attacks threatened in the House of Commons Tuesday by Winston Churchill and his Conservatives.

Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison attended a cabinet meeting which decided what he should tell MPs Tuesday when he makes a full statement on the situation.

Morrison's difficulty is that he may have to make the statement before Tehran replies to the British note urging negotiations.

Anything he says might influence Iran's reply.

Royals Trample Springfield 4-1

By The Associated Press.

George (Shotgun) Shuba, Montreal rightfielder, is back in the groove following a stretch on the sidelines because of an injury.

The Royal cleanup hitter hit his second homer in as many games Monday night as the Royals defeated Springfield Cubs 4-1.

Shuba unloaded in the eighth inning with one on to clinch the victory for Bob Alexander. Shuba also singled and drove in a third run. The homer was his sixth.

Alexander, being scouted by the parent Brooklyn Dodgers, scattered nine hits in posting his sixth victory against two defeats. He blanked the Cubs until the eighth when they scored on two singles and two ground outs.

It was the only game played in the league. Scheduled games between Rochester and Buffalo, Toronto and Baltimore and Syracuse and Ottawa were rained out.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Baz Phelan phones to say the dinner for the Peterborough Hockey Club, put on by sponsor Ben Swartz, will be held this coming Saturday evening at seven in the Empress Hotel. The "do" was cancelled previously because of the disastrous George St. fire a week ago Saturday. It is for players and their wives or girl friends—though, of course, no player is expected to show up with a wife and a fair friend of the other sex, too. Anyway, it's a nice gesture by Benny to wind up the season, one which saw the Petes lose out in Allan Cup playdowns to Owen Sound, the team which took the trophy.

* * * * * *

As a passing puck thought, we wonder if there's any chance at all of the two local senior "B" clubs combining to go "A" in the Major League. Maybe calling themselves the McGillis Petes. True, it would require a lot of money for travelling, but don't you think that such a brand of hockey would pack Civic Arena every game, even with prices upped a bit? Many thought the Owen Sounders were of Major Group class, and many fans felt that the Petes could have beaten them if they had combined forces with the Eagles. Take the pick of each club and you'd ice a strong squad which would get the full backing of Peterborough fandom. It's just a thought to mull over.

He Fought Louis Twice

We note where Natie Brown is still busy at the pro grapple game, though not on the Tunney circuit. He showed here several times more than a year ago, but they dropped him suddenly for using profane language in a bout at the Brock. The ex-pugilist who twice fought Joe Louis (when Joe was really tough) and wasn't floored once—though the ref stopped the second scrap when Natie was cut up—has salted away a lot of mazuma since going in for wrestling. He's a college grad from the West Coast, where he played football until they found out that one Norman Walter Brown of the gridiron doubled as Natie Brown in the prize ring around California, a Star item says.

Weather being right, the men's City Softball League opens its season tonight in the Ashburnham Bowl. Revoy's play UEW at seven, followed by Orphans against Lakefield. On Thursday, it'll be: UEW vs. Orphans, and Lakefield vs. the new Revoy entry. Many familiar faces to softball fans will be noted in these lineups, but a lot of newcomers will perform, too. Ken Guilfoyle of Revoy's, Howie Dalton of UEW, Harold Dormer of Orphans, and Cam Wasson of Lakefield all have been busy for weeks now lining up teams and drilling their squads. Some lively softball is assured and, no doubt, the usual arguments that mark men's play.

Girls Stage One Tussle

Rain washed out the Ashby-Westclox girls' softball opener at the Bowl last e'en, but the other tussle was staged: With Eleanor Whittaker pitching two-hit ball, Marines fashioned a 7-0 shutout o'er Woollens. Catcher M. Gillen of the winners made a lot of difference—she must have played the game ere moving here. L. Derry pitched a two-hitter the last half in a relief role for the losers, and 'twas a pretty fair opening effort all around. The Mayor along with W. Flint and J. Cridland performed the time-honored opening ceremony to launch the loop on another campaign. Woollens play Ashbys' tomorrow and Westclox meet Marines, with Ashby's going to Cobourg on Friday.

Hit Down Using Niblick Keep Head, Body In Position

By TONEY PENNA
Tournament Star

Playing the sand niblick, address the ball with the feet close together, toes out and the heels well planted.

The weight should be well to the left at the time of address, to assure hitting down on the ball.

The distance for addressing the club head behind the ball depends on the distance of the shot.

The more sand the club takes, by virtue of being farther away from the ball, the less distance the ball will travel after being hit. Similarly, the closer the club head is at address, the more distance will result.

The backswing should be upright, the wrists well cocked to give the necessary power and a direct blow which will assure hitting firmly through the ball.

It is very important that the left arm be kept firm through the ball, with the hands well ahead and the golfer's head perfectly still throughout the swing.

The finish must be firm and straight through, with the head still in the original position, which assures no body lunge.

Make sure the hands are active in hitting the shot, and nothing but the hands.

Remember, keep the head in exactly the same position throughout, and use a firm, hand-played swing.

Then the penalty for the shot which put you in the sand will be very slight.

FINISH — Ellsworth Vines' finish is firm and straight through, head still in original position, assuring no body lunge.

Marines Take Opener Over Woollens

Marines blanked Woollens 7-0 at the Bowl last night to open the Girls' Softball League schedule. The Ashby-Westclox tilt was rained out. Mayor Max Swanston officially opened play at bat, with J. Cridland catching and President Bill Flint pitching. The crowd was only fair, probably due to the threatening weather.

E. Whittaker had a no-hit game until the sixth and she threw a two-hitter, with her side having but two miscues, the same as the Woollens, who gave eight hits with S. Harris relieved in the box by L. Derry in the fifth. Five of Marines were fanned with 10 Woollens going down on strikes. M. Gillen, who played in Toronto, shone behind the winners' plate, with F. McQuade also good. R. McInroy and L. Derry (who gave up two hits) stood out for Woollens. The Marines got three runs each in the second, fourth, and eighth innings. M. Connolly and E. Mantle led them at bat with two hits each. Teams:

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Otto Manske, president of the Intercounty Baseball Association, said Monday he told all senior clubs to advise their players to refrain from any conduct which might be detrimental to the league.

His action followed an appeal by Frank Gnup, general manager of the Guelph Maple Leafs, that Waterloo Tigers be censured for what he said were insulting remarks thrown at Ziggy Marcel, Guelph Negro catcher, from the Waterloo bench in a game last Friday.

Gnup said the remarks were made by two Waterloo players, whom he did not name.

Ernie Goman, past president of the Waterloo team, said he was at the game but couldn't hear what was said on the bench.

The Oslo town council estimates that staging the Olympic winter games of 1952 will cost 10,000,000 kroner ($1,400,000).

The probable income is estimated at 4,150,000 kroner.

In its budget for the 12 month period from July 1, 1951 to June 30, 1952, the town council proposed to grant 3,450,000 kroner for the games. The taxpayers will have to pay for the rest.

John W. Farrell, Baltimore lawyer and former Bowie race-track head, Monday was found innocent of charges that he misappropriated a $10,000 bond from his uncle's estate.

The charges were brought by a cousin, John B. Farrell, a co-executor of the $267,000 estate of Joseph A. Farrell, race track figure who died in 1948.

Doug Steadman, 17-year-old goalie injured in the final Toronto Hockey League Clancy Midget game this year, had his left eye removed Monday.

The son of Ted Steadman, manager of the suburban East York Memorial Arena, Doug suffered a broken nose and a six-stitch cut that damaged the eye while playing for Legion 10 Falcons against a team from Orillia.

He had 14 shut-outs in 40 games and was considered an excellent prospect by major league teams

At Richland Center, Wis., wrestler Curt (Spike) Peterson, 30, died Monday of injuries received in a match here Friday night. Peterson suffered a fractured neck.

Joe Louis Monday picked heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles to beat Joe Maxim in their Chicago title bout Wednesday but said he thought there was a good chance for an upset.

Louis said at his training camp: "I think Charles should win the fight but there may be an upset. I give Maxim an excellent chance for I hear Joey is punching real hard with his right hand, something he never did before."

Archie Hindman, president of the National Boxing Association, announced Monday that an NBA world's championship certificate has been forwarded to Jimmy Carter who won the lightweight title last Friday from Ike Williams with a 14th-round technical knockout at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Young Cobourg Girl Fans 15 Batters

COBOURG, May 29.—Cobourg Pavs assumed the role of potential giant-killers in the Peterborough City Girls' Softball here, when they unveiled a 16-year-old lefthanded pitcher of promise in Shirley Slater. Pitching against Graftons, champions last year, Shirley fanned 15 as her team won 8-0, and allowed only one hit. That was a bunt by the first batter to face her in the first inning.

Shirley is the daughter of Mrs. Reta Slater, Cobourg pitcher of the thirties.

In addition to hurling, Shirley had three putouts and was not retired, getting two hits and reaching first on an error, in her three trips to the plate.

Odds Shrinking On Charles Before Bout

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN.

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP). — Ezzard Charles and Joe Maxim, both declaring they have reached the best condition of their fighting careers, match physical armor Wednesday night in a scheduled 15-round heavyweight title showdown at Chicago Stadium.

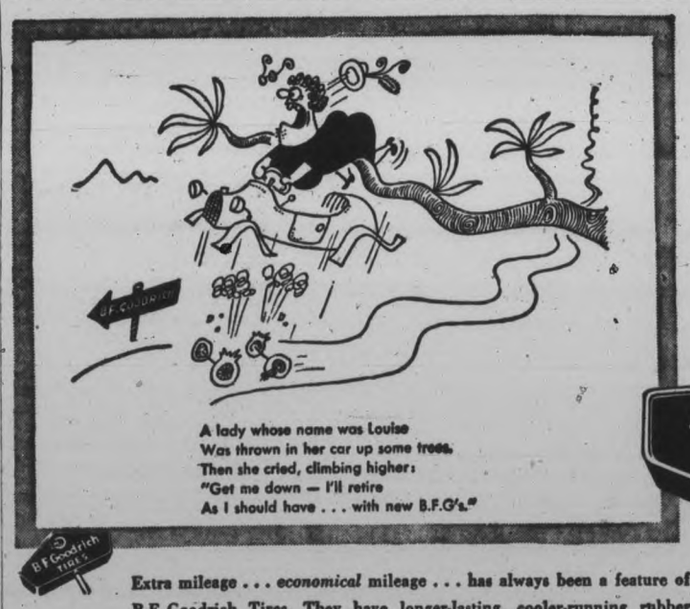
The scrap will mark Charles' eighth defence of his heavyweight championship in 23 months. It will be Maxim's first big bout since he displayed a surprising hard fight to Kayo England's Freddie Mills for the lightheavy crown 16 months ago.

Not since Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey met more than 25 years ago have kings of the lightheavy and heavyweight ranks tangled for the big title.

The barometer of odds is inching downward from 5-2 favoring Charles to 8-5. The 29-year-old Cincinnati champion, 183 pounds, who has won 70 fights, 45 by knockouts, is expected to be favored over 28-year-old Maxim 3-1 by ringtime. These will be the shortest odds for a heavyweight title go since Ez defeated Joe Louis last September as a 2-1 choice.

Sees Lively Brawl

Maxim, 181 pounds, the Cleveland Comet who never was noted as a chiller until his tiger-like tactics against Mills, has a record of 75 victories, 20 by knockouts.



Maxim contends that what once was regarded as his delicate right was changed to a devastating right when bone chips were removed from his right elbow during army service. His manager, Jack Kearns, predicts a lively brawl from the opening gong.

In 1942 Charles outpointed Maxim twice. On Feb. 28, 1949, Ez took a split 15-round decision from Maxim at Cincinnati—an outcome that Kearns has always violently questioned.

Both Charles and Maxim have come through two months of vigorous training without so much as a nose bleed and are in prime shape.

Chicago On Top Of League After Downing Browns 4-2

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

For the first time in 30 years, Chicago's White Sox are able to look down upon the entire American League—and that includes the world champion New York Yankees.

A momentous 4-2 homecoming victory over the St. Louis Browns Monday night, before 23,138 whooping fans, zoomed the pale hose to the top. It climaxed a spectacular 12-game winning streak, all but one on the road.

Naturally, the Sox needed outside assistance. And they got it when the Red Sox nosed out the Yankees, 3-2 in Boston.

Not since 1920 have the White Sox enjoyed—all by their lonesome—such a lofty perch as late as Decoration Day. Victorious in 18 of their last 20 games, the Sox today hold a 24 percentage point bulge over the Yankees—.727 to .703. The two teams actually are even in games won and lost. The Yankees, however, have participated in four more games and have played only .500 ball in those contests.

For the fifth straight day manager Paul Richards watched another castoff come through for him with a dazzling pitching performance. Monday night it was Saul Rogovin, who came from the Detroit Tigers a little more than a week ago.

First Victory

Rogovin threw a two-hitter at the Browns as his mates clubbed loser Duane Pillette for eight of their nine hits and all their runs in five innings. It was Rogovin's second start and his first victory for the White Sox.

Mel Parnell, Red Sox ace southpaw, surrendered nine Yankee hits but was tough in the pinches to register his fifth victory, two of them over the Yankees.

Bobby Doerr's sixth home run of the season with a mate aboard in the second inning, was the payoff wallop. Vern Stephens drove in the other run as the Sox made use of their six hits off loser Allie Reynolds. The win extended the Red Sox string to eight in a row.

Two double plays snuffed out as many Yankee threats. The last was in the eighth inning when Parnell got Hank Bauer to rap into a twin killing with runners on first and third.

Feller Gets Shutout

Reasonably rapid Robert Feller spun himself another shutout, his second in succession, as Cleveland whipped the Tigers in Detroit, 9-0. The 32-year-old righthander, who shut out Washington with two hits in his last appearance, yielded six hits and struck out three. It was his sixth victory against a lone defeat. He has given up only 11 earned runs in 60 1-3 innings.

The Indians collected 15 hits off loser Ted Gray and company including a home run by Luke Easter. Feller had a double and two singles.

Brooklyn retained its two and a half game edge in the National League race, shading the Phillies 4-3, in Philadelphia. A home run by Carl Furillo in the top of the ninth snapped a 3-3 deadlock and handed the Phils their fifth straight loss.

Ralph Branca, in his first start of the season, went the distance. The Dodgers collected 10 hits off Ken Heintzelman, alternately hot and cold. The veteran southpaw fanned 11 Brooks but also gave up two home runs. Gil Hodges got the other, his 15th of the season. Furillo also rapped a couple of two-baggers and drove in three runs.

Eke Out Win

The St. Louis Cardinals blew a 5-2 lead to Pittsburgh but came back in the last half of the 10th inning to eke out a 6-5 victory when Red Schoendienst singled with two out and the bases loaded.

Rookie Tom Poholsky went all the way to register his fourth victory. The youngster, however, threw up three home run balls to Cliff Chambers, Ralph Kiner and George Metkovich. He has tossed 10 this year, high in the majors.

Warren Spahn snapped New York's four game winning streak with a seven-hitter as the Boston Braves defeated the Giants 4-1. Bob Elliott started the Braves rolling with a two-run homer in the first inning. Sheldon Jones was the victim. Willie Mays, 20-year-old Negro rookie recently brought up from Minneapolis, smashed his first major league hit—a home run—in his first time at bat. He had gone 12 officials times at bat without a hit—in Philadelphia.

Rain washed out the scheduled games between the Philadelphia Athletics and Senators in Washington and the Chicago Cubs and Reds in Cincinnati. All games were played under the lights.

Dairy Cow Foster Mother Of Mankind, Says Executive

"The dairy cow is the foster mother of mankind," stated J. H. Duplan, executive vice-president of Silverwoods Dairies Ltd., Monday.

Mr. Duplan was the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon meeting. His topic was the Dairy Industry in Canada.

The speaker explained that the dairy cow could claim this title because it gives to man, nature's most perfect food — milk.

In his discussion of this topic Mr. Duplan treated most fully the contribution that the dairy industry makes not only to the individual but to the national economy. He pointed out that 22 per cent of all agricultural production in Canada is the production of milk and milk products, which provides livelihood for one-seventh of the country population.

Increase Small

The speaker then turned to present-day prices of dairy products. He quoted figures which revealed price increases in milk products as comparatively low to price increases in other commodities.

"The price of milk has only risen 77 per cent since the basic five-year period, of the cost of living, 1935-39," he contended. "Fruits and vegetables have risen 157 per cent, and beef, 238 per cent. With the relative rise in the cost of labor it takes fewer hours of work to buy a quart of milk today than it did during the basic period."

Cut Down Deliveries

The speaker also dealt with the controversial issues of less frequent delivery of milk. He explained that although six-day-a-week delivery is still the custom in this country, a general five-day delivery is under serious consideration.

"This five-day delivery would result in a slight decrease in costs," he contended. Our company has made this experiment in three cities and found splendid acceptance by consumers, producers, distributors and employers. If this plan is carried through, there will be no milk deliveries on Wednesday and Sunday."

500-Quarts Average

Dealing with national consumption, the speaker said that 34 cents of every consumer budget dollar in this country is spent on milk or milk products. In 1950 every citizen consumed an average of 500 quarts of milk. He then stated that consumption called for increased production per cow Each cow should produce 6,000 pounds of milk per year to be profitable to the owner.

Employee Training

In conclusion, Mr Duplan outlined an employee training plan used by his company.

"We believe that knowledge makes for efficiency; efficiency for happiness, and happiness for success," he explained. "Operating on the idea that he who gives his best, the best will come back, has benefited not only our employees and employers, but also our consumers."

Mr. Duplan was introduced by Ted Weir and thanked by Harley Keefer.

Guests at Monday's meeting were: Dr. Harold Worton, Peterborough; W. J. Smith, St. Catharines; Irwin Zieman, Toronto, and Jim Wood, Toronto.

Find Inquiry About Reds Harms Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 29 (AP). —What effect has the Congressional investigation of Communism in Hollywood had on the film business?

For one thing, a few hours' testimony in Washington can endanger or even wipe out an investment of $1,000,000.

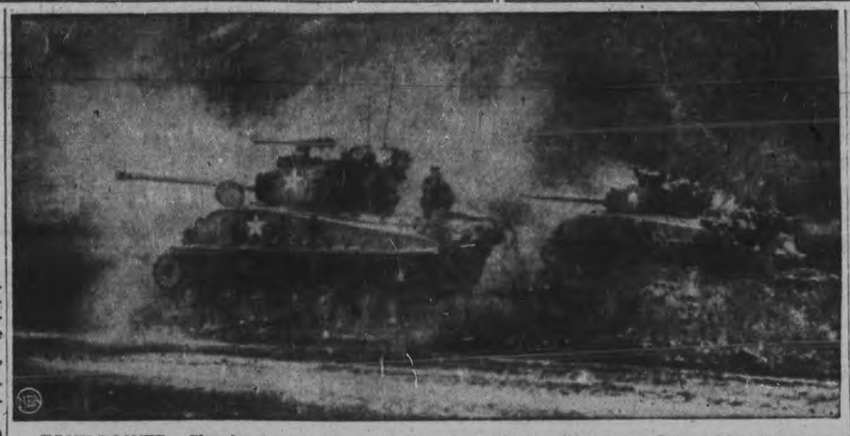
That is what happened when Larry Parks told the House of Representatives Un - American Activities Committee that he had once been a Communist but had drifted away from the party. His words made a risky venture out of what had appeared to be a box office winner—a film called "Love Is Better Than Ever," in which Parks co-starred with Elizabeth Taylor.

MGM, which invested about $1,000,000 in the picture, has announced it has no plans for the release of the film. The studio is carefully watching straws in the wind to find out what the public's reaction will be toward Parks. Some, including members of the Congressional Committee, say Parks should be forgiven.

Definite Loss

A definite financial loss because of the investigation was suffered by RKO and producer Irving Allen. The independent producer made "Slaughter Trail" with Howard Da Silva in one of the leading roles. After Da Silva refused to answer the committee's questions as to whether he was a Communist, it was decided to delete his scenes from the picture.

Re-shooting with Brian Donlevy in the part played by Da Silva will add 100,000 to the film's cost.



Another financial repercussion concerned director Frank Tuttle, who told the committee he had been a Communist but later quit. His producers had planned for him to direct a couple of pictures in Vienna but reported their backing had withdrawn after the publicity about Tuttle.

Over-All Effect

George Murphy, one of the industry's leading spokesmen, believes that publicity about movie Reds is one of the reasons the movie business has not been very good

"I think the investigations have had a bad effect on movie business," he said. "... People I meet in tours through the country ask me what we are doing about 'All those Reds in Hollywood' They... think the whole town is involved.

"I think it is time for the good Americans in the industry to combat the bad opinion that the Communists have brought on Hollywood."

TANK POWER—Clouds of smoke cover the hot gun barrels of tanks attached to the 2nd Division, as they hammer at enemy troops some 2,000 yards away. Action like this near the Korean village of Sinmal reversed the direction of Communist troops, turning their attack into a general retreat.

Say Canadian Border Helps Hide Violations

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)— A House of Represetntatives subcommittee report of an investigation of the newsprint industry Monday said there is evidence to indicate some Americans have used the Canadian border as an immunity cloak in violating anti-trust laws.

It said it ran into difficulties when seeking information regarding pricing practices from some companies that operate on both sides of the border.

Officials it said, would tell the committee either that the information sought was not available in the United States or advised from Canadian offices that they did not feel "able" to make confidential cost-and-profit data available to the committee.

Native Mechanic Bus Magnate In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG — (CP) — One of South Africa's outstanding success stories is that of a 41-year-old native, Fred Ngema, one-time garage mechanic who now is director of a motorbus company.

Eight years ago he was a garage hand in Germiston, earning a few pounds a month. Now he's a "baron" of the Rand's non-European transportation world. He is recognized as one of Johannesburg's wealthiest business men and pays a sizeable income tax.

Every month more than 1,000,000 natives ride in his 43 buses. His company last year earned more than $60,000 and its assets are said to run around $300,000. He started it with a capital of about $525.

He paid little more than $3 for an ancient touring car that was his first taxicab, eight years ago. He paid another $2 for a spare engine which went with that car.

By hard work with his taxicab he saved enough to buy a small bus franchise and the profits he made enabled him to expand his fleet. Now he plans to buy another native bus company which will bring his fleet of motorbuses up to 50. A sum of about $60,000 is involved in his latest purchase.

The vehicles operated by Ngema's company are all recent models, fitted with either gasoline or diesel engines. As an economic measure however the entire fleet is being converted to diesel motors.

Good Neighbors

A neighborly gesture has been made by Rose Ave. residents, near the home of Mrs. Grover Deck and her five children who live at 517 Rose Ave.. The Decks had only moved in a week when the May 19 fire took the life of Fireman Grover Deck. Neighbors wanted to give Mrs. Deck and her five children (all under nine years) a helping hand. Last Saturday seven or eight men spaded the Deck garden and planted some 200 hills of potatoes, and a quantity of vegetables: beans, tomatoes, and radishes. Flowers were also planted to make the property as attractive as possible. The neighbors have undertaken to weed and look after the garden for the rest of the summer.

CNR Brakeman Has Ticket On Horse In English Derby

Arthur MacDonnell, 532 Brioux Ave., a CNR brakeman, is holding a sweepstake ticket on Paradise Street, a tentative starter in Wednesday's 172nd running of the English Derby at Epsom Downs, Britain's premier racing classic. Mr. MacDonnell said today he hasn't looked for any odds on his horse, even though he did receive his notice Monday. He bought the ticket nearly a month ago.

His neighbors on Brioux Ave. are more excited about his draw than he is.

He has been buying sweepstake tickets for a number of years, Mr. Macdonnell said, but this is the first time that he has held a ticket on a tentative starter. He stands to win about $300 whether the horse runs or not.

The Derby, to be run at a mile and a half, is the second jewel in Britain's turf triple crown. Ki Ming won the 2,000 guineas' Stake, the first jewel at Newmarket May 2. The third jewel, the St. Leger, will be run in September.

Withdraw Five

Five entries were withdrawn over the weekend reducing the field to 37 starters. A coughing outbreak is expected to result in more scratches making it questionable whether the field will equal the record of 34 starters which went to the post in 1862.

The weekend betting resulted in two outstanding developments: first, Ki Ming was established a solid favorite at 6-1; second, a rush back to H. E. Elvin's Malka's Boy, caused the odds to drop from 24-1 to 14-1 within two days.

Board To Decide IUE Fate In CGE

The UE and the IUE (CIO-CCL) rivals for the allegiance of nearly 3,600 CGE workers — are now awaiting the decision of the Ontario Labor Relations Board: either dismiss the application of the IUE or hold a vote at the Peterborough plant.

At present the UE is the bargaining unit and has just signed a two-year contract with the company.

The IUE, claiming a majority of the production workers, applied for certification on March 22. And April 18 the ORLB appointed A. M. Brunskill, Board Examiner, to examine the evidence and bring in a report.

At that time the IUE filed 1,801 cards that they said were signed and paid up The UE filed 36 cards on which the signers said they had signed IUE membership cards but had never paid the required initiation fee, also about 1,700 cards on which the signers pledged they had never signed IUE cards.

Mr. Brunskill's report shows 1,727 cards of IUE members admissable. IUE officials say that these are accounted for by the turnover of personnel in such a large plant: people leaving their jobs, transfers, etc.

This would give the IUE a clear 47 per cent of the estimated 3,598 workers in the unit, or one card less than 48 per cent. Forty-five per cent is required for a vote to be ordered.

As none of the three interested parties — the two rival unions and the company—have asked for an OLRB hearing, disposal of the application is now automatically transferred to the Board.

Factory Workers Pay Into Fund

Peterborough's industrial employees are reporting steady progress with their contributions to the Mayor's Fire Fund, as reported today by Reg. Reid, member of the committee, and head of personnel at Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co.

"Some of them have finished the subscriptions, and others should report the wind up by the end of this week. All they need is time to get around the shops."

Reports

The following are progress reports that have come to Mr. Reid:

De Laval Co., and employees, $1,000.

Colonial Weaving employees, $100.

Peterborough Elastic employees, $50.

These two are situated in the same building.

Canadian Nashua Paper: company $250; employees $191.75.

Outboard Marine: employees $1,115; company $250.

A. Wander Co. (Ovaltine), $200; employees $102.43.

Canadian Ventilating Shades, $100; employees $49.

Canadian Sealright Co., $150; employees $350.

H. B. McGinness Co. Ltd., McDonnel St., trailer manufacturers, $100; employees $122.

Trent Valley Baking Co. employees $34.

Peterborough Co-Op Services, $25.

Tilco Ltd. employees, $50.

Dewart Milling: employees $50; company $50.

"The Fund is getting a good reception everywhere and especially in the shops," Mr. Reid said.

That was the extent of his comment, but it is evident that in some of the factories the spirit of generosity is notably active.

Pakistan Growth

KARACHI —(CP)— Pakistan's two-year development plan to make the country self-sufficient in "most urgent" manufactured goods and to develop shipping involves a total cost of 450,000,000 rupees, roughly $1,350,000,000. Approxiately half the total is for industries, the rest for power, shipping and communications.

Works Board Approves Garage Site

Petitioners Object Complain Value Of Land Lowered

Board of works accepted Monday night a memorandum from city planning committee recommending the application of Trinidad Leaseholds Ltd. for permission to erect a service station at the northeast corner of George and Perry Streets.

The motion by Aldermen Burrows and Anglesey referred to the prospect and contingency of the company obtaining possession of the corner property which is zoned as a commercial strip. Board of works action of acceptance will be reported to the council next Monday night.

Submit Plans

Following the required course of procedure the company would still have to submit plans of the service station building to City Engineer Chalmers as a preliminary to obtaining a permit to proceed with construction.

V. J. McElderry, K.C., representing the company, said the property belonged to the Ambrose Coughlin estate.

Cecil W. Stark, owner of the house and lot immediately to the north, presented a petition opposing the application of the company. He said it would seriously affect the value of his property. At the conclusion of the hearing of both sides, Mayor Swanston was instructed to inform Mr. Stark today of the board of works recommendation to the council.

May Buy Property

Apparently it was understood that this communication would suggest to Mr. Stark that it might be advisable for him to try to agree on terms if Trinidad Leaseholds Ltd. offered to buy his property. He is an employee of Beaver Lumber Co.

Mr. McElderry reminded the board, with Ald. J. E. Gillespie presiding, that the corner property fronted on the city's main business street, and that it was situated in a commercial locality. It was only a block from the proposed site of the new market, that it was already largely developed as a business section, with a few houses interspersing it.

Business Section

"You cannot keep that locality from becoming a business section, because it is that now," Mr. McElderry said. "And it is a very suitable location for a business of this kind."

Trinidad Leaseholds was a new company coming into the city, and by building at that corner they would provide a new business connection for Peterborough.

Mr. McElderry said that Mrs. Coughlin desired to sell the property, and had been waiting for such an opportunity as that presented by the company. He accompanied W. H. Zohr, district manager for the company, who discussed certain aspects of the petition.

Wide Range

Several members of the committee also scanned it, finding names among the 26 extending southerly as far as Romaine St. Some were on Crescent St.

Said Mayor Swanston: "The town planning committee went into this matter thoroughly, when there was no one pushing the property."

His Worship said he could not see how a service station could depress the value of Stark's property when it was already adjacent to the Beaver Lumber Company's planing mill. "As a matter of fact I think the Beaver Company has improved the locality."

"It was zoned for commercial purposes, and I can't see how we can do anything less than uphold town planning in its recommendation," Mayor Swanston said.

As to the factor of effect on the value of the Stark property, Ald. Harold Rehill remarked that Mr. Stark chose the location next to the sawmill, "and now he might be sandwiched by a service station. Any depreciation took place back about 1900."

Cancer Society Stops Campaign To Help Fund

The Peterborough county branch of the Canadian Cancer Society have agreed to stop canvassing for funds so their campaign will not lessen contributions to the Mayor's Fire Fund.

This was decided at an executive meeting of the branch.

However any organization or individual that had already earmarked money for the cancer society can still give it. Final donations may be left with R. E. Macdonald, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Contributions have fallen far below expectations. Only $2,600 of a quota of $10,500 for the Peterborough county branch has been subscribed.

An executive member made this comment:

"In view of the disastrous fire and the subsequent Mayor's Fire Fund for the families of the deceased, (the executive) feel that an extension of time on the part of the Cancer Society might jeopardize the Fund to a certain extent. No one wants this to happen."

Mrs. Maurice Holt, vice-president of the Peterborough branch, reported on the annual meeting of the Ontario Division, held recently in Toronto. Mrs. Holt was elected to the board of directors of the Ontario Division.

The next meeting of the executive will be September 20. At that time a date will be set for the annual branch meeting.

Travelling Fast

The car said to be travelling at a high speed, went out of control a half mile south of Apsley. It zigzagged across the highway three times, ran down the shallow west ditch for a distance, then struck a rock and bounced 20 feet to the right. It shattered a rail fence and ran into a large elm tree 60 feet west of the fence.

The distance covered by the out-of-control vehicle was 348 feet.

Passing motorists took the two dazed and injured men to the Red Cross hospital where their injuries were treated by Dr. John Steer.

Large Sums Spent On Many IODE Welfare Plans

SASKATOON, Sask., May 29—(CP) — The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire raised $1,129,778 in the last year and turned over most of this sum to its welfare and education projects.

This was the story Mrs. P. L. Robinson of Toronto, today told the IODE annual meeting in her reports as honorary treasurer and convener of the Finance Committee.

She said the 911 chapters reporting spent $1,102,053 which went to swell the general and special funds as well as to buy books.

The eight primary chapters in Yukon, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland raised $10,546 and spent $8,869 plus $2,083 not put through chapter books.

As convener of the IODE film committee, Mrs. Hugh Allward of Toronto reported an "appreciable increase" in the volume and variety of films enjoyed by Order members and sponsored by them in their communities.

Wakening Interest

She found evidence of a "wakening public interest" in good British films.

On children's films she said there were indications of increasing interest in New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta.

"Those centres that do not have the children's film library indicate a marked interest in the selection of films for children . . .through their local film councils."

In her report as convener of the empire and world affairs committee Mrs. H. S. Angas of Toronto, noted the "tremendous" range of topics used for chapter programs.

The queen's carpet and the international peace garden both had been "a source of interest." Communism had been studied and papers on the significance of patriotic holidays were mentioned by two of the provinces.

"As democracy advances . . . mass thinking becomes the important factor," said Mrs. Angas. "It is only by enquiry and learning that we can equip ourselves for considered judgment on even local problems, not to mention the understanding necessary to protect our judgment from biased influences on wider issues."

Others presenting reports today included Mrs. S. E. Wedd of Toronto, convener of the hospitality committee, and Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., convener of the first war memorial.

Loretta Lorenz Married In Double Ring Ceremony

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lorenz and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, all of Peterborough.

The nuptial mass was said by the Rev. R. Garvey, who performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Marian Aman played the wedding music.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of champagne satin, which fell into a graceful train. The collar and inset sleeves which came to a point over her hands were of lace. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of pink butterfly roses with stephanotis.

Mr. Lorenz gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Miss Rita Lorenz as bridesmaid and the groom's sister, Mrs. Donald Bond, as matron of honor. Their gowns were of yellow and green taffeta and they wore matching gloves and headdresses. They carried nosegays of Johanna Hill roses, sweetpeas and cornflower.

Mr. Joseph Borden of Toronto was groomsman and ushers were Gordon Lorenz and James Lorenz.

The reception was held at the Kawartha Country Club, where the bride's mother received the guests wearing a pale green dress with brown and natural accessories and had a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother also received in a navy dress with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling on her honeymoon to the United States the bride wore a navy gabardine suit and rose topcoat with white accessories and she had a gardenia corsage.

On their return the couple will live at 626 George St.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Married To Show-Off Man Wife Requires Patience

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 25 and married to a girl 20. We have been married almost three years, and I have worked very hard to give her everything she wants. But in doing this I have neglected the chance to show her a good time, so she has been going out with girl friends while I am working. These girls are not too particular about the company they keep, and my wife has been spending her evenings in places I do not approve of. I tried to stop her from going out so much, but she left me and is living with her mother, who allows her to go wherever she pleases. Do you think I should apply for a divorce, or is there a chance she might straighten out?

TOMMY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is nothing either surprising or novel in your wife's action, Tommy. She married at 17, the age when most girls are just getting into their social stride. Marriage to her was undoubtedly just a romantic lark, and no thought of the responsibilities she incurred ever entered her pretty head. All the burden of making a success of the marriage devolved on you.

Let Her Work it Out

It might have been better if you hadn't worked so hard, and had spent more time on romancing. Leave her alone for a while, and see if she doesn't come to her senses. I think she will. Apparently that's the course her mother is following, for I'm sure no mother would sanction indiscriminate association for her daughter.

Every time I warn against teenage marriage, I get mail from worldly-wise youngsters who accuse me of being an old fuddy-duddy who doesn't believe in romance, and wants to spoil everyone's fun. Then in a few years, these same kids are bewailing the fact that they tied themselves down too soon, and want a quick out via the divorce court. There are exceptions, of course, but these are few and far between. Some young folk do have the sense and the character to make a good job of a youthful marriage, but in general, teen-agers do not have the mental or emotional equipment to tackle the hazards of matrimony.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am employed by a married man. In our work it is necessary for me to be with him every day and sometimes as many as fourteen hours a day. We have fallen in love with each other, but he claims that he loves his wife dearly and that we both mean so much to him that he would die if either of us left him. I have tried to leave him, and he not only begged me to stay but his wife came to the office and asked me not to leave as I was the finest secretary he had ever had and she felt that I was one of the few she could trust. I stayed, but now I find my love is growing stronger and I must leave. Jobs are hard to find and especially as good a one as this. What shall I do—keep on working and fighting against my love for him, or give up the position I love and take the chance of finding another?

A WORRIED SECRETARY

ANSWER: In all the world there is no more pitiable figure than that of the fine and honorable woman who falls in love with her employer who is a married man. And this tragedy happens so often, and is so often almost unescapable because the man and woman who work together, day after day, who have the same knowledge, the same interests and who come to depend upon each other as comrades do in battle, are thrown together in an intimacy that gives propinquity a chance to do its most deadly work.

It is sorrow and heartbreak because there are only three roads out of the dilemma. One is to crucify their love and part. Another is to smirch themselves by a shameful hole-and-corner liaison. The third is by divorce. And there is no peace nor happiness in any of them.

Of the three alternatives I think a good woman had best take the one that leads her away from the office. And she had best take it quickly and travel fast from temptation because no woman can fight against love and win out.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a wonderful man and we get along fine and agree on everything. My problem is: I have been married before and have a son, aged 4. My husband-to-be is 22 years old and I am 25. Do you think this difference in our ages will present a difficulty to our happiness?

WILMA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Difference in age in itself does not constitute a barrier to happiness; there are so many more important factors to be considered in marriage. However, in your case, the fact that your husband is so young, that you have been married before and have a child does present a problem to be very carefully considered. If your husband-to-be is an unusually mature man for his age, it might work. Otherwise, I advise a careful discussion with someone who knows you both and for whose opinion you have great respect. From the facts presented to me, the marriage spells trouble.

Beef And Kidney Pie Tasty Meal For High Price Days

By MARY MOORE

Would it help you any if the butcher said "I'm sorry, madam, but it's the best I can do," when a little lady complained at the infinitesimal little chunk of stewing beef she was handed for 79 cents?

Somehow it seemed to ease my distress for her, I suppose because he was not brusque and indifferent. I had just finished purchasing a piece of shoulder beef and a pound of pork kidneys for a beef and kidney pie and that totalled $1.37, and I felt like grumbling into my neckkerchief about that too.

As I type this the pies are baking in the oven. Because a neighbor—not a reader this time—asked me for my recipe for beef and kidney pie I decided it was a good topic for today's column. The two pies I am making will serve two meals for four people. The second one I will underbake a little so that it may be reheated in the oven about Thursday and not have an overdone appearance. Meanwhile I will keep it in the refrigerator.

✧ ✧ ✧

Emem's Beef and Kidney Pie (sufficient to serve 8)

One pound of shoulder beef, 1 pound pork kidney (4 kidneys), salted and peppered flour, ingredients for tea biscuit crust.

Cut the beef in 1-inch cubes. Wash the kidneys, cut in halves so that veins are exposed, slice off veinous portion and cut into inch squares. Soak kidneys in salt water one-half hour. Drain and dry kidneys. Dredge kidneys and beef in ¾ cup of flour to which you have added 1½ teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Have hot in the frying pan 4 tablespoons bacon fat and saute the meat in this until it is golden on all sides. Add 4 cups boiling water and simmer until nearly tender—about 2½ hours. Pour into two medium sized casseroles. Cover with tea biscuit or Melton Mowbray crust. If Melton Mowbray crust is used sides of dishes should be lined. This is particularly advantageous if you want to make the pies stretch further.

Baking Powder Biscuits

Two cups sifted all-purpose or cake flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 4 tablespoons shortening, 2/3 cup milk. Sift the dry ingredients, work the shortening into them until mixture resembles coarse meal, then add milk, stirring just enough to moisten all the flour. Turn out on floured board, pat to ¾-inch thickness and cut into 2-inch rounds. Place these on top of hot meat mixture in casseroles. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. until biscuits are baked—about 15 minutes. One and one-half times this recipe is sufficient for 2 medium sized casseroles.

Melton Mowbray Pastry

Two cups plus 2 tablespoons pastry flour, ½ cup lard or shortening, ⅜ cup hot water, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking powder. Bring to boil the lard and water. Add all at once the flour mixed with the salt and baking powder and stir until smooth and let stand at least 1 hour. Divide into halves and roll out to ¼-inch thickness. Cut one half in very long strip the width of the depth of your baking dish. Line sides of dish with this. Pour in meat mixture. Roll out crust to fit top, and seal edges by wetting with cold water to form a seal. Gash top to allow steam to escape. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. about 20 minutes or until golden and puffed and flaky. Double this recipe for two pies of medium size.

Backward Children Getting Help

MONTREAL—(CP)—The summer holidays usually mean a rest for the school; but not with the Association for the Help of Retarded Children.

The next three months will be spent in putting into operation three new projects and preparing for expansion in the fall, said Mrs. W. L. Wollock, chairman of the group.

The association is set up to promote the general welfare of mentally-retarded children and to further study, research, and understanding of them. The association, formed six months ago, has appointed district chairmen who will head six local associations.

IODE Urges Immigrants Be Made To Learn English

SASKATOON, Sask., May 29—(CP)—A recommendation urging that immigrants be required to learn English within a limited space of time today was placed before the annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

It was presented by Miss R. E. Taylor of Ottawa, who as immigration and Canadianization convener reported on the Order's work with new Canadians during the year.

Miss Taylor said the IODE has received letter from persons in different parts of Canada asking for assistance in getting their relatives to join them in the country.

"Many of these letters were from resident Chinese who wanted to get their families free from Communistic influence in China," she said.

Miss Taylor reported that immigration to Canada during the last year dropped to 73,912, some 22,000 below the 1949 figure.

"It is expected, however, that owing to new regulations in cost of passage, and the request of Canadian industry for men, that the number will be greetly increased in 1951," she said.

Since the end of the last war Canada had admitted 436,365 immigrants.

Miss Taylor pictured briefly activities of various chapters of the order in making immigrants feel at home upon arrival in Canada.

In New Bruswick, she noted, new arrivals were provided with adequate clothing when necessary, entertained in homes, taught English and Canadian home cooking.

IODE chapters of Quebec helped 21,000 immigrants in various ways. At the moment one was sponsoring three years' education for the child of a new Canadian.

Ontario reported 13 newcomers had joined the order.

British Columbia was among the provinces recommending a greater knowledge of the English language be required before the granting of government certificates.

Reports on the Order's endowment fund, the Commonwealth and Empire Committee, also were heard at this afternoon-s session.

Peterborough Convener

As convener of the latter committee, Mrs. Charles Scott of Peterborough, told of the Order's overseas work and particularly what it has been doing in India.

One of the major efforts in this field during the year was the provision of money to help with the translation into Hindu of nurses' textbooks.

Mrs. H. H. Rimmer of Toronto, was partly due to the displaying of Queen Mary's carpet in the provinces.

5—In Memoriams

ELLIOTT—In loving memory of Mrs. Joseph Elliott, who passed away May 29th, 1947.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by daughter Anne, son-in-law Clinton and family.

WILSON—In loving memory of George Wilson, who passed away one year ago today.
One year has passed, dear father,
Since you were called away;
How well do I remember
That sad and weary day.
You suffered much, you murmured not,
We watched you day by day.
We cried and prayed that your dear life
Would not be taken away.
—Sadly missed by son Ed, and Eileen.

Board Of Works Buys Cement

The tender of Peterborough Lumber Co. for this season's supply of cement at $1.05 a bag, f.o.b. Peterborough, was accepted by the board of works last night. It is subject to increase, if any, in manufacturers' costs

Beaver Lumber Co. quoted $1.06 and the Rehill Co. Ltd., $1.07.

City council has been for years buying cement from local retailers, but it transpired last night that Peterborough county council is a direct customer of one of the manufacturers and in that business relationship enjoyes a lower price than the city's.

Gasoline and oil prices were refererd to Ald. J. E. Gillespie and City Engineer Chalmers for recommendations.

To them were also referred bids for a street sweeper and a new road roller. Details of tenders were so complicated that the board transfered them to the chairman and city engineer for a simplified report, and recommendation.

Hayden, a free-lance performer, thus becomes the first player to resume work in the movie industry after admitting Red affiliations.

Age Doesn't Matter

CHICAGO, May 29 — (AP) — Francis X. Busiman, the silent screen star and matinee idol of many years ago, was greeted on Monday by a group of woman admirers — grandmothers, not teen-agers. The women swarmed around Busiman, knocking off his hat and clutching to his coat tails, when he arrived from Hollywood for a movie premiere.

Library Helping To Replace Destroyed Books

Peterborough Public Library is making donation of approximately 400 books to Mt. St. Vincent College library, Rockingham, Nova Scotia.

The library of this college, situated near Halifax, was completely destroyed by fire about three months ago. Public libraries across Canada are co-operating in a plan to re-stock the college library. A number of publishing houses are also replacing books that were destroyed, free of charge.

Donation to Library

Peterborough's donation is made up almost entirely of university calibre books that are not in general public demand. These books were given to the library by Mrs. George E. Porter, 521 Gilmour St.

The collection included 10 sets of volumes of classic literature, history, philosophy and economics.

A list of the collection is in preparation at the library to be sent to Mt. St. Vincent College for perusal to avoid duplication. When the reply is received from the college stating which books can be used, they will be packed and sent. The shipment is expected to be on its way before the end of June.

Family Lose Home In Fire

LINDSAY, May 29.—A Manilla farmer, his wife and two children were left homeless Sunday when their log and frame house was razed by fire. The farmer, Harry Snelgrove, with his family was away visiting at the time. The home and contents were a complete loss.

The fire was first noticed by a stranger passing along the highway who stopped to investigate. Almost immediately Orville Lawton of Manilla, saw the blaze and turned in the alarm from the home of Ray Nokes.

By the time the neighbors had arrived to fight the fire it was burning fiercely and nothing could be done.

Other buildings were not damaged and no official estimate of the insurance carried could be obtained.

The first that the Snelgrove family knew of the fire was when the fire call rang over the rural telephone line to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keeler, whom they were visiting. Mr. Keeler answered the call and then told his guest that his house was burning.

It is believed that the fire started on the roof of the back kitchen. Temporary shelter was offered the family by Mr. Snelgrove's sister in Manilla.

Rap Omission Of Word British

SASKATOON, May 29—(CP)—A trend toward omitting "British" when speaking of the Comonwealth of Nations was criticized Monday at the national convention of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., national educational secretary, brought up the point during her annual report on the education work of the order.

Mrs. Detwiler referred to a letter she had received from a minister of education in one of the provinces. He contended there is no need to use the word British when referring to the commonwealth.

"Don't we know our history and what the British Empire and Commonwealth have done?" she asked.

Mrs. Detwiler reported that IODE education conveners who made a survey of the sex comic situation found the contents of these books not especially harmful. But they would like to see them removed from the news stands.

Two Sentenced To Reformatory In Scrap Theft

Two Hamilton men, charged with possession of stolen goods, received reformatory sentences today from Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC. They had pleaded not guilty.

The men, Clarence Sholer and Lloyd Cooper, also faced charges of theft, and breaking and entering and theft. These charges were dismissed when no direct evidence was given linking them with the crime.

Five Months

Sholer was given five months definite and three months indefinite. Cooper received five months definite and one month indefinite.

Two Emily township men, William Martin, 19, and Ivan Morin, 29, were each given a year's suspended sentence when they were found guilty of theft of three cast iron sap kettles.

Sholer and Cooper were arrested May 15 by OPP Constable Jim Healey, and in their possession were found an acetylene torch and a set of truck wrenches that had been stolen from a construction company's tool shed in Kinmount.

They faced charges of theft of this equipment and of breaking and entering and theft.

Claimed Purchase

Sholer and Cooper said they bought the equipment from a man in Hamilton "sometime in the middle of April."

Magistrate Philp said he had given the pair the benefit of the doubt on the two previous charges, but found their explanation of possessing the tools not a reasonable one.

Martin and Morin told court they had bought the kettles in with a load of scrap sold them by a man they met near Chemong lake. They said they paid him $5 for the scrap and took it into Peterborough in two loads, selling it here for $9.

Scrap Seller

Ray Thompson, city scrap dealer, said the two accused had been to him several times to sell scrap. He said he paid them $9 for the scrap which included the kettles.

"Who was this man you say you met and bought the scrap iron from?" Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, asked Morin.

"If I knew, he'd be here instead of me," said Morin.

Magistrate Philp said he didn't think their story was a reasonable explanation.

Morin and Martin were arrested May 17 by OPP Sergeant Lloyd McClure and Constable C. A. Naismith in St. Thomas.

Faster Cars In Speed Trials

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP) —Faster engines and sleeker automobiles, plus the lure of $200,000 in prizes, produced the swiftest of all fields for the 500-mile race Wednesday at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Speediest of the 33 drivers to qualify, Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., did his 10-mile qualifying test at 136.872 miles an hour, and the slowest, Bill Mackey of Indianapolis, did 131.473. Twenty of the cars that qualified in 1950 were slower than that.

If there are any favorites in this speed-saturated field they are Chet Miller and Duke Nalon. Making up the Novi team in cars that reputedly cost $150,000 each. Others highly regarded are Johnny Parsons, the 1950 winner; Mauri Rose, twice a winner and holder of an additional co-championship, and, of course, the tiny Faulkner.

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—John Diefenbaker, prominent Saskatchewan lawyer, said Monday he hopes that the federal government will never permit the tapping of telephone and telegraph wires to obtain information against pesons suspected of breaking the law.

He referred in the Commons to recent reports that the Criminal Code might be amended to allow the tracing of telephone calls in efforts to uncover the activities of bookmakers.

Young People Of Church Work On Moira Lake Camp

HAVELOCK, May 28 (ENS).—A good representation from the Young People's Union of Havelock United Church accompanied by their minister, the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, met with members from other branches of the YPU in the Bay of Quinte Conference at Quin-Mo-Lac Camp at Moira Lake over the holiday. Work was done completeing the large dining hall and other buildings.

Between Madoc and Tweed

Quin-Mo-Lac Camp is situated about 28 miles north of Belleville, between Madoc and Tweed. A 200-foot escarpment runs the length of the property back from the lake so that the view from the top of the hill, of the lake, islands and distant Madoc, as well as the countryside, is magnificent.

Following careful study of other camps, the property committee of which Mr Vanderburgh is chairman, and the board of directors, the over-all planning calls for:

1—A three-unit plan of cottages, playing fields, lodges, toilets, kitchen and dining hall combined in T formation, capable of serving 200 campers and providing facilities for recreation, study and worship.

2—Each unit is being built to include five cottages accommodating 10. These are suitable for adjustment for young adult camps with small families if desired. Fifty students are housed in each unit of cottages, which includes a staff building known as a lodge, designed to provide living quarters for 12 to16 adults and at the same time have a meeting place on the first floor for the students and staff comprising the unit.

3—The kitchen is 36 by 20 feet in size, and the dining hall 80 by 36 feet, with platform at one end for a stage and a fireplace in centre.

4—Two workshops, a hospital unit, and a tuck shop will be in the final plans as well as outdoor and indoor places of worship.

5—The building committee hopes to complete seven cottages and the dining hall by July.

6—The water front is being improved, but the main emphasis has to be on getting buildings adequate to house camps of one hundred or thereabouts this summer.

YPU Financial Scheme

The Young People's Union of the Bay of Quinte Conference have promoted the initial financing of this camp, and to date have raised more than $9,000.

The Young People of George Street United Church, Peterborough, are raising the money to pay for the making of tables for the new dining hall.

The oYung People's Union of Trinity Church, Bowmanville, are taking on the project of building a cottage. The Young People's Unions of Omemee and Bethel set the first example of this, and built and raised funds to pay for the cost of materials of the first cottage in 1949. The sum of $400 will cover the cost of materials for a cottage.

Havelock Young People's Union raised over $350 in 1949 with the help of congregational interest at Havelock and Trent River, and have had as many as 45 persons helping in special work projects at different times. Numerous other unions and congregations and individuals have given free time to promote this effort.

7 Out of 11 Universities To Raise Fees

By The Canadian Press. ... ...

University education will cost more in Canada next year.

Seven of 11 universities and colieges reporting in a Canadian Press survey said they plan to increase tuition fees for students returning to classes in the Fall.

All 11 have announced increases in tuition at various times since the end of the Second World War.

Decreased returns on investments and endowments and the higher cost of maintenance and faculty instruction were blamed for the increases

Inflated costs were temporarily offset during post-war years when record numbers of veterans attended classes. This short-term financial boost has disappeared since almost all veterans had graduated by this Spring.

Enrolment at Queen's University at Kingston, during the peak years of 1947-48 was 3,163. Enrolment for the year just completed was 2,316. Recently-announced tuition increases at Queen's brought fees to $230 for first-year Arts and $365 for Medicine. Books and society fees are extra. Fees in 1945-46 were $173 for Arts and $245 for medicine.

Toronto Tuition

Higher tuition fees in all divisions of the 12,500-student University of Toronto were announced May 22 by President Sidney Smith. The increases range from $29 in the Music general course to a high of $70 in Engineering, Architecture, Dentistry and Medicine. The new rates, which include incidental fees, also apply to the graduate school and diploma courses.

Carleton College in Ottawa has increases of 20 per cent planned for September, bringing the basic tuition to $240. The last increase was in 1948 when fees were raised 33⅓ per cent.

The University of Ottawa expects slight increases for next year, but has set no definite amount. Tuition fees there have been raised $50 since the war.

An estimated 1,000 students attending classes next year at McMaster University in Hamilton will have to pay an additional $26, bringing the cost to $265 for the Arts student. Other categories will be $275 and $300, depending on the number of laboratory courses taken. At the end of 1946-47, the basic tuition was $182.50.

Raised $70

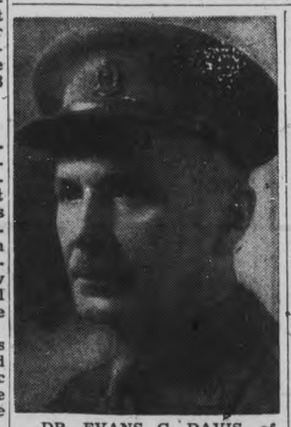
Bachelor of Arts courses next year at McGill University in Montreal will cost $300, up $70 from 1945-46 figures. Partial students will pay $90 for each course. This includes a 25 per cent increase recently announced. McGill attendance last year was 7,317, including 1,653 veterans.

Laval at Quebec City increased fees last year by $50 to $100. Total tuition cost to the student will be $250 to $300 next year, depending on the faculty. Officials said no further increases are planned now.

University of Montreal fees average about $180 a year with Medicine tops at $375. Fee increases of $15 to $140 for most courses next term have been announced. Two other increases were made since 1945-46.

The University of Manitoba at Winnipeg has announced increases ranging from $15 to $140. Fees also were raised in 1948 and 1949. Current fees average $180 with Engineering and Architecture ($250) and Medicine ($375) tops.

The University of Saskatchewan at aSskatoon has raised its fees twice since 1945, the increase averging $100. No further increase is planned for next term.



20% Increase

The University of Alberta in Edmonton recently increased its fees by 20 per cent. Highest fees are in Medicine—$425 for the first two years and $450 for the second two.

At Vancouver, the University of British Columbia has a $30 fee increase planned for Fall, the second increase since 1948. Fees last year averaged $247.

Increasing educational costs disturb educationists. Mr. Justice MacKay of the Ontario Supreme Court said recently at commencement exercises of St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish, N.S., that higher fees "would undermine the whole brilliant future of Canada."

Like many other educationists, Mr. Justice MacKay urged Federal financial aid to universities.

DR. EVANS G. DAVIS, of London, Ont., leading figure in two world wars in Canada's army and veterans' medical service, who died at London May 24.

New Memorial Honors RAF Men In 1943 Raid

LONDON—(CP)—The gallant RAF crews of 19 Lancaster bombers who in May 1943 shattered the vital Mohne reservoirs in Germany's industrial Ruhr valley, will be honored with a memorial of their own.

It will take the form of an educational trust at Christ's hospital school, near Horsham, Sussex, based on a gift of £10,000 ($30,000) from the distinguished British scientist, B. N. Wallis.

During the war Mr. Wallis was assigned to special research on high explosives and for week before the dam-busters launched their attack worked with the crews in secret in the handling of a new-type aerial mine he had developed.

Wouldn't Take Money

Recently, Mr. Wallis was awarded the grant of £10,000 for his wartime researches. He declined, however, to accept any personal gain from the achievements of the airmen who carried out the Mohne raid and promptly turned over the cheque to the school of which he is the almoner.

The attack on the Westphalian reservoirs won the Victoria Cross for Wing Cmdr. G. P. Gibson, leader of the mission, but eight of the planes and 55 men failed to return. Gibson was killed later in the war.

Subsequent reconnaisance established that the reservoirs, controlling two-thirds of the water storage capacity in the Ruhr, had been put out of commission. The surrounding countryside was inundated, power stations and factories destroyed and mines flooded.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, then secretary for air, described the raid as "a most trenchant blow for the victory of the Allies."

Reds Lash Back Drive Canadians Off Captured Hill

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, May 30. (CP)—Chinese forces attacking in massed hundreds today forced Eastern Ontario troops by sheer weight of numbers to leave positions won just a few hours earlier. (An Associated Press dispatch from Tokyo earlier told of a Canadian battalion on the central front, which captured a hill Tuesday night, being forced from it in a Red counter-attack at dawn. The AP said the battle for the position was still under way on Wednesday night.)

The Chinese attacked in groups of from 90 to 100, hard upon one another.

The Canadians came back hard.

Kicking off at 6 a.m., the Canadians, under Lt.-Col. Bob Keane of Fort William, followed up a thick artillery curtain laid onto intervening villages and thoroughly cleared them with flame-throwers and grenades before proceeding.

Lieut. Bill Wilcox of Chatham, who killed one Chinese who appeared from a ditch near him, said:

"They are burrowed in everywhere. There are none above ground. You've got to poke into every hole to get them out."

Companies under Majors Dick Medland, Toronto, Don Duncan, Hamilton, and Jack Peterson, St. Thomas and formerly of Peterborough, were well forward when a company led by Major Harry Boates of Glace Bay, NS, assaulted a 1,500-foot hump-backed crest. It dominates a little valley.

Just as Boates reported all his platoons pinned down under thick machine-gun fire, Medland, forward and down below, asked for tank help.

Tanks under Lieut. Harold Wyant, Collingwood, went forward to help out

Gunners Busy

Canadian gunners, including a battery under Maj. Hugh Gillis of Antigonish, N.S., which had just moved into a new position, stripped to the waist in a downpour of rain to keep the guns firing.

Boates reported the Chinese massing on his front. Then in succession, Medland, Duncan and Peterson had them coming in. Peterson had them on three flanks of his position.

Boates, his company weakened and tired, was forced to give way under the sheer weight of the enemy's pressure.

That hill was gone. The positions in the plain below became untenable and it was a question of fighting a delaying action as the Canadians moved back.

Medland reported to Keane that the Chinese first were sighted approaching across country, going to ground and then coming into view only as they crossed ditches or get into paddy fields on higher terrain. Each "sighting" showed the enemy 100 yards closer.

Medland said he had excellent killing—at least 300 dead by conservative estimate and possibly 500.

Blair Crosses Lake Winnipeg On Way Home

WINNIPEG, May 30—(CP)—Charles Blair, flying a converted Mustang fighter plane non-stop from Fairbanks, Alaska, to New York, flashed across Lake Winnipeg at 1.14 p.m. today, more than half way towards his goal.

The 41-year-old airlines pilot took off from Fairbanks at 7.09 a.m. (EDT). He passed the Edmonton area at 10.13 a.m. and was reported over Lake Winnipeg near Gimli, Man., at 1.14.

A despatcher of Pan-American Airways in Seattle estimated that Blair would take nine hours 25 minutes to make the hop of 3,296 air miles. That would get him to New York at 4.34 EDT.

Department of Transport officials at Winnipeg said they had only brief contact with the flier as his plane roared eastward through a light overcast. Radio reception was poor.

Blair, 41, streaked 3,300 miles from Bardu, Norway, to Fairbanks, Alaska, in 10 hours and 27 minutes in "the flying gas tank"—his flame-red converted Mustang fighter plane. He did it with 175 gallons of gasoline to spare.

Not Excited

Blair was much less excited than the throng which crowded Ladd Air Force Base as his plane landed at 9:29 p.m. EDT. Radio listening posts had been straining for word that he had capped the globe and was speeding southward toward Fairbanks Blair explained why there had been no word.

"I could get the beam all right, but I couldn't send. The transmitter was out of order."

So he quietly rode the beam into Fairbanks to wind up "a very simple flight" he said. "The plane performed perfectly and I flew exactly the course I intended to fly."

Some 3,000 letters he had flown across the pole from Norway were rushed to the Fairbanks post office for cancellation, then reloaded aboard the plane. He's flying them to New York where they'll be auctioned off for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Truck Drivers Strike In Britain

LONDON, May 30 (Reuters)—More truck drivers joined the three-day strike of Britain's state-owned road haulers today. Deliveries of essential goods and food were being held up all over the country.

The number of drivers to join the protest against "gestapo" road patrols went up from 12,000 Tuesday to 13,335 today. Altogether 241 depots were affected.

Labor Minister Alfred Robens will meet representatives of the Transport Union and the road haulage executive, the industry's directing board, today in an effort to halt the strike.

New recruits to the walkout were the truck drivers bringing supplies to London's Billingsgate Fish Market, threatening a fish shortage by Friday.

Porters at the Capital's fruit and vegetable markets are reported to be refusing to unload state-owned vehicles out of sympathy for the truck drivers.

88 Teachers Threaten To Resign June 30

SUDBURY, May 30 — (CP).—Eighty-eight Separate School lay teachers have threatened to resign at the end of the school term June 30 unless they get salary boosts.

The teachers announced the move during a meeting Tuesday night It came after several months' bickering between teachers and the city's Separate School Board.

The teachers originally asked for a $500 across-the-board increase effective January 1. When it was rejected by the board, they asked for the same raise, effective September 1. A further compromise of $300 raises, effective September 1, was also turned down by the board. Salaries now range from $1,300 to $2,300 a year.

Sudbury has nine Separate schools, with some 4,010 pupils. Many teachers are members of religious orders and are not affected by the strike action.

Jack Gurthro, 70-year-old Workman's Compensation pensioner, died in hospital 19 hours after suffering a heart attack at his home. Police said they were unable to get a doctor for more than an hour after the man was stricken.

Police said a doctor attending a prisoner in city cells refused to attend. They said this had happened several times in the last few monhs.

Capricious Miss Canada Sold Without Fanfare

WOODSTOCK, May 30 (CP)—Miss Canada IV, the temperamental racer that carried Canada's hopes for a world speedboat record, was sold Tuesday without fanfare.

E. A. Wilson, of Ingersoll, her owner, said Miss Canada was bought by a Canadian company. He declined to disclose the purchase price.

She was sold without her two Rolls-Royce Griffon engines, on loan from a British firm.

Sale of Miss Canada came eight months after her patient pilot, Harold Wilson, retired from powerboat racing.

E. A. Wilson, father of Harold, did not say if Miss Canada would be used for racing.

Miss Canada, built at a heavy cost, had a short - lived and trouble-plagued life.

Twice she was entered in the International Harmsworth Race. She failed dismally both times.

Launched in June 1949, the 33-foot beauty was a hex to the 38-year-old Wilson every time she entered a race.

Her last crack at the world's speedboat record was made at Picton, last October. She let Wilson down when three gears in her specially-designed gearbox broke up.

Wilson also entered Miss Canada in the Gold Cup and President's Cup, both international events. She developed engine trouble both times

Wher Miss Canada was hauled to shore after the last speed-record attempt at Picton, Wilson looked at her dejectedly and said:

"We're licked."

She went to the auction block with little advertising.

Give Up Hope Of Rescuing 62 In Mine

Rescue Teams Fear Take Two Days Reach Entombed Men

EASINGTON, England, May 30. (AP)—All hope was abandoned today for 62 British coal miners buried 900 feet below ground Tuesday by a violent explosion. The toll of the disaster, with the deaths of the 62, would reach 80, including one rescue worker who died in the attempt to save the entombed men.

"Though everything has been done and is still being done at the pit, there is now no hope of any of the entombed miners being alive," said Lord Hundley, chairman of the National Coal Board. "This is the worst pit disaster we have had in the history of the National Coal Board."

The rescue work went on throughout the night, while a small cluster of relatives gathered quietly in the glare of the big spotlight at the pit head. Names of survivors, they were told, would be posted on the bulletin board there—but there were none this morning.

On the board was a message from the King.

"The Queen and I," he said, "have learnt with deepest regret of the explosion at Easington Colliery and of the severe loss of life. We send our heartfelt sympathy to all those who have lost husbands or sons."

The explosion occurred in a winding tunnel about 1¼ miles from the deep vertical shaft leading to the surface. Mounds of rock and coal blocked the way to the coal face where most of the men were working. As each mound was opened, there usually was a rush of poisoned air.

Rescue teams with gas masks and walkie-talkie radios clawed their way through the tunnel. They said their present rate of progress through the debris would mean they probably would not reach the missing men for another two days.

There were six emergency phones in the blast area where the men had been working, but no calls came through.

Use 50 Indians To Mop Up Fire

TIMMINS, May 30 (CP). — Fifty bush-wise Indians moved into the Gogama district of northern Ontario Tuesday to tackle the hazardous "mopping up" of a 55,000-acre forest fire that burned out of control for nearly a week.

At the same time, as fire hazards lessened across the province, Lands Minister Harold Scott announced the opening of the vast northeastern districts of Timiskaming and Cochrane, closed since last week when some 50 fires burned in Ontario.

The Gogama fire, burning in birch-pine timber along a 250-mile perimeter, has not yet been listed under control.

The Indians are being used to douse these small fires ahead of the main outbreak. Armed with axes, shovels and portable pumps, they were dropped from helicopters with instructions to put out the fire and find their own way back to civilization.

GIVES SALUTE—Marching straight by the saluting base with all the pomp and precision displayed by London Ont. Boy Scouts and Girl Guides came this conscientious canine turning "eyes right" to face District Commissioner S. N. Stevens taking the salute at just the proper time. He was not a mascot trained for such things; just a friendly fellow who didn't want to be left out of the annual church parade.

Two Young Gunmen Get $8,000 In Bank Holdup

MITCHELL, Ont., May 30. (CP)—If the two gunmen who robbed the Bank of Commerce here had arrived a little earlier or a little later than they did, their loot might have been much higher. The young robbers, with colored bandanas over their faces, escaped with between $8,000 and $9,000 from three tellers' cages which they scooped into a paper bag.

Police road blocks were thrown up in the area around this town 13 miles north of Stratford.

The robbers were unable to enter the vault because of quick action by Bank Manager A. G. McDougall, who came through the bank's rear door just as the gunmen entered with drawn revolvers.

He ducked into the vault and closed the inner doors.

Minutes after the thieves fled in a late-model blue car, James C. Douglas, express delivery man, arrived with a money shipment. Douglas said he might have come on the scene when the bandits were there if he hadn't made an earlier delivery out of his way from the railway station to the bank.

The holdup was over in five minutes. The masked pair forced five male employees to lie on the floor and seven women to line up against a wall while they went through cash drawers of the three cages. The drawers were locked in a fourth cage and were not opened. No customers were in the bank at the time.

Cayuga Will Sail For Korea June 19

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)—The destroyer Cayuga, one of the "originals" of Canada's naval contribution to UN forces in Korean waters, sails from Esquimalt, BC, June 19 for her second tour of duty in the Far East.

The Cayuga, under Cmdr. James Plomer of Saint Johns, NB will relieve the destroyer Nootka. The Nootka, under Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, will return to her home port of Halifax, calling at Esquimalt en route.

Cayuga was one of three destroyers dispatched by Canada to Korean waters last July 5 to serve with UN fleets. Following an eight-month tour of duty, she returned to Esquimalt in April for a refit and leave period.

Besides the Nootka, the other Canadian destroyers in Korean waters are the Sioux under Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor, Victoria, and the Huron, under Cmdr. E. T. C. Madgwick of Ottawa and Halifax.

Committee Startled

LONDON, Ont., May 30 (CP). —Rents in London range from $2.50 per week to $150 a month, the Ontario Legislative Committee inquiring into leaseholds and rentals found today in the opening hours of the local sittings in City Hall.

Erwin Lewis startled the committee men twice—the first time when he said he was renting 23 rooms at from $2.50 to $4 each a week—the second when he said he was perfectly satisfied.

Nootka Captures Seven Vessels

WITH THE CANADIAN DESTROYERS IN THE FAR EAST, May 30 (CP).—In a night operation, the Canadian destroyer Nootka captured seven small North Korean vessels which were attempting to run the United Nations blockade.

The action took place recently off the west coast of Korea on a night when heavy fog covered the enemy fleet—made up of junks and sampans. However, the destroyer's radar detected them and a specially-equipped boat was put over the side, with Lieut. Anthony Slater of Victoria in charge and PO Edward Randall of Halifax as coxswain.

The Nootka guided its boats' movement with her radar and radio, and armed parties boarded the anchored enemy fleet, cut their cables and brought them back in groups of two and three to the Canadian destroyer.

Crews of the junks, who were found drugged with opium, had a rude awakening when they reached the destroyer and were hauled aboard. Before dawn, the Canadians had taken seven vessels of nine sighted over the ship's radar. They did not return for the other two because of the danger of a dawn enemy air attack in inshore waters.

Send Note To Russia On Paris Deadlock

LONDON, May 30 (Reuters).—The three western powers have agreed to send a note to the Russian government in Moscow on the deadlock in the 13-week foreign minister deputies' talks in Paris, diplomatic quarters here said today.

The note is expected to be dispatched to the Soviet government within 48 hours, these quarters said.

The deputies of the foreign ministers are due to meet in Paris again Thursday afternoon.

It was believed that the western deputies would present a copy of the note to the Soviet deputy, Andrei Gromyko, at Thursday's meeting. It would also be transmitted through the embassies of the United States, Britain, and France in Moscow.

Killed In Action

SAIGON, Indo-China, May 30 (Reuters).—Lt. Bernard De Lattre de Tassigny, 23-year-old son of the French commander-in-chief in Indo-China, was killed in action today at Ninhbhin, about 70 miles southeast of Hanoi, a special army communique announced.

Fear Soviet Intervention In Blockade

Russia Would Strike If US Attempted Act Alone—Admiral

WASHINGTON, May 30. — (AP)—Admiral Forrest Sherman testified today that Russia might forcibly oppose a United States naval blockade of Red China.

The chief of naval operations added:

"The fact is that our Allies have been unwilling to join in a naval blockade of China and have been slow to establish a tight economic blockade."

Sherman was testifying at the inquiry by the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees into the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands.

MacArthur was fired for publicly advocating a Korean war strategy embracing a naval blockade of China, bombing of Red Chinese bases in Manchuria, and use of Chinese Nationalist troops now on the island of Formosa.

Sherman said Communist China is vulnerable to a naval blockade.

But he made it clear he was opposed to the United States undertaking a blockade on its own.

Sherman said that if the United Nations should declare such a blockade—Russia probably would respect it as the Soviets have respected the naval blockade of Korea. He added:

Too Dangerous

"If the United States should declare a blockade unilaterally (alone), the Russians might not respect it, and it is conceivable that they might oppose it by force."

Sherman testified US naval forces have swept up "several thousand" Russian mines in Korean waters. He said the Soviets apparently can make the mines about as fast as they can be destroyed.

When the question of the Russian mines was first raised, censors cut out about 140 words of his testimony.

Then Chairman Richard B. Russell (Dem. Ga.) of the joint committees asked:

"We have swept up quite a few of these Russian mines?"

Sherman: "We have swept several thousand of them."

Russell: "Have we made some inroads in the supply they probably had there from Vladivostok and other Russian ports?"

Sherman: "I would like to be that optimistic, but I am afraid they can probably be manufactured at a rate just as fast as our recovery of them"

Russians Free Danish Trawler

ROENNE, Denmark, May 30.—(Reuters)—The Danish fishing trawler Anne Mona arrived here today after being detained by the Russians in the Baltic for 17 days.

The crew of four said their ship was challenged by a destroyer and taken to a Russian harbor. A guard of six men put aboard.

The Danes were later fined 150 kroner ($20) for fishing in what the Russians claimed were territorial waters. They also had to pay 700 kroner ($98) for food while under detention.

The trawler's crew claimed they were at least 35 miles off Soviet-controlled territory.

3 Canadian Navy Ships Reach Britain On Cruise

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 30 (CP)—Two Canadian frigates and a destroyer arrived today from Halifax with 135 naval cadets on their first major training cruise.

The destroyer Crescent and the frigates La Hulloise and Swansea will remain in Portsmouth Harbor until Tuesday while the cadets are taken on a tour of the port's shore establishments.

They will be escorted through the navigation, torpedo, naval gunnery and other schools by Lt.-Cmdr. W. W. MacColl, of Halifax. Later they will be shown over Nelson's flagship Victory, followed by a round of sight-seeing and entertainment.

Between instructional classes the cadets, from colleges across Canada, will be given time off to visit London and Winchester as well as some of the English countryside.

Tuesday, the ships will leave for Rosythe where the home fleet will be engaged in North-Sea exercises. The Canadian destroyers, however, will not take part.

The cruise was arranged to provide training for the young sailors in the handling of ships and practical duties on the high seas. Many of them are expected to join the regular navy or be assigned to the reserve.

Recover One Body

TIMMINS, May 30. (CP)—Discovery Tuesday night of the body of George Ritchie, 24, one of three men missing in Nighthawk Lake since May 21 spurred on search of the waters for the other two today. Ritchie's body was found in the water near the north shore about three miles from the spot where Donald Spearn, 22, was found alive last Wednesday by searchers.

Decide Woman Murdered Before Fire

MONTREAL, May 30 (CP) — Police said today that 23-year-old Mrs. Roland Genest was murdered in her east-end apartment Tuesday night. Her charred body was found on a blazing mattress by firemen.

Lieut. Russell Senecal of the homicide squad said that an autopsy revealed the woman died of multiple skull fractures, "probably inflicted by blows from a small instrument like a hammer."

Dr. Rosario Fontaine and Dr. Jean-Marie Roussell, who performed the autopsy, said no trace of carbon dioxide was found in the woman's blood stream, indicating that she was dead when the fire started in her apartment.

A six man coroner's court jury was sworn in after the autposy to hear evidence presented by the medico-legal experts and police.

Smelled Smoke

Firemen were called to her home after a baby-sitter in an adjoining apartment said she smelled smoke.

The fire-fighters broke into the third-floor apartment and found a mattress burning. They did not see the woman's body until they threw the mattress in the bathtub to extinguish the flames.

Police were called in when blood smears were found on the pillows and the woman's face.

Her 25-year-old husband, an employee of the Montreal Tramways Company, arrived home about two hours after the discovery.

King Cancels Trip To Ireland

LONDON, May 30 (Reuters).—The King today decided not to make his planned weekend trip to Northern Ireland. Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret will carry out the program arranged for the visit

The King has been confined to his room at Buckingham Palace with a mild attack of influenza. Today he missed the 172nd running of the Derby at Epsom.

After his doctors had visited the King today it was announced the 55-year-old monarch had not shaken off his attack of influenza and had decided, on the advice of his doctors, not to go to Northern Ireland.

The King's temperature still is unsettled, the palace statement said.

Though the King is not going to Ireland, the tight security measures imposed by the Northern Ireland police following recent Republican extremist activities will be mai. tained.

Belfast police yesterday detained 13 suspected members of the Irish Republican Army who are agitating for the union of the six northern counties—still part of the United Kingdom—with the Republic of Ireland.

Winner Gets Purse Of $54,561 For Epsom Victory

By The Canadian Press

Arctic Prince galloped home first today in the Epsom Derby. Not a Canadian had a winning Irish Sweepstakes ticket on the horse—nor on the second-place finisher.

However, Shirley S. Slinn, former Ottawa alderman, won about $29,000 with a ticket on Signal Box, which came in third.

At least four persons got into the money in the Quebec Sweeps. Canadians known to have held starting tickets, worth $1,120 each, in the big Irish draw included: Douglas Terry, Mrs. Myrtle Carter, William Cross, George Adair and Sidney Weir, all of Toronto; Mrs. Mildred Little of Port Credit, Ont.

The big-money winner in the Quebec Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Sweepstake was Therese Trepanier of Three Rivers, Que. She got $34,500 with a winning ticket on Arctic Prince, a 33-to-1 shot.

Second-place money of $20,000 went to Robert Belanger of Montreal who held a ticket on Sybil's Nephew. Signal Box, third, brought William Anderson of Winnipeg $13,000.

Three Ontario residents held starting tickets in the Quebec sweeps and will share in a pool of $20,000.

They are Arthur MacDonnell of Brioux Ave., Peterborough; C. V. Letheren of Guelph and Polito Nasso of Oshawa.

A ticket on Arctic Prince in the Irish Sweepstakes was worth $149,500.

Arctic Prince Wins

Arctic Prince, a 28-1 outsider, sped to a six-length victory today in the 172nd and richest running of the famed Epsom Derby.

Second place went to Lord Milford's Sybil's Nephew by a head in a photo finish, with Signal Box, owned by Frank Dennis, third.

Ki Ming, winner of the two-thousand Guineas Classic earlier this month, started as the 9-1 favorite, but finished out of the money.

Four place was taken by Le Tyrol, owned by an American, Raph Strassburger, now residing in France.

A field of 33 horses started the 2½-mile race, and the winner, owned by Joe McGrath, received a purse of $54,561.

Sybil'sNepehw closed at 50 to 1 and Signal Box, 20 to 1.

One of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes is based on the Derby.

Two French colts, Le Vent and Nyangal, were sixth and seventh.

The field was reduced to 33 this morning when Barna Remedy was reported lame and was scratched.

Irish Voters Go To Polls

DUBLIN, May 30. (AP)—Irish voters choose today between Prime Minister John A. Costello's coalition regime and the single-party government offered by 68-year-old Eamon de Valera, trying for a political comeback.

More than 1,000,000 ballots are expected to be cast as the New York-born De Valera strives to regain the premiership he held for 16 years—until his Fianna Fail party lost control of the Dail (parliament) in 1948.

Meeker May Abandon His Hockey Career

GALT, May 30 (CP)—Howie Meeker, right winger with Toronto Maple Leafs, may not continue his hockey career if elected to parliament.

Meeker, who is Progressive Conservative candidate for the federal by-election in South Waterloo June 25, said in an interview today that if elected he didn't think he could play professional hockey and "do justice to my job in Ottawa."

He said he has not signed a Maple Leaf contract for 1951-52 and that he has no obligations to the Leafs.

April Trade Deficit $93,000,000 Fourth In a Row

OTTAWA, May 30. (CP)—Canada's purchases from the United States in April climbed $116,000,000 to $278,000,000 from $162,000,000, contributing to another monthly trade deficit—the fourth in a row. Total trade, the Bureau of Statistics reported in a preliminary statement Tuesday, increased to $693,000,000, up $250,000,000 from last year's $440,600,000. The deficit — $93,000,000—brought the total adverse balance for the first four months of 1951 to $217,200,000. Last year, in this period, Canada had a surplus, but ended up the year with a small $17,000,000 adverse balance, the first in almost 20 years.

Trade officials said they do not consider the current pattern either serious or indicative for 1951. They estimated a strong and healthy Canadian demand for goods as well as defence requirements are contributing factors. Exports, they said, likely will pick up in the summer months, reversing the trend.

Both Climbing

Meanwhile, exports and imports are climbing. Shipments to all countries increased to $300,200,000, up almost $100,000,000 from last year's $209,700,000. Imports swelled to 3393,100,000, a gain of about $160,000,000 from $230,900,000.

Though the figures are preliminary and subject to revision, they show up this trend—Canada's buying from the US is climbing faster than her sales to that country.

Exports to the US in April increased about $50,000,000 to $185,100,000 from $139,300,000. But imports shot ahead to $278,700,000 from $162,200,000.

On a lesser scale, trade with Britain and with other Commonwealth countries climbed, too. Sales to the United Kingdom increased to $41,800,000 from $26,000,000. Imports advanced to $48,700,000 from $29,500,000. That gave Britain a small balance of $7,000,000.

In trade with other Commonwealth countries, exports increased to $19,700,000 from $15,500,000, while imports advanced to $22,300,000 from $13,100,000.

Aids Both Groups

Thus these other countries, too, gained a small favorable balance of $2,600,000. In former years Canada usually had a favorable balance with these countries, but currency restrictions imposed by Britain in 1949 trimmed purchases in Canada and other dollar countries.

Canada completed a round of discussions with Britain last week aimed at lessening these cuts and re-establishing, to some degree, the pattern of trade which existed prior to dollar-trade controls

Wildcat Strike Staged By 30

Some 30 production workers at the Ontario Marble Co. Ltd. today began their third day of what has been described as an "unofficial sitdown strike."

There have been no demonstrations or walkouts. The workers have clocked in in the morning but have refused to do their jobs.

Cause of the work stoppage was the appointment by the company of a new foreman. He was taken from the shop in violation of the seniority clause in the company-union agreement, the marble-workers contend. And they say they have a legitimate grievance.

To try and make the company reverse its decision the production workers have refused to work. One employee said that the union had urged the men to get back on the job but without success.

Neither the company nor officials of Local 527, United Electrical Workers, would comment on the situation.

Urges Specific Date For Federal Elections

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP). — The question of designating a specific polling day for all federal general elections may be considered by the Commons elections committee.

The committee, which recommends changes in election procedure to the Commons, heard a proposal Tuesday for the abolition of the present method of cabinet setting the date for each election.

W. D. Wylie (SC, Medicine Hat) said a certain date should be set by parliament for an election every four years.

"The sooner we do that, the better," he advised.

Sarto Fournier (L, Maisonneuve - Rosemont), committee chairman, ruled discussion of the point out of order for the moment but said Mr. Wylie might bring it up later.

Prices Climb Slowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP) — Prices climbed slowly but steadily as the session progressed on the Stock Market today.

Industrials attracted the most interest. Gains ramged from frractions to the $3.50 jump of Canada Cement. Papers paced the board with a solid column of plus signs and steels, utilities, agricultures, foods, textiles and manufacturing companies followed.

Retail stores were lower and liquors, refining oils, banks and constructions were mixed.

Nickl issues led Base Metals higher following news of an increase in the price of nickel. International Nickel was up 1⅞ and Falconbridge added $1. Waite Amulet, Steep Rock, Sherritt Gordon, Noranda and East Sullivan posted moderate advances. United Keno Hill, Quemont and Consolidated Smelters slipped a little.

Western Oils firmed.

Senior Gold Producers were at a standstill while several secondary issues eased pennies.

Careless Driver Pays Fine $10, Costs $18.75

Percy Little, 887 Water St, was today fined $10 and $18.75 costs when he was found guilty of careless driving. A charge of having inadequate brakes was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence.

Little appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp on Monday and pleaded not guilty to both charges.

Then, Charles Hulcio of Oshawa testified he was driving south on George St. the night of May 12 and had stopped for a traffic light at Simcoe St.

He had crossed Simcoe St., and stopped for a long line of southbound traffic, when he felt a crash. He said he went to the car that hit him and found Little in the driver's seat

"There was a slight odor of alcohol on him," said Hulcio

Little's explanation for the accident, which did $22 damage to the Hulcio car, was that his foot slipped off the steel brake pedal on his 1928 car and he had to brake again before the accident occurred.

Defence counsel John Corkery argued that it was a case of "pure or unavoidable accident" and cited two cases to support his argument. Magistrate Philp held defence counsel's argument was untenable.

Dollar Unchanged

MONTREAL, May 30 (CP). — The American dollar today opened at 6 11-16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, unchanged from Tuesday's close. That is, it took $1.06 11-16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.98¾ —also unchanged.

Dutch Veteran Saves 3 Men In RCAF Crash

CENTRALIA, May 30 (CP)—William Koele, a young veteran of the Dutch Army, was credited Tuesday by RCAF officials with saving the lives of two of three fliers seriously injured in a crash of a training plane.

The twin-engined Beechcraft Expediter plunged to earth shortly before noon three-quarters of a mile north of Centralia Airport a few seconds after taking off and burst into flames.

The third man, believed to be the pilot, was thrown clear of the wreckage, still strapped to his seat. He was conscious but badly burned.

The pilot was identified as Flt.-Lieut. A. A. Harris of Exeter, 35-year-old DFC winner and Bomber Command veteran. He is commander of the examining flight here. The other two were 21-year-old flight cadets from Western Canada, Harry Edward Blair of Youngstown, Alta., and Leonard Murray Vaughan of Bangor, Sask.

Koele, a hired man on the farm of Wellington Haist, pulled two of the fliers from the burning wreckage even though there was grave danger of a gasoline explosion. Koele has been in Canada only 11 months.

Koele, who was in the Dutch Army for three years and was used to emergencies, said it took him almost five minutes to cut one flier loose from the wreckage. He used a large pocket knife issued by the army.

"The plane broke up and burst into flames. I jumped from my tractor, ran to the scene, and one man—I think he was the pilot—had tumbled from the wreckage. He was on fire from his waist up.

"I pulled the second fellow out and laid him in a ditch. Then I went into the body of the plane and cut loose a third man who was injured. It took me about five minutes to get him out and the heat was getting pretty bad."

Assault Count Dismissed In Family Fight

A charge of assaulting his father-in-law against Sylvester Delaire, Elm St., was dismissed today by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

The father-in-law, Lorne Henry Cleveland Weaver, testified that on May 12 he and his daughter and son-in-law were at a River Rd. home when the assault occurred.

He said they had had a few drinks and "my daughter was sarcastic to him (Delairs) and he threw her into a puddle."

"I guess I said something to him, because the next thing I saw was a fist and that was the last thing I saw," said Weaver. Weaver said he suffered a dislocated nose and cuts.

Under cross-examination by defence counsel John Corkery, Weaver admitted the occasion was "vague" in his memory.

Delaire told court that when he was at the River Rd. house, "my wife started to chew at me, and I went out and sat in my car."

He said she came out, and twice tried to pull wires from his motor. When she did it the second time, he said, "I gave her a little slap and she backed into the mud puddle."

"Her father came up and, if you don't mind a little language, said 'You....., you can't do that to my daughter.' He hit me on the side of the jaw. I told him not to do it again because I didn't like it.

"He came at me again, and I hit him twice, on the eye and the nose," said Delaire.

"This man is quite a bit older than you," remarked Magistrate Philp. "Do you think you should have hit him?"

"He packs an awful wallop," said Delaire.

Other witnesses called by the accused, supported his testimony.

Reds Lash Back

Good Targets

Duncan and Peterson said they had equally good targets but did not estimate the results of their fire.

Lieut. Wellington Hamilton of Niagara Falls, Ont., one of Medland's platoon commanders, summed up the action tersely:

"They were shooting at us. We were catching hell. But we had a lot of targets and shot right back. Then the targets began getting thicker—and closer."

Field dispatches reported United Nations troops had fought to within 12 miles of Kumhwa, Communist base in central Korea, and seized another crossroads above Inje on the east-central front.

In Tokyo, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, said the Reds were severely defeated in their spring offensives but still were determined and capable of renewd all-out battle.

Rainy Season Starts

Heavy rains swept most of the battlefront today, ushering in Korea's rainy season. Zero visibility cut allied air attacks to 126 sorties.

Red troops, seizing the weather advantage, lashed back at UN supply lines on the east-central front. A Communist attack cut south Korean defences on the Inje-Hyon road. Reds set up road blocks both sides of Inje, covering mined roads with bazooka and machine-gun fire.

An American armored force fought through heavy fire and thick mud before seizing a strategic road junction six miles northeast of Inje. The seizure represented a 1½-mile gain for the day.

Red resistance mounted steadily. The Communists apparently were determined to make United Nations forces pay heavily for any further advance into North Korea, AP correspondent Stan Carter reported from Eighth Army headquarters. UN troops had lunged 26 miles north of the 38th Parallel border, cutting all motor escape routes from South Korea. But field dispatches said apparently most Reds already had escaped—or died trying to get out.

Despite the stiffening fight north of 38, there was growing evidence of widespread discontent in Communist ranks.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said 10,000 Reds have been captured since they began their ill-fated spring offensives April 22. He added:

"Desertion has become a definite and serious problem for the Communists well back into their rear areas."

Ridway, back from a two-day visit to the sodden front, warned that Communist leaders would not compromise. And they still have power to strike again, he said, despite "a major, severe defeat" in their spring offensives. Five Chinese armies are still in Korea.

At Starting Point

Rain-drenched UN troops had driven the Reds back to the starting point of their first spring offensive.

Field dispatches reported Communist forces apparently reached a holding stage as Allies threatened their staging bases in the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Hwachon triangle.

Across the front morning field dispatches and communiques gave this picture from west to east;

West — South Korean troops across the Imjin River north of Seoul fought a Red battalion. Reds camouflaged on high ground blocked Americans trying to fight their way into Yonchon, six miles north of the parallel.

West Central—American troops advanced to the Hantan River north of Yongyong. This put them about five miles north of 38. UN troops, headed toward Kumhwa on a nearby road, drove to "a point high above the parallel," Carter reported.

Central—Large groups of Reds spotted west of Hwachon appeared to be delaying troops rather than retreating Communists, an Eighth Army spokesman said. South Koreans battled toward them. Reds stubbornly resisted UN forces fighting north and east from recaptured Hwachon.

Million At Race

In fine weather with the going rated "good," an estimated 1,000,000 Britons crowded historic Epsom Downs for the event.

Among them were Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and Queen Mary. An attack of flu kept King George away.

First to show on top was the outsider Part du Lyon, followed by Woodcote Inn. The latter took the lead after a furlong, but Ki Ming and Mystery IX ranged up after two furlongs and the Chinese-owned favorite took the lead.

He and Mystery IX vied for leadership all the way up the long hill with the French outsider a shade in front as they went into the turn.

Takes Lead

As the field hit treacherous Tattenham Corner—a sharp, left-hand, downhill turn into the stretch—Mystery IX was being hotly chased by Ki Ming with Le Vent and Arctic Prince moving through the field

Arctic Prince, trained in England but Irish-owned, took the lead three furlongs out. Ki Ming's effort was spent, but Le Tyrol, Sybil's Nephew, and Signal Box went after the leader.

Arctic Prince was sired by Prince Chevalier which won the 1946 French Derby.

Champion jockey Gordon Richards' mount, Stokes, finished far in the ruck.

Time was 2 minutes 39 2-5 seconds.

Say Freedom Of Press Threatened

Drew Charges Boost In Mail Rates Blow To Newspapers

OTTAWA, May 30. (CP)—The Government was accused in the Commons Tuesday of proposing, either by design or oversight, to curtail the dissemination of news and the freedom of the press by increasing postage rates on newspapers.

The charge was made as Progressive Conservatives opened an attack on a new and revised Postal Act which proposes, among other things, to boost the mailing charges for newspapers and periodicals by almost 100 per cent.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said nothing should be done to limit the circulation of newspapers at a time when democracy is threatened, and urged the government to withdraw the legislation pending further study.

Joseph Noseworthy (CCF, York South) bespoke CCF approval of the projected increase and said he thought the people would support increases which would bring newspapers and periodicals "closer to a point of paying their own way."

Fees For Service

Postmaster - General Rinfret, piloting the legislation, said the rates are not taxes, but fees charged for rendering a service. The Post Office had to increase rates to meet higher costs but, even with the new rates, it still would be carrying papers and periodicals at a loss.

The bill later was given a second reading, indicating approval of the principle.

Mr. Rinfret reported that the handling of newspapers and periodicals cost the department $15,816,015 in the 1950-51 fiscal year, compared with a postage return of $3,995,963, leaving a deficit of nearly $12,000,00. The increase would bring in another $2,000,000 in revenue.

He said the department would be able to reduce the letter rate for all parts of Canada to three cents from four if it collected enough to cover the deficit on newspapers and periodicals.

He Gives Twice Who Gives Quickly

Once again we call the attention of our readers to the Mayor's Fire Fund, which is for the benefit of the families of the four men who were killed in the fire of May 19. The response to the appeal has been heartening, but if the total sum is to be large enough to be of lasting help to the four bereaved families, many more contributions will be needed. We urge those citizens who intend to contribute to the Fund to do so at once, and the reason for our urgency is this: with every day that passes the memory of the fire grows fainter, and the inclination to give grows less; but the need of those who have been left without breadwinners by the fire grows more pressing with every hour. Never was the old proverb truer: he gives twice who gives quickly.

* * *

Disasters awaken our pity, and put us in a frame of mind to help those who have suffered. But it is human nature to delay, and to change our minds as the horror of the past grows less acute. Please give now, while you still remember the calamity which brought the Mayor's Fire Fund into being.

Crisis Approaches In Iran

Today the meeting of the Iranian government's oil nationalization board takes place. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company has appealed to the International Court of Justice at The Hague to appoint an arbitrator in the dispute, and Britain has made it known that she does not object in principle to the nationalization of oil in Iran. She cannot agree, however, to a one-sided arrangement, and she does not recognize the legality of today's proceedings. She refused to send representations to the meeting with power to sign on the dotted line, but has compromised by sending an "observer."

The Iranians, for their part, hold that the International Court is not competent to handle the dispute. The plain fact is that they have no really convincing case to offer to the Court. Such a case would have to sound convincing to non-Iranian ears. The suggestion that the 1933 agreement was not valid because it was concluded with Reza Shah will not hold water; only two years ago the Iranian parliament gratuitously bestowed upon the late Shah the title of "The Great". The most promising line of argument, namely that of some overriding "natural law", has not yet been presented in coherent form to the outside world by the Iranian government. There is still the threat of force, which if used will almost inevitably bring disaster unless Britain's Labour Government, deprived of much useful support from the U.S., decides to knuckle under spinelessly for the sake of avoiding a World War.

The U.S. has been urging moderation on both sides without effect. Bearing in mind the considerable oil interests of that country in the Middle East it is strange that the Americans have not made a stronger stand. If the Iranians succeed in their manoeuvre it will be the green light to Iraq and Saudi Arabia to cancel their agreements with the American companies. The idea of honouring agreements, which is fundamental to good business and credit, is foreign to the Middle East: that is one of the reasons why this area is so backward. It is time now for the Americans to show their hand if they wish to preserve their assets.

Kirk And Stane

It is reported that the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland has voted down by an overwhelming majority eight motions demanding the return of the Stone of Scone to Scotland. This may seem puzzling to the average Canadian, who has been led to suppose that the Scots would not rest until this hallowed relic was back once more on Scottish soil. Doubtless there are a number of Scots who feel that way, but the Scot is a commonsense type who rarely lets his emotions dictate his course of action. The theft of the stone was widely denounced in Scotland as a disgrace to King and country—the King and country of Scotland, of course. The subsequent commercialization of the story hurt the pride and dignity of the Scots more than it did the English, who were quick to point it out as an instance of the money-making propensities of their Northern neighbours. The Auld Kirk, for all the nationalist element in its ranks, has no wish to be mixed up in the consequences of an undergraduate escapade.

There is another reason. There is a Presbyterian tradition dating back to the Reformation of the separation of the functions of Church and State. Unlike the Church in England the Church of Scotland has maintained its independence from the State with greater success. It is true that the Presbyterian Church enjoys certain privileges, mainly of an honorary character, in Scotland, but it chooses its own officials and is exempt from state interference except in matters that pertain to the State, such as the transfer of property, the registration of marriages and so on. The Stone of Scone is a symbol of secular authority, dating from the days before the Reformation when the Kings of Scotland were crowned in the Abbey of Scone, when Church and State were allies. The Kirk is not interested in Caesar's property: they are content to let it rest at Westminster.

A Monitor System On 'Phone Calls

The Committee on Crime of the Ontario Legislature has been told that the federal government is at present considering an amendment to the Criminal Code which would permit the tracing of telephone calls. At first this seems to be alarming news, for its suggests wire-tapping, and recording of telephone conversations, and other invasions of the proper privacy of the citizen. It suggests also a disagreeable subornation of the Bell Telephone Company, which makes a special and confidential type of contract with each user of its service. But upon investigation the proposed police action seems comparatively harmless. It would consist of a monitor device which would be used at the central telephone exchange, in order to record the telephone numbers of all callers to suspected premises; the police would not be able to use such a monitor without permission from a judge. We cannot see that legitimate business premises would have anything to fear from such a plan, nor do we think that the police would set to work with no more evidence than a list of telephone numbers. What we do not see is how bettors could be prevented from calling bookies from public telephones, or what use an unusual number of calls from public 'phones would be as a suggestion of guilt.

If the proposed legislation permitting the use of a monitor system goes through, it must be understood that it is not to be the thin edge of the wedge for further police interference with the telephone system. The Bell Telephone Company must insist that relations between itself and its subscribers be free from government snooping, wire-tapping, recording of conversations or any of those other nasty tricks which appeal to the fascist mind; such methods are always undertaken for the good of the state, and they always succeed in doing the state harm. But a monitor system does not sound very serious. Indeed, we wonder if it is serious enough to curb betting effectively.

Illegal betting is authoritatively stated to be the biggest and most profitable racket in Ontario. We have suggested several times that the best way to reduce it is to enlarge the opportunities for legal and controlled gambling. Apparently the authorities do not agree with us, and are determined to see what strong repressive measures can achieve. It is plain that such strong repressive measures will be impossible unless the police are given wider powers than they have now. If they are to find the racketeers, they must not be expected to do so with their hands tied behind their backs. Therefore we say, give the police such powers as they need, always taking care that these powers are not such as to limit the freedom of ordinary law-abiding citizens, and let us see what an intensive campaign against gambling racketeers can do. If it succeeds, that will be admirable. If it fails, we suggest that the plan of liberalising gambling has still to be tried.

ON THE MARGIN

Of Escape And Of Mom

THE GREAT ESCAPE, by Paul Brickhill (Faber and Faber).

THIS is the second book by Paul Brickhill dealing with life in the prisoner-of-war camps in Germany. It may be remembered that his first "Escape to Danger" was written in conjunction with Conrad Norton and dealt only briefly with the most famous (or infamous) escape of all, and in this book as the title suggests it is the star performance. The mass escape of seventy-six Allied air-force officers from Stalag Luft III and the subsequent murder of fifty of them is, for the more fortunate of us, a fast receding moment of horror on a very bloody page of history, but for the men who watched the brilliant planning, and who were part of the vast machinery in that factory of escape, it is still an only partially avenged crime.

In "The Great Escape" F/L Brickhill recreates for his readers the long and tedious years of waiting and hoping, the careful planning and self-sacrifices of the men not even destined to make the 'break' at all but who worked willingly towards the one goal. Men who gave what little food they had to make 'escape rations', whose clothes were filched to make 'civilians' disguises' and whose beds eventually became nothing more than sagging string mesh because the bedboards had been commandeered for use in the three famous tunnels—'Tom, Dick and Harry'.

In all this, of course, one man stands out alone whether intentionally or otherwise, Roger Bushell, who was the brain and driving force behind THE plan and whose wonderful energy and organizing ability was destroyed at a German roadside by two bullets in his back. Prior to the war, Roger Bushell was a barrister living in Tite Street, Chelsea, London, sharing what I suppose is called a 'modest' flat with Michael Peacock, another barrister. Both were members of the volunteer reserve, 601 defence of London Squadron. Bushell had a very promising career at the bar although his boundless energy sometimes took him out of line; being a skier of some ability he once skied down the stairs of the officers' mess at Hendon without injury to himself although he did bruise the most important senior airforce officer present. He was shot down in 1940 leading the Spitfires of his squadron during the retreat to Dunkirk and landed without personal damage in what he thought, and hoped, was British-held territory. It was not, and the Germans who apparently knew nothing of the dangers of caging and underfeeding lions, sent him to the reception camp for Air Force officers. From then on for four years he plagued the German authorities, with nuisance tunnels and real tunnels, with small escapes and big ones—twice he almost made friendly territory and twice was brought back to solitary confinement. Eventually, at Stalag Luft III, he teamed up with some other experienced escapees and they evolved the seemingly perfect plan. There were many setbacks which would have completely disheartened and defeated an ordinary man; Bushell obviously was not that, he had some inner strength with which to drive himself and others on. "The Great Escape" is a story of courage and determination in the face of enormous odds and of an indomitable will that brooked no failure until the tragic finale.

Paul Brickhill has returned to Germany twice since the war, accompanying the men whose duty it was to find and punish the murderers of the fifty officers that were shot. Some have been found and punished by hanging or imprisonment, but, as F/L Brickhill comments with understandable bitterness, life imprisonment is twenty-one years and there will probably be amnesty before then, which means that a very small price is being exacted for a gross and criminal act. ELIZABETH, by Dick Diespecker.

MR. Diespecker, the author of this so-called novel, is English, and Canadian by adoption. He has lived in British Columbia intermittently since his youth where he now works for the Vancouver Daily Province newspaper and in radio. He has written radio plays and published verse. This is his first "novel".

It is a mother-book, apparently a work of filial piety and reminiscent admiration. The mother is Elizabeth, an Englishwoman who taught school in South Africa, found a husband, an engineer with a greater restlessness for finding a gold mine around the next bend than engineering success. Elizabeth spends her years chasing after her husband, raising a large family of boys and trying to make a home.

Despite Mr. Diespecker's assertion that "Rudolph was a man of gentle words and hard action; a reader of books and stars, and a wanderer in far places; a man of velvet and steel", the father never pans out to much. He was once in the chips sufficiently to establish the family in a gracious country house in England, but this lasted only in the memory of the family. By 1908 they were all out in Canada seeking their fortune and not finding it. The next year Rudolph left the family to fend for themselves and went off to South Africa again. Elizabeth did not see him until 1915, when she and the younger sons went out to be with him. The burden of father slipped from their shoulders for ever after the war (death mercifully came), and the brave Elizabeth returned to British Columbia, her last trek.

The source materials of a good novel are here—the saga of a nomad English family buffeted over the seven seas by the weakness of a father and the fortitude of a mother; or, to say it more gently,—by the idealism of one, the realism of the other. But the author is too near his subjects and too personally involved in the theme (it is obviously his own mother and own family) to see it with artistic detachment.

As a novel "Elizabeth" is very bad. Had he given the story frankly as the biography of his family, centred on the mother, without noveltistic pretentions, literary emulations and portentous efforts to be poetic, it would have had greater strength, credibility and interest. The book falls flat between a good novel and a good biography. It might succeed very well as the script of a radio true-life 'drama', read by a vibrating announcer's voice, with sound-effects.

The sound-effects in the book are rather embarrasing. Every time the mother is in a heroic moment of crisis or a gentle one of resignation, there is a passage of italicized purple prose. Every time the author feels that the occasion is momentous, the mood solemn, the fates fateful, out comes a passage of blank verse; mood-pieces (also italicized). The occasions are more numerous than his verse can sustain, although many of the lines are good as poetry. It's all very noble and touching, but it is not the stuff of which novels, poetry or biography are compounded.

Mr. Diespecker had better try again. Somerset Maugham has repeated that every man has one novel within him. The trouble is that too many make it their first one. The publishers have done handsomely by the author in the setting up of the book and in the pen-and-ink chapter introductory drawings by Ron Jackson. T.J.A.

THE WORD OF LOVE: POEMS, by Paul Engle (Random House).

NOT having read anything of Mr. Engle's previously, I am not in a position to consider whether this new book, containing twenty-three poems, compares favourably or otherwise with his earlier work. The book is nicely presented but unfortunately the contents seem self-conscious and stilted. Certainly most moderns favour the terse, telegraphic style but "The Word of Love" contains none of the redeeming, though acid, charm of an Ogden Nash nor yet the sympathetic, lyric quality of the works of John Pudney or Alun Lewis. Perhaps readers less immune to 'modern symbolism' will find torrid depths in Paul Engle, but I, searching for the motive force or message behind the verse found not even a mood,—only that a well educated and able man had written a book of verse giving of his mind and the surface of his emotions whilst still withholding his heart, without which poetry does not really exist. "THE MURMURING PINES AND THE HEMLOCKS"

Letter To The Editor

ONE DOLLAR CLUB

Sir: The recent tragic fire in your city wherein four fire fighters lost their lives and because of which four wives became widows and fourteen children were left fatherless brings again before our eyes and minds the fact that something definite, constructive and of a material nature should be done to protect and support the ones who are left behind whenever a fire fighter, permanent or volunteer, gives his life in the battle against the demon fire.

Surely somewhere a service club of some kind could commence and manage a fire fighters' beneficiary scheme that could include all fire fighters and those noble citizens who pitch in and help the fire fighters at just one fire and then accidentally lose their lives at it?—the fire buffs and the fire fans?

What I have in mind is a Fire Fighters One Dollar Club. Maybe a yearly membership of a dollar. And then every time that a member dies or is killed then everyone else pays a dollar to his beneficiary. Possibly it could be made legal or lawful and administered at very little cost? But it would need some service club to start it, to handle it and advertise it, (either on a provincial or nation-wide basis), and carry it along until it could stand on its own feet and possibly have its own elected representatives. But I feel that the need is there.

I have been a fire fighter for twenty-four years. Two years of that service were spent overseas with the fire fighters that Canada sent over to help fight fires in Britain under the National Fire Service there in wartime. My three children are now of high school age. But I have had nearly a dozen narrow escapes when my children were quite young—just like these fatherless children in your city My own children might have been in their place. I am enclosing a poem which I think that every fire fighter unconsciously prays about.

But it seems to me that the wives and the children of fire fighters need and deserve something a little more tangible than the blessing of God;—And something more in the line of hard cold cash as well as—His protecting hand—mentioned in the poem.

I hope your fund turns out well for those bereaved wives and children,—and am enclosing $4.00 to help it along a little bit. If you could find space in the columns of your paper for my letter or the enclosed poem I would appreciate having it published.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE R. RONALD,
Fire Fighter Captain.

A FIRE FIGHTER'S PRAYER
(By James J. Metcalfe)

Dear God of each and all of us
Deliver us from evil things,
From fire, flood and sudden death
If a siren or a fire bell rings.

And when I'm called to duty, God...
Wherever flames may rage...
Give me the strength to save some life...
Whatever be its age...

Help me embrace a little child...
Before it is too late...
Or save an older person from
The horror of the fate...

Enable me to be alert...
And hear the weakest shout...
And quickly and efficiently...
To put the fire out...

I want to fill my calling and...
To give the best in me...
To guard my every neighbour and...
Protect his property...

And if according to my fate...
I am to lose my life...
Please bless with Your protecting hand...
My children and my wife.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; and ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately....And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not. (Luke 12: 35, 36, 39, 40.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night....But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness. Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober. (I Thess. 5: 2, 4-6.)

Buttercups For Laughter

(Ottawa Journal)

One does not know how the story started, but according to Pliny, an ancient writer of renown, he who eats a buttercup is stirred to such a gale of laughter that unless he takes a drink of date wine mixed with pepper he will guffaw himself directly into the next world in a most undignified manner. In early epochs, we are told, warriors used one species to make poison in which to dip their arrow heads. Furthermore, legend has it that buttercups were a cure for lunacy if applied to the neck in the full of the moon of scorpion. Everyone knows that a blossom held beneath the chin will tell whether or not you like butter!

Buttercups belong to the large crowfoot family of plants which contain both annual and perennial herbs; the crowfoot refers to the shape of the leaves. Botanically our common meadow buttercup is ranunculus acris, a cousin of spurred columbines, modest wood anemones, and the marsh marigolds. There is something appealing about unpretentious buttercups; their petals gleam in the sun—sun that is reflected in the deep gold of the blossom petals.

The rosette of glowing yellow stamens is a favourite of bees and butterflies; the stem is sturdy, hairy and branched. The decorative leaves are cut and slashed in complicated fashion and the long-stemmed blossoms bloom for a period of weeks. It has no distinctive fragrance, but its simple, classic lines have no need of a special aroma. A single buttercup blossom is a thing of beauty in itself.

Norwood Church Holds Banquet On Centennial

NORWOOD, May 30 (ENS). — On Monday evening St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Norwood, held its centennial banquet in the Sunday School. The room was decorated with snapdragons and tulips, and the tables were decorated with candles and lily of the valley. A three-tier birthday cake adorned the head table.

Two solos, "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Glory of His Presence" were sung by Master Homer McAvoy of Burnbrae.

The Rev. R. D. Duncanson, chairman of the evening, read letters from three former ministers, the Rev. M. Cree, the Rev. T. M. Wesley, and the Rev. D. K. Perrie.

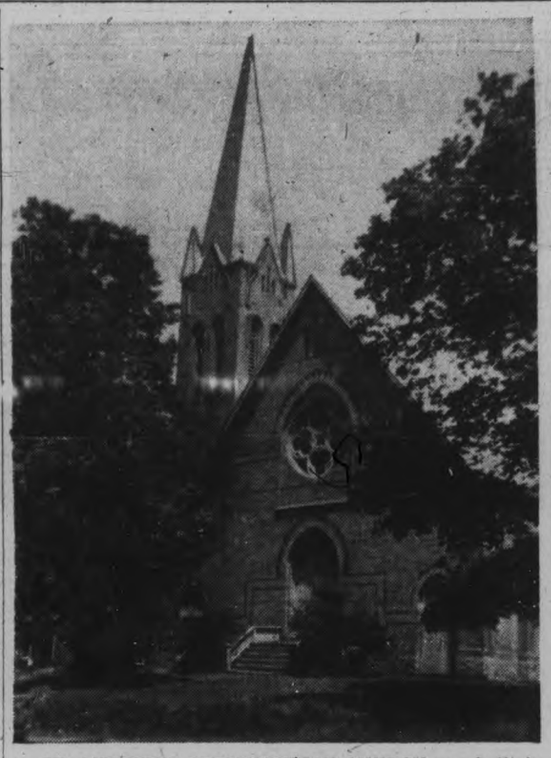
Greetings were heard from the Rev. Ernest E. Pugsley of Norwood United Church, the Rev. W. J. Bingham of the Norwood Baptist Church, Mrs. J. J. Shannon of the Norwood Pentecostal Assembly, Walter Bitten, minister's warden of Chrich Anglican Church, Norwood, in the absence of the Rev. H. E. Peasgood, F. MacKenzie and William Hitchins of the Havelock Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. McAvoy of Burnbrae Presbyterian Church in the Presbytery of Kingston, and the Rev. J. M. Ritchie of Warkworth.

Mrs. J. W. Rork, one of the oldest members of St. Andrew's, cut the birthday cake, which was later served to all those present.

The gathering of more than 200 people stood to honor the presence of Mrs. William Campbell, who was present, and has been a member of this church for 57 years.

Mr. Duncanson, on behalf of the Session, thanked all the conveners and their committees for their work and co-operation in making all the centennial celebrations a success. Then he introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Professor F. Scott MacKenzie, DTh, DCL, DD, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

In part he said at such an auspicious gathering as this, one always reflects upon the tradition, and considers with keenness the great heritage that has been passed down. "We are faced with a very important question: Are we of today leaving for posterity a heritage and tradition as worthy and splendid as that which our fathers bequeathed to us?"



The banquet was closed by the singing of "The Church's one foundation" and the benediction by Dr. MacKenzie.

Open To Everyone

LONDON, May 30 (Reuters) — The ranks of London's metropolitan police force will soon be opened to all—men, women and children. Blue-clad policewomen are a common sight. Now police cadets are to become part of the London scene. The junior police—16 to 18 years old—will wear the uniform of their seniors, but caps will replace the familiar "Bobby's" helmet. They will do clerical work and other headquarters jobs, and some will be in the streets—guiding pedestrians at intersections.

Not Many More

NORFOLK, Va., May 30 (AP)—This Memorial Day marked the beginning of the end of the United Confederate Veterans' reunions. Only two of the 12 surviving Confederate veterans arrived here for this 61st gathering. They are William Joshua Bush, and William D. Townsend, both 105. Both admitted they came to see some pretty girls.

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH was built in 1878 to take the place of the first Presbyterian church erected in Norwood 100 years ago. Members of St. Andrew's congregation celebrated the anniversary with special services and an anniversary dinner Monday night.

100th Anniversary Marked By Norwood Presbyterians

NORWOOD, May 30 (ENS)—"The Challenge of the Christian Church," was the topic of the address of the Rev. David P. Rowland, of York Memorial Church, Toronto, at the morning centenary celebration service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Sunday.

Mr. Rowland pointed to the challenge in the text, Romans 12:5—"So we being many are one body in Christ and everyone members one of another."

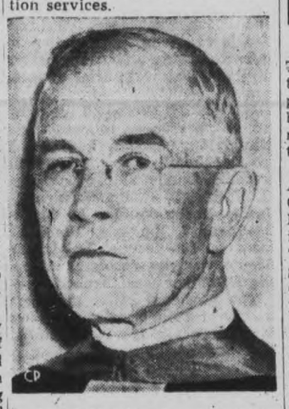
He explained this challenge on the idea that Jesus is the body and all mankind are members within that body. In the body are great truths of the gospel. Because of this, the church needs to know the voice of Jesus.

The Church is also the mouthpiece of Jesus. It must speak of Him. That voice must say "I am come that you might have life and that you might have it more abundantly."

"The Church is the dispenser of the life of Christ," the minister stated. "It must stand always as His eternal truth. Each must challenge himself and say—Am I making myself more fit everyday to live in His world? Do we stand in the presence of God? As we look back we should be glad our ancestors were Christians."

At the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Rowland expressed greetings from West Toronto Presbytery and his own congregation.

Special music was provided by the choir under the direction of Mrs. John Rogers, organist and choir leader. Miss Shirley Godin and Miss Jacqueline Rogers sang "Pilot Me O Gracious Saviour."



In the afternoon an Orangemen's service was held with Mr. Rowland, grand chaplain of Ontario West and deputy grand chaplain of British America in charge. Lodges from Peterborough and East Peterborough were well represented. The church parade was led by the Norwood band.

The Rev. R. D. Duncanson sang a solo, "The Stranger of Galilee." The choir sang the anthem, "Lead On, O King Eternal." A former organist, Mrs. Clifford Fife, assisted at the organ.

Mr. Rowland was also guest preacher at the evening service. He chose as his text, "The Faith that Survives." A quartette, Misses Jacqueline Rogers, Doris Moore, Shirley Godin and Barbara Davey, sang "There's a Work for Jesus." The choir sang the anthem, "Day is Dying in the West."

Mrs. Jean Dobberman, Toronto, and a former organist of the church assisted Mrs. Rogers at the organ.

The interior of the church was decorated with baskets of snapdragons, tulips, carnations and ferns for the centenary celebration services.

MODERATOR OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, the Rev. F. Scott MacKenzie, D.Th., D.C.L., D.D., was present at the cetenary dinner held Monday night in Norwood in honor of the 100th anniversary of the founding of a presbyterian church in Norwood.

THE REV. R. D. DUNCANSON, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Norwood. His church, biult in 1878, was this week celebrating the 100th anniversary of entry of a presbyterian church in Norwood.

Massey Report Likely Best Seller

By HAROLD MORRISON.

OTTAWA, May 30, (CP). — The King's Printer, whose publications rarely cause excitement in the book stalls, thinks he's got one that may be as "hot" as the Royal Commission report on the sny trials in 1946.

This expected "best-seller" is the 500-page Massey Arts Commission report, a chronicle of Canada's cultural past with a clue to the possible shape of Canada's cultural future.

The report, the fruit of a two-year inquiry, goes on sale to the public Friday, the day it is presented to Prime Minister St. Laurent and tabled in the Commons.

It is being eagerly awaited, said the King's Printer, 57-year-old Edmond Cloutier, by scores of scientists, educationists, scholars, artists and others who participated in the inquiry.

Launched in 1949, the inquiry—studying how the government may best aid national unity through Canadian culture—heard from 500 organizations and 1,200 individuals.

Even commercial book-sellers are showing an interest. Anticipating a "brisk" sale, Mr Cloutier has printed 9,000 first-edition copies—6,000 in English and 3,000 in French. The document will go on sale at cost—$3.50—and may be ordered through bookstores or direct from the government printer.

Advance Orders

"We've got lots of advance orders," said Mr. Cloutier. "They've been coming in for months If the first edition is sold, we'll start another one immediately."

Here are some of the commission's likely recommendations:

1. Establishment of a national council, free of politics, to co-ordinate all of the government's aid to Canadian cultural development.
2. Granting to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation permanent control over television policy in Canada.
3. Federal aid to universities.
4. Federal aid to construct a national library, archives, art gallery and other buildings in the capital.

Say Belgian Gov't Ruining Newspapers

BRUSSELS, May 30 (Reuters)—The government was accused by the opposition Tuesday night of pushing the Belgian press to the brink of disaster by mismanagement and lethargy in dealing with the newsprint problem.

Liberal opposition member Adrien Van Glabbeke told the Chamber of Deputies (Lower House) that a proposed increase in the price of newspapers could "only partially stave off the danger which threatens the very existence of the independent press."

Joseph Meurice, foreign trade minister, said the government is negotiating with countries exporting newsprint and paper pulp in an attempt to improve the position.

Remanded Week

SUDBURY, May 30. (CP)—J. A. Armstrong, alias Hare and Miller, facing five charges of false pretences, was remanded a week when he appeared in court Tuesday. MP Suggests Navy Learn Arctic Lessons

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP) — A Pacific coast MP suggested Tuesday the navy is missing a good chance to learn lessons about Canada's Arctic Ocean.

J. L. Gibson (Ind., Comox-Alberni), asked defence officials in the public accounts committee whether the forces do as much as possible for themselves. He cited the case of a private individual who made a lot of money by buying a wartime landing craft in the United States and shipping diesel oil to defence outposts up north.

"The navy," he suggested, "could have learned a lot by taking that oil into the Arctic itself."

The reply of C. M. Drury, deputy defence minister, was that "insofar as it is economical and serves our training needs, the forces endeavor to do all they can for themselves."

The navy's training was mainly devoted to anti-submarine warfare and Arctic supply would not fit into that training. In such cases, it was not the practice to use men and ships to do jobs that private firms could do.

Mr. Gibson replied that when Canada has the Arctic Ocean to consider, it would be both natural and wise to train men to handle ships in that ocean, taking them around to Coppermine on the northern coast.

Mr. Gibson said it seemed to him private firms shouldn't be used again for Arctic supply Mr. Drury said the department would consider his submission.

Found 4 of 60 Dogs In Barn Had Water

WHITBY, May 30—(CP)—Only four of 60 thoroughbred dogs found locked in a Pickering township barn May 3 had water, Inspector Fred Thompson of the Toronto Humane Society said Tuesday.

Testifying at the trial of Mrs. M. H. Page, of Toronto, charged with improper care of animals, Mr. Thompson said the dogs were "pretty nearly crazy" when he inspected the barn, about 14 miles west of Oshawa.

Magistrate F. S. Ebbs adjourned the hearing until Thursday to consider the arguments of defence counsel R. W. Macauley, of Toronto, who said conclusive case had not been proved.

Contracts Halted

TORONTO, May 30—(CP)—An official of the Imperial Oil Company said Tuesday that new fuel oil contracts have been halted in Quebec due to a shortage of steel for storage tanks. He denied a report that a shortage of steel will cause similar action in Ontario.

Asparagus Stolen

ST. CATHARINES, May 30 — (CP)—Large-scale theft of growing asparagus has been reported by farmers in Louth Township near here. One farmer lost half his cutting to the night-roaming thieves. Footprints and tire tracks in the wet earth of the field indicated that two men walked up and down the rows, picked the best showing and carted it off in a truck.

Will Investigate Squandering Says Harris

OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP) — Citizenship Minister Harris said Tuesday he will investigate to determine if Indian trappers are squandering their money and later becoming charges on the state.

The minister made the statement to the Senate's immigration and labor committee as it launched a detailed study of the government's new Indian Act which comes under Mr. Harris' administration. The new act affords greater responsibility to Indians in management of their own affairs.

Senator Thomas Crerar (L-Manitoba), one-time superintendent of Indian Affairs, said the bill should provide control of sale by Indians off reserves as well as on them. For instance, the department could take the furs of an Indian trapper, sell them for him, then pay him money in monthly allotments. Otherwise the Indian might well squander the money and then become destitute.

Bishop Urges King's Envoy Continue To Come From UK

TORONTO, May 30—The King's representative in Canada should continue to come from the United Kingdom, Bishop A. R. Beverley said Tuesday in his charge to the 99th annual Toronto diocesan synod of the Anglican Church.

Clergy and lay delegates applauded Bishop Beverley's statement that "we ought not to sever the link which reminds us so vividly and constantly of the root whence we are sprung, and of our places in the British Commonwealth of Nations." The head of the Toronto diocese expressed synod's pleasure at the one-year extension of Viscount Alexander's term of office as governor-general.

"We are honored in having so distinguished a soldier as the King's representative in Canada," Bishop Beverley said. "We have been fortunate through the years in having had so many distinguished men—soliders, statesmen and men of letters—to fill this high office. I hope, for two reasons, that the Dominion government will not depart from this precedent so well established."

These reasons were that if he were not a Canadian the King's representative in Canada was far removed from party or sectional interest, and secondly, because Canada owed a great debt to the Mother of Parliaments in Britain, Bishop Beverley said.

Approves Hope Report

Two recommendations of the Hope Report on education, one favoring extension of religious instruction to include secondary grades, the other urging the three-grade system for schools, were referred to by Bishop Beverley. He believed both should be implemented. His Lordship quoted the resolution adopted by the council of the provincial synod last March.

This resolution, after commending the Hope Commission for its proposed three-step system, expressed the view that the school question in Ontario was finally settled by the Act of 1863 and that therefore any privileges since extended to separate schools should now be repealed.

"I trust that no sectional or special interest will oppose the adoption of a proposal which is in the best interests of sound education, and condusive to the welfare of all our young people of every race and creed," Bishop Beverley declared.

His Lordship reviewed the past year and said the expansion of the church in the diocese had been most remarkable. It was indicative of the strong faith of the people rising to meet the challenge of the new day opening up before the church.

'Price Of Nickel Raised Six Cents

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP) — International Nickel Co. of Canada, Ltd., Tuesday announced an increase in the price of nickel of six cents a pound, United States currency.

The increase, effective June 1, will bring the export price of electrolytic nickel, inclusive of the 1¼ cent United States import duty, to 56½ cents (US) per pound, fob the Port Colborne, Ont., refinery. The corresponding price to Canadian consumers will be 58½ cents, Canadian currency.

The company states that the increase is made necessary by an addition of $15,000,000 a year in production costs, arising from new union agreements and higher costs for materials and supplies.

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The exciting sport—or is daredevil racing a sport?—of the midget auto racers will be on display at seven p.m. Saturday next in Morrow Park. At least a dozen of these guys from Newark, New Jersey, Buffalo and some Canadians, who have been making the Ontario rounds this spring. Some of the cars have been used at the Indianapolis Speedway, and they'll go for two hours with races for top money, team racing and a feature event winding up with a big spill. How those guys must love the business! Trials start at 6.30. They advertise thrills and spills at 135 miles an hour. And they can have it as far as stepping along at that pace goes.

Coach Don Crowe of the OLA Petes says Bob Thorpe will be out of action a week or so yet with torn ligaments of the hip, suffered in the game with Mimico here last Friday. But Jerry Fitzgerald's hand is healing and he should be ready for play Friday when Toronto West Yorks play at Miller Bowl, their lineup including Pat DePippo, Leo Teatro and Jim McNulty—formerly with the Petes. Locals are away Saturday and Monday to Brampton and Fergus, and back here Wednesday against St. Kitts. The Petes, Brampton and Toronto are tied atop now with two wins each, Hamilton having one, and the others none to date in the young schedule.

Merchants Lost A Sale

According to a Kitchener item, the Oshawa Merchants raised hail Columbia with Waterloo Tigers, claiming they'd stolen Jerry Creasey, classy southpaw USA hurler, from them. They contended that Creasey had signed a financial agreement with 'em and taken money, ere hopping to Waterloo. As a matter of fact, he is going out with the Kitchener team of the Inter-County League. And their manager, Don Gallinger, checked with the OBA and found out that the provincial association does not recognize financial agreements in a so-called amateur setup, and 'tis most likely the OBA will okay Creasey's transfer. Meantime, the Merchants are minus Creasey and some mazuma.

Girls' softball tussles tonight, weather being oke, are: Woollens vs. Ashby's at seven, followed by Westclox vs. Marines. As Ashby's go to Cobourg on Friday. June 4 frays: Marines vs. Westclox, and Cobourg vs. Woollens; June 6: Woollens vs. Westclox, Marines vs. Ashby's; and June 8: Westclox at Cobourg. More schedule as it comes. Marines beat Woollens in the opening game, while the tilt betwixt Ashby's and Westclox was rained out. We note that Marg Batley is a former CGE-er out with Westclox, while Ashby's have a Cobourg girl signed for pitching. Likely several other changes from a year ago, too, in the lasses' lineups, but it'll all come out in due course.

Male Softballers Start

Quite a few on deck at the Bowl over east last gloaming as the men softballers started their City League season. Revoy Motors took a 13-8 verdict from UEW in one fray, while Orphans had to go all out in the other to capture an 18-16 decision. Plenty of bingles in both jousts and lots of errors, too, though the fielding will improve shortly as the boys get warmed to their work. Both interesting games and it might turn out to be a well-balanced circuit. Veteran Bill Simmons, who hung up his spikes only a few years ago, took part in the opening ceremony along with Ald. Pat Anglesey and long-time executive member Fred Scates. Games there tomorrow: UEW vs. Orphans, and Lakefield vs. Revoy's.

Local junior OLA-ers (who drill at six p.m. tomorrow) downed Alliston intermediates 6-4 last e'en to wind up the Alliston gutted-stick tournament with third-place money. A good showing, as they were playing the provincial intermediate "C" champs of 1950, and the home team used Terry Gordon and several more Orillia aces. Fans thought it was the best game of the tournament and the young Petes have been invited back there for an exhibition. The whole crew clicked well for Lou Vitarelli, and they were treated later to a steak dinner by their sponsor, Frank Patterson. No word yet as to when they open their OLA junior schedule.

H. Lundy President Carpetball League

Homer Lundy was elected president of the City Carpetball League for the 1951-52 season at the windup banquet and presentation of prizes in the Orange Hall. First vice-president will be Art Pilling, second one being Harry Clapham with George Gimblett Jr. secretary-treasurer, all going in by acclamation.

A fine turkey dinner was provided the 50 guests by the ladies of Vimy Ridge Lodge. League champions in a real close race were Quaker Oats, consisting of George Fullbrook, skip, Frank Honour, Dave Metcalfe, Tom Craig and Fred Brand. The Hope Cup was presented to them by Legion president Paddy Burke on behalf of Albert Hope, donor. Glengarrys took second place and the Rev. Gilling presented the Bleasdall Shield to Skip Joe Douglas, others being: Harry Clapham, Vern Read, Roy Garrette and Ed Amyotte.

More Presentations

Art Pilling presented the third-place team prize to Skip G. Gimblett of the Fire Hall, his team being Jack Wilson, Tom Nice, Don Bartley and William Sorrie. President H. Lundy gave the President's Cup to Legion No. 7, of which Art Pilling skipped to victory over the Orange Squeezers, the team being: Art Bromley, Robert Ralston, Allan Robinson and Clark Thackeray. William Gracie made the presentation to Robert Ralston and Art Bromley of the Gracie Memorial doubles cup.

G. Gimblett presented the prize to the runners-up in both these elimination contests. LOL No. 2 in President's Cup playdowns were: H. Lundy, skip, W. Wilson, G. Foster, S. Cummings and O. James; in the doubles: R. Whitehead and I. Harrison. The baby team of the league, St. Luke's Scouts, was given a big hand, and the Examiner was thanked.

The president called for male groups of the city to enter teams for next season. It was announced that the scouts were taking a paper collection on June 5 for the fire fund, and members were asked to help pack the bundles into box cars. The Glens and Fire Hall will turn over their prize money to the fire fund.

Orphans and Revoy's Win Openers In Men's League

Men's senior city softball made a fine start at the Bowl last night before a good crowd as Revoy Motors, new entry coached by Ken Guilfoyle, hooked up with Howie Dalton's UEW squad while Lakefield engaged Harold Dormer's Orphans in the nightcap. Cam Wasson handles the colorful Lakefield nine.

Pre-game ceremonies found Bill Simmons tossing them up as of yore with Alderman Pat Anglesey at bat and popular Fred Scates behind the plate. Bill threw his fast one and Pat flied to first to start what should prove a banner season.

Revoy Motors banged out 13 solid hits off the combined offerings of Kenny Hall and Dalton, including a pair of doubles by Bobby Crowe to defeat UEW 13-8 in the opener.

The Dalton crew settled down after a shaky start. Dalton relieved Hall with three aboard and one away in the third frame and held Motors to one earned run for the balance of the game. Errors had proven costly in the early stages. Revoy's played steady ball behind good twirling by Lefty Doris, took advantage of their opportunities and racked up a good victory.

Crowe and Mackness led the winners with three safeties apiece while Bruce Taylor and Blair Thomson each garnered a pair and Legrow and Mackness shone afield. For UEW Jack White collected three safe bingles and M. Wade and Robson fielded well.

The nightcap proved a real thriller as the Lakefield boys gave Orphans a battle to the finish in a hard-hitting game that offered thrills and spills galore. Terry Woods and Kevan Heffernan went the route as the Dormer gang finally edged the fighting Wasson crew, 18-16, by virtue of a final spurt in the latter innings that enabled Orphans to overcome the homesters' early lead. The men of Wasson led 15-8 going into the sixth inning, but Orphans proved a stubborn foe, and finally edged the verdict in a ding-dong thriller.

A total of 10 extra-base hits featured this game, including Cam Wasson's long homer, two triples by McGrath and Red Sullivan, one by Doug Hunter and doubles by Lewis, Jack Larkman, Scriver and Jack Burgar. There were some fine fielding features in both games.

Favor Charles To Take Bout

CHICAGO, May 30 — (AP) — Ezzard Charles rules a steadfast 3-1 favorite to retain his heavyweight boxing championship tonight in Chicago stadium against challenger Joe Maxim, the sleek light-heavy king.

Despte the rarity of two champions battling and the promise of a lively brawl from the start, the turnout may number only 7,000 to 10,000 with a gross gate of less than $100,000.

More than 30 million persons will see and hear the scheduled 15-round title showdown on television and radio. The bout begins at 9 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

They are to weigh in at noon. Charles is expected to scale 183; Maxim 181.

Charles, 29, generally is favored to defend successfully his heavyweight crown for the eighth time in 23 months because he has defeated Maxim in three previous meetings. Twice in 10-rounders back in 1942 the Cincinnati negro outpointed the 28-year-old Cleveland Italian, and he won a split 15-round decision in his home town 27 months ago.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

After being rained out on Monday evening the annual president-vice-president games continued Tuesday, with the vice-president winning out by seven shots.

As the first returns came in, it looked like the president, but in a few moments a couple of good games for the vice were reported, and that seemed to settle the issue. Considering that the season has barely begun, the bowling was good.

As far as we know, there is nothing special on for tonight.

Tomorrow night the men begin their season's schedule, and the ladies are holding an evening tournament.

Giants Whip Syracuse In 5-1 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Red Hardy has missed the boat again!

The little righthander of Ottawa Giants Tuesday night failed by an eyelash to record a no-hit victory for the second time this season as the Giants whipped Syracuse Chiefs 5-1.

Hardy was within one out of no-hit fame when rookie Vic Power shattered his dreams with a single through Short. The Chiefs had scored in the second inning on a walk and error.

Hardy blanked Springfield 4-0 April 28 on one hit. Jack Wallasea collected the only lone safety, a single in the seventh. Hardy also has a two-hit shutout among his four victories.

The Giants clubbed Jack Robinson and Buck Tanner for 0 hits with Hardy and Lorenzo Cabrera leading the way with two blows each. The victory enabled the Giants to tie the Chiefs for third place.

Montreal Royals retained their five-game first-place margin over Rochester Red Wings. The Royals downed the Springfield Cubs 6-2 while the Wings came from behind to nip Buffalo Bisons 10-8.

Stops Cubs

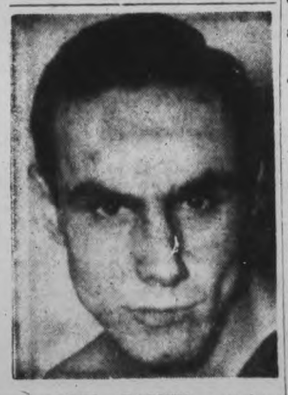
Tom Lasorda stopped the Cubs on six hits to post his fourth victory without a defeat. He lost his shutout in the ninth on an error, triple and single. Bobby Morgan, with a homer, double and single led Montreal's attack.

The Red Wings trailing 7-1 at one stage, scored five runs in the ninth inning to beat the Bisons. Kurt Krieger, fourth Red Wing pitcher, won his own ball game with a three-run double in the big ninth.

Karl Drews, Baltimore righthander, also won his own game as the Orioles edged Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2. Drews belted a home-run in the fifth inning to provide the Orioles with their margin of victory. Bill Glynn homered with one on in the second for the Orioles.

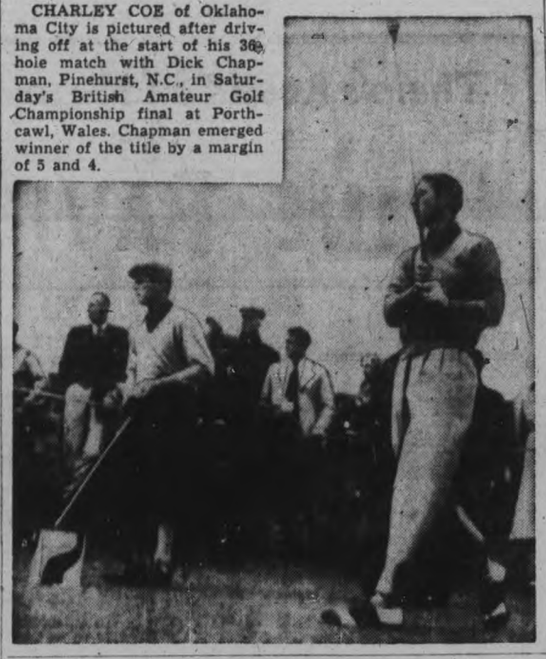
Central Girls Win

Central girls edged Confederation 10-9 in a nifty school softball contest yesterday, though J. Merritt of the losers fanned 13 and threw four-hit ball. However, she walked 11. Confederation got 10 safe hits but not a free ticket, and they had four errors to three, scoring three runs in the second, four next inning and two in the fourth. Central counted two in the first, three next time up, one in the fourth and four in the fifth. Teams:



Confederation: J. Hopkins, ss; J. Guthrie, rf; B. Holland, lf; N. Sanderson, cf; E. Weir, c; J. Merritt, p; P. Weir, 2b; B. Baird, 3b; J. Cunningham, 1b; M. Outwater, M. Lombard, M. Bryan.

Central: J. Lustic, ss; P. Lang, rf; W. Mahood, 3b; B. Tiffen, cf; M. Turner, 1b; C. Scully, lf; C. Head, p; B. Partridge, c; J. Young, 2b; P. Neal, B. Fuller, J. Martin, M. Sutherland.



Umpires — H. V. Cunningham and J. Chesney.

Prices Dropped Fast

NEW YORK, May 30—(AP)—Prices dipped swiftly—as much as 30 per cent on some items—as large department stores here tried to match or out-do competitors in reductions on former price-fixed articles. An electric toaster, price-fixed at $23, was knocked down to $16.96 late in the day. An electric mixer that formerly sold at $46.50 fell to $33.96.

JIMMY CARTER, newly-crowned lightweight champion of the fistic world, may fight in Montreal against Armand Savoie (pictured above) his first battle since winning that title in New York, recently, from Ike Williams. Negotiations are under way between the Canadian Athletic Promotions and Willie Ketchum, manager of Carter, to show that boxer in the metropolis on June 28, in a 10-round match with Montreal's Armand Savoie. This bout is dependent, of course, on whether Savoie wins from Arthur King in Toronto in their 10-round match o June 4.

Home Run Costs Bob Lemon Perfect, No-Hit Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A mighty home-run blast by Vic Wertz, the only hit, Tuesday cost Bob Lemon an opportunity to join the six pitching immortals who have hurled perfect no-hit, no-run major league games.

In twirling a brilliant 2-1 victory over Detroit in the day's lone contest preceding today's holiday doubleheaders, the ace Cleveland righthander yielded a four-bagger to Wertz in the eighth inning.

Big Vic was the only Tiger baserunner. Lemon did not walk or hit a batter. The Indians made no errors behind him.

Until Wertz came to bat, Lemon mowed down 21 consecutive batters. He threw a strike past the Tiger slugger, first to face him in the eighth. The next pitch landed in the upper right field stands.

"It was a slider," Lemon groaned after the game. "It wasn't low. It was just right-for him."

Had Lemon been able to get past Wertz, he would have become the first pitcher to hurl a perfect game in 29 years. The last such spotless performance was turned in by Charley Robertson, who whipped, of all people, the Tigers 2-0 April 30, 1922.

Other Perfect Pitchers

Other perfect game pitchers were John Richmond, Worcester, 1880; John Montgomery Ward, Providence, 1880; Cy Young, Boston Red Sox, 1904; Addie Joss, Cleveland, 1907; and Ernie Shore, Red Sox, 1917.

Although hundreds have come within one safety of pitching a nitless game, only nine have lost their no-hitter by tossing a home run ball.

Lemon's one-hitter was the fifth of the season in the majors. It was the first Bob ever hurled although he pitched a no-hitter against the same Tigers in Briggs Stadium June 30, 1948.

In winning his fourth game against five defeats, Lemon fanned seven.

Al Rosen batted in both Cleveland runs, one with a double. The tribe got six hits off Bob Cain and reliefer Hal White. It was Cain's fourth loss against two victories.

Jolson Estate

LOS ANGELES, May 30—(AP)—The first official estimate Tuesday put the late Al Jolson's estate at $3,236,775—with more to come. A superior court appraisal showed he left New York assets valued at $2,640,618 and California assets of $596,156. Lawyer John L. Nourse said the inventory did not include $400,000 worth of insurance which Jolson took out shortly before his death last October.

Thorncliffe Track Will Open July 7

TORONTO, May 30 (CP). — Big-time harness-racing returns to Toronto Saturday, July 7, when Thorncliffe Raceway opens its second season. This year's program calls for 42 days of racing which, with one brief pause, will continue through Labor Day.

Thorncliffe officials announce that they have received a record total of 836 entries for their 21 early-closing events, an average of 40 entries for each of these races. In their inaugural season, they received a total of 820 entries for 22 early-closing events.

The racing strip, regarded by horsemen as one of the fastest half-mile tracks in North America, is being re-graded under the supervision of J. S. Coates, the 93-year-old "wizard of Goshen" who has designed the continent's outstanding courses.

The Canadian cup race—richest race in the Canadian harness game—is scheduled for competition Friday, Aug. 31, and has attracted a record field of 41 speedsters from the United States and Canada.

All-Stars Tie Fulham Eleven At Montreal

MONTREAL, May 30 (CP). — Goalie Sillia Sandrin turned in a spectacular performance as Montreal All Stars tied the Fulham English first division eleven 2-2 Tuesday night in an international soccer match before 5,000 at the Montreal baseball park.

The game was played on a wet field in intermittent rain.

The Montreal team took a 2-1 lead in the first half on goals by Bohdan Kluchnyk, right outside, and Johnny Sinclair, right inside.

Bedford Jexxard, centre forward, tallied Fulham's only goal of the half. Jimmy Bowie, right inside, scored the tying goal in the last half when Fulham had complete control of the play. Almost all of the second-half play was in the Montreal end.

Kluchnyk booted his goal at the three-minute mark after taking a pass from Jack McMahon. After 32 minutes Jexxard kicked a quarter shot that just went under the crossbar.

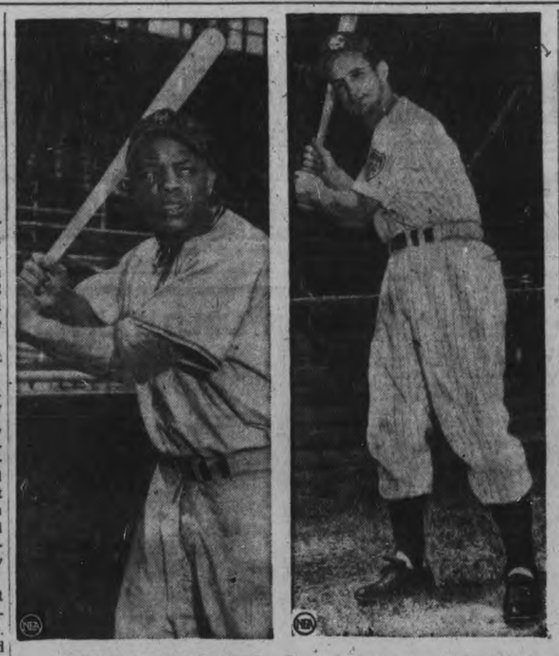
Montreal's second goal, by Sinclair at 43 minutes, was the picture goal of the game. He dribbled the ball in close on goaler Ian Black and beat him with a quick kick to the right corner.

The team making up the Montreal All Stars was formed from seven local clubs.

2 Teams End Player Tangle

TORONTO, May 30 (CP). — Toronto West Yorks and Mimico Mountaineers of the Ontario Lacrosse Association ended their player tangle Tuesday night with a four-for-one boxla trade.

West Yorks gave up Harold Downer, Harold Venner and Frank Allewell and arranged for the transfer of Wilf Chard from Weston Juniors. The Yorks get Jack Kapasky from the Mounties in exchange.



The player wrangle began before the season opened when Downer, Allewell, Venner and Chard were awarded to the West Yorks by the OLA when the Toronto and Weston teams amalgamated. Meanwhile, the four players had signed with Mountaineers who claimed that they should have been made free agents. A Mounties appeal was turned down by the OLA which re-affirmed West Yorks' right to the players.

Utilities Victors

Utilities had a little too much power for the Police in the late stages of their Civic Softball League encounter last night at Armour Field to win out 15-13. Their six runs in the seventh did the trick after they had scored a run each in the first and sixth, three in the fourth and four next inning. Police pounded over the plate seven times in the fourth and added two apiece the next three stanzas of a lively tilt. Teams:

Utilities — Payne, Runnalls, Godfrey, Dyer, Casey, Montgomery, Willshaw, Loucks, Phillips.

Police — Rowe, Traynor, Naismith, Perry, Menzies, Eady, Healey, Smith, McKendry.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Lt Arthur King returns to his home city Toronto for a battle with Armand Savoie Monday.

He may get a shot at the world's lightweight title if he wins—but win, lose or draw, he'll likely get the biggest purse of his fistic career.

So many requests for tickets bombarded promoter Frank Tunney after he announced arrangements for the tiff that he opened the box office at Maple Leaf Gardens two days earlier than usual. He predicts the gate may be as high as $30,000.

Whether King will get a crack at the world title, possible now that his Philadelphia stablemate, Ike Williams, no longer wears the laurels, depends immediately on Savoie.

Pete Audette, Savoie's trainer, has announced that Savoie will lay claim to the Canadian lightweight crown if he beats King.

A man willing to look after a group of boys but unable to bear the cost of equipping a team, will be able to apply to the Ontario Athletic Commission for aid, Labor Minister Daley said Tuesday.

The Labor Minister said the Commission, now under the jurisdiction of the Department of Labor, will have $10,000 to draw upon to aid minor sports this year. Help will be directed to the younger groups in sports, particularly teams in the bantam and midget-age class.

Twenty countries have entered for the 1952 Olympic winter games in Oslo, the Norwegian Olympic Committee said Tuesday.

A final entry of more than 30 countries is expected, with a total of about 1,000 competitors.

An 18-year-old lefthander who they've never saw throw a baseball was signed by Cleveland Indians Tuesday for what they said is "the biggest cash bonus ever paid any ball player."

He is Billy Joe Davidson, a prep school pitcher from Oak Ridge Military Academy near Winston-Salem, N C.

Marsh Samuel, Indian public relations director, said Davidson got a bonus of "well over $100,000." That would top the $100,000 Pittsburgh Pirates are said to have paid pitcher Paul Petit to sign.

Davidson rang up 13 victories in 15 starts as a semi-pro and prep pitcher. Often his strikeouts ranged up to 18 or 20 a game.

At Pompton Lakes, N. J., Joe Louis said Tuesday he would like a crack at the winner of the Joe Maxim-Ezzard Charles heavyweight title fight.

The Brown Bomber, training for his June 13 fight with Lee Savold, expects to meet Charles in September if Ezzard wins. Louis, however, considers Maxim a strong underdog.

If Maxim wins, he must give Charles a return bout first.

YPU Team Gets Tilt

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Floyd Roberts, 38-year-old aviation engineer of Van Nuys, Cal., won the Indianapolis Speedway annual motor classic 13 years ago today by covering the 500 miles at an averge speed of 117.2 miles an hour, a record at that time. Johnny Parsons boosted this average to 124 m.p.h. last year.

Port Hope Beavers Down Oshawa 5-0

PORT HOPE, May 30—A two-hit pitching effort by Karl Lenahan paced Port Hope Legion Beavers to a 5-0 win over Oshawa Victors on Tuesday night in a regular Lakeshore League baseball game. It was the second win in as many starts for the Port Hopers.

Lenahan struck out seven, walked two and drove in two runs. Terry Evans and Bob Trawin were the other Port Hope hitting stars, each conecting for a pair of safeties. Bob Attersley and Tom Chase were the lone Oshawa hitters.

Would Revise Plans On Nationalization

LONDON —(CP)— A call for immediate revision in the methods of nationalizing industries in Britain has been made by H. Taylor, president of the Co-operative Productive Federation.

Addressing the Co-operative Congress, representing a membership of more than 10,000,000, Mr. Taylor declared the time had come for more active participation by consumers and workers in any further schemes of nationalization.

He suggested the next stage in public ownership should take the form of a co-operative organization. Represented in the management and controlling structure of the industries concerned should be the government, the primary consumer and the workers.

All three sections, he said, should also participate in financing the ventures. Joint operation could be brought about after the initial purchase of the industry by the government. This could be done by the consumers and workers repaying the original outlay and interest, by share investment out of profits and bonus. The shares would then be distributed in equal amounts.

Mr. Taylor said it was the duty of the movement to prove that in economic affairs co-operation can be more progressive and efficient than any other system.

"Unless we can do this, and do it immediately," he said, "we must face the consequences of the times in which we live. If we fail we must be prepared to witness, because of our indifference and apathy, the causes to which we have devoted our lives broken under the wheels or advancing totalitarian ideologies."

HAPPY TO BE ON THEIR WAY HOME, these representatives of the Royal Netherlands Air Force, first group training under the North Atlantic Training plan to leave Canada, sailed from Montreal recently aboard the liner Volendam. They have been in Canada almost a year.

Creator Of Baby Snooks Fanny Brice Dies At 59

HOLLYWOOD, May 30 (AP).—Fanny Brice, a grandmother for whom baby talk paid off, died on Tuesday. She was 59.

The Baby Snooks of the radio, whose earlier fame hinged on the torch song My Man, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last Thursday at her Beverly Hills home. She did not regain consciousness.

At her bedside when she died at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital were her two children, William Brice and Mrs. Frances Stark, and her nurse and companion, Kay Brewer.

Only a week ago Miss Brice made her last Baby Snooks broadcast. Friends said she was in fine spirits as she portrayed the beloved, impish little girl, a characterization she created on the stage 39 years ago.

She had signed a radio contract to portray Baby Snooks for another year.

Miss Brice had been in show business since she was 13. She was born Fannie Borach on New York's East Side. She changed her last name to Brice because she said some people mispronounced the family name Bor-act. Her father was Charles Borach, owner of several saloons.

Equal Success

After starring in vaudeville and burlesque, Miss Brice applied her talents to the movies and radio with equal success

Florenz Ziegfeld discovered her and started her in the Follies of 1910 and the Ziegfeld Follies of 1911. Ten years later he asked her if she could make 'em cry, as he handed her a new song, My Man. She did, and the song became a Brice trademark.

She came to Hollywood in 1928 for a movie version of My Man. Her other films include Be Yourself, The Great Ziegfeld, and Everybody Sing.

In 1932 she launched her radio career as a singer with George Olsen's orchestra. She brought Baby Snooks to the microphone in 1936. By 1946 Snooks was earning her $6,000 a week.

"It's like stealing," she said. "I don't have to work into it. It's part of me."

The comedienne was wed three times. She married Frank White, a barber shop owner, in 1909. The union was annulled. In 1918 she married Jules (Nicky) Arnstein, father of her two children. They were divorced in 1927, and two years later she married showman Billy Rose. Divorce ended that union in 1938

Don't Permit Prepared Talks

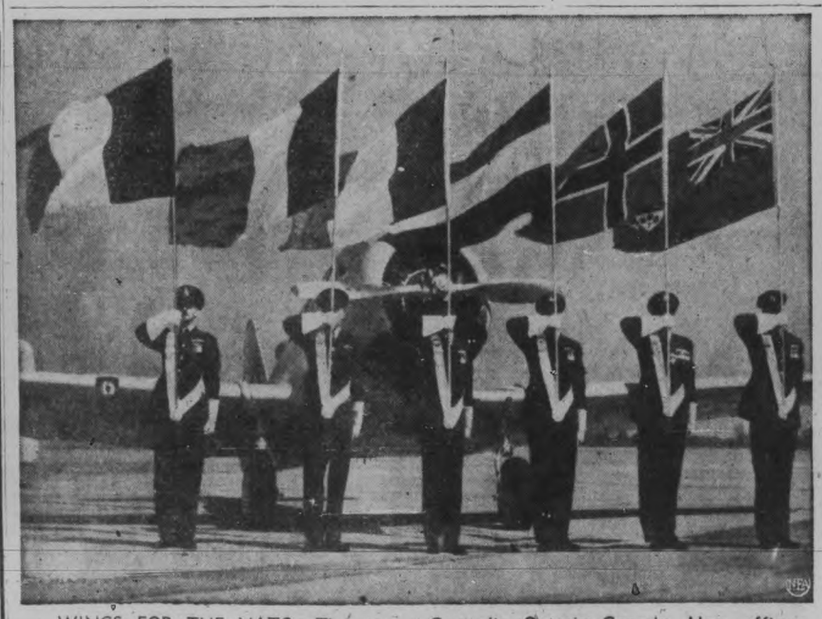
OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP). — Speaker Ross Macdonald Tuesday reminded members that they should not read prepared speeches during debates in the Commons.

"The Commons is not a debating society nor an assembly gathered to hear the reading of lengthy essays," said Mr. Macdonald.

At the same time he made a ruling on a point raised last week by M. J. Coldwell, CCF Leader. Mr. Macdonald agreed with Mr. Coldwell that irregular use is being made of the rule covering questions of privileges.

The rule should not be used to draw attention to the winning of athletic championships or to the winning of honors by particular persons or groups. It should not be used to draw attention to groups of school children or others visiting in the galleries.

Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser Making Good Progress



Arnold Butcher, vice-president, informed the Horticultural Society Monday night that Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, president, who has been seriously ill at Civic Hospital was gradually recovering and making good progress back to health.

The YWCA gymnasium was packed by several hundred members and visitors. Bert Hick of Lindsay, a specialist in African violets, discussed that flower and its development in considerable detail. His distribution extends to the Pacfic coast.

Mr. Hick said he was always happy in accepting an invitation to Peterborough, which he rated as one of the outstanding horticultural communities in the country.

He specially mentioned the interest manifested by many of the city's industries in the beautification of their factory premises.

Insurance Board Holding Annual Meeting

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., May 30 — (CP). — Thei ntricacies in the cost and selling structure of fire and casualty insurance companies were outlined today by J. E. Haskins of Toronto, president of the Dominion Board of Insurance Underwriters.

In his presidential address before the board's annual meeting, he said "Our business differs from other industries because it is impossible to determine the cost of our product with any degree of certainty."

A manufacturer "at least knows the cost of his goods when he has something to sell, but the insurance business is continually subject to weather conditions, conflagrations, carelessness of people in home and factory and many other incalculable factors."

Mr. Haskins said the 200-odd fire and casualty companies operating in Canada make an average profit of 3½ to 4 per cent, which he considered not unreasonable in view of continued risk to invested capital.

Rates Reviewed

During the last year general rate levels have been under review by board of committees, he said. While some adjustments were necessary on certain special classes, there was no general increase in rates although there was "no underwriting profit on fire business last year."

Any necessary adjustments were made on a scientific basis and the industry "can only hope" for a drop in the rising fire and accident waste during the present year.

Mr. Haskins said the Dominion Board of Insurance Underwriters has again offered its services to Dominion and Provincial authorities in the defence program now being undertaken. This would involve services of the board's engineers and other technical staff as well as vital information as to type of insurance protection available.

Coldsprings Church Group Showers Bride

COLDSPRINGS, May 29 — (ENS)—Miss Beatrice Jamieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jamieson, whose marriage to Wiliam John Hessin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hessin of Cobourg, will take place Saturday, has been guest of honor at several showers recently.

A short program was given, with Misses Helen Ritchie, Lorene Timlin and Eunice Minifie in charge. The Rev. P. C. Brown was chairman.

An address was read by Mrs. N. D. McIntosh and gifts were presented. Miss Jamieson thanked all.

Exhibit Magical X-Ray Equipment

MONTREAL — (CP) — New portable X-ray equipment, which doctors say will revolutionize handling of emergency cases, had its first public showing recently at the civil defence conference of the Montreal Medico-Chirurgical Society.

The whole set-up takes only one minute to produce an X-ray picture, compared with about one-half hour with standard equipment. It weighs less than 500 pounds, compared with about 5,000 pounds for the present machine.

The equipment folds up into two boxes, which can be carried by four men, making it possible to take the machinery to the patient. It requires no dark-room, not even water supply, and can be equipped with a portable generator.

The equipment can withstand temperatures down to 80 degrees below zero, and can be dropped by parachute for use in the "field."

Asks Sponsors

TORONTO, May 30 (CP). — Ernest Trueman, director of settlement for the Canadian Council of Churches, Tuesday appealed to Canadian church people to sponsor 800 European displaced persons who are anxious to make their homes in this country. Speaking at the United Church annual meeting of the Dominion board, Women's Missionary Society, Mr. Trueman said the council is trying to find sponsors who will guarantee housing and employment for the displaced persons for a period of one year.

Predicts Lower Rates

CALGARY, May 30 (CP). — Lower freight and passenger rates on Canadian railroads were seen as a future possibility by D. S. Thomson of Winnipeg, vice-president, Prairie region, Canadian Pacific Railway, in an address on Tuesday before a Calgary service club. Mr Thomson said the conversion of railroads to a standard necessary to meet modern requirements should eventually make lower rates possible.

The shop, operated by the buildings and maintence branch of the Public Works Department, employs 14 carpenters, 14 general service men and two woodworking machine operators. Most of the timber used is produced in Alberta.

AT KOREAN FRONT—Evelyn Caldwell, Vancouver Sun columnist, was first Canadian woman to visit the Korean front. She toured the peninsula, interviewing soldiers from British Columbia. In Tokyo she heard that the supply echelon of the Canadian troops was disappointed when she missed a mess party and she flew back to visit it. Driver is Pte. George Campbell.

BC Woman Reporter Cheers Canadians In Front Lines

By BILL BOSS

With the Canadians in Korea, May 30 — (CP) — The front line is the last place infantrymen expect to see a white woman in Korea.

But they did—when Vancouver columnist Evelyn Caldwell visited the Princess Patricias during a whirlwind visit to the Peninsula. She writes a column for the Vancouver Sun under the name "Penny Wise."

The brunette spent four hours in the unit's strong defensive positions, looking up British Columbia boys.

The touch of home, the familiar accent, went down well but Eve put herself in solid with the Patricias by flying all the way back from Tokyo to see men of the supply echelon when she heard they had been disappointed by her failure to show up at a mess party.

Her first visit to the Patricias was after the arrival in the theatre of the Canadian Army Special Force. The story completed, she flew to a forward air base and jeeped over to the Canadians' sector.

Infantry battalions aren't set up to accommodate women and the columnist's arrival at the Patricias' rear headquarters precipitated a tizzy while a special tent was found and raised.

She Got Around.

Someone in Tokyo forgot to advise her that war correspondents, like the troops, carry their own equipment with them. But to that, too, the Patricias rose —one officer lent her a sleeping-bag, another a blanket and a third a wash basin.

Pert and trim in slacks and army shirt, Eve went up to the forward positions the next morning, inspected the defensive line the battalion was establishing in anticipation of a renewed Chinese "spring offensive," and then hied over to Seoul.

Said Capt. Andy Foulds of Vancouver: "The girl gets full credit. It must have taken a lot of courage for her to come up here."

Plans were for her to return to the unit's supply echelon after her Seoul trip for a mess party that night.

"Julius P. Banglestien" (alias Maj. Don Grant of Vancouver) was the object of a wake that night. Grant, who as commander of the supply echelon operated "Banglestien's Bar" and earned the Patricias many friends in the theatre, had exchanged jobs with Maj. George Flint of Montreal, commander of a rifle company. The wake was on the eve of the swap.

Getting Used To It.

Though special tent and other accommodation were put up for Eve, developments prevented her from returning and in time she took off for Tokyo.

Learning by telephone there that her non-appearance had disappointed "Banglestien's" patronage, who had been looking forward to their first and only "Ladies' Night", Eve decided on the spot to return.

Again without warning—for there had been no chance to let Flint's new command know of her coming, Eve bounced in. Thi stime it was automatic. Up went the private tent and other accommodation.

"Ladies Night."

When they learned why she had taken the trouble to fly all the way from Tokyo, Flint's officers (almost all Vancouverites, too!) fell before her charms.

"Banglestien" was dead, but the mess was "under new management"— the new name is "Old Mamie Riley's."

So, entering into the spirit, "Mamie Riley's" was inaugurated with a bang-up "Ladies Night," news of which spread so quickly among nearby Commonwealth uits' supply echelons that there was a goodly attendance.

Up betimes, and having done something to cheer up a group of Canadians a long way from home, Eve jeeped back to the air strip and flew to Tokyo.

Sh ehad helped the battalion in other ways, too.

The 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry now is probably the only outfit in the theatre that can accommodate a woman with all the appointments without batting an eyelash. She got 'em used to it.

Steel Town Buys Airport For Dollar

TRENTON, N.S., May 30—(CP)—Thirty-six of this steel town's population of 3,000 turned out Thursday night to vote on whether they wanted to buy an airport.

After carefully weighing the pros and cons of the deal, 26 voted in favor of buying the airstrip from the neighboring town of New Glasgow, six were against it, and two were undecided.

Now all Trenton has to do is dig down deep and produce one dollar, a solitary buck, and the airfield is all theirs. It was a rare bargain.

Actually, the deal was made several months ago, but the citizens wanted to make it final with a standing vote.

It was a good bargain in more ways than one. Both towns figure it was worth a dollar to ease their troubled minds. For the past two decades it had been a controversial issue over ownership, rights and taxation problems.

The airport was started in the thirties by the Pictou County Aero Club. Most of the members were New Glasgow residents but it was built at Trenton, where the lay of the land was more suitable.

Trouble Began

When the proposition became too expensive for a private group, it was sold to the town of New Glasgow. That was when trouble began.

Federal expansion of the airport was proposed, but by that time Trenton had built a road around the airstrip. Enlargement of the base was impossible unless the road was removed.

Then Trenton slapped a tax bill into the laps of the New Glasgow town council. New Glasgow didn't pay the tax; there was no settlement.

Finally, after years of friction between trade boards, New Glasgow ratepayers voted to sell the field to Trenton for a dollar.

All that is required now is for Trenton town council to notify New Glasgow that they will accept and pay the dollar. Then the provincial government will be asked to sanction the sale.

QUEBEC, May 30 (CP).—The city Tuesday decided to ask Quebec Superior Court for authority to force theatre-goers to use admission tickets issued by the city. The action in effect would quash a Recorder's Court ruling last week dismissing a charge against one movie house, the Cinema de Paris, for using its own admission tickets instead of those issued by the city.

New Teachers Starting Salary $2,200

Peterborough Normal School students who graduate this week have been offered positions in rural and urban schools with salaries from $1,800 to $2,200 a year to start, Leo W. Copp, principal, said today. Many of them have already accepted positions.

Last year one student, added Mr. Copp, received $2,500 to start, but this year the high is $2,200. That student was "exceptional" besides being a veteran of World War II and an officer. There is no difference this year between urban and rural salaries offered.

125 Next Year

Even though an attractive starting salary is offered, said Mr. Copp, the number of students expected for 1951-52 will be about the same as this year, 125. This estimate is based on the response to the visits by the selection committee to the 46 high schools in the Peterborough Normal area.

On the selection committee this year were: K. O. Birkin, county school inspector; J. C. Doyle, separate school inspector; R. J. Bolton, representing the Ontario Teachers' Federation, and Mr. Copp. For the first time representatives of the federation assisted the committee.

Mr. Copp said that several students were turned down because of physical handicaps which would have interfered with the school training.

The 1950-51 students who have a school for next year have a wide variety to choose from. Mr. Copp said that the school boards are having difficulty filling vacancies. He received calls from Windsor and Woodstock today for student teachers.

Fire Inquest Scheduled For June 12

All Firemen, Police Subpoenaed; Call For Witnesses

An inquest into the deaths of the four men who died fighting the half-million dollar fire on May 19 will be held on June 12 in city council chambers at 2 p.m.

Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner for the province of Ontario, will conduct the inquiry.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, who will aid in the inquest, today issued an open invitation to anyone with any knowledge of the fire to attend and testify.

All Subpoenaed

All firemen, police and auxiliaries who were at the fire will be subpoenaed as witneses. In addition, all store owners and tenants will testify.

The four men, three of them firemen, were killed when the roof collapsed and crushed them. They were playing a line of water on the fire when the crash came. They were: Orville Rome, George Reynolds, Grover Deck, and Earl Spencley. Spencley was a volunteer.

Mr. Bradshaw said today that the inquest will delve into every possible angle of the fire. He said that anyone who knew anything of it should come forward and testify.

Board Suggests Aid To Widows

The names of the three firemen who died in the Zacks building fire will be carried on the civic payroll to the end of June.

That was the recommendation of the board of works Monday night in a motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. J. A. Dewart.

It was also decided in a motion by Ald. T. D. Miller and Mayor Swanston to make a grant of $200 to the widow of Earl Spencley who died in the fire as a volunteer worker.

This is an emergency sum, and is the equivalent of immediate allowance made by the Workmen's Compensation Board to the families of the three firemen.

Ald. Herbert Young mentioned that several of the members of the department injured in the fire had received shortwave treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Aldermen Rehill and Burrows moved that payment for whatever bill was rendered for such treatments be paid on the certificate of Ald. Young.

HORSE, HOUSE, HOAX

Somebody telephoned the Examiner last night, with a show of excitement, genuine or otherwise, that a horse had burst into their house, a variant of automobile misadventure and crashing. It was said to be on Park St., not clearly identified as to location. Sounds of telephonic laughter suggested that it might have been White Horse mixed with hoax. At any rate nobody dashed off into some vague direction.

THE LONGEST TEACHING RECORD in the same rural school might be claimed by John Reynolds of Lasswade Settlement, east of Apsley. Teaching continuously at SS No. 4, Chandos, for the past 33 years—he is teaching the third generation of one family, has taught five of his own children and now his granddaughter, Karen Reynolds, (shown Above)—Mr. Reynolds is ready to retire this summer. He has taught continuously for the past 43 years in this and other schools.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Veteran Teacher Instructs At Same School 33 Years

The Lasswade Settlement, a community which lies east of Apsley and stretches along five miles of rough winding backwoods road, has a citizen that holds something of a record. He is well-known and well-liked John Reynolds, 62, the teacher of SS No. 4, Chandos. He has been at the same one-room school for 33 years. Previous to that, 1918, Mr. Reynolds taught in seven other rural schools for ten years which totals 43 years of continuous teaching.

Graduating from the old Norwood Model School in 1906, he taught in quick succession at Donegal School (Asphodel), Oak Lake School (Methuen), Preneveau (Belmont), Hale's School (Chandos), Fleetwood (Victoria County), Stanwood in Northumberland and the Mount Julian School in Burleigh Township.

At least one family, Mrs. Edwin Davis, her son Russell and his children Faye and Judy—have all been taught by Mr. Reynolds; they are three generations. He also taught his own five children. One daughter, Jewell, took two years of high school under her father's tuition as did another pupil, Bernard Steen. At present granddaughter Karen Reynolds is learning her ABC's from him.

Mr. Reynolds cannot recall any of his pupils that made shining marks in the world but he recalls three—he forgets their names—two of whom run a joint state insurance business in Indiana and another, recently deceased, who was a bank manager in Mexico City.

Modern educational methods give a general knowledge more quickly than former curricula but they are not as basicly sound, Mr. Reynolds thinks.

The owner of a 100-acre farm just down the road from the schoolhouse, he raises cattle, hogs and chickens and tills about ten acres. He was member of the Chandos county council for several years and is now municipal clerk. Mr. Reynolds attends both Lasswade community churches, Grace United and St. Paul's Anglican.

Mrs. Reynolds was the former May Kitchen of Havelock. Her husband was born in Lindsay, son of the late Alfred Reynolds and Annie Hughes. The Reynolds have two daughters, Mrs. Ronald Woodbeck (Jewell), Mrs. Alf Leslie (Ruby) and a son Wellington, both of Peterborough, and another son James, Post Master of Apsley.

"I hope to retire this June," said Mr. Reynolds, "if the council can get a replacement for my position. There is a lot of work to do around home."

Up To Rainmaker

JACKSON, Miss., May 30 (AP)—Another broiling sun Tuesday beat down on drought-damaged cotton, corn, and soybean crops in Mississippi for the 39th day without rain. Some farmers are putting their hopes for relief on an unidentified rainmaker who has offered to produce two inches of rain by seeding clouds with dry ice for $15,000.

7,060 Workers To Holiday In August Week

A total of 7,060 employees of Peterborough industries will be vacationing during the first week in August, the peak week for summer holiday industries' shutdowns with 13 industries closed during this period.

About 80 per cent of the holidayers are expected to leave the city.

This information was released today in the May Peterborough Chamber of Commerce bulletin's annual survey of local industrial holiday periods.

The August week will see 12 major industries in the city closed. They are: Canadian General Electric, De Laval, Dominion Woollens, Peterborough Lock, Canadian Raybestos, A. Wander Company, Colonial Weaving, Peterborough Lumber, Martin-Hewitt Containers, McGinnis Trailer, Brinton-Peterborough Carpet, Outboard Marine and Peterborough Canoe Company.

The last week in July is the second biggest holiday period with 5,955 employees out from seven industries. The second week of August is third with 916 employees from three industries and the first and second week in July are the same with 750 employees from one industry—Westclox.

Four industries—Canada Packers, Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough Co-op. and the Quaker Oats are following a stagger system for employees' holidays. Canadian Sealright, Canadian Nashua and Canadin Ventilating Shades companies have as yet to make definite vacation period plans.

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that this survey is published for the benefit of retail and resort operator members of the chambers and also for dairies, bread companies and other service supply houses to make requisite stock estimates for the summer months.

Fire Chiefs Of District To Draw Up Plans To Cope With Emergencies

Peterborough, Omemee, Lakefield, Smith, Bridgenorth, CGE, Included; Plan Must Pass Municipal Councils

The fire chiefs of local municipalities that have fire-fighting equipment are going to draft a tentative plan for co-operation in case of an emergency. This was decided Tuesday night at a meeting called by Alderman A. B. Burrows, chairman of the fire, water and light committee. Attending were Reeve Harry Deyell and Fire Chief Bill Stevens, Omemee; Chief Allan Clark and Deputy Chief Bill Hamblin, Lakefield; Chief Al Crowe, Bridgenorth; Chief Noble Hicks, Smith Suburban; Arthur Parker, fire chief at CGE; Chief George Smith, Peterborough, and the committee members.

When the plan is drawn up it will be presented to the Lakefield, Smith township, Omemee and Peterborough councils for their approval.

The plan is primarily for everyday fire protection, but it could also be the basis for civil defence firefighting measures.

List Equipment

The six chiefs are expected to make an inventory of their equipment. A complete list will be available to each so he can call for it immediately in case of an emergency.

Chief Clark pointed out that what was needed was a working agreement that, for example, would have the Lakefield Brigade covering an exposed part of Smith Township should one of the Smith brigades be called to a Peterborough fire.

It was also suggested that key men from the volunteer forces could be trained by the Peterborough Fire Department. Chief Smith said he and the department would be glad to help train these men. It was a standing offer of his since he became head of the Peterborough Department.

Written Agreement

All of the fire chiefs wanted their respective councils to enter into a clear-cut written agreement on the co-operative scheme. This way, for example, Chief Stevens of Omemee could ask assistance directly from Chief Smith in Peterborough without the necessity of clearing it first through municipal officials.

The procedure would be laid down in the written agreement.

This view was strongly supported by Reeve Deyell.

"The personnel of councils change," he said, "and the members have different ideas. It would be better to have some form of written agreement."

Lakefield Plan

At present Peterborough has a smooth working agreement with Lakefield only. Mutual assistance is given by a call directly from chief to chief. A "minimum charge" is levied by the municipality responding to the call.

However, the policy of the fire, water and light committee is to assist other municipalities—such as Smith Township and Omemee—that have firefighting equipment. Permission must first be obtained from the Mayor or the chairman of the committee.

Other municipalities that have no firefighting equipment may get assistance also if the Mayor or chairman agrees, but co-operation in their case is less likely.

Help Themselves

"Isn't our idea to help only those who are trying to help themselves," queried Alderman E. C. Braund. Both Mayor Swanston and Chairman Burrows agreed.

Arthur Parker, CGE chief, said he was sure the management would be willing to enter into some arangement with the city and Chief Smith. However, he doubted if his fire equipment would be of much use in rural districts. The CGE has a hose truck, trained men, oxygen masks, chemical extinguishers and such, but no pumper—usually a necessity in a rural fire.

Omemee has a new 500-gallon pumper, an old hose truck with a 50-gallon chemical extinguisher tank, four-wheel trailer pumper and 16 men; Lakefield has a 500 and a 600-gallon pumper and 25 men; Smith and Bridgenorth have a 500-gallon pumper and a 750-gallon tanker (larger than any in the city), and a total effective strength of 43 men.

Alderman Doug Miler said the previous attempts to work out an agreement had broken down because the parties tried to take in a certain area. And there was always some municipality just on the outskirts of that area that wanted in.

He advocated standardized training methods among the municipal firemen, but doubted the necessity of "a hard and fast written agreement."

If a co-operative agreement on fire fighting is reached among these municipalities it is thought that other municipalities will want to join.

Mayor To Sign Contract

Reg. Faryon Asks Paving Company Moved

With a request on the table from Reg. R. Faryon that Warren Paving Co. be prohibited from operating at its present location, board of works Monday passed a motion by Aldermen Miller and Rehill that "the mayor and clerk be authorized to sign and seal" the contract with the company for this year's paving program.

Sympathy for the position of Mr. Faryon as set forth in his letter was tugging with the recent feeling of satisfaction that the city had "a pretty fair bid" from Warren Paving.

Ald. T. D. Miller expressed his opinion that in their tender the company intended to make sure that they were getting under any other prices submitted to the council.

Risk New Bids

On the other hand, if this present arrangement with the paving company, now approaching the clinching of the contract was disturbed, "we might have to get new bids."

Warren Paving lost last year's business to Bennett Construction Co. of Oshawa, but the successful contractors appear to have obtained most, if not all, of their hot asphalt surfacing from the Warren plant.

It was learned at the city hall last week that the Bennett people were again being supplied from that source for the completion of their 1950 Peterborough obligation.

The last part of that job is a short stretch of surfacing on Monaghan Road near Byersville, and Rogers St.

May Start Injunction

In his letter to the council, Mr Faryon intimates that he is seriously considering injunction proceedings against Warren Paving.

The company's asphalt plant is on the north side of the old Auburn Woollen Company, near the building that was used for office purposes.

Mr. Faryon's home is said to be on the Douro side of the river road, and distant about the length of several blocks from the asphalt plant. It was set up in 1949, and at that time Mr. Faryon was told, according to his letter, that it would be removed at the fulfillment of that year's contract with the city.

Believed Moving

"On an appeal from the Mayor and the president of the company to allow the city paving contract to be completed, I reluctantly withdrew my objection on what I believed was an understanding that when the job was finished the paving company would move to some other location."

"I made this arrangement in good faith as evidence of my personal co-operation with the city, and for that summer I moved to Chemong Lake because it was impossible to live at home due to the conditions created by the company.

Last summer the company did not operate until early fall. Then, the president approached me and said they had received a few days' work on the Lindsay Highway, and would I go along with them to do this job of very short duration... I again reluctantly agreed not wanting to take an arbitrary stand in this matter. However, the company operated all fall, and is now in full production again."

Causes Damage

Mr. Faryon enlarges his protest on such intruding and objectionable causes as: noise, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.; dust: "we cannot open our windows during the daytime, and this dust is causing us not only personal annoyance, but actual physical damage to our property"; smoke.—it is an oily emanation; property value; health and physical appearance of the plant in the vicinity of Peterborough Golf and Country Club.

"Warren Bituminous Paving Company have informed me that they have done everything they can to eliminate noise, dust and smoke. As, by their own admission, they cannot do anything more to eliminate these nuisances, I respectfully submit to the council a request that the company be prohibited from operating at this location."

Sought Quiet

The correspondence explained that Mr. Faryon moved to the River Road location "because of its quietness and country atmosphere....and the whole purpose and effect has been completely spoiled during the summer months, when it could be most enjoyable, by the operation of this plant...."

And to the company: "I must reluctantly advise you that unless your operations cease by June 15, I will take whatever action is necessary to protect my proyerty and peace of mind and health of myself and family."

A motion by Aldermen Miller and Anglesey instructed City Clerk Outram to write Warren Bituminous about what they intend to do in view of the opposition from Mr. Faryon.

Mr. Faryon is president of the Quaker Oats Company of Canada.

Woman Faces Arson Charge

A charge of arson was read in police court today against Mrs. Muriel Cameron, Bolivar St. She is charged in connection with a fire that did slight damage to the north half of a River Rd. duplex May 12.

Magistrate W. R. Philp remanded her without election or plea until June 6. Bail was fixed at $5,000.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw opposed bail, "on the grounds of public safety." Defence counsel P. D. Scollard argued that Mrs. Cameron's health would suffer if she stayed in jail.

Fire was set in two places in the River Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. James English while they were away on May 12. The mattress of a folding camp cot in the cellar was destroyed, and a blanket in a bedroom burned. Paint thinner had been splashed on several places in the bedroom. Neighbors smelled smoke and put out the fire.

HARWOOD, May 29—(ENS)—Special services were held on Sunday at Bethesda United Church, when gifts of furnishings and a silver communion service were dedicated to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. David Carstairs, early settlers in this district.

Mr. Carstairs, with members of his family were present and unveiled the pulpit and chairs and spoke briefly to the congregation. The Rev. A. E. Larke, pastor of the church, was in charge of the morning service, and the guest speaker at the evening service was the Rev. Preston Brown, Camborne.

Special music was rendered by both junior and senior choirs. At the morning service a presentation of a hymnary and Bible personally engraved and a purse of money was made to Mrs. Garnet Issac from the congregation in appreciation of many years of service as organist.

Baptists Hold Special Mission In Havelock

HAVELOCK, May 29 (ENS)—A special missionary service was held in the Baptist Mission Sunday evening when guest speakers were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cole of Cobourg, who are leaving in the near future for Maracaibo, Venezuela, to serve as missionaries. The field to which they are going will be a difficult one as there has only been one convent there in quite a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Cole are graduates of the Briercrest Bible Institute, Caronport, Saskatchewan.

Mr. Cole chose as the theme of his message "The Need of Prayer" based on the first portion of 11th chapter of Luke where Christ taught His disciples to pray.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole sang two duets "A Thousand Million Souls are Crying" and "Lord Send Me", for which the latter played the accompaniment on her accordion.

Cheerful Movies Objective Of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 30 (AP)—You hear it all over town—Hollywood is on the upbeat.

"We are clearly and unashamedly going after upbeat stories that entertain rather than depress the audience," a studio boss told me. "The pictures that are selling in the current market are those which bear no problems."

This means that the future films will place the accent on music, comedy and adventure. As the old Hollywood saying goes: "Let Western Union carry the messages" . . .

TV Blues

Maybe you don't think that the top comedians aren't knocking themselves out to appear at their best in television. Take the example of Edgar Bergen. He put so much time, effort and money into his last TV show that he figures he won't even show a profit on the deal. "In fact," he told me, "I think I lost $25."

Bergen has been putting his show on film and has found that's the most expensive way of doing TV. . .

The rumbles in the Jack Benny household are confirmed by friends. But the arguments have nothing to do with their marital felicity, which is as calm as ever. Mary just wants to give up her acting career; Jack doesn't want her to.

If Mary wins out, it will be television's loss. She looked beautiful on her TV debut with Benny this month. And her comedy touch would be sorely missed on the air show. . .

Capsule Review

"The Guy Who Came Back" presents an arresting problem, but doesn't know how to solve it. It poses the question of what happens when a pro football star becomes too old to play the game. Most of the picture shows the attempt for the footballer (Paul Douglas) to find his future. He is helped by the wife (Joan Bennett) and hindered by his girl friend (Linda Darnell). Much of his quest is interesting stuff, aided by adult dialogue. But the film comes to a disappointing finish with the real problem unsolved.

British Pay Higher Price Utility Garb

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON —(CP)— Price increases in Britain's utility clothing scheme, effective this month, mean that most family budgets have to be trimmed still further. It's either that, or shabby clothes.

The latest 20 per cent increase on outer garments for men and boys followed a similar increase in women's wear. And almost everyone in Britain wears something "utility." The scheme covers everything from underwear to furs, clothing for everyone from dockworker to big business executive, bridal wear and evening clothes.

Started in 1941, the plan was designed to bring clothing of a certain standard within the reach of all. Utility clothes are free from the heavy sales tax applied to most luxury goods.

This does not mean bad design and bad workmanship. The government specifies the quality of materials used, width of hem and seams and even the number of stitches to the inch of sewing. Every article must meet the specified standards. Now "utility" has become an integral part of the British economy.

Hold Their Own

Top-grade utility articles hold their own in the best clubs and restaurants. Many are indistinguishable from similar "non-utility" wear on which a 33⅓ or 66 2/3-per-cent purchase tax has been paid.

From a bad wartime beginning when the utility marking "CC41" meant clothes as dull as their name, with bad design and poor finish, the scheme has widened to include most of Britain's best-known couturiers.

Now you can buy utility reproductions of design by Hartnell, the Queen's dressmaker, and many other of London's big ten of fashion. Five members of Paris' haute couture bring up-to-date French designs within the scheme. A new firm, the "Couturiers Associes," was started in London for this purpose.

At a recent London meeting Lord Hollenden, head of a large group of companies, said: "It is astounding how high the British clothes standard really is. In recent years the average woman has become much better dressed."

A Manchester manufacturer, S. P. Abrams, said "No wholesaler or retailer need be ashamed of the value of the utility clothing he is offering."

Traders in general, however, are not enthusiastic over the scheme. It allows too small a margin of profit.

Approve Women In Synod

TORONTO, May 30 (CP). — Extension of membership in the Anglican church Synod to women on the basis of equality with men was approved 125-105 last night at the 99th annual Toronto Diocesan Synod. A small majority will be sufficient to put it into force then.

Mrs. Ritchie Is Speaker

George Street Baby Band mothers opened the regular meeting Monday evening with a sing song led by Mrs Colonel Ritchie of the Salvation Army, and with her own accompaniment on the guitar. Mrs. Ritchie was also the guest speaker, and gave an inspiring address on "The Appeals of Jesus." She said the cry of the world even in its present day state, if the "iron curtains" were open, would undoubtedly be "We would see Jesus." She went on to say what a wonderful talent is the right kind of personality. Just as some of parents' characteristics are portrayed in their children so we who claim God as our Father, should be expected to show some of His love and forgiveness in our lives. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. A. Clysdale and thanked by Mrs. J. Weaver. Mrs. F. G. Sargent presided for the program and read the scripture. Prayer was offered by Mrs. L. S. Wells. Two members of the intermediate choir, Misses Ruth Grant and Phyllis Hart, rendered a duet, "Whispering Hope," accompanied at the piano by Mr. Charles Allen. President Mrs. R. W. Parnell conducted the business, and asked the members to complete the layettes, if possible, to have them displayed at the Chrysanthemum Tea in October. Betty Beavis Becomes Bride Of Wilbert Edgar Knox United Church, decorated with spring flowers and ferns, was the setting Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Betty Irma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Beavis, to Mr. Wilbert E. Edgar, son of Mrs. Edgar and the late Mr. John Edgar, all of Peterborough.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas performed the ceremony and organist Mr. William Potter played the wedding music. Mrs. Norman Hughes was soloist and sang "O Perfect Love" before the service and "Through the Years" during signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, made with very full bouffant skirt that extended into a long cathedral train The bodice was finished with a nylon net yoke appliqued with seed pearls. Her veil was of tulle bridal veiling in fingertip length and caught to a pearl studded satin crown. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

Miss Constance Gurney and Miss Ruth Poulson of Toronto attended the bride, wearing yellow and mauve taffeta frocks with headdresses to match and carrying nosegays of roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Jack Edgar of Ottawa was the groomsman and ushers were Gordon Beavis and Donald Menzies.

The reception was held at the Club Aragon with the bride's mother receiving her guests in a gown of heather crepe with hat of black straw and wearing a corsage of talisman roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother dressed in a navy ensemble and wearing a corsage of talisman roses.

Leaving on a wedding trip to Toronto, Buffalo and Rochester the bride wore a suit of copper shade with matching accessories and champagne colored topcoat.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar will live at Chemong for the summer months.

Disaster Service Of Red Cross Reports On Fire

Report of the Disaster Service committee of the Peterborough Branch Red Cross Society on the activities when fire disaster struck the city May 19th was given by Mrs. Charles Ray at the regular meeting Tuesday.

She said it had been realized directly that food, first aid and transportation would be the only requirements, so, since the Salvation Army was already serving coffee to the workers, arrangements were made with that organization to provide the sandwiches. More than 1,000 sandwiches were made up in the Red Cross rooms at a cost of less than $40 and 100 sandwiches were ordered from Churchill restaurant at a cost of $15.00. Payment for these supplies was made from a fund set up for the purpose.

All coffee, sandwiches, meals and cigarettes gotten from Churchill restaurant by the Salvation Army was paid for at the regular prices with money contributed by bystanders on the street.

Donors of food and drinks for the firemen were. Mr. and Mrs. Lovitz of Downyflake Coffee Shop (do-nuts), hamburgers and sandwiches) Mr. W. R. Thompson, manager Canada Dry Ginger Ale Co. (six large cases ginger ale); Mr. D. W. Grills, manager Canada Bread Co. (eight loaves of bread); Louis Billiards (large case Coca Cola); Mr. J. A. Jebson through Braund's store (materials for sandwich fillings); Mr. John Lynch (manager Lynch's Drug Store (additional first aid supplies). Twenty four pairs of asbestos gloves were reported purchased from War Surplus Stores at a reduced price of $17.

The committee expressed great admiration for the work done by the St. John Ambulance Brigade at the scene of the fire. Theirs is the first aid service under the Red Cross disaster plan. The transportation service was called into action by Mr. Bruce Payne and the Red Cross ambulance and three cars were on the street for use when need arose, with others on call.

President Mrs. F. E. Hooper reported on the work of recruiting the staff for the booth where collections for the Mayor's Fire Fund are being taken and asked members to give time there whenever possible.

Reports of the conveners of loan cupboard, Junior Red Cross, Apsley Hospital, swimming and water safety, blood donor and civilian relief were heard.

Meetings were adjourned until September, unless made necessary by unforeseen circumstances.

Y Worker Stresses Aid From World Fund

Most members of the Peterborough YWCA have made some contribution to the World Service Fund annual collection. They had vague ideas to what use their money would be put. However, on Tuesday afternoon, Board members were given a first-hand story from which they realized the necessity of the fund.

Miss Estelle Amaron, who has recently returned from Rangoon, Burma, told of the rebuilding of the YWCA there after it was almost wholly destroyed by bombs during the war.

With only the steel framework of the original building to start on, the fine structure, used as a residence and for clubs and recreation for Burmese girls, has now been completely restored and is being carried on by a staff of trained native women. Money from the World Service Fund has put the brick and plaster on the building and trained the leaders.

The Canadian YWCA sent $5,000 which was used to send 70 women of Burma to study. They had had no books since the war started. Donations toward the building were also made by Canada.

Miss Amaron told the Peterborough Y members they had made the largest gift from a local association toward the travel expenses to the world conference at Lebanon.

She thanked them for helping the women of Burma to take their place in the world as women and as Christian citizens. Women of Burma always had freedom not generally given to Mongolians. They have always voted and been able to inherit and own property. They do not even have to change their names when they marry unless they wish to. They follow the Buddhist religion.

The standard Burmese costume is a wrap-around, ankle-length skirt and a loose blouse and a scarf is worn on special occasions, with perhaps a colorful silk handbag over the shoulder. This costume, an Indian sari of purple silk and several Indian tribal costumes were modelled for the audience when Miss Amaron displayed them.

Miss Amaron, who left an aged mother to return to Burma to direct the rebuilding of the Y, is an example of the service women can give through the YWCA. Donations poured in to her when it was known what she was doing and she was able to operate a refreshment booth and give some accommodation, free of charge, when she set up in a partly destroyed night club for more than a year. "The Burmese people are full of humor, joy and spirit and they waded through the difficulties with me," she said.

The difficulties were many but Miss Amaron's delightful personality helped her overcome them. "Every time I stood for honesty and truth, I received a reward."

Mrs. H. T. Rehill, convener of the World Service committee, thanked Miss Amaron and the appreciation was extended by president Mrs. T. J. Carley.

Tea was served after her address by the social committee with Mrs. B. Meyers as convener.

Miss Norma Pue Wed At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, May 30 (ENS)—Lakefield United church was the setting for a lovely wedding Saturday afternoon when Norma, daughter of Mrs. Pue, and the late Mr. Judson Pue, became the bride of Bernard Wannamaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wannamaker.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Frank Coyle, the bride wore a pale blue marquisette gown, ankle length with full skirt and Peter Pan collar and trimmed with daisies. She wore a white mohair hat and carried a nosegay of white roses.

Attendants were her two sisters, Mrs. Arnold Thompson was matron of honor, wearing a beige marquisette dress, white mohair hat trimmed with orange blossoms. Brenda Pue was a charming little flower girl in yellow marquisette frock, with matching hat. They carried nosegays of roses and sweet peas.

The church was artistically arranged with baskets of tulips and snapdragons.

The wedding music was played by John David Grylls, and during the signing of the register Miss Jean Millar sang "At Dawning."

Mr. Arnold Graham was groomsman and ushers were John Pue and Bill Hudson.

A reception was held at Club Aragon where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of heather crepe with matching hat and corsage of gardenias. The groom's mother also received in a gown of grey crepe, navy accessories, and corsage of pink roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to the United States. For travelling the bride chose a grey suit with navy blue accessories and cosage of red roses. On their return they will live in Lakefield.

Hospital Council Forms Auxiliary

OTTAWA, May 30 — (CP) — Formation of a Canadian Council of Hospital Auxiliaries, representing women's holpital associations from all provinces except the Maritimes and Newfoundland, was announced Tuesday at the Canadian Hospital Council conference.

Mrs. O. W. Rhynas, Toronto, who was president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario for 17 years, was elected president of the new body.

Other officers include vice-president Mrs. H. W. Davis, Kingston.

200 Attend Empire Day Tea Of Ladies' Aux. To Legion

The Empire Day tea, postponed a week owing to the disastrous fire in the city, was well attended on Tuesday, about 200 guests being welcomed during the afternoon. Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion were the hostesses with president Mrs. Albert Mason and vice-president Mrs. G. Stevens receiving.

Flags decorated the hall and bazaar tables and centred each of the 15 small serving tables, while the tea table centrepiece was a masterpiece in keeping, of flowers tinted red and deep blue combined with white.

The artistic arrangement was so admired that it was decided to offer it as a raffle prize and the lucky winner was Mrs. N. Stanger who happened to be celebrating her 82nd birthday. Mrs. Stanger had been asked to draw the winning ticket.

Many bouquets of mauve and white lilacs softened the setting of the high-ceilinged Legion Hall as did candlelight on the lace covered tea table. Garlands of red, white and blue decorated each of the white-covered bazaar tables.

Prize of the day was an almost life-size toy lamb on which tickets have been selling for some time. Everyone wanted to hug its soft wool body and stroke the satin-lined ears, particularly ticket seller Mrs. A. Gynane, but the privilege was given to Mrs H. Oliver of RR 4, Peterborough, when Mrs. Douglas Miller drew her ticket. The lamb was made for the Auxiliary by Miss Betty Wasson, a patient in the Gravenhurst Sanitarium.

There were two other draw prizes, a three-layer chocolate cake with frosting and a woollen afghan and tickets on these were sold during the tea by Mrs. L. Frape. The winner of the cake was Mrs. A. Black and Mrs. Jim Frape won the afghan, when tickets were drawn by Mrs. S. Moldaver.

Palm reading and tea cup reading were two features of the tea that were exceedingly well patronized and the lady-seers handed out good advice and hope for the future throughout the tea hours.

A well supplied home cooking table was attended by Mrs. E. Dormer, Mrs. E. Woods and Mrs. E. Graham who also assisted with the serving. Mrs. T. Rollins was at the candy table and a "touch and take" table was operated by Mrs. C. Kernohan.

Servers are Mrs. F. Patterson, Mrs. W. Downer, Mrs. S. Zakos, Mrs. T. Alcock and Mrs. E. McWilliams. The table was replenished by Mrs. A. Moscrop and the plates filled by Mrs. S. Windsor, assistant convener of the tea, and Mrs. H. Beresford while Mrs. S. Sarginson and Mrs. W. Wilson made the tea.

Tea pourers were Mrs. M. J. Swanston, Mrs. R. Merrett, Mrs. B. D. Hall and Mrs. S. Moldaver.

Mrs. A. Parrington was the general convener and Mrs. H. Dodds was in charge of the decorating.

Treasurer Mrs. R. Ritchie took tickets at the door and looked after receipts of the day.

SWAMP PLANT

Valerian is an erect herb 1 to 5 feet tall, found chiefly in cedar swamps in Eastern Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Wasson extend sympathy to the families of the gallant men who gave their lives in the disastrous fire.

Our appreciation is extended to the Peterborough Fire Department and Police Department for their courtesies.

DOROTHY DIX

Young Wife Enters Protest Against These Wild Parties

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young married woman. Before I married I worked in a large office, led an active, clean life. My husband is a domestic man, loves his home, and we are very happy together. Regardless of what party we are invited to it consists mainly of husbands and wives having petting parties with somebody else's wife or husband, drinking, telling vulgar stories, yelling and singing. I am no prude, but all of this is repulsive to me and I would much rather stay at home with a book or listen to the radio.

Dorothy Dix

The result of all this is that the crowd rarely comes near us because we are too slow for them, and we really have few friends. What's the matter with us? Were we born a generation too late?

MRS. E. M. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I would say that what's the matter with you is that you are too decent and self-respecting for the rowdy crowd that you have fallen in with, and my advice to you is to beat them to the dropping proposition and do it first. Don't worry about their laughing at you and calling you slow. Just wait ten years and see which one of you has got along best in the world.

A Common Pitfall

You are confronting one of the greatest dangers that menaces every young married couple, and that is getting into the wrong crowd. I have watched many of these groups of young married people who consider themselves very broad-minded because they indulged in drinking bouts and regaled each other with obscene stories and swapped partners. No cut-and-dried ideas of morality. No jealousy. Oh, dear me, no. They were far too liberal for that. But in the end it wasn't so funny after all. For there seem to be certain fundamental rules of nature and conduct that we can't joke with. Being broad-minded doesn't give you a stomach that can stand being outraged by liquor. A headache and shattered nerves follow a debauch, and petting parties between an assorted group of husbands and wives, whose caresses belong by right to their mates, doesn't promote family peace and harmony. It leads to fights and squabbles and divorce.

And so, my dear Mrs. M., if you have got into that sort of crowd, get out while the getting is good and you still have your husband. There are plenty of nice crowds of nice young peole. Find one of them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl 26 years old, going with a man ten years older. He loves me, I know, and I love him very much but since he discovered I went out with an ex-boy friend just once he said he can't trust me. He said he is afraid I would be unfaithful if he did marry me, but prior to hearing of my date, he never had mentioned marriage. Since he is 36 I have a feeling he doesn't want to marry at all and that this is just an excuse. What do you think? JULIA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your summing up of the situation is just exactly right. There is little doubt that your friend is altar-shy and has pounced on the first motive he could find for letting you know it. After all, if he has never mentioned marriage to you, he certainly has no right to object to your dating someone else. I don't think the difference in your ages has anything to do with the situation; he has just grown used to bachelorhood and is loath to change his way of living. Even if you could throw a halter around his neck and lead him to church, you probably wouldn't be happy with him. A comfirmed bachelor makes a very unsatisfactory husband. Let him go, and you find a husband in greener pastures.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Will you give me some suggestions on the following:

1. How to practice being tactful.
2. How to combat the after-effect of tactless remarks by others.

KAY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The Golden Rule is the best example of tact I know.

Yellow Sauce Improves Fish Frozen Foods Help In Crisis

By MARY MOORE

Fish Dinner

Broiled Smoked Haddock Fillets
Yellow Sauce
Green Peas Carrot Dice
Baked Potatoes
Cabbage and Parsley and Green Pepper Salad
Fruit Cup (frozen strawberries)
(fresh pineapple)
(canned peaches)
Tea

✧ ✧ ✧

Directions

From the number of frozen items used in the above menu you might begin to suspect that I was giving them an advertising plug but the truth was we were having guests for dinner, and I did not have time to prepare for them. All possible shortcuts had to be taken.

So we had frozen fish fillets, frozen green peas, and frozen strawberries in the fruit cup.

But none of those things touched off a resolve to write about them in the column. It was the yellow sauce that I made that I impressed myself with.

Most of you have poached smoked haddock fillets in milk or water. But that was not the effect I wanted. When they were thawed I spread them with butter and put them in the oven with the baking potatoes. The temperature was 450 deg. Fahr. and the fish was about 4 inches below the turned-on top oven. It was baked through in 15 minutes at the thickest part. I removed it at once because I wanted it to be moist.

✧ ✧ ✧

Yellow Sauce (for fish)

One and one-half cups whole milk, 3 tablespoons each flour and salad oil or margarine, ¼ teaspoon each MSG, curry powder, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon salt. Now I added about ½ cup grated processed cheese, and ¼ cup chopped parsley, but they are not necessary to get the yellow effect or the flavor. If used, melt the margarine, then stir the flour into it or the oil, and when blended stir in the milk which should be hot if you are in a hurry. Stir until thick. Add all remaining ingredients. This gives you a pretty yellow sauce with the effect of Hollandaise or mock Hollandaise and without the expense of yolks, butter and lemon juice. Lemon juice could be added to the above sauce to advantage.

✧ ✧ ✧

High Heat Helps

By the way, you remember don't you that potatoes baked at a very high temperature have much better flavor than those baked in a moderate oven? The high heat turns the starch in the potatoes to sugar, giving them a delicious slight sweetness. They are fluffier too, but need to have butter swimming in them.

I think I am tossing off my salad suggestions in too taking-it-for-granted a manner. One of my neighbors pinned me down to telling her just how to make a salad the same as she was eating.

Here it is:

✧ ✧ ✧

Cabbage, Parsley and Green Pepper Salad

First sharpen your long knife until it is razor sharp. Using half of a medium sized or small cabbage, start shredding onto the cutting board from the cut side. The shred should be about 4 inches long and 1/32 inch thick. One-half of a medium-sized cabbage will serve four. Add inch-long shreds from green pepper—using about half of a pepper and ¼ cup chopped parsley. Add about ¼ teaspoon salt and 4 tablespoons mayonnaise. (The mayonnaise I use is home-made from 3 egg yolks, 3 cups oil, juice of 2 lemons and 1 tablespoon each dry mustard, salt and sugar.) Swish it around in a large bowl and serve as soon as possible.

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." Keep that in mind and you'll never say the thoughtless, cutting things that hurt people. Make it part of your daily living and you'll be practising tact in the best possible manner. When a tactless remark is made by another, the best thing to do is smooth the situation over by a change of subject or, if possible, turning the thoughtless words into a joke.

6—In Memoriams

McVETY—In loving memory of our dear mother, Jennie McVety, who passed away May 30, 1950.
One year has passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear mother
We do not think of you.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by family.

REID—In fond memory of my brother, J. Clinton Reid, who was accidentally killed on May 30, 1950.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
—Sadly missed by brother Bazel and family.

REID—In loving memory of our dear son, Clinton Reid, who died suddenly on May 30th, 1950.
We have only your memory, dear son,
To remember our whole life through,
But the sweetness will linger forever,
As we treasure the image of you.
—Lovingly remembered by Mother and Father.

REID—In loving memory of Clinton Reid, who passed away May 30, 1950.
Your presence is ever near us.
Your love remains with us yet,
You were the kind of a brother
Your loved ones would never forget.
—Lovingly remembered by his sisters.

REID—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Joseph Clinton Reid, who passed away May 30, 1950.
From our happy home and circle,
God has taken one we loved,
He has borne away, from sin and sorrow
To a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him,
None but aching hearts can tell,
Lost on earth, but found in heaven,
Jesus doeth all things well.
—Always remembered by his wife and family.

Castleton Man President UC Conference

KINGSTON, May 30 (CP) — The Rev. J. E. Griffith of Castleton today was elected president of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada at its 29th annual conference.

He succeeds the Rev. H. A. Kent, principal of Queen's Theological College.

The Rev. H. C. Wolfraim, Almonte, was re-elected secretary and the Rev. Alfred Poulter, Wellington, was re-elected assistant secretary.

The conference re-elected the Rev. J. E. Glover, Elgin, treasurer.

Too Much Waste

A United Church missionary said Tuesday night that enough food is being thrown away in the United States and Canada to feed 12 Chinese cities.

Dr. H. W. Outerbridge of Toronto told the conference:

"We burn or plow under enough food in an effort to stabilize prices that would feed 20,000,000 or 30,000,000 people who are starving in Asia."

Dr. Outerbridge, president of Western University at Kobe, Japan, said the problem of feeding the starving millions of Asia should be met by the United Nations.

The people are turning to Communism in the hope of getting food, he said.

Speaking of work in the mission fields, he said an organized attempt is being made to convince the Chinese that every missionary is a spy sent to "soften up" the Chinese.

When missionaries go back to China they should go as co-workers and not as "bosses," he added.

And Immigrants

The Rev. G. D. McLeod of All People's Church in Hamilton said his church had made great advances in bringing Christian education to immigrants.

Three churches are being operated in Hamilton for the benefit of new Canadians.

Communion service was held during the afternoon with the Rev. Dr. H. A. Kent, president, in charge. He was assisted by the Rev. Dr. C. E. J. Cragg, minister of the United Church here. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Shaw, of the Theological College at Queen's University, Kingston, delivered the communion meditation. The Rev. E. F. Swayne, retired minister of Napanee, conducted the memorial service.

He told delegates there is a great need of young men for the ministry.

Commonwealth Wool Grower Plan Safeguard AgainstNew Price Drop

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A move is afoot among principal wool growers of the Commonwealth to protect themselves against severe price changes.

Details of the proposals, as received by the Wool Bureau, Inc., Toronto, provide for a £66,000,000 minimum reserve price plan designed to limit any sudden major price-drop; and for a seasonal level below which prices could not fall.

John McEwen, Australian Minister of Commerce, states that the governments of Australia, the United Kingdom, New Zealand and South Africa have spent 17 months in negotiating the scheme.

The plan, he states, means that in the wool auction rooms there would be an additionsl buyer with tremendous buying power, prepared to pay the reserve price if it were not forthcoming from trade buyers.

Main control, if the plan is approved, will be vested in a Central Authority, incorporated as a company in London. Australia and the United Kingdom would have three directors each and New Zealand and South Africa two each.

Would Frame Policy

Before each season the authority would recommend the reserve price and would also frame the broad policy for subsequent selling of any wool acquired at the reserve prices.

Before the proposed scheme can be put into force, a referendum will be held among Australian woolgrowers. Mr. McEwen states that the majority of growers favor the plan, but that some are opposed. In Sydney, the president of the New South Wales Graziers' Association claims that the scheme would be grower-financed, but n. grower-controlled.

The scheme provides that if the funds become fully committed in the purchase of wool, the governments of the wool-producing countries will guarantee provision of the additional amount needed to maintain the reserve price. Legislation will be needed by each of the governments concerned.

Hon. K. J. Holyoake, New Zealand Minister of Agriculture, states that New Zealand will join in the plan.

Canadians Affected

While Canada is a relatively small wool producer alongside her sister Dominions, and is not a part of their organizations, wool growers here are naturally affected by what they do.

Wool News, published by Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, Ltd., comments in its current issue:

"Even if the high levels (of wool prices) of recent months do not continue, the raising of sheep in any areas, including Canada, can be depended upon for satisfactory returns . . . The days of the small flock as a side-line are gone—they deserve a better position in the farming economy even at prices much below present levels for wool or for lamb or mutton.

Frost Requests Review Of Rules

TORONTO, May 30 — (CP).— Premier Frost said Tuesday he has asked the Civil Service Joint Advisory Council to review regulations which bar permanent government employment to relatives of present civil servants and prevent casual employees from getting superannuation benefits when they retire.

A recent editorial in The Trillium, published by the Ontario Civil Service Association, said that out-dated regulations prevented civil servants, who may have worked for years on a temporary basis, from being classified as permanent employees if a relative is already on permanent staff. Only permanent employees can get superannuation benefits.

Ford Union Threatens To Strike Monday

DETROIT, May 30 — (AP). — The 65,000-member Ford Local 600 of the United Auto Workers Union (CIO) Tuesday threatened to strike Monday if the Wage Stabilization Board does not approve a four-cent "annual improvement factor" pay raise by Friday.

President Walter Reuther of the UAW, however, directed immediately that Local 600 "take no action" without specific approval of the International Union.

A three-cent cost-of-living increase becomes effective June 1 in wages of UAW workers in most automobile plants. Also scheduled for that date is a four-cent "annual improvement factor" raise, granted yearly for increased production and efficiency in five-year contracts most firms signed with the UAW last year.

Allied Advance Halted In Furious New Battle

A RESCUE TEAM carries the first man to be taken from the coal mine at Easington, England, recently after a violent explsion buried 79 miners in a tunnel behind thousands of rocks. The rescued man, Matthew Williams, 19, died in hospital a few hours later. One of the rescue workers also died. The bodies of 16 men have been removed from the mine and all hope was abandoned Wednesday for the remaining 62 men.

Challenge Reds Attend Parley

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France challenged Russia today to accept a four-power foreign ministers' meeting in Washington July 23 "in the interests of strengthening peace." The three western powers sent identical notes aimed at breaking the deadlock over what world tensions the four foreign ministers should discuss. The four power deputies have been trying to do that in Paris since March. The American, French and British deputies here handed the notes to Russia's deputy foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, at their 64th meeting on a top-level conference agenda. Copies also were handed over at the Kremlin in Moscow by the western ambassadors.

The notes blamed lack of agreement on an agenda upon the Soviet insistence that the big four should discuss the North Atlantic alliance and the establishment of American bases in Europe.

The Soviet Union contends the Atlantic Pact is a major cause of international tension. The west rejects this claim.

The note explains that the western powers proposed May 2 that there be three alternative agendas. One of these has become known as the "split agenda" because it contains both the west's and Russia's wordings, side by side, on the question of armaments and armed forces.

The notes contend that agreement could have been reached on this "split agenda" except for Russia's demand that the Atlantic Pact be discussed. The west holds it is ready to attend a big four meeting on the basis of this "split agenda" or on either of the other two alternative agendas.

The notes declare the three western governments believe such a meeting is desirable in the interest of strengthening peace, described as the instant objective of western foreign policy.

All three agendas call for the examination by the foreign ministers of present international tensions.

Unchecked Forest Blaze Advances On Paper Plant

TIMMINS, May 31. (CP)—A big forest fire burned out of control near the Ontario-Quebec border today but firefighters were confident they could get the upper hand. The blaze has lashed through 4,800 acres of birch and jackpine since it started late yesterday. Heart of the fire is in Hepburn township on the Ontario side near Lake Abitibi, about 100 miles northeast of here.

The fire spearheaded to within two miles of a big Abitibi Power and Paper Company pulpwood camp. However, a change in the wind sent flaming bark and debris in the opposite direction.

One report said the fire has already destroyed 7,000 acres of timberland.

Scores of the company's bushworkers were rushed to the scene to help battle the blaze.

It was the only one of 17 forest fires in the province still burning out of control.

Three hundred volunteer firefighters tried unsuccessfully today to drive a flaming wedge in front of the blaze. More men and equipment are being rushed in by plane and truck.

Plan Encirclement

A. S. Bray, regional forester, said he hoped the army of men will be able to encircle the fire perimeter late today.

The fire was advancing through old slash left from pulpwood operations.

T. E. Mackey, chief forest protection officer, said the paper company is in no immediate danger. But a change of wind would send the fire sweeping down on

Reds Demanding 100% Turnout

BERLIN, May 31 (AP) — East Germany's Communist bosses today demanded a "100 per cent" turnout for next week's "peace plebiscite" in the Russian zone.

The east sector government announced the machinery is all set to poll 12,000,000 eligible east Germans on the double-barrelled question:

"Are you against remilitarization and are you for a peace treaty for Germany for 1951?"

By special decree, youths as young as 16 are permitted to cast a vote in the poll.

West Germany and West Berlin have forbidden the poll in their territory as pure Communist propaganda.

The "votes" will be taken Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in the Soviet sector of this city and the surrounding Soviet zone.

Massey Report Tabled Friday

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Wednesday the reports of the Massey Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences will be tabled at Friday's House opening.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg) asked if it were true that copies of the report had been circulated in advance Wednesday to members of the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

Mr. St. Laurent said he did not know. If that were done, it "certainly was not done by or on behalf of the government." He expected to receive his copy as leader of the government Friday.

Press gallery members received advance copies of the report Wednesday to enable them to digest it and prepare their reports of its many recommendations. This was done on the understanding that their stories would not be made public until the report is tabled in the Commons Friday.

Foot-By-Foot Search For Drowning Victim

TIMMINS, May 31 — (CP) — Police are launching a foot-by-foot search of the north shore of Nighthawk Lake, 23 miles east, for the body of Harry Wright. The 45-year-old Industrial Acceptance Corporation manager and three other men were drowned May 21 when their boat overturned during a sudden squall.

Bodies of two other victims have been found. Body of Anthony Kento, 28, formerly of Sudbury, was recovered near the north shore Wednesday night. Body of George Ritchie, 24, of Cooksville, was found Tuesday night.

Don Spearn, 22, only member of the fishing party to escape, Wednesday left his home in Barrie after hospital treatment for exposure.

CENTRALIA, Ont., May 31 — (CP)—William Koele, the young Dutch immigrant who saved the lives of two fliers Tuesday, will receive the highest possible commendation the Air Force can obtain, Wing Cmdr. Bruce Miller said today.

Explosion Traps 14 German Miners

HAMM-HERRINGEN, Germany May 31 (AP)—An explosion trapped 14 German miners early today in a blazing mine shaft. Rescue workers abandoned all hope of getting any of the men out alive. Twenty miners were saved—four of them critically injured.

The doom of the German miners was evident when officials ordered the blazing shaft sealed off, to prevent the fire from spreading and destroying the entire mine.

The miners were entombed 3,000 feet below ground at the mine—the Heinrich-Robert—when an explosion touched off a fire in a conveyor belt which ignited coal dust. The flames soon were roaring through the shaft. The explosion occurred at 2.15 a.m. and by noon the 14 trapped men were given up for lost.

Poem By Canadian Wins Oxford Award

OXFORD, England, May 31 — (Reuters)—A poem on the Queen of Sheba by a Canadian Rhodes Scholar, Michael Hornyansky, 23, today won this year's Newdigate prize for English verse, one of Oxford University's most coveted awards.

Hornyansky went to Oxford last October from University College, University of Toronto, where he took a Master of Arts degree in 1949.

The young scholar will recite his poem before Prime Minister St. Laurent at Oxford Jan. 20. The Canadian Prime Minister, L. B. Pearson, External Affairs Minister, and Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, Canada's Governor-General, will be visiting the university to receive honorary degrees.

Says MacArthur Considered Armistice In December

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman today testified Gen. Douglas MacArthur apparently believed last December that United Nations forces in Korea might have to arrange an armistice "on the best terms available."

Sherman, chief of naval operations, told Senators inquring into MacArthur's ouster that the military situation was regarded then as gloomy by both Washington and Tokyo.

He said the Joint Chiefs of Staff, after messages from MacArthur, sent Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, to Tokyo. They also messaged MacArthur that they were "forced to conclude that evacuation is a possibility."

On Dec. 4, Sherman said, Collins messaged from Tokyo "that General MacArthur feels best solution would be to arrange armistice on best terms available as soon as possible."

This was at the low point of United Nations strength, after UN troops had been thrown back by the surprise intervention of the Chinese Communists.

The situation changed thereafter and, in the light of recent UN counter-attacks and the crushing of a spring offensive of the Reds, Sherman told the committee he believes the Korean conflict is buying time for improvement of the anti-Communist military position all over the world.

Iran Agrees Compensate Oil Losses

Board of 3 To Run New Industry, Deadline Ordered

LONDON, May 31. (Reuters)—Iran has agreed to compensate the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company for losses due to nationalization, a news agency message received here said today. The message said this was disclosed in the text of a note delivered Wednesday to Richard Seddon, Anglo-Iranian's chief representative in Tehran, by Iranian Finance Minister Mohammed Ali Varasteh.

It gave the Anglo-Iranian Company five days to make any suggestions.

A memorandum to the oil company Wednesday night left little hope of any solution to the problem, in the opinion of British observers here.

The memorandum was handed the oil company's local representative, N. R. Seddon, by Finance Minister Mohammed Ali Varasteh at the first meeting of a company official and a government minister since Iran passed the nationalization law a month ago.

The note, outlining "regulations for execution" of the nationalization law, said a three-man government board was going to Khuzistan province, site of Anglo-Iranian's operations, to run the nationalized industry.

Name Chairman

An unconfirmed report in top diplomatic circles said National Economy Minister Amir Alai would be chairman of the commision and that the group would go to Khuzistan within the next five days.

Observers noted the memorandum specified that all employees of the "former oil company" would "from this date (Wednesday) be recognized as employees of the Iranian National Oil Company"—a government body.

Apparently Iran recognizes Wednesday as the date of the turnover.

Other developments in the swiftly changing scene:

1. There were also reports that Iran may ask Britain to withdraw her Consul General in Khuzistan as a protest against him personally.

2. Reliable informants said the AIOC may send here one of its two directors to represent the British government on the AIOC board, reportedly either Sir Thomas Gardiner or Viscount Alanbrooke. The repot was not confirmed, but it is understood that either of these two would be acceptable to the government of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

3. Abdul Ghadir Azad, national front deputy who has split with Mossadegh, reportedly attacked the Premier at a secret session of the Majlis (Lower House of Parliament) this morning, declaring Mossadegh should carry out the oil law at once and not go around explaining it to the British and American ambassadors. This referred to Mossadegh's luncheon meeting two days ago with British Ambassador Sir Frances Shepherd and American Ambassador Henry F. Grady.

12 Canadian Jets Will Salute King

LONDON, May 31 — (CP) — Twelve Vampire jets of the RCAF Red Indian Fighter Squadron will salute the King on his 56th birthday, June 7.

The Canadians, led by their commanding officer, Sqdn. Ldr. R. T. P. Davidson, of Vancouver, will take off from the training base at Odiham, Hampshire, and join other RAF squadrons in the most imposing flypast of jet aircraft ever arranged. In all, 96 of the Commonwealth's speediest planes will take part.

The mass flight will sweep in over London and roar past St. Paul's Cathedral, Trafalgar Square and above The Mall of Buckingham Palace.

The King, provided his health will permit his appearance, will watch the display from a palace balcony, with other members of the Royal Family.

Although the King was born Dec. 14, his birthday since his accession to the throne has been formally observed in June.

Invited To Palace

LONDON, May 31. (AP)—Margaret Truman has been invited to dine with the King and Queen next Thursday, Buckingham Palace disclosed today. The dinner, a private one, is for King Haakon of Norway. He is making a state visit to Britain next week which coincides with the vacation tour by the American president's daughter.

Caterpillars Delay Train 2 Days In Row

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 31 (CP)—Swarms of forest tent caterpillars crawling across the main line tracks have delayed the Canadian Pacific passenger train from Toronto two days in a row.

So thick are the hordes of caterpillars that their crushed bodies greased the tracks, causing locomotive wheels to slip without friction.

Tuesday, the train was delayed for more than an hour as the crew spread sand on the rails. Wednesday, the delay lasted 20 minutes. Infestation ocurred near the village of Cutler, about 90 miles east of the Sault.

Forest insect laboratory officials said the tent caterpillars are reaching the peak of their 10-year cycle. They will disappear in about 10 days, to reappear as moths. After this year the numbers of caterpillars will decrease gradually as the 10-year cycle is rounded out.

Low bushes and trees all over Algoma bushlands are covered with the silken webs of the caterpillars. Destruction of young trees is expected to be heavy.

Stores Waging Big Price War

NEW YORK, May 31—(AP)—A wide-open price war flared with renewed vigor in big department stores here today.

Prices were slashed as much as 36 per cent below those that existed Monday.

Macy's erected ropes to guide lines of customers to order-takers.

The price-cutting, which started Tuesday when Macy's posted reductions on nationally-advertised merchandise that was price-fixed under the "Fair-Trade" Law, spread to many other articles today.

Here are the prevailing prices, compared with the fixed prices:

Electric toaster, $15 against $23; electric mixer, $29.65 against former $46.50; summer-weight suits, $21.94 compared with $29.95; vacuum cleaner, $70.63 against $89.95; a best-selling novel, $3.13 against $4.50.

25th Brigade Fights As Unit In Korea

OTTAWA, May 31 — (CP) — Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade is now fighting as a unit in Korea under Brig. John M. Rockingham, defence headquarters said today.

The newly-arrived units of the brigade, which have been in the fighting line since last Friday, were joined by the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, two days ago, according to word reaching here.

Previously, the Patricias fought as part of the 28th Commonwealth Brigade, and the unit remained with that formation even when the Royal Canadian Regiment, Royal 22nd Regiment and artillery units went into the line May 25.

These other units fought as a partial brigade until joined by the Patricias two days ago.

Gift Of Food May Be Sent To Aid India

Report Second Offer Of Low-Grade Wheat Rejected By Nehru

OTTAWA, May 31. (CP) — Gordon Graydon (PC-Peel) told the government Wednesday "time is running out" for Canadian help in India's famine. He was advised in return that India has declined a second offer of Canadian low-grade wheat, this time as an outright gift.

External Affairs Minister Pearson said the government now is canvassing the possibilities of sending special health foods and of diverting to India better-grade wheat earmarked for other countries.

No decisions have been reached he said in the Commons, but both possibilities are under active consideration. The Minister also said the government would gladly help any private bodies desiring to send food or other supplies.

Missing Opportunity?

Mr. Graydon, seizing the lever of a government supply motion to raise the subject, said there is great and growing concern in Canada "as to whether we are missing a challenging opportunity" to improve relations with the Orient by failing to send relief to a country where millions might die of hunger.

Mr. Pearson, replying, recalled India's decision not to accept an offer to send low-grade wheat as part of Canada's contribution under the Colombo plan. A day or so ago, New Delhi declined a second offer, this time to make low-grade wheat—the only kind now available without depriving regular overseas customers of deliver-

Official Passport Found Hindrance

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP). — A traveller with a diplomatic passport sometimes takes longer to pass border officers than an ordinary citizen, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Wednesday.

He was telling the Commons committee on external affairs about the new, free passports issued to members of parliament and members of provincial cabinets. These are free and are called "official" passports.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) said he had been told such passports were likely to cause the holder more trouble than an ordinary one.

Mr. Peterson said that could be. His own experience, going to the United States, for instance, was that when he displayed his official, diplomatic passport, he was treated with such deference and formality by border officials that it took up a great deal more of his time than when he presented himself as an ordinary citizen visiting the US.

De Valera Leading

DUBLIN, May 31. (AP)—First returns today gave Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail party four seats in the Dail (parliament) to one for its chief rival, Fine Gael. The results of Wednesday's voting generally followed the previous election pattern as count began of an estimated 1,000,000 votes. Ireland's complex proportional representation system makes tabulation slow. The final results may not be known until Saturday.

RCAF To Enlist Women Ages 18 to 29

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP).—The RCAF announced Wednesday its qualifications for women's division enlistments, who will start entering the service in limited numbers today.

Applicants must be between 18 and 29 years old, except for former wartime WD's, who may be accepted up to 40 years of age. Education minimum is Grade 10 or equivalent and the women must be single with the exception of special cases where the air force may consider a married woman with no dependents.

Applications are also being received for commissions, and these applicants must have a university degree or senior matriculation with two years' administrative experience.

The RCAF is the first of the services to start recruiting women for its regular force. All three services are expected to start recruiting for reserve forces later.

While the RCAF will start today to enlist a small nucleus of women, full scale recruiting will not start until early in July.

Applications will be accepted from others in the meantime, but such recruits will be placed on leave without pay until early in the summer.

Arrangements are being made for a small number of former WD's to come in on a temporary basis to assist in interviewing applicants.

Women recruits will get their initial training at St. John's, Que., moving on to the appropriate RCAF trade school in five or six weeks for basic trades training

First women to be trained will be in the radio and electrical, clerical, medical and fighter control trades.

Shoots At Policeman Jailed For 10 Years

TORONTO, May 31 — (CP) — Barry Thornton, 20, of Toronto, was sentenced to 10 years in penitentiary when he was convicted today of shooting at a police officer.

Marshall Hull, 18, and George Britton, 22, were given two years less a day for auto theft while William Corbett, 20, was given two years less a day for assault in the same incident.

The four Toronto youths were involved in a street-corner fracas Jan. 3 when Police Constable Gordon Haslam wounded Thornton after the latter shot at him and missed. Thornton still has a bullet in his spine.

Ask Social Services Burden Lifted Off Municipalities

OWEN SOUND, May 31 (CP)—Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto, president of the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves, today asked that the burden of providing social services be lifted from the municipalities' shoulders.

Delivering his presidential report at the opening of a three-day conference here, Mayor McCallum also called for a more precise definition of municipal tax responsibilities. This, he said, would do away with the municipalities handling many taxes which could better be admnistered at the provincial or federal level.

Mayor McCallum said the present tax structure has aggravated the circumstances of municipal governments "beyond the breaking point" in the last few years. The problem was second only to national defence in all spheres of government.

"The costs of relief to municipalities never again should be a contributing factor to the financial instability of municipalities in the social structure should be met by levels of government having the widest range of revenues derived in a more equitable way than at the municipal level."

Mayor McCallum said the system of conditional grants to municipalities has proved unsatisfactory and should be eliminated. He urged a review of properties now exempt from municipal taxation, and asked that municipalities be granted the right to tax provincial and federal properties in municipal areas.

The conference, attended by more than 200 delegates from cities and towns across the province, will hear a keynote address by Premier Frost of Ontario tonight.

Other speakers include Health Minister Mackinnon Phillips, Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar, Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader in the legislature, Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders and Prof. Alan F. Klein of the University of Toronto.

Strongholds Threatened By UN Army

300 Chinese Dead On Battlefield As Canadians Retreat

TOKYO, May 31. (AP) — Communist troops fighting with renewed fury halted Allied advances today 13 miles from the Communist Korean strongholds of Chorwon and Kumhwa. Other United Nations forces regained control of the 275-foot high Hwachon dam with comparative ease. Across the 125-mile Korean front, Allied forces slogged through the mud for slow gains or fought off sharp attacks.

Twelve Red jets tried an attack of their own on US B-29 Superforts. Eight F-86 Sabre Jets cut in with the usual result—two Russian-type jets downed and one damaged. The B-29s, unharmed, went ahead with their bomb runs on a northwest Korean rail bridge.

The stiffest fighting swirled against American spearheads on the western and west-central fronts pointed at Chorwon, and around Inje on the east-central sector.

Heavy Attack

Chinese units pitched a fantastic counter-attack at dusk Wednesday against Americans in the hills around Yonchon, 13 miles southwest of Chorwon. In a night-long battle the Reds pushed the doughboys off the ridges and shoved them back 1,000 yards.

At dawn Thursday the Americans leaped to the attack. By noon they had regained their positions on the road to Chorwon.

Front-line officers estimated at least two Chinese divisions stood between the Americans and that Red stronghold, 60 miles north of Seoul.

Yonchon itself, said AP correspondent John Randolph, is a no-man's-land. Americans patrol it by day, Chinese by night.

The Chinese started their first spring offensive prematurely Apr. 22 to keep the allies away from Chorwon. At that time UN forces were four miles away.

Want To Force Issue

One of the announced objectives of the current allied counter-offensive is to force the Reds into another premature attack.

Killaloe Murder Hearing Opens

PEMBROKE, May 31 (CP) — Preliminary hearing opened on Wednesday of Lloyd Robert Wyse, charged with the murder of Lloyd Barber, 51-year-old Killaloe taxi driver in the latter's home last April 15.

Dr. J. O. Patton, Ottawa pathologist, testified that 13 separate head wounds inflicted on Barber appeared to have been made by "a blunt edge wielded with some force." He said Barber died from loss of blood.

Wyse, a hydro worker of nearby Golden Lake, was arrested in Hamilton two days after the slaying. Police said he had stolen the taxi driver's cab and sold it in Niagara Falls to a used car dealer.

State Advisers Meet With King

LONDON, May 31—(Reuters)—King George, up again after a week's bout with influenza, today held a meeting with his state advisers at Buckingham Palace.

On his doctors' advice the King Wednesday cancelled a four-day visit to Northern Ireland, scheduled for this weekend.

The Queen and Princess Margaret will carry out the arranged program, leaving Liverpool tonight for Belfast with a 50-mile journey through provincial areas.

Special police precautions, imposed following incidents by terrorists of the Irish Republican Army, will be maintained until after their return home.

Earlier this week 13 suspected extremists were detained by Belfast police in raids on pro-Republican areas.

Bevin Ashes To Be Buried In Westminster

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters)—Ernest Bevin, former foreign secretary, is to be reburied among Britain's Kings, Queens, statesmen and poets in Westminster Abbey.

The rugged trade unionist, son of a poor farm laborer, will be the first socialist statesman to be interred there.

This recognition by the state of the services he rendered the country in 6½ years at the Foreign Office and as minister of labor during the Second World War was announced in parliament on Wednesday by Prime Minister Attlee.

Attlee told the House of Commons that the burial will take place without official ceremony, in the presence of the Bevin family and a few friends and colleagues, on June 8.

Believed Fitting

He said that Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition and Clement Davies leader of the Liberals, had agreed it was fitting Bevin's ashes should be interred in the Abbey, "having regard to his great services to the country in many capacities for a long period of years."

Interment in Westminster Abbey is an honor for commoners paid only to the nation's greatest statesmen, men of letters and soldiers.

Bevin died in London April 14, aged 70. He was cremated.

Last notable figures to be buried there were Lord and Lady Passfield (Sydney and Beatrice Webb), the intellectual founders of the modern British socialism.

Dr. David Livingstone, the explorer; Charles Dickens, the novelist; Sir Isaac Newton, the scientist; Chaucer, the poet, and William Pitt, the statesman, are among those buried at the Abbey.

SPECIAL STAMPS

Postage stamps have been issued to honor all dead presidents of the United States from Washington to Franklin Roosevelt.

Hydro Appointment

JAMES A. BLAY

Formation of a Public Relations Division and the designation of James A. Blay as Director marks the culmination of a policy inaugurated at Ontario Hydro three years ago when Robert H. Saunders, C.B.E., K.C., was appointed Chairman. Coming directly under the Chairman's Office, the new Division crystallizes the progress achieved in line with the original objectives to keep the people fully informed at all times on the progress and affairs of Hydro. Mr. Blay, who was formerly Manager of Promotion, has been identified with the Commission for the past 12 years and is widely known, not only in the electrical field, but in newspaper, advertising and motion picture circles.

Easy To Fly Over Pole But Once Enough—Blair

NEW YORK, May 31. (AP)—Charles Blair, Jr., the first man to fly alone over the North Pole in a single-engine plane, says the record trip was "awfully easy" but he doesn't want to do it again. The 41-year-old airlines pilot flew across the top of the world Tuesday in his converted F-51 Mustang fighter plane, the "Flying Gas Tank." His 3,300-mile non-stop flight from Bardu, Norway, to Fairbanks, Alaska, took 10 hours and 27 minutes.

About eight hours later, Blair took off from Fairbanks and flew another 3,450 miles non-stop to New York, where he arrived nine hours and 31 minutes later at 4:40 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

Blair, on vacation from his pilot's post with Pan-American World Airways, said:

"It is awfully easy to fly across the top . . . but I wouldn't want to do it again. Once is enough."

Doesn't Mention Purpose

Blair mentioned no specific purpose of the polar flight, but admitted the United States Air Force is interested in any navigational or operational "dope" he picked up.

He told reporters he flew about 25,000 feet over the polar area and encountered temperatures as low as 25 degrees below zero.

He said his trim, scarlet craft "performed beautifully" all the way, laden as it was with extra gas tanks. His only troubles, he said, were a short radio blackout and a nosebleed.

In both cases, India's reply was that she would rather wait and see if better-grade wheat becomes other crop is harvested. The low-grade wheat would not be suitable for the normal type of bread used in India. India, meanwhile, was counting on rice and other food from "neighboring countries" to see her through.

Post Office Debate

The House left the discussion of the Indian situation to the two foreign affairs experts and devoted its most prolonged debate to the bill to overhaul the post office act for the first time in years.

The big issue there revolved around charges by members of all three parties in opposition that patronage—rewards for loyalty to the Liberal party—plays a major if not dominant role in appointment of a lot of postmasters across the country.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) said he is "bitterly disappointed" that the new bill does not close "the patronage loophole." He and other opposition members said defeated Liberal candidates handle postal patronage in some ridings.

Postmaster - General Rinfret's reply was that appointments are made on a veterans' preference basis and that various persons and bodies, including the Canadian Legion, are consulted. He said the post office department has received—and followed — recommendations from members of both sides of the House.

Council Will Screen Ten Latest Films

Peterborough Film Council will feature the screening of 10 films at the last meeting of the season at the Public Library on Friday night.

These films from the National Film Board preview library will be given their first public showing at this meeting and include such topics as "Science in the Orchestra," "Birds of Canada," "Making of Games," "Grandma Moses," and "Plant Oddities."

The new system of film distribution in Ontario will also be explained at the meeting. This system will operate so that each film council in the province will contribute $100 for each block of five films. It is hoped that $2,500 will be contributed for film purchase by the film councils of Eastern Ontario. The Peterborough council is planning to subscribe for three blocks which cost $300, but will mean that it will have $2,500 worth of films available for next year.

Police Quell Clash At Dock

MELBOURNE, May 31 (Reuters)—Police rushed to the Melbourne docks today to quell a clash among Maltese, waiting for immigrant friends, and Australian customs officers.

Three customs officers and two Maltese were injured and five Maltese arrested.

Two hundred Maltese had waited four hours for the berthing of the 7,821-ton Florentia, bringing their friends. One of the immigrants rushed off and tried to hide in a crowd of his countrymen when customs officers were examining his baggage. He was caught and the trouble broke out when they tried to bring him back to the customs bay.

Suggests Drive Against Drinking

KINGSTON, May 31 (CP)—A United Church minister today urged all men to break down the dividing walls of racial prejudice and class bitterness.

The Rev. J. R. Mutchmore of Toronto, secretary of the board of evangelism and social service, also asked members of the United Church of Canada to wage an all-out war against drinking and gambling.

He was speaking at the church's Bay of Quinte Conference here.

Dr. Mutchmor said members must "make our fellowship more inclusive by going into all parts of our rural life, into industry and mining, into shipping and transportation."

It must be done at home and abroad, he said. "Not in terms of any system such as capitalism, socialism or communism, but as part of the work and witness of the gospel and the kingdom of God."

He said Canada has in stock more than 70,000,000 gallons of liquor, "enough at the present alarming high rate of consumption to last for 10 years."

The federal tax rate on liquor should be increased by at least $3 a gallon to discourage buying, he added.

Prices Roll Upward In Quiet Trading

TORONTO, May 31 (CP). — Prices rolled upward in quiet trading as the session progressed on the stock market today.

Industrials chalked up advances ranging to more than $2. Papers, steels, agricultures, constructions, foods, refining oils, liquors and manufacturing companies showed a majority of advances. Retail stores, banks and textiles weakened. Despite a handful of good increases trading in the section was dull.

Calgary and Edmonton held the spotlight in western oils with a 1¾ jump.

Hudson Bay stood out in base metals with a $2 25 jump. Noranda was up $1.25, Consolidated Smelters $1.50, and the rest of the group added fractions. Key issues ahead included East Sullivan, Falconbridge, Normetal, Quemont and Waite Amulet.

Golds had little trend. Both senior producers and secondary golds showed gains and losses about balanced. Price changes were limited to small amounts and many issues were unchanged.

Max R. Sloan Heads Assessment Body

Maxwell R. Sloan, head of the assessment department of the Ontario government, will be chairman of a special committee appointed by Premier Leslie Frost to study possible equalization of Toronto and suburban assessments.

Other members will be J. Donald Patterson, assessment commissioner of Welland, and Archibald G. Tipper, assessment commissioner of Kirkland Lake.

Mr. Sloan was appointed to the department of municipal affairs by Hon. George Dunbar, an important promotion from the position of assessment commissioner in Peterborough.

He joined the local staff at the city hall as an assessor under the direction of William J. Henry who was then assessment commissioner. He is a son of the late George Sloan of Chamberlain St., who was a contractor and builder.

Trinity Church To Build Sunday School

Trinity United Church has been given permission by the Town Planning Commission to proceed with building plans for a new Sunday School.

William Ovens, chairman of the finance committee, and J. E. Girven, chairman of the building committee of Trinity Church, approached the commission for a building permit recommendation at the meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The new building will be added to the south and west sides of the present church building.

Mr. Ovens told the Examiner today, that actual building will begin in June. The two-storey building will contain an auditorium and classrooms and its exterior will resemble the present building both in architecture and materials used. The estimated cost of the building is $200,000 and it is hoped that it will be completed before the end of the year.

The erection of this building will bring to completion plans begun approximately 12 years ago when the church received a bequest from the late George Morrow to aid in erecting a Sunday School building.

The plans have been drawn by Horwood and White, Toronto architects, who are specialists in church building and the contractor is Charles Huffman, Peterborough.

Wildcat Strike In Seventh Day

The wildcat strike of 30 production workers at the Ontario Marble Co. Ltd. plant, Maria St., entered its seventh day today with the workers still refusing to get back on the job.

Appointment of a foreman whom the men dislike is the issue at stake. Union officials will neither confirm or deny that they have repeatedly urged the men to get back to work.

A personal dislike to the new foreman is said to be the reason the men are against him. They also raise the issue of seniority in the plant.

Company officials will make no comment.

The men have reported for work each day but have done nothing but play cards and talk. There has been no trouble or demonstrations.

A meeting between the company and the strikers is expected later today. Prospects of an early settlement are not known.

Bush pilots reported early today that the fire had cut off the main bush road leading north from the lake.

Meanwhile, firefighting crews are finishing their job on the big fire that swept through 55,000 acres of birch and pine in the Gogama district.

The blaze has been completely ringed by a "fire line," and more than 600 men are at the site, Ward said.

During such offensives the Chinese have been cut down in the greatest numbers.

300 Chinese Killed

At least 300 Chinese Communist troops were killed on a sodden Korean battlefield Wednesday as Canadian troops abandoned two miles of newly-acquired terrain.

At nightfall both sides were still in contact in the hills in the Unchon area. Canadian casualties for the day were light.

Apparently determined that United Nations troops will not enter the Chorwon plains, to which the village of Chail, 40 miles northeast of Uijongbu is the gateway, the enemy threw everything into the battle to oust them.

In this assault, the Chinese, attacking in hundreds, forced eastern Ontario troops by sheer weight of numbers to leave positions won just a few hours earlier.

South Koreans had to fight to enlarge their crossing of the Imjin river, southwest of the Yonchon action. Heretofore they had faced comparatively light opposition in advances south of the 38th parallel.

Just north of the border American troops were forced to withdraw Wednesday from positions near Yongpyong under heavy fire. The highway town is in the sector between Yonchon and Chipo, and about 10 miles to the rear.

Elsewhere on the west-central front an allied tank patrol near Yonggong pulled back from strong Red artillery fire.

In the general area west of allied-held Hwachon, 478 more hungry Reds surrendered to South Korean and American troops. The UN command says more than 10,000 Reds have given up in the last five weeks.

Bruce Parker Loses Suit, Must Pay $1,000

William Leslie Bristow, Millbrook was today awarded $1,000 in his suit against Bruce Parker, Peterborough lumberman, in which he claimed Parker did not live up to the terms of an agreement signed July 3, 1946.

Judgement was for $1,000, plus interest since issuing of the writ, and costs of the action. Justice R. I. Ferguson is presiding at the adjourned non-jury sittings of the supreme court for Peterborough county.

For Timber

Bristow claimed Parker agreed to pay him $3,000 for the timber, standing or fallen, on a lot owned by Bristow in Cavan township. Parker paid $1,000 when the deal was made in 1946 and paid another $1,000 December 1, 1947.

However he did not make a final payment of $1,000 on December, 1948, because he said his cutting operations were halted by the Ganaraska River Conservation Authority.

The GRCA, set up by provincial legislation, prohibited the cutting of trees in the Ganaraska valley as a means of eliminating erosion.

Parker, through his solicitor, Alex Elliott, KC, argued that because of this ban on cutting the contract was "frustrated."

Provincial Law

Justice Ferguson pointed out that the provincial legislation setting up authorities such as the GRCA was in force at the time the contract was signed, and might have been anticipated.

"On the defendant's own admission all the timber had been taken off the land," observed Justice Ferguson. And the justice also found that other merchantable fuel wood had been taken off with the exception of 100 cords.

"Mr. Parker's rights, if any, are against the GRCA not Mr. Bristow," said the justice. "Mr. Bristow ought to have been paid."

J. C. N. Currelly was solicitor for Bristow.

Wiley Funeral Saturday

Contractor Sues Peterborough

A suit against the city of Peterboruogh by a Picton contractor began shortly before noon today at the adjourned non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court. Justice R. I. Ferguson is presiding.

Murney Howe, Picton, claimed damages for conversion and breach of contract. He had concluded a contract on May 12, 1950 to demolish the expropriated buildings on the site of the new city hall.

On the afternoon of July 10, Howe said, another contractor moved in and carted away $1,000 worth of brick and fill to the local dump. This was a violation of the contract, he said, and regardless of whether or not he had defaulted on the agreed time to finish the job the city had no right to move in as it did.

A further $400 worth of fixtures were taken from the MacPherson house, 493 Water St., also in violation of the contrcat, he said.

The city is filing a counterclaim on the basis tha tthey had to move in when Howe did not complete his job within the agreed time.

Memorial Day Toll Lowest Since War

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP). — Celebration of Memorial Day in the United States appears to have been one of the safest since the end of the Second World War.

The death toll in violent accidents—111—was one of the lowest for a single Memorial Day holiday in several years.

The 66 killed on the highways was far below the National Safety Council's estimate of 110.

MINEFIELD LANDSCAPE: Often compared to the Ruhr, this is how Northern France looks from the air. Dimly seen in the background are modern "cities" springing up in the shadow of coal piles.

French Miners, Better Off Than Ever, Want Sons To Be White Collar Men

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

LENS, Pas-de-Calais, France—(NEA) — The French miner's rights and privileges were reduced to a formal code in the 1946 law that nationalized the mines. Thus began a vast modernizing of France's mining industry, and programs for the housing, health and recreation of the miners.

In this area, scene of the most important coal fields in France—sometimes compared to the German Ruhr—the welfare of 210,000 miners represents a real problem. World War 1 left Lens a heap of rubble. By 1939, some 80,000 new homes had been built and the mines were going full blast. Then came World War II, and 150 bombing attacks damaged or destroyed 28,000 of those houses.

Between the two wars effort was made to erect attractive workers' homes to replace the dismal, drab, endless rows of "corons" or miners' dwellings. The new houses lacked, however, such elementary facilities as running water, gas and inside sanitary installations.

Today, gay modern "cities" are springing up around the mines, with every home planned to enjoy maximum light and sun, and provide all the amenities. They are remote from through roads, so children can play safely. Were it not for the pyramid-like slack heaps which form their back-drop, these might be taken for the suburbs of a large town.

Need 30,000 Homes

By the end of 1950 nearly 3,000 of these new houses had sprung up, but there is need for at least 30,000 more.

Paul Brossard, who is entrusted with all the social activities of the Lens group of the Pas-de-Calas minefields, is an ex-mine engineer with a thorough understanding of the miner's mentality.

They are "all peasants at heart," according to him. "You will never get a miner to live in an apartment building, no matter how attractive," he said. "He wants the privacy of a house and a patch of garden in front."

To avoid any kind of paternalism, each of the nine groups which make up the Nord and Pas-de-Calais basin is fostering recreation and sports clubs or associations which the workers operate themselves. From the three per cent taken from the minefields' gross earnings they are given funds to support all sorts of activities.

These range from football, baseball, basketball, volleyball for the younger men, to fishing, shooting, pigeon-breeding and gardening for the old-timers. There are 10 playing fields in Lens alone and over 1,000 young men enrolled in the different sports groups.

One feature peculiar to northern mining centres is the brass bands. Lens is known for its 60-piece "harmonie," which was invited to give concerts in various Swiss towns last year.

Fewer women are now employed in the mines. They number around 600 for the entire group. They work as "sorters" and "lamp fillers," get equal pay for equal work. Generally speaking, the miner's wife does not work outside her home. For her and the unmarried women there are classes in cookery and all branches of domestic economy.

Each mine has an expert to advise on every branch of gardening. "Perhaps the most popular contest of all is the yearly best garden plot," says Brossard. "They really do wonders and the miners take great pride in having the largest strawberries or the most beautiful roses."

See Country

For the first time, camping parties and caravans were organized last year to give mine workers a chance to see other parts of France. Recently a group of 50 spent a week in Paris. Many had never been away from their homes. There is now a rest home in the South of France where miners and their families can spend their annual vacation basking in the sunshine.

Recreation halls, equipped for sound films and also fit to serve for dances, meetings, and other group activities, are being erected for each of the nine groups of the northern coalfields. Every mine publishes its own monthly newspaper, with news of local interest, labor questions, births, deaths and marriages, hints to housewives, fashions and many illustrations.

It is said coal deposits in this region will last another 100 years. But, despite the advantages denied to other workers, such as medical care, modern garden cities and higher wages, most miners want to make white-collar workers of their sons.

DOWN UNDER: Despite new advantages they have above ground, French coal miners still work with horses in some mines.

Electric Rates Add $8,000

COBOURG, May 31—(ENS)—Increase in the electric rates, amounting to about 25 cents a month for the average consumer, was announced at the meeting of the public utilities commission. The boost is designed to increase the annual revenue of the electric department by $8,000.

The domestic consumer paying $3.94 a month at the present time will pay $4.16 after the rates go up on June 1. A commercial consumer who now pays $12.77 a month will pay $12.80. A heavy industrial user with a monthly bill of $541.81 will pay $570.73 a month.

The public utilities commission received a letter from the local CGE which pointed out that the present water supply was not adequate in the event of a fire. The company accordingly asked that a 12-inch water main be installed. Pending more information on the needs of the new ordnance depot to be buil there, the commission felt that it would be unwise to commit themselves to any major water main installations.

Members of the HEPC discussed the needs of the new 3½ million ordnance depot, and it was pointed out that the huge depot would use power equivalent to one-third the total electric consumption of the rest of the town. The initial electric installation will be 1,000 KVA with an expected eventual load of 2,000 KVA.

Cobourg Retail Clerks Discuss Forming Union

COBOURG, May 31—(ENS)—Retail clerks of the town held a meeting on Tuesday night to discuss formation of a union. An organizer of the union addressed the 30 clerks present and it was decided to hold another meeting in two weeks' time. There was no decision at the initial gathering in regard to forming a union as the meeting was merely to provide such information as would be of use should a union be organized.

Deport Missionary

TAIPEH, Formosa, May 31—(AP)—Nationalist press reports said today an American missionary was deported May 13 from Chengtu in Communist China after four months in prison. Sources here said the man might be Dryden Phelps, nephew of the late William Lyon Phelps, noted Yale University professor and author.

90TH BIRTHDAY — Sidney Hunter, retired Lakefield district farmer, celebrated his 90th birthday Tuesday. In spite of his age he has just finished painting the exterior of his home on Catherine St., Lakefield, and has planted his garden. (Above) Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, Lakefield's oldest married couple, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last September.

Sidney Hunter Active At 90

LAKEFIELD, May 31 (ENS)—Well known in Lakefield and Peterborough, Sidney Hunter, of Catherine Street, celebrated his 90th birthday on Tuesday. In September Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, Lakefield's oldest married couple, observed their diamond wedding anniversary

Full of energy, Mr. Hunter has just finished planting his garden, his hobby, and has painted the exterior of his home. Before moving to their Catherine Street home 24 years ago, the couple farmed for some years between Lakefield and Peterborough.

On Tuesday night a dinner party was arranged with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunter of Peterborough, Mrs. Alice Kennedy, Mrs. M. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bickell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunter, and Gilbert, John and Billy attending.

The couple were married at the bride's home on the Ninth Line of Smith Township: her parents were the late William Laing and Mary Savigny who had 15 children. They moved to a 92-acre farm three miles south of Lakefield, where they stayed for some years. They had no children.

Due to Mrs. Hunter's ill-health, they finally settled in Lakefield.

Mrs. Hunter, 88, has been an active worker in the Lakefield Baptist Church as its former Sunday School superintendent and teacher and a member of the Mission Circle

She is still an industrious knitter for the Red Cross, while Mr. Hunter spends his time gardening.

Driver's Carelessness Blamed For Death

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP) — A coroner's jury ruled Wednesday night that lack of care on the part of Lawrence Campion, 22, of Toronto was responsible for an accident March 23 which resulted in the death of Margaret Robertson, Toronto nurse.

Miss Robertson was a passenger in Campion's car when it glanced off a stalled truck on a highway a few miles south of here and crashed into a tree. Three other passengers were seriously injured.

Assistant Crown Attorney Samuel Lepoesky said he will study the case further before deciding whether a charge will be laid against Campion.

Making The Government Look Foolish

It was astonishing, though not as astonishing as it should have been, when the announcement was made that Canada's money surplus for the month of April was $121 millions of dollars. It is not much more than a month since Mr. Abbott said in his budget speech that he judged that the surplus for the whole year would be about $30 millions. But we are becoming accustomed to these spectacular bad guesses; Mr. Abbott was wrong by $180 billions when he guessed at the surplus for 1950-51. He may well beat that staggering error this year.

* * *

What this means is that the Government is taking far more money from the Canadian people in taxes than it actually needs. The surplus will probably be used to pay off some of the national debt, which will be an excellent thing; nevertheless, we think that if the people of Canada are being taxed to pay off part of the national debt they should be told about it. What we have now appears to be high taxation for its own sake, without any evidence of intelligent management, intelligent accountancy, or even lucky guessing in the Ministry of Finance.

* * *

It must be understood that when we blame Mr. Abbott, we are really putting the chief blame on his principal assistants. We do not suppose that Mr. Abbott fixes the tax rates entirely by himself, or that he makes these preposterous blunders about surpluses entirely on his own authority. It looks as though he had bad advisors. Nevertheless, Mr. Abbott is the man who directs the Ministry of Finance, and he is responsible directly to the taxpayers. It looks as though it were time for him to overhaul his staff and get rid of some of the men who are making him look foolish.

* * *

When every allowance has been made for the irrationality of modern finance, the antics of the dollar and the great increases in wages and costs in Canada, it is still fantastic that a Minister of Finance should exceed his estimated year's surplus by $91 millions in a single month, even before the heaviest weight of the new taxation has fallen upon the public.

* * *

This sort of fiscal tomfoolery can do a great deal to discredit the Government. It makes nonsense of any governmental appeals to the people of Canada to be economical and to spend less. When the Government doesn't know what to do with the money it gets, and cannot guess within ninety millions of its income for a month, why should the ordinary citizen concern himself with what the Government advises? This sort of nonsense makes a farce of taxes, which are obviously applied without any real knowledge of what money is forthcoming. And this sort of money-madness makes it plain that the Government has no intention of applying real measures of economy to itself; it may do a little cheese-paring in the Post Office Department, raising rates and reducing services, but when it has loose millions at hand it will spend those millions freely.

* * *

Very probably the Ministry of Finance has fancy explanations for what has happened, and we shall be interested to hear them. But they will have to be very good indeed to convince the people [illegible] that their Government is not lose their jobs. Who advises Mr. Abbott, and why can they not advise him more accurately and more wisely?

Playing To The Gallery

We congratulate the Speaker of the House of Commons, Mr. Ross Macdonald, on his firm ruling against the growing habit of drawing the attention of the House to irrelevant snippets of information. Certain members of Parliament are interrupting the regular business of the House in order to inform his colleagues that a hen in his constituency had laid the largest egg in the world or that a team from the home town has won a championship. Another abuse is the references sometimes made to the presence of certain people, such as schoolchildren, in the gallery. According to proper parliamentary procedure no reference should be made to the gallery at any time except on the occasion of the attendance of a distinguished representative from another country. On all occasions the House should conduct its business as though it were debating in private.

All these interesting little events are solemnly recorded in Hansard and eventually find their way into the Press, providing publicity at the cost of the nation, who pay the Members of Parliament, the King's Printer, and all the innumerable expenses of government. This cheapjack form of playing to the gallery lowers the dignity of Parliament and should be stopped at once. One can scarcely imagine what would happen if it were decided to broadcast parliamentary proceedings.

Another practice is that of making a long speech extolling the virtues of the member's own constituency, starting with a resume of its history, then passing to its geography, geology, climate, and so on, simply as copy for the local press.

The simple truth is that parliament badly needs enlivening. The government with its enormous majority has become smug, the opposition half-hearted and dispirited, knowing that it is a physical impossibility to defeat the government on a division. It would do the House an enormous amount of good if the majority of the government were reduced to much slenderer proportions. Both sides would then be put on their mettle, and the quality of debate would rise. Members would have to be far more punctilious in attending debates. In the United Kingdom, where the Labour government is hanging on by a thread, M.P.s stagger in from their sickbeds in order to register their votes, and night after night the House deliberates until the small hours of the morning. Our own M.P.s are having a comparatively easy time, and are out of training. They need a gentle reminder now and then of their responsibilities.

Men—Are You Only Little Boys?

Every week we receive a few offers of new features for this newspaper—new comic strips, new articles about international affairs, new series of comments on matters which are of interest to large groups of people. This week we received an offer which looked interesting; it was a series of articles called Your Marriage, written by a man who is a divorce lawyer and his wife, who is a marriage counsellor. This seemed promising, and as we read the articles which were offered as examples we were impressed by them until—until we came upon an expression of opinion which convinced us utterly and completely that these articles were not for The Examiner. "The man you are married to is only a little boy; treat him so," read the article, and later, "men, by and large, are grown-up babies emotionally."

We have no intention of supporting that kind of twaddle, which is clearly rooted in one of the cherished fallacies of this continent, i.e., that men are fatheads, and that they are only prevented from making complete jackasses of themselves by the infinite wisdom, understanding and patience of women. That some men are jackasses and have the intelligence of little boys in undeniable. But it has been our observation that, upon the whole, men are just as grown-up as women, and that there are plenty of marriages in which the husband has to put up with the follies and tantrums of a woman who has never advanced beyond childhood. Of course it flatters women to imagine that they are cleverer than men, but this newspaper is not published in order to flatter women.

The North American continent shows signs of a retrogression toward matriarchy—a system of government abandoned by the human race some thousands of years ago. Under a matriarchy, men are maintained by women simply as drudges and conveniences for the continuance of the race; the women govern, make war and rule the roost. It is an historical fact that nothing resembling modern civilization was known until matriarchy was abandoned. We have no intention of supporting the matriarchal yearnings of marriage counsellors who write newspaper columns.

Germany's Little Kings

By CYRIL DUNN

INQUIRING travellers in modern Germany must often suspect that the war and its aftermath have stripped several layers off the surface of German history.

Visibly, the recession seems to have stopped at Bismarck's iron stratum. It could be that he and his Hohenzollerns built with such awful structural solidity, as the Victorians did in England, that not even the upheavals of the last decade could entirely dislodge their traces. Or perhaps the Occupying Powers, bent on obliterating Hitler's monumental masonry and thereby exhausted, stopped when they reached the old imperial level.

✧ ✧ ✧

AT all events grim Bismarcks in stone and bronze still stand on their pedestals under the thick flowering chestnuts; the mounted Hohenzollerns in their eagle helmets are upright again in the paved squares and beside the bridges of the Rhine.

Western Germany has been given an enviable chance to scrap her recent past and begin again. But in clearing the ground, the Allied bulldozer might not seem to have gone deep enough, at least to those who believe "it all began with Bismarck." They argue that contemporary citizens, on their evening stroll through the Hofgarten, ought not to be distracted from their new, frail notions of European democracy by the Iron Chancellor's unforgiving scowl.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT in fact the historical recession has probably gone much further back than is suggested by the statues in the parks. Shaken by the events of the last twenty years, Germany seems now to have reverted to something pre-Bismarck, to the old kingdoms, dukedoms and principalities of her romantic past.

The separate States, and even some separate cities, often appear to be living completely self-centred lives, taking no interest in anything beyond their own boundaries. They have gone back to something like the self-sufficiency of the old walled towns; the impression is heightened by the medieval banners they fly, the dramatic arms of the city or the State beside the much less interesting colours of the Federal Republic. In West Berlin, particularly, the Black Bear device flapping from the roofs of the city trams is as proud a statement of purely local power as was ever seen in the days of chivalry. And many of these separate West German kingdoms have their own Little Kings.

✧ ✧ ✧

THEY rule with an almost absolute authority. But the chief among their common attributes is a kindly paternalism towards their people. It is perhaps most evident in Heinrich Kopf the Minister-President of Lower Saxony, if only because he himself makes a strong point of it. He binds the Hanoverians to himself, and to the Socialist Party, by exaggerating his peasant origins, by being jovial and agreeably vulgar, and by speaking on public occasions in plattdeutsch. He is a round, shaggy, comfortable man, his walrus moustache stained by the memory of a thousand strong cigars. Not even the cartoonists of the Opposition can make him seem anything but friendly, not even when they paint him bright red all over (falsely to imply a basic Marxism) and show him being decisively thrown by the White Horse of Hanover. To keep his throne, the Minister-President has only to smile from the posters and say: "Trust thy Kopf"—a neat German pun at once appealing to family sentiment and inviting the Lower Saxon to use his head.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS Little King enjoys a little joke. He lives in a moderately imposing villa full of solid antiques, rich oil paintings and impenetrable quiet. The English caller, who expects to find himself wholly among strangers, is suddenly confronted by two ample, familiar faces, aloof and ingenuously proud. They belong to two full-length portraits, one of George III and the other of George IV, here described as Koenig von Hannover und England.

It is a slightly embarrassing encounter and, knowing the Minister-President, one may suppose that it is meant to be. The portraits seem a little too obviously intended to remind the Occupying Power that Hanover once supplied England with a line of kings and is on that account deserving of special consideration.

There is a group in Lower Saxony which favours a Hanoverian restoration, but the Little King who greets one with homely warmth and glasses of sweet sherry does not on that account fear for the stability of his throne.

✧ ✧ ✧

ERNST Reuter, who rules in West Berlin, is a man of much greater stature. For his people he embodies the Hero as well as the Loving Father. But his approach is paternal, too. When he begins "My beloved Berliners," the people wait in a state of pure happiness for his first rumbling joke about the Russians at their gate. Like a father, he jests to take the edge off their fear of things that might go bump in the night.

The separate state of West Berlin is im- [illegible] which the Berold, but ancient, with surprisingly lively and watchful eyes. And behind him lurks the usurper, the Shakespearean figure of Kurt Schumacher, leader of the Opposition. In this larger German kingdom, one often feels that a Shakespearean denouement is in the making, that the King will end with our sympathy and the usurper with the throne.

✧ ✧ ✧

OF all the Little Kingdoms, few are consciously separatist. Bavaria is, and has a real potential king waiting in his castle. The Saarland wants autonomy and is deeply involved with the French. But the others, one may believe, are self-centred only for the time being. Their Little Kings, setting themselves up as reassuring father-images, have led their people back to self-confidence in familiar surroundings, have awakened their interest in the local problems they can understand.

The achievements of the Little Kings may have been limited, but one feels they could be helping Germany step by step back towards an acceptable resurgence.

Hamburg

ed to Western Germany by trade routes, and yet of all the eleven contemporary States it is the most self-centred and self-sufficient. It would, perhaps, be wrong to call Hamburg's Max Brauer a Little King, since the tradition of this Hanseatic city is wholly republican. Today he may be too much like the head of a booming commercial concern to seem at all paternal. Yet, in its early stages, when Hamburg was still a ruin, his rule was visibly that of a father careful of his children; he understood the bewildered childishness of their mood. One of his first acts was to put back on the Alster Lake the little steamers of which his people had been fond and which, in the general chaos, they would find reassuring.

✧ ✧ ✧

THERE are lots of people in Germany who dismiss the Federal Chancellor as the Little King of Bonn. It is true that Dr. Adenauer has been a separatist, eager for a Rhineland State. But his present belief in an integrated Europe is too evident for him to seem a Little King, wholly given to the affairs of a single German locality. It is true that he holds court in a former Royal palace, among the portraits of Kaisers, surrounded by polite young men whose rigidly formal dunkle Anzuege, or "dark suits," give the happiest of occasions a funereal cast.

Adenauer himself is sad-faced; he looks not

Parking Can Be Costly

(TORONTO TELEGRAM)

MOTORISTS who habitually park their cars on streets or highways in front of their homes at night ought to ponder the decision of a Manitoba court in a collision fatality case.

In this occurrence a passenger in an automobile was killed when the machine crashed into another vehicle parked on a snow-covered provincial road in March, 1949. The widow of the deceased man took action against the owner of the parked car and the court has awarded her damages amounting to $15,948.

In handing down his decision Mr. Justice J. J. Kelly of the Court of King's Bench added the dictum that "public highways were never intended for the garaging of vehicles". The heavy damages were imposed on the defendant in the case notwithstanding the fact that, as the judge observed, there had been laxity on the part of the law enforcement officers in permitting parked vehicles on the highway during the winter.

In other words, even though the police permitted the parking practice, it did not exonerate the owner of the parked car from responsibility.

The Manitoba court's decision in this highway case raises the important question whether parking on any thoroughfare is to be viewed as a dangerous practice, as for instance driving on the wrong side of the road is dangerous.

The Manitoba judge appears to hold this opinion for he has said quite appropriately that public highways were never intended for the garaging of vehicles, and he has imposed heavy damages on the motorist whose parked car was involved in the accident.

If the decision in this Manitoba case is accepted as a precedent to be followed in similar cases, motorists must learn to be less nonchalant in using public thoroughfares for the "garaging" of their vehicles at night and while at work or play.

In residential areas cars parked on the street have often been a contributing factor to accidents involving young children who, not infrequently, dart from between parked cars in the paths of motorists. So far as is known the owner of a parked car has never been held legally liable in accidents of this kind, but the Manitoba court decision indicates his responsibility is greater than is commonly thought.

Linotype Gremlins

(Montreal Star)

Greatly daring, the Times of London has opened its letter columns to the recital of misprints which, despite the care lavished on proof-reading, afflict every printed page and amuse or irritate their readers. One reader has recited the references in a Roman Catholic newspaper years ago to Cardinals Wiseman, Manning and Newman as "the immoral trio." Another told how a Colombo newspaper, publishing orders for a ceremonial military parade, that "officers will swear words."

Why we say the Times is "greatly daring" is that it runs the daily risk each day of making a similar bloomer. Every newspaper does, including the journal which once referred to a distinguished general as "a battle-scared veteran." When the general protested, the newspaper apologized and repeated the item, as it hoped correctly. But the gremlins, never distant from a linotype, remained active. The general was next referred to as "a bottle-scarred veteran."

Knew Their Bible

(Lethbridge Herald)

Reading of the death of a St. Thomas man with the surname of Salathiel we looked to the dictionary first for the origin, and the dictionary directed us to the Bible, Matthew 1-12. The verse reads: "And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel and Salathiel begat Zorababel." Unusual names all of them and the first time we ever read of one of them being used in modern times. No question the parents of this St. Thomas man knew their Bible.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. (Matt. 4: 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus....And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul....Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so. And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. (Acts 19: 1, 11, 13-17.)

Not Many Prodigies

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The Lord must not have been too much impressed with child prodigies, or He would have made more of them. In His infinite wisdom He must have realized that a world filled with child prodigies, frequently little creatures with all the answers, would be more than man or nature could tolerate without an awful explosion.

In defence of the youngsters themselves, one could properly argue that few have become known as prodigies unless they had been shoved forward by doting parents who figured that they could share in the reflected glory, and that people would say: "No wonder little Lemuel Joey Von Hoogensplatz is a wonder—look at his poppa!"

Parents, in almost every case, are what prevent a normal childhood for a smarter-than-average youngster. They prefer to substitute a limelight which is scarcely suited to the child's age or health or nerves.

The Cat Knows How

(Saint John Telegraph Journal)

Since cats instinctively climb to avoid danger, they seem to be responsible for more accidents. What is most frequently overlooked is that, in most cases, a cat that climbs up a pole when being chased by a dog, or when satisfying its curiosity as to whether there might be a bird on the top of it, can climb down the pole—or jump quite safely from part way down—when hunger demands or its fancy dictates.

The next time plaintive mewing calls your attention to a poor frightened kitten "marooned" atop a pole, don't call the fire department: firemen are for fires and similar disasters. Don't attempt a perilous rescue: tabby is usually well able to look after herself, except perhaps in winter when the pole is slippery with ice.

Spring goeth all in white,
Crowned with milk-white may;
In fleecy flocks of light

UNCONCERNED — This at first might look like a setting for a radio quiz show, but it isn't. It is the very serious business of trying a deposed president of Panama, Arnulfo Arias, on a charge of abusing his constitutional power in Panama City. The accused, however, seems to be taking his trial in a light-hearted manner for he is shown at right, sitting quite comfortably reading a novel. He's paying no attention whatever to Special Prosecutor Felipe Joan Escobar at left who smilingly talks his way through the proceedings, and asks for conviction. He made some progress, however, because the National Assembly later forever barred Arias from holding public office. His abortive attempt to establish himself as a dictator ended in his impeachment May 7. After the trial Arias was returned to prison to face other charges.

Chiang Refuses To Be Written Off In War Against Communism

(Editors note: In the following dispatch, Frank H. King, AP general executive, and Spencer Moosa, head of the AP Bureau at Taipeh, size up the Formosa situation.)

By FRANK H. KING and SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH, Formosa, May 31 — (AP)— Formosa—is it just a catch-basin for American millions or does it hold a key to the defeat of Communism in Asia?

On this island waits a fighting army of hundreds of thousands of men under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. They give the impression they are determined one day to return to their mainland home to battle the Communists.

Whatever the answer to the riddl eof Formosa, the lean Generalissimo has refused to be written off in the war against world Communism. In December, 1949, when Chiang fled to Formosa, the future of Nationalist China seemed hopeless. But today few will dispute the possibility of a Nationalist comeback.

What brought about this change in the fortunes of Chiang? A Nationalist official put it this way: "Stalin and Mao Tse-tung (the Chinese Communist leader) have been our best allies."

Better Respects

The Korean war, President Truman's assignment of the United States 7th Fleet to neutralize Formosa, the Chinese Red intervention in Korea, and other international events have led to the upturn in Nationalist prospects. Chiang's Formosan stronghold now seems on firmer footing than it ever has been.

The American-financed economic co-operation administration is spending $56,000,000 in Formosa in the current fiscal year. More is to go into military aid.

There is talk of a Nationalist comeback with a big "If"—if it is conducted by a tight, honest, efficient program of freeing a small part of the Chinese mainland from the Communists and then, by the example of good government and freedom, spreading it through China.

Concede Corruption

The Nationalists, from Chiang down, concede inefficiency and corruption were among factors which caused their downfall on the mainland. They realize that today they face a test: New American aid will be coming in. Will it be used honestly and efficiently?

This is the Nationalist answer: They hope to make Formosa a model province—a model for the mainland if it is recovered. The cabinet has a planning board which spends its time on blueprints for future Nationalist rule on the mainland.

The few Americans who have been here two years say Formosa still has a one-party (Chiang) regime, however, and more debate, discussions and political differences of opinion will be necessary. They say the recent municipal elections gave encouraging signs of development of this phase of democracy.

Mill Bosses Ask Workers To Strike

ROUBAIX, France, May 31 — (Reuters). — Cotton-mill bosses here Wednesday asked their workers to strike.

Seven months ago the mill adopted a co-operative system, paying employees 50 per-cent of the profits in the form of a monthly wage bonus

The French Treasury this week insisted on social security payments being made by both the company and workers on the bonuses and sent a bill for 15,000,000 francs ($42,000).

The company asked employees to organize a protest strike.

Lee Wallard Surprise Speedway Victor

By DAL BURGES.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (AP) —Lee Wallard, winner of the 35th nnual 500-mile auto race at the ndianapolis Motor Speedway, as made it a driving contest gain.

The post-war theary of coming in the "500" generally was o drive steadily at a speed a ttle better than previous winng times, more or less ignoring he competition.

Wallard changed that in his irst speedway victory. He pushd his hardest all the way Wedesday to win at 126.244 miles an our — almost five miles faster han Bill Holland's 1949 record.

The 40-year-old Altamont, NY, eteran treated the big race like dirt track sprint.

It was the fourth straight runng of the race without a fatlity.

Mauri Rose of South Bend, nd., trying to become the first an to win four times, wrecked the north-west turn after 312½ iles. His car lost a wheel and verturned. But he escaped with nly scratches. Otherwise, there were only minor skids and spins.

Wallard went into the lead on he first lap. Jack McGrath of Hendale, Calif., got into the girit, and he and Wallard bitterly contested the lead on every urn for the first 50 miles.

Bisons Wallop Red Wings

By The Associated Press.

After a shaky start, Buffalo Bisons are on the move in the International League baseball race.

They moved from seventh to fifth place in the standings on the strength of a double victory on Wednesday over the Rochester Red Wings, 4-3 and 7-1.

Reeling off seven double plays before a delighted audience of 7,359, the Bisons looked like a coming ball club.

The victories were all the more pleasing because they were scored at the expense of Rochester's two ace pitchers—Jack Faszholz who had won five and lost one, and Ed Yuhas, who had gone into the second game with 26 1-3 scoreless innings.

Divide Twin Bill

Buffalo hurdled Baltimore and Toronto in the standings after these two teams divided a doubleheader at Baltimore.

The Maple Leafs beat Baltimore in the first game 2-0 on John Hetki's pitching. But the Orioles came back to win the second game 4-1 on Howie Moss' three-run homer in the eighth.

Montreal Royals meanwhile, lengthened their league lead over Rochester to seven games by beating last-place Springfield twice at Springfield, 8-5 and 7-5.

Syracuse Chiefs turned back Ottawa 6-3 in the seven-inning first game of a doubleheader at Syracuse. The second game halted after one inning by rain.

In various arts of Canada this summer the Olympic trials will be taking place for the big events next year. Winter Games go from Feb. 14 to 25 in Oslo, Norway, with Summer Games from July 19 to Aug. 3 at Helsinki, Finland. The competitions include: Track and Field, gymnastics, swimming, paddling, fencing, cycling, boxing, skiing, ice hockey, speed skating and probably several more. Male members of the Canadian teams will wear navy blue blazers and grey trousers for travelling abroad, with a crest of a maple leaf surrounded by two circles between which the words "Olympic Games—Canada—1952" will appear. The tie is blue with red and white diagonal stripes. Swank, what?

The baseballic Petes are off for Toronto tonight to play Staffords in a Viaduct Major League game at Millen Stadium. It is the former Viaduct Park on the Danforth, and Riverdale Terrace (where lacrosse is played now) is right adjacent. Don't know whom Ed Whitehill will start on the mound, Lefty Dadson, Doug Plunkett or Nobby Clarke, but not likely Bill Edger this time. They are not necessarily chosen in rotation as starters, some showing more than others in pre-game warmups and some being more effective than others against certain teams. The Petes are atop the loop now and want to grab as many early season wins as possible. Croftons come here Saturday night.

Stuff And Nonsense, Suh

Criticism is directed at the Brampton OLA seniors by the St. Kitts' scribe for beating Fergus 23-6 recently. Clayt Browne thinks they shouldn't have rubbed it in when they were winning handily. He adds: "One would think a priceless diamond belt was at stake for the 1951 high scorer in the OLA and a race on between Excels and Petes to see who would gain the honor, at the expense of gates." Piffle, suh. No team, Athletics included, tried to soften any blows to the Petes two years ago when they first broke into "A" competition. If A's could drub the Petes by 20 goals they'd do it. Every team is supposed to play its best, giving nor asking any quarter.

Toronto West Yorks, strongly bolstered this season, play the Petes at 8.45 tomorrow eve in Miller Bowl. The Yorks have such stalwarts aboard as Fink Chard, Lefty Chard, Bob White, Jack Thomas, Tom Banks, Jack Ashbee, Jim McNulty, Leo Teatro, Pat DePippo, Bill Timpson, Steven Kapasky, Ben Harris, Frank Facto and Bruce Webster. Got five from the defunct Westons and a couple from St. Catharines. It ought to be a swell scrap between two strong gutted-stick squads. Brampton, Fergus and Mimico are battling bitterly through the OLA over a bunch of the disbanded Owen Sound stars, and West Yorks are supposed to be after such ex-Weston guys as Allwell, Downer and Venner. The scramble is on in earnest, and it'll be a tough loop yet for the eventual winner to take.

Westclox And Ashby's

Westclox took Marines 19-13 and Ashby's edged Woollens 9-8 last e'en in girls' softball at the Bowl. Latter game was a neat number, with Ashby's lucky enough to capture it in the ninth as Woollens kicked a few. They're coming along okay, and C. Ferguson was plenty potent at the plate with a homer and three doubles. D. Martin got four safe blows for the winners. The other joust was slower than mountain climbing, Marines using four flingers and changing the lineup around frequently. A batch of bingles dotted the far reaches, and not too many folks stuck it out. Ashby's are off to Cobourg tomorrow, the Monday setup being: Marines vs. Westclox, and Cobourg vs. Woollens.

Peterborough United downed Oshawa City 3-1 in a nifty soccer exhibition last p.m. in Morrow Park under the lights. Best crowd for a soccer game so far took in the tussle, the proceeds going to the fire fund. CGE Pipe Band did its stuff, and Bill Ovens came through with the official kickoff. Toronto team couldn't make it, so a switch was made yesterday and Oshawa agreed to come. The UEW—a real strong soccer squad this year in the Eastern Ontario League—looked impressive, with Strong the payoff man with the three goals. Saturday sees O'Halloran's go to Brockville, while Batawa plays UEW at three p.m. in Morrow Park.

Cobourg Edges Colborne 5-4

COBOURG, May 31 — Seventeen-year-old rookie Stew Lingard's line-smash into centre saved Cobourg Legionnaires' undefeated leadership of the Lakeshore Intermediate B Baseball League here Wednesday night.

Lingard's timely hit in the last inning, scoring two men after two were out, gave Cobourg a 5-4 edge over Colborne Dodgers, who had led most of the way.

Coup Campbell, Cobourg fireballer, went the route and was tagged hard, giving up 11 hits. Good support, particularly by centre-fielder Clarke Harnden, saved Campbell's bacon. Harnden three times pulled down bids for hits. Neil Black banged out three for three.

Millbrook Wins

MILLBROOK, May 31 (ENS)—Millbrook beat Orono 19-11 in inter-high school softball play recently at Orono. Teams:

Woollens Lose To Ashby's In Close Fray

Ashby's nosed out a 9-8 girls' softball victory last night over Woollens in the Bowl, two runs in the ninth on D. Martin's single and E. Brown's triple doing the trick, two errors helping a lot. Woollens had come from behind for a lead in the eighth. E. Brown and L. Derry pitched the distance, the latter getting wobbly support. D. Martin, M. Freeman, C. Ferguson and R. McInroy shone. D. Martin led Ashby's at bat with four singles in five attempts, C. Ferguson of Woollens hit a homer and three doubles in five, and J. Walling had four singles in five times up. Teams:

Woollens: J. McIlwain, 2b; R. McIroy, 3b; J. Walling, cf; C. Ferguson, lf; S. Harris, ss; D. Smith, c; L. Derry, p; R. Naylor, 1b; M. Cavanagh, rf.

Lindsay Merchants Blank Whitby 5-0

LINDSAY, May 31 — Scoring four runs in one hit and three errors, Lindsay Merchants went on to blank their namesakes, Whitby Merchants, 5-0, in a Lakeshore Baseball League intermediate game here Wednesday night.

After the four-run outburst in the first, Whitby rookie lefthander Don Crawford and Junior West hooked up in close hurling duel, holding the opposition to five scattered safeties. Whitby threatened in the sixth, but veteran reliefer Grant Wickett came in to retire five in a row.

Lew McTaggart, Dean Tompkins, Stu Hicks, Vic Jewell and Doug Loucks split the five Lindsay hits. Len Yuille of the losers smashed out the only extra-base blow, a double in the fourth.

Fastballers Play

Mt. Pleasant edged Mutuals 3-2 while Bus Drivers beat Grant & Loucks 13-8 last night in Industrial Fastball League fixtures. In the latter game Clark for Drivers had eight strikeouts but gave way in the sixth to Brown. Teams:

Bus Drivers: Snape, Sage, Simmons, Moore, Gordon, Clark, F. Simmons, Deal, Stock.

Grant & Loucks: Chenariti, Goodfellow, Conrcy, G. Leahy, Hennessy, Monor, Carpenter, Robertson, M. Leahy.

Parker and Guerin, rival pitchers in the other game, each gave but six hits and each fanned four. Crawford and Thorburn hit doubles. Mutuals got a run each in the fifth and eighth, while Mt. Pleasant scored one in the sixth and two more in the eighth. Teams

Mutuals: Plumpton, Huard, O'Toole, O'Donoghue, Thorburn, Guerin, Thompson, Gallagher, Bryan, Lawson.

Mt. Pleasant: Craig, K. Bryan, Crawford, Dracup, Parker, Jamieson, J. Bryan, Mitchell, McKnight.

King Edward Victors

King Edward defeated Queen Elizabeth 9-7 in a keen school softball encounter yesterday. Six runs in the first pretty well did it for the winners, who added two next inning and one in the fourth. The losers scored three each in the second and fifth and one run in the fourth frame. The teams:

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

A certain UN member nation has become famous for its use of the veto, but it may surprise some of us to realize that Canada, the United States and Mexico are the only nations in the world which have consistently maintained a veto against recognizing soccer as the Universal Game. Almost every nation in the world grants head-and-toe football this recognition, the sole exceptions being the United States, Mexico and ourselves As far as Canada is concerned, however, there may be some changes made. Here is the soccer outlook for 1951.

"Five-Man" Theme

As we hear it, there are five men responsible for the ever-increasing interest in Canadian soccer. They are Arthur Arnold of Hamilton, chairman of the Ontario Football Association; Alex McGregor, secretary of the O.F.A.; Bill Simpson, a director of the Association; Alf Steele, chairman of the Foreign Relations Board of the Dominion Football Association, and Maurice Honeyman of Windsor, Ontario.

These five men form the promotion committee for soccer. They plan to have soccer adopted in the high schools of Canada so that youngsters who have learned the game during their public school days can continue to play organized right through to the

To further the school plan, the committee is supplying a soccer coaching manual to high school physical departments throughout the Dominion. The manual offers a complete instructional course for the development of school soccer teams and covers every aspect of the ancient game.

Enter The British:

A strong factor in the promotion of soccer in Canada is the current touring dates of the great English and Scottish teams. With no apparent difficulty, the matches easily outdraw opposition sports attractions thanks, perhaps, to the extensive immigration to Canada of thousands of Old Countrymen and further thousands of New Canadians from soccer strongholds in Europe.

Soccer enthusiasts should make note of the visit to Toronto on Friday, June 5th, of the famous Glasgow Celtic team, winners of the Scottish Cup. The Celtics will play the Ontario All Stars at the C.N.E. Stadium. Then, on Saturday, June 16th, Varsity Stadium, Toronto, plays host when the Celtics clash with the great Fulham soccer team from England. Soccer is the mother of strategy and team play, and these matches should display the perfection of the professional art.

Ontario Soccer:

This year, the Ontario soccer season extends from April 30th to September 30th, and the O.F.A. juggles no less than 21 leagues throughout the province, not to mention the ex-[illegible] junior, juvenile and hit an all time low 15 years ago but now, thanks, to the tremendous interest being shown, the new soccer blood being introduced to the Canadian game and the proposed "school" system, the revived O.F.A. can look forward to an unprecedented soccer boom.

We recall watching the Ontario All Stars playing Newcastle United, the crack English team, at Maple Leaf Stadium a few years ago. With the baseball Leafs at an all-time low in popularity, we were amused at the amazed expression on the face of ball manager Del Bissonette as he watched a capacity audience filing into his home field for the first time that season.

"Holy smoke!" mubled Del. "They must have moved the World Series to Toronto!"

It could be an omen for the future.

White Sox Sweep Twin Bill From St. Louis Browns

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The super-charged Chicago White Sox, a 30-to-1 shot in April figure no worse than even money to win the American League pennant—based on Memorial Day barometers.

The Sox streaked to their 13th and 14th successive victories on Wednesday sweeping a holiday doubleheader from St. Louis Browns 5-2 and 8-1 before 34,856 fans. The St. Louis cleanup, coupled with Boston's two triumphs over New York, opened Chicago's first-place margin over the Yankees to two full games.

The Sox, idle today, begin a 13-game home stand against the eastern clubs Friday. They are only five shy of the league record of 19 straight victories, first set by themselves in 1906 and later tied by the Yankees in 1947.

Vern Stephens won the opener for the Red Sox, blasting a home run in the 15th inning for a 11-10 thriller. Stephens also batted in a couple in a five-run seventh inning rally that won the second game, 9-4 and increased Boston's winning streak to 10 straight.

Cut Lead

St. Louis Cardinals cut Brooklyn's National League lead to 1½ games with 4-3 and 7-3 triumphs over Pittsburgh as the Dodgers were held even in two games with Philadelphia. The Phillies came back to win the second game 9-5 behind Bubba Church's 12-hit pitching after Don Newcombe had outpitched Robin Roberts 5-3 in the opener.

Memorial Day leaders during the last 50 years have held on to win the flag 27 times in the American League.

National League holiday leaders did not fare as well. Only 23 have gone on to win since 1901.

Billy Pierce and Randy Gumpert pitched the victories for Chicago which now boasts 18 completed jobs in 36 games (one tie).

In the Red Sox rout of the Yankees, Ted Williams collected seven hits including a homer, triple and three doubles and batted in five runs to raise his league-leading total to 42 and his batting average to .321.

Musial Stars

Stan Musial slugged two doubles two singles and his 10th homer to lead the Cards to their sweep over the Pirates.

Cleveland vaulted past Detroit into fourth place, defeating the Tigers twice 3-1 and 4-1 Rookie Bob Chakales pitched his first complete game, spacing nine Tiger hits in the opener.

It was the sixth straight win for Cleveland over Detroit and the Tigers' 10th defeat in their last 11 starts.

Conrado Marrero's six-hit pitching enabled Washington to defeat Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 in the second game of a doubleheader ending the Senators' nine-game losing streak. A 15-hit attack gave the A's a 9-5 victory in the opener.

New York's Giants and Boston's Braves divided a pair before 46,499 fans at the Polo Grounds, the day's largest gathering. Bobby Thomson's bases loaded single in the 11th won the first game for New York 6-5. Walker Cooper hit a home run and two singles to help Vern Bickford notch his seventh win in the nightcap, 6-3.

Forrest Burgess hit a three-run homer in the ninth off Ewell Blackwell to give the Chicago Cubs a 5-1 win and a split with Cincinnati. The Reds took the opener 6-5 as Barney McCosky drove in three runs with a homer, double and single.

Uniteds Take Soccer Tilt Over Oshawa

The biggest soccer crowd here yet saw Peterborough United defeat Oshawa 3-1 in a fine exhibition last night in Morrow Park. The proceeds go to the Mayor's Fire Fund. Toronto All-Stars were unable to come but Oshawa was lined up yesterday, instead, while Mike Gargaro of Kingston played for the home team. Wm Ovens kicked off to open play.

Strong opened scoring by heading Cotton's centre into the net. After Halroyd shot wide, Strong again scored from close in to make it 2-0, Oshawa settled away to give Jones in the Peterborough net some anxious moments. Gagaro saw action to liven up the home attack, and Strong shot just over the bar. The CGE Pipe Band entertained during the interval.

Oshawa drove hard on resuming and the United defence had to be on its toes. The visitors pressed continuously for 15 minutes and finally counted from Honeyman in a scrimmage. But they soon tired and the Peterborough team went on the attack with the halves feeding their forwards faultlessly and Sutherland was brilliant to hold them out. But he had to concede the final goal to Strong from close in. Mundy and Smith hit the bar and Savage almost scored at the windup. Strong starred with three goals, with Mundy good defensively. Sutherland starred in the visiting net and Honeyman and Howell were solid on the attack most of the route. Teams:

Oshawa: Sutherland, Gan, J. Kelly, Sweef, T. Kelly, Fulton, Harrison, McCartney, Howell, McRae, Honeyman, McEwan, Scott.

Peterborough: Jones, Mundy, Allen, Cotton, Craig, G. Smith, Holt, McGann, Strong, A. Smith, Halroyd.

Specially Designed Niblick Helps Out In Sand Traps

By TONEY PENNA
Tournament Star

That terror of the course, the explosion shot, gradually is losing out as a shot-waster.

Not many years ago, the player found it necessary to use the nine iron, or niblick, to get out of sand.

The thin blade made it imperative that the shot be gauged almost to the last thimbleful of sand.

With such delicate precision necessary, few were consistently sucessful with such shots, particularly because they did not practice enough to acquire precision.

As the game and its equipment developed, the addition of the sand niblick type club virtually eliminated the horror of the sand shot.

The old question was not how close to the flag the ball was going to be, but rather whether the ball was going to stay in the trap or be over the green.

Now many golfers find the sand niblick a real shot-saver.

The features embodied in the present wedge are its heavy weight and broad sole.

The weight allows the club to swing through the ball instead of being hurried, with the consequent loss of timing.

The added impetus allows the blade to cut through the heaviest and coarsest sand.

The broad sole and peculiar way it is fashioned allows the club to slide through the sand under the ball in such a way that the chance of leaving the ball in the trap practically is eliminated.

THE BLAST ROUND-UP — Sam Urzetta blasts out of a trap with a sand niblick. He is the United States amateur champion and Walker Cup star.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Global affairs and war took a temporary back seat as millions of Britons and Americans turned out for the world of sport Wednesday.

In Britain it was Derby day, climaxed by the 172nd running of the premier English racing classic at historic Epsom Downs.

In the United States it was a national holiday—Memorial Day —and one of the biggest sports days of the year.

In brief this was the picture:

Epsom — Irish-bred Arctic Prince, a 28-to-1 shot won the Derby by six lengths before more than 500,000 persons.

Indianapolis—A little known race-driver, Lee Wallard, won the annual 500-mile speedway race before more than 100,000 and set a record of 126.224 miles an hour.

Baseball—236,900 fans attended eight major-league doubleheaders, a drop of about 16 per cent from last May 30. The biggest crowd — 46,499—saw the Giants and Braves split two games at New York's Polo Grounds.

Jockey Sammy Luce has been barred for life and trainer Charles A. Grande suspended for six months in the doping-battery case, the Illinois Racing Board announced Wednesday.

A urine test of Ruthred, winner of the sixth race at Washington Park May 19, showed the presence of ephedrine, a stimulant, the board said. Later, a battery was found in Luce's trunk.

At Inglewood, Calif., famed Citation made a mighty effort to regain his winning ways Wednesday but the best he could do was run second, three lengths behind Be Fleet in the 1 1-16 mile $25,000 Argonaut Handicap before a holiday throng of 58,300 at Hollywood Park.

It was the best the six-year-old hero of the Calumet Farm had achieved in four races this year.

At Elizabeth, N. J., James J. Parker, 190, Barrie, outpointed George Kaplan, 188, Brooklyn, in an eight-round feature bout on Wednesday night.

Referee Paul Cavalière gave Parker four rounds, Kaplan three and called one even.

At Providence, R. I., Fred Wilt Wednesday ran the fastest two miles ever in the United States when he was clocked in 8:45.5 in a special race at the Brown University track meet.

Wilt, a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, was nearly 12 seconds behind the world record of 8:42.8 set by Gunder Hagg at Stockholm in August, 1944.

Shaking off a goal scored against them in the first 30 seconds of play, Glasgow Celtics defeated the Eintracht of Frankfurt team 3 to 1, in an international soccer match before 19,600 fans at Triborough Stadium, New York, Wednesday.

Dr. Hugh Arnold Semple, 63, a former president of the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association, died Tuesday at Toronto. Since 1948, he had been dental officer for suburban York township Board of Health.

At White Plains, N. Y., defending champion Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Patty Berg finished the 144-hole Weathervane Women's Open Golf tournament in a tie Wednesday with a total of 601 strokes.

The Babe shot a 72. Miss Berg had a 73.

A 36-hole playoff will be staged on a date yet to be selected for a $5,000 grand prize.

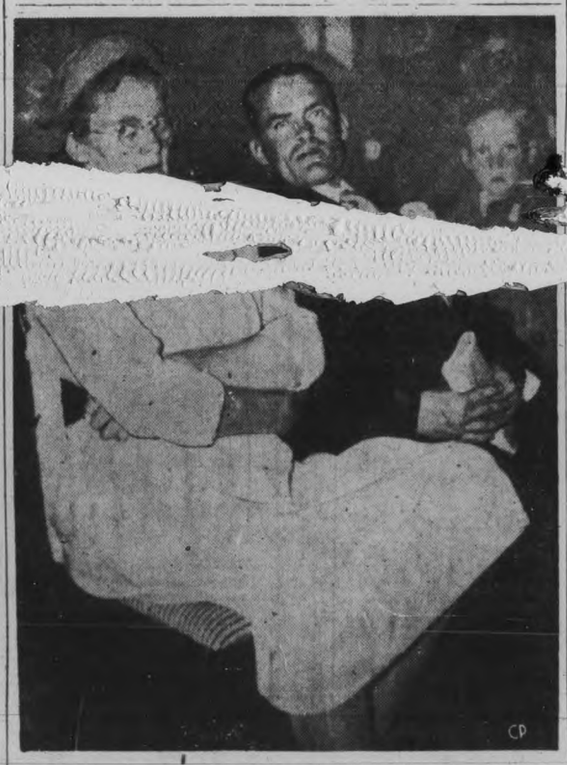
Inspect Cadets At Havelock

HAVELOCK, May 31 (ENS)—Captain L. J. Hyslop, cadet training officer for Eastern Ontario, inspected the cadets of Havelock High School in the town park on Wednesday afternoon.

The cadets led by the Havelock Pipe Band under the direction of Pipe Major Harry Anderson marched from the school to the inspection grounds. The march past was led by Cadet Major Gordon Bales, and the salute was taken by Major Wilson of the Midland Regiment who assisted Captain Hyslop during the inspection of the following displays:

Boys' physical training under the direction of Cadet Capt. Albert Smith.

Girls' physical training under the direction of Cadet 3rd Lieut. Audrey Newell.



Small arms display in charge of Cadet Sergt.-Major James Thompson and Cadet Sergt. Reginald Pollock.

Knots and lashings display in charge of Corporal Hearns.

Cadet 1st Lieut. Leo Turpin conducted the Bren gun display. The field craft display was also in charge of Lieut. Turpin, with the Bren gun section under Cadet Capt. Albert Smith.

Cups for general proficiency in their platoons were presented to Cadet Major Bales, Cadet Sergt. Barbara Brooks and Cadet Joan Graham. The runners up in general proficiency were Cadets Eleanor Scott Helen Robinson and Nancy Curtis.

In addressing the cadets Capt. Hyslop paid tribute to the manner in which they had carried out their work and stated that they must have taken a great interest in their cadet training in order to be as proficient as they were. Special tribute was paid to the two girls' platoons describing their work as very good and adding that they were an inspiration for the boy cadets to do better. The boys have only one platoon.

HIS OWN GRANDFATHER—When Cornelius Friesen, 36, of Grunthal village, 40 miles north of Saskatoon, married Mrs. Sarah Firesen, 42, he became his own "grandfather" and "father" of his uncle. Mrs. Friesen's former husband was the grandfather of her present bridegroom. Both bride and groom, crippled since the age of 10, were born in the Grunthal district.

Charles Scores Easy Win Over Joey Maxim

By CHARLES DUNKLEY.

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP). — Ezzard Charles, heavyweight champion of the world, is positive light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim wants no more ring traffic with him.

Maxim is of the same opinion, too, after absorbing a one-sided trimming by Charles at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night. It was their fourth engagement with Charles winner of them all.

Charles, making the eighth defence of his crown, won the unanimous verdict of referee Frank Gilmer, two judges and the bored approval of 7,226 spectators in pasting Maxim for 15 rounds.

Despite the poor crowd, Charles pocketed a $62,147.60 pay cheque, thanks to a $100,000 television purse. Maxim got $31,073 for his losing effort.

At the finish, Maxim was a reeling, tired, exhausted fighter. His right eye was swelling shut and he was bleeding from a cut under the eye and above it. Charles was unmarked and breathing no harder than if he had had a brisk drill.

On Verge of Collapse

Maxim's counters were feeble and he clinched continuously. He seemed to be on the verge of collapse several times, but gamely remained on his feet until the final gong. He was treated with oxygen intermittently for 45 minutes in the dressing room after the fight and appeared to be in an exhausted condition.

Crestfallen Maxim is now scheduled to risk his 175-pound title against Chicago's Bob Satterfield in the Stadium June 27. But there was some question today of whether he would recuperate sufficiently to fulfill that engagement.

Charles, in repulsing Maxim's feeble bid for heavyweight honors, hit the jack-pot as champion by his victory The Cincinnati Negro now has defeated every leading rival—Joe Louis, the former champion; Jersey Joe Walcott; and now Maxim, the light-heavyweight champion.

Speaking of Walcott, Charles' next outting may be against aging Jersey Joe at Pittsburgh July 18.

$18,000 Damages

TORONTO, May 31 — (CP) — An $18,000 award for damages was made Wednesday to 10-year-old Douglas Turnbull, when a supreme court jury under Mr. Justice G. A. Gale found that a permanent eye injury will affect his reading. The award will be held by the court until the boy reaches 21. He was hit a year ago by a car driven by Samuel Gatto, who, police said, was driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

Use Own Engines

TORONTO, May 31—(CP)—The Avro Canuck jetfighter soon will be flown for the first time with Canadian-developed Orenda jet engines powering it, chief engineer Paul Dilworth of the gas-turbine division of A. V. Roe, Canada, Limited, announced Wednesday night. Up to now the long-range, all-weather fighter has been flown with other engines while the Orendas were made ready to go into service.

Nationalism Fails To Stir Mind of French Coal Miner

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

DOUAI, Pas-de-Calais, France (NEA)—Neither nationalization, Marshall aid nor the Schumann plan seem to have made much of an impact on the mind of the average French coal miner. His main preoccupation right now is the rising cost of living and the difficulty of making ends meet, despite the recent wage raise.

This is the impression I gathered on a tour of the mine fields in Northern France, which produce 55 per cent of France's coal (close to 100,000 tons daily), and employ 210,000 people, two-thirds of whom work underground.

Take the case of the Leclerc family. Thirty-six-year-old Ernest Leclerc started working in the mine at 17. Today, as a mine-detonator, he works six days a week and earns little over $3 for an 8-hour day. For his five children whose ages range from two to 10, he draws $74 a month under the family allowance scheme.

He pays no rent for his four-room house, which includes a 300-square-yard allotment enabling him to raise all the vegetables he needs for his family, save potatoes. He is also allowed one-half ton of coal a month free.

Food No. 1 Item

Yet, according to his pretty, buxom 32-year-old wife, Mathilde, two-thirds of her husband's pay goes for food. With all French workers, food is item No. 1 of the family outlay. This is even more true of miners, because of the nature of their work. Like the majority of miners' wives (who are considered spendthrifts by their compatriots), Mathilde Leclerc admitted she had never thought in terms of a beduget.

"All I know is that every week we go through five pounds of butter, 50 pounds of bread, as many pounds of potatoes and 14 quarts of milk," she explained.

"This is not counting meat, cheese or fruit, all of which cost as much here as they do in big cities."

It was fortunate that, she pointed out, they raised their own chickens and rabbits, which meant eggs and extra meat for the family.

Clothes were another problem. Up to now she had made most of her own and the children's; but if she was able to get herself one new dress a year and a coat every three years she was doing pretty well.

Not Easy Life

The life of a miner's wife is not an easy one. She's up at dawn to get her husband's breakfast (coffee and bread) and prepare his "casse-quet" [illegible] he eats at the mine. This consists of six slices of buttered bread and a quart of weak coffee.

Then she has to get the three elder children ready for school and prepare the midday meal, which she keeps hot for her husband when he comes off his shift. There is also the evening meal to think of.

Every day except Sunday she washes and irons, sews and mends. On Saturdays she cleans her house from top to bottom.

"If only I had running water and gas in the house, life would be so much easier," she said. "But I have to go 50 yards for every bucket of water and keep a fire going all day."

Mathilde Leclerc shrugged her shoulders when asked what they did for amusement. She pointed out that she and her husband had been to the movies twice in the 11 years they had been married. They had never taken a vacation away from home.

Life In Mines Improved

As for Ernest Leclerc, when he has done his eight-hour stint he comes home to tend his vegetable patch and do countless odd jobs, including mending the family's shoes. He proudly pointed to the extra lean-to kitchen he had built as well as the rabbit hutches and chicken house.

The Leclercs, who both are children of miners, said there was no comparison between the life of a miner today and when Ernest started working. He is no longer an underprivileged member of the community, but is protected by social laws. All the same, despite these laws, higher wages and many advantages unknown to city workers, he declared he was better off in the old days because his wages bought more.

Nationalization of the mines has made little difference to him personally. So far as politics go, he is too busy to attend political meetings and has not decided what party he will vote for in the June 17 elections. He voted Communist last time, and may again.

MINER'S FAMILY sit around the table in rarely-used living room as Ernest Leclerc (second from right) entertains the local chief of police, and Mme. Leclerc pours the wine.

MINER'S HOME in Northern France, provided under nationalization, gives Ernest Leclerc a rent-free house and vegetable plot.

Welcomes Visit Of Congressmen

TORONTO, May 31 (CP). — Transport Minister Chevrier Wednesday night welcomed the coming visit of members of the United States Congress who will look over the route of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway.

Mr. Chevrier addressed the Canadian Exporters Association dinner, and outlined how it is proposed to construct the seaway to bring ocean transport to the Great Lakes and the heart of the continent.

Canada is waiting to implement an agreement made with the United States in 1941 which would bring the project into being, but the agreement still has not received Congressional approval.

The United States Congressional Public Works Committee, which has been holding sessions in Washington for the last four months hearing evidence for and against the seaway, will leave Washington today and spend six days travelling from the head of the Great Lakes to Montreal.

Mr. Chevrier said the seaway is needed for the points of view of electrical power, navigation and defence.

Still Mystery

LONDON, May 31—(Reuters)—Disappearance of the British submarine Affray six weeks ago is still a mystery, the House of Commons was told Wednesday by Walter J. Edwards, member of the Admiralty Board. Strong tides and heavy weather had stirred up mud and sand in the search area in the English Channel, he said. This reduced visibility to zero and divers had to rely on touch to identify a wreck.

For Better Teeth

FORT WILLIAM—(CP)—Board of Health here is investigating possibilities of introducing fluorine in to the city's water supply to check dental decay. Dr. G. E. Moodie, medical health officer will obtain reports from other cities where the method has been tried.

Bottled Mosquito Immunity That Works Can Be Bought

Daniel in the lions' den had nothing of immunity on the person with his exposed epidermis filmed with an anti-gnat unction wading into a flock of mosquitoes.

It's a greatly gratifying discovery, to say nothing of surprise and a feeling of freedom, to see these frustrated pests ganging around exposed arms and legs and necks, and not one of them daring to light and attack.

(If Charlie Graham seeks identification of this lotion, he has to be referred to the advertising department.)

Provocation of the moskits must be at a minimum out at Kawartha golf greens when girls start a round of digging divots, as for instance Tuesday evening. Briefly, they finished the circuit without a bite, not one itching spot on their expanse of invitation.

Goes With Shower

But after shower and rubdown, affliction set in. They were asking altogether too much of the concoction if they expected its defensive quality to remain after such thorough removal.

The mosquito is a fly in the fragrant amber of evenings in May. Short memories are convinced that this spring's brood has been more prolific than ever, assisted in propagation by the succession of rainfall, cool weather, and other conducing conditions of this season.

But, that is just a notion, for experienced necks and ankles, and even eyelids, have recollections of other springs and their multitudes of winged needles that can draw blood and leave lumps.

Ball Fans

They swarmed the other night at the Ashburnham Bowl to help celebrate the opening of the softball league, and from reports of the customers a good time was had by all. Other legions lingered about lawns, and battalions were scattered through gardens, verandahs and the most resourceful and selective individuals had made their way into bathrooms. Probably they are guerrillas of the mosquito horses, and certain of doom.

But, the Daniel analogy is a heartwarming defiance, when you hold out a bare arm with impunity right in a flight of the pests, and not one of them settles down to sting. As a liquid shield this stuff really does a job, from all accounts.

SET FOR THE SEASON—From frostbite to mosquito bites is the switch that has taken place at the Korean battlefront, and Pfc. Williams M. Rich of Quitman, Ga., is one GI who is well prepared. Rich, of the 24th Infantry Division, puts the finishing touches on his alaborate canvas and mosquito netting "bungalow-type" foxhole before retiring for the night.

Seven Graduate Ordained At Conference

KINGSTON, May 31 (CP) — Seven theological graduates were ordained Wednesday night as ministers of the United Church of Canada.

The church's Bay of Quinte Conference also designated one woman a deaconess.

The new ministers are: Carman J. Beckel and Hartwell W. B. Illsey, Kingston; George Alfred Boyle, Brockville; Allan L. Borland, Indian River; Kenneth J. Lee, Greenbank, Ont., Alan Hayes McCuaig, Gananoque, and Robert K. Shorten, Foxboro.

The deaconess is Marion Daniels of Orillia.

The conference approved a recommendation of the missionary and maintenance committee that charges in the conference voluntarily accept a 10-per-cent increase over the 1950 contributions as a goal. The Rev. W. Harold Young, secretary of the Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools, said there will be a shortage of 125 minister in the church after all recent graduates are placed on charges.

The conference was also urged to contribute to the extension fund of the church to meet the ever-increasing demand for more churches.

The Rev. A. E. Kewley, secretary of the stewardship and every-member canvass, said that due to increased population there is urgent need for hundreds of new churches in all parts of Canada, especially near large industrial centres.

War State To End

Island Vanishes

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters) — Britain's disappearing island has vanished again, a colonial office report said Wednesday night. The report said Falcon Island—one of the Tonga group — periodically submerges beneath the Pacific, then reappears again. It has pulled that fade-out three times since it was discovered in 1877. Now it's gone again. It was last seen in 1949.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 31 — (CP). — Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, Wednesday celebrated his 48th birthday by conducting 35 newspaper men and newspaper women over the new 600,000 horse-power hydro project now under construction here.

Using spotlights for night work, construction gangs work around the clock on the service road.

A few days ago, the first contract was let for construction of the giant pressure tunnel under the city of Niagara Falls. Blasting has also begun on the canal into which the water will flow after its five-mile trip under ground through the tunnel.

When completed, the project, which will cost an estimated $157,000,000, will benefit Ontario with an addition of enough power to supply a city 1½ times the size of Toronto.

Married In England, Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

HAVELOCK, May 31 (ENS)—Married in Studley, Warwickshire, England, on May 27, 1901, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Crook celebrated the golden anniversary of that event on Sunday. The Rev. Father Ross performed the ceremony 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook and their family attended a special mass of thanksgiving in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, which was followed by a family dinner in the Havelock Hotel, at which their pastor, the Rev. C. J. Carroll, extended special congratulations.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR J. CROOK

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crook, Unicn Street, in the afternoon and evening for the friends and neighbors and for which bouquets of cut flowers made a lovely setting. A large wedding cake graced the anniversary table, which was set with a filet and cutwork cloth and centred with a silver basket of roses flanked with gold tapers in silver holders. Mrs. H. McAuley of Toronto and Mrs. P. Colquhoun of Havelock poured tea.

During the afternoon an illuminated address was read by Peter Kumpf of Trenton, accompanied by a lamp, a gift from the parishioners of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church. The papal blessing in the form of a certificate was received from Rome by Mr. and Mrs. Crook. They also received many cards and telegrams of congratulations and numerous gifts, amongst which was a silver service presented by the family and a large bouquet of roses from the employees of the Canada Fishing Tackle and Sports Limited. Among the many visitors were a number from Peterborough and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook have two sons and two daughters, who with their families were present at the celebration. They are Gilbert of Havelock and Arthur of Smiths Falls, Mrs. Leonard Harrison (Mary) of Havelock and Mrs. Andrew Morris (Monica) of Carleton Place. They have nine grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook are both natives of Studley, England. Before her marriage Mrs. Crook was Catherine Turner, daughter of the late John and Mary Turner. Her sister, Mrs. J. Feasey, who still lives in Studley, was her bridesmaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Crook came to Canada in 1908 and took up residence in Toronto, coming to Havelock 17 years ago. Mr. Crook is completing his 60th year with the Canada Fishing Tackle and Sports, Limited, whose head offices are in England, and of which he is an executive.

St. Luke's Anglican Church Celebrates 75th Anniversary

Three-day ceremonies will mark the 75th anniversary of St. Luke's Anglican Church being celebrated this weekend. St. Luke's became a parish in 1876.

At matins on Sunday, the preacher will be the Right Rev. Alton Ray Beverley, Bishop of the diocese of Toronto.

The Right Rev. G. A. Wells will officiate Sunday at 7 p.m. at the apostolic rite of confirmation, and the preacher will be the Archdeacon of York, the Ven. F. J. Sawers, a former rector of the parish.

The three-day celebration starts Friday evening with the parish dinner, followed by the parish concert. The parish bazaar will be held Saturday afternoon at 3, with square dancing at 7 p.m.

Officers

Present officials of the church include: the Rev. Walter J. Gilling, rector; wardens, R. Krant and Gordon White; lay reader, John Rogers; lay delegate to synod, Ross Greenly; vestry clerk, Fraser Watson.

THE REV. WALTER GILLING, present recor of St. Luke's Anglican Church, is the latest of the nine ministers who have preached to the congregations of St. Luke's.

The work and financial support of the Rev. Mark Burnham were chiefly responsible for the formation of the parish of St. Luke's, Ashburnham. He donated land for the site, and until his death in 1877 contributed to the clergyman's support.

On July 1, 1876, the parish was set apart as a mission. Eight days later, the first service was held, with the Right Rev. Dr. Bethune, Bishop of Toronto, officiating at the morning service.

First Sermon

In the evening, the first rector of the parish, the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, preached his first sermon. The only building then erected was a small school room, built in the short space of five weeks.

The first vestry meeting was held July 13, 1876, and H. T. Strickland was elected peoples warden. Rector's warden was John Burnham. Both held office for 21 consecutive years.

Name Given

The following items of interest are noted: It was decided to name the church "St. Luke the Evangelist." Jacob Friend volunteered to act as sexton, without pay. The Rev. Mark Burnham's offer to build a driving shed was accepted, and the first confirmation was administered to 34 candidates by the Right Rev. Dr. Bethune.

It was not long after this that the parishioners found the school house inadequate for the congregation's needs, and on September 4, 1876, it was unanimously decided by the congregation to build a new church.

A building committee—Mr. Burnham, H. T. Strickland, Mark Curtis, and John Burnham—was elected. Extracts from their report are interesting:

"After our appointment we obtained plans and specifications from T. E. Belcher, Esq. CE, and in January 1877 let the contract to Messrs. Phillips and Rombough for the sum of $2,376—the committee agreeing to furnish brick, stone, roof boards and shingles. The actual cost of these items was $828.35. After the contract was let, it was decided to build a vestry and organ loft . . . the material for which is included in the sum of $828.35."

Spent $4,784

"The total expenditure of your committee amounts to $4,784.41. To meet this expenditure your committee obtained subscription to the amount of $3,412.63."

On May 10, 1877, the foundation stone was laid and in September of that year, the church was opened. It was consecrated in May of 1878, after the church's indebtedness had been removed. Preacher on this occasion was the Rev. Canon Stennett.

One week after the foundation stone was laid, the Rev. Mark Burnham died at the age of 73. He was buried in Little Lake cemetery, with the Revs. Beck, Clementi and Bradshaw officiating. In later years, a memorial window to his memory was placed in the chancel at St. Luke's.

Assistant Wardens

At the Easter vestry meeting in 1878, the first assistant wardens were elected: Dr. H. C. Burritt, and Henry Denne. A. H. Peck and Mr. Denne were named auditors.

The first record of the Sunday school is found in the 1878 vestry report, when a vote of thanks was tendered to George Rogers for his work as its first superintendent.

Early in 1880, a building committee composed of John Burnham, H. T. Strickland, J. Z. Rogers, Dr. H. C. Burritt and Henry H. Smith, was appointed to arrange for the erection of a parsonage

The contract was placed with George Nelson of Keene, and costs were estimated at $2,380. Of this sum, $700 was raised by subscription, entertainments provided $180 and a mortgage was taken for the $1,500 balance.

In 1883, Mrs. Mark Burnham gave this mortgage and all interest paid till that time as an endowment for St. Luke's.

Electricity

In 1893, electric lights, and a hot air furnace were installed in the rectory. The rectory remained basically unchanged until November 13, 1946, when fire did damage to it of $2,100.

That morning, the caretaker lit a fire to warm up the building in preparation for the arrival of the new rector, the Rev. W. J. Gilling. When he returned later that day a blast of smoke and hot air shot out. All 14 rooms of the rectory were damaged.

When the church and rectory were finished, there still remained the need for an adequate Sunday school. In 1885, the old school room was torn down, and in the words of a contemporary writer, "a commodious and well designed structure was erected with library and infant class room according to the most modern ideas."

The foundation stone of this new Sunday school was laid on October 22, 1885, opening prayers being said by the Rev. T. B. Angell. The building committee consisted of the Rev. W. C. Bradburn, John Burnham, H. T. Strickland, Richard Meade, R. B. Rogers, and Absalom Ingram.

Eight years after, electric lights were installed in the church proper at a cost of $205.25.

By 1916, it was obvious that more space was needed for the primary Sunday school classes. An extra primary room, kitchen and lavatory were suggested, but a special property committee reported in 1916 that they were not prepared to make a recommendation.

Addition

In 1923, an architect was asked to draw plans, but it was not until 1930 that excavation of the basement began. Total estimated cost was then $7,000 and only $2,000 could be raised by subscription, because of the depression.

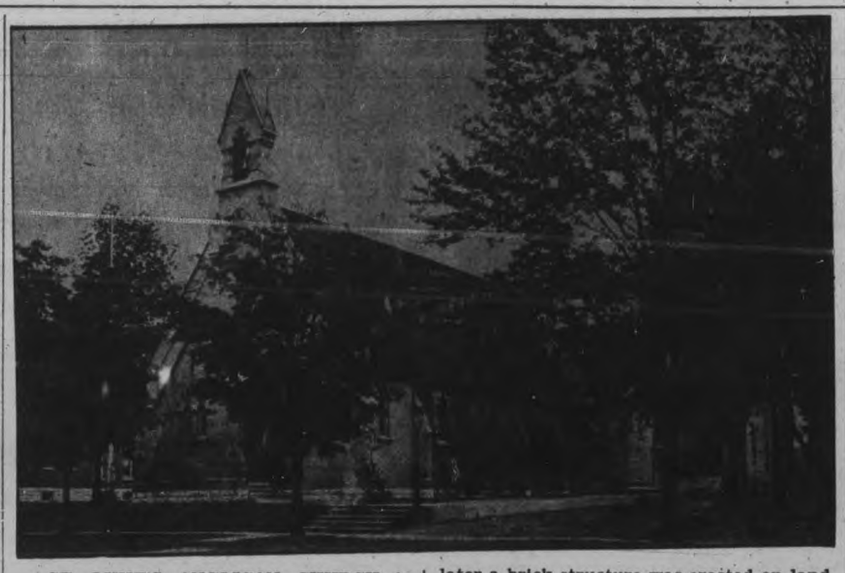
A bank loan for the balance was obtained, and a year later, the rectory mortgaged to relieve members of the congregation of their personnel liability in the loan.

Eighteen years later, at the 73rd annual vestry meeting, this mortgage was burned, under the careful supervision of a member of the city fire department.

The most recent building venture is the Memorial extension now under construction, and planned for completion by this weekend. It includes more modern kitchen facilities and room for increased congregational activities.

Rectors

Rectors of the church have been with their years of service bracketed: the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw (1876-1889), the Rev. J. W. McCleary (1890-1892), the Rev. Mr. Symonds (1892-1901), the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt (1901-1911), the Rev. F. J. Sawers (1911-1915), the Rev. Walter Henry White (1915-1921), the Rev. George Bousfield (1921-1943), the Rev. A. J. Arthur (1944-1946), and the present rector, the Rev. Walter J. Gilling, who came to Peterborough in 1946.



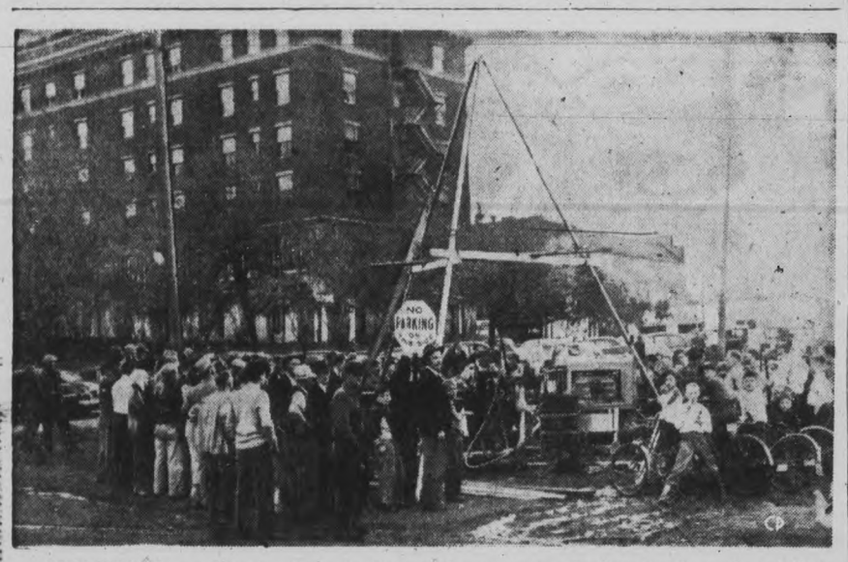
Mr. Gilling was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1906, and graduated from Trinity College in 1935. After periods served as curate at St. John's, Peterborough, and St. Simon's, Toronto, he served from 1937 to 1939 as chaplain of Trinity College.

At the outbreak of World War II, he was appointed chaplain and attached to the Toronto Scottish Regiment, going overseas in December, 1939.

Record

His distinguished overseas record was as follows: chaplain, Hastings and Prince Edward Regt., 1940-42; assistant senior chaplain, 5th Canadian Armored Div., 1942-43; senior chaplain, Canadian troops in North Africa, 1943; senior chaplain, 1st Canadian Corps, Italy, 1944; senior chaplain, 1st Canadian Infantry Div., northwest Europe, 1945; and principal chaplain, Canadian Army Overseas, 1945-46.

Mr. Gilling was mentioned in despatches in Italy in 1944, and made a member of the Order of the British Empire in 1945. He returned to Canada in October, 1946, with the rank of Lieut.-Colonel.



ST. LUKE'S ANGLICAN CHURCH is celebrating this week its 75th anniversary. It was built first as a frame building and later a brick structure was erected on land given to the church by the Rev. Mark Burnham. The anniversary will be marked by special events for the next three days.

THE REV. MARK BURNHAM gave the land on which St. Luke's Church was built, but he died very soon after the foundation stone was laid.

Lakefield Council To Draft Waterworks, Sewage Bylaws

LAKEFIELD, May 31. (ENS)—A divided Lakefield council Wednesday night decided to go ahead and draft two bylaws: one for the taking of a vote on the installation of waterworks, sewers, and sewage disposal system; the other, a bylaw to cover the issuing of debentures to pay for the installations.

An amendment by Councillors Ken Morris and Art Kingdon that the vote be postponed till the annual elections in December was defeated.

Reeve William Grant had to cast the deciding vote on both the amendment and the original motion.

Councillors Ken Jakins and Al Fraser voted for the two bylaws while Councillors Morris and Kingdon were against.

The bylaws are t be prepared and ready by June 13 meeting of the council.

Against In December

Last December the Lakefield ratepayers voted against installation of a waterworks system. Councillor Morris, who introduced the amendment, said there should be a year between votes. He said the issue had been raised again by only a few of the ratepayers, and few had signed a pro-waterworks petition.

Councillor Jakins interrupted to

Bishop Urges More Enthusiasm

TORONTO May 31 (CP). — The Rt. Rev. W. L. Wright, English Bishop of Algoma, said Wednesday night that Anglicans should put additional enthusiasm in their religion.

Addressing the Synod of the church's Toronto diocese, he said:

"The chief need of the church is not more organization or more drives or campaigns. The great need of the church, as I see it, is more real conversion to Christ. We need more faith, more joy, more enthusiasm in our religion. There has been too much cold, academid, merely intellectual religion in the past.

"In our Anglican communion, we pride ourselves on our beauty and dignity of worship — and rightly so, as this is a precious heritage always to be respected and maintained. But it is of little use to have a beautiful liturgy, glorious music, noble architecture if we lack the one thing which gives life and meaning to it all: a mighty emphasis on personal conversion."

Award For Heroism Favored By WI's At District Annual

LAKEFIELD, May 31 (ENS)—More than two hundred ladies attended the 26th District Annual Institute meeting held in the Lakefield United Church on Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Shearer, district president was chairman for the morning and afternoon sessions.

Councillor Ken Morris extended a hearty welcome to those attending the convention, on behalf of the village.

The ladies decided to pay the expenses of sending one girl to camp for a week this summer.

Mrs. Shearer suggested that the Women's Institute have a trophy to be donated for bravery in the district, as she said a number of people would not accept the brewery award.

Mrs. E. Birdsall said she thought the idea of the Institute giving an award for bravery on heroic rescues was wonderful, but expressed the opinion that this district could not afford to give a suitable award, and suggested it be brought before the Dominion Institute.

After some discussion it was moved by Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Birdsall that each branch give a framed certificate for bravery in their community and report to the district annual next year.

Quilt Competition

Buckhorn Institute won first prize in the quilt competition, Apsley second, Trent River third and Norwood fourth. Judges were Miss M. Myers, representative from Toronto Institute, Miss J. Noble, home economist for the county, and Mrs. Ira Lowe, of Mount Pleasant.

Miss Jean Noble gave a report on the Girls Club work, explaining that these homemaking clubs are study and work clubs in good clothing, housefurnishings, hospitality, and gardening for girls and young women.

At the achievement day held in Peterborough 47 girls competed and three girls from the Belmont Girl's Club won provincial awards for completing 12 projects.

This year the girls are studying the cereal shelf. The work, done by the club is not something new but it has risen from the need of teaching teen-agers skill and technique to be better homemakers, and to teach them to take their place in the home, community and country.

Mrs. W. Elliott of Selwyn gave a paper on "The Growth and Origin of the Women's Institute" which began in 1897 at Stoney Creek.

"The Women's Institute," said Mrs. Elliott, "composed of women of different races and religions, is proving that we can work together in harmony and we shall be a mighty force for world peace."

Mrs. Shearer in the president's address said the ladies had loaned 13 antique articles to the presentation of the play "At My Heart's Core," and expressed thanks to all who had contributed to the antique display.

A brief review was given of the various branches visited by the president during the year. Westwood branch always has a woman demonstrate something at each meeting. Lakefield is furnishing a room in Civic Hospital, Belmont branch has a grandmother's day. Warsaw had a wonderful hobby collection besides contributing and collecting for a young boy who had lost an arm. Selwyn is this year sponsoring a garden club with eight girls having gardens.

The oratorial contest was held at Havelock, and one of the contestants went on to win the Toronto contest. A new branch was formed in South Smith, (Fairview) with Mrs. H. Sharpe as president.

Mrs. Victor Tanner of Chandos read a paper on Historical Research and current events. Highlights of the paper were these facts. Warsaw was first known as Dummer Mills and had its first post office in 1839. In 1857 Lakefield's population was 75. Buckhorn Institute has a cup and saucer dated 1589. In 1950 Chandos got its first rural delivery and is now being surveyed for hydro through the efforts of the Institute.

Dinner was served in the church basement by the WA of Lakefield United Church. Seated at the head table were Mrs. H. Shearer, president; Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River; Hon.? (Mrs. Mann, Trent River, honorary president; Mrs. J. Moore, RR 2 Lakefield, first vice-president; Mrs. N. Wilson, Apsley, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Digweed, Warsaw, secretary-treasurer; Miss M. Myers, Miss J. Noble, Miss Ira Lowe, board members; Miss Mary Nicholls, Mrs. E. Birdsall and Mrs. Fee.

Mrs. Ira Lowe spoke on the Federation Board work and asked the ladies to make use of the splendid short course offered by the Institute. To maintain interest in meetings, they should begin promptly, programs should be printed and attractive.

Mrs. Lowe told the delegates to use their money in their own community—not to send it afield. The Institute should have a member on the local school board and should be affiliated with the council.

The WI lives or dies through its programs. The program should include something to do, to see and to hear. Night meetings should be held occasionally to allow mothers of young children to attend. Pictures should be taken at meetings as they will make history in years to come.

Midnight Dances

Mrs. H. Mann of Belmont club read a petition asking the something be done about have midnight dances abolished. Mrs. Birdsall suggested that this be put in a proper resolution before being submitted to the Federation.

Miss Myers, Toronto, asked the delegates to choose what they wanted to study next year, and to make three choices. A vote showed first choice was "We call it Human Nature—a psychology course," second, "Preventative medicines and their uses," third, "Cultural activities in home and community."

Mrs. Golloher, Norwood, gave a report on public relationship and community activities.

Election of Officers

Mrs. Lowe presided for the election of officers as follows: honorary president, Mrs. Harry Mann; president, Mrs. Harry Shearer; first vice-president, Mrs. J. Moore; second vice-president, Mrs. N. Wilson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Digweed; members of Federated Women's Institute of Ontario, Mrs. Harry Mann, alternate, Mrs. Harry Scott; district delegate, Mrs. Wellie Pearson; alternate, Mrs. Stewart Graham; auditors, Mrs. G. Weller, Mrs. M. Drain.

Branch directors, Mrs. D. Newberry, Apsley; Mrs. J. Comrie, Norwood; Mrs. W. Shearer, Buckhorn; Mrs. E. Tanner, Apsley; Mrs. C. Scott, Lakefield; Mrs. L. Colquhoun, Havelock; Mrs. J. Moore, Lakefield; Mrs. M. McPherson, Norwood; Mrs. George Geisil, Lakefield; Mrs. M. Wright, Trent River; Mrs. C. Payne, Warsaw; Mrs. W. Renwick, Westwood.

Conveners: agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. N. Reddick, Apsley; citizenship and education, Mrs. H. L. Scott, Havelock; historical research and current events, Mrs. W. A. Bott, Chandos; home economics and health, Mrs. Fred McKenzie, Havelock; public relations and community activities, Mrs. Sherwood Payne, Warsaw; resolutions, Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River.

During the sessions Miss Mary Nicholls played for sing songs led by Mrs. Birdsalls, and Miss Donna Lean, Apsley, contributed a piano solo.

A very interesting hobby collection was on display.

UN Speculating About Malik's Next Move

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 31 (AP)— The return of Russia's suave, fast-talking Jakob A. Malik Friday as president of the United Nations Security Council for one month raises these three questions:

1. Will Malik trot out a Russian or Chinese Communist offer to talk about a cease-fire and peace in Korea?

2. Will he take the occasion to put before the Council Iran's dispute with Britain over Iran's oil?

3. Will he resume his tactics of last August when he stymied the Council for 31 days in the Korean situation?

The Council chairmanship rotates each month according to the English alphabetical order of the member countries. Malik succeeds Selim Sarper of Turkey.

The Russian ended a long walkout last August by striding into the council chamber and taking the chair. He then refused to give a ruling on inviting a South Korean to the council table and the whole month passed in argument between Malik and Western delegates.

Situation Changed

This time Malik takes the chair with the UN forces in Korea definitely on the winning side, a contrast to the dark days of last August.

It also has become fairly clear that UN forces presently in the field cannot push the Communists out of Korea, and that the Communists cannot drive the UN troops out. There has been speculation that someone would propose a peace conference or negotiations on a cease-fire to be followed by peace talks. The trouble is neither side wants to make the first move.

Malik this week denied persistent rumors that he or the Soviet Union had put out Korean peace feelers to the United States, directly or indirectly. Delegates speculated that his statement might be clearing the way for new attacks on the US and UN policies in Korea during June.

Kept on Worksheet

Iran was the first case put before the Security Council in 1946, with Iran demanding that the Russians get out as called for in their agreement made during the Second World War. The Russians finally left in May 1946, but the Iranian case has been kept on the Council worksheet all these years.

Iran and Britain have been having a dispute over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and there have been some hints that the dispute might go before the Council. The Russians have a decided interest in Iran, because it is right at their back door and near the centre of their oil industry. If they feel the situation is ripe, they may order Malik to start talking about Iran.

The Council could, as has happened before, let the month pass without a meeting. There is no urgent business before it—unless Malik starts something.

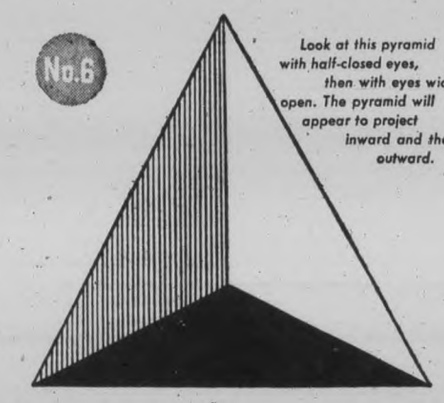
Believes No Division



EDMONTON, May 31—(CP)—There is no such thing as division between church and state in Canada, the Rt. Rev. C. M. Nicholson of Halifax said here Wednesday. The moderator of the United church said there is no point at which a man stops being a christian and becomes a citizen. He spoke at official opening ceremonies of the University of Alberta's new auditorium.

City's Fire Loss During 1950 Below Average Fire Damage

A better record of fire prevention and control was recorded in Peterborough in 1950 than in most Canadian cities. This is revealed in the annual compilation of fire statistics, gathered by the National Fire Protection Association from cities in Canada and in the United States with populations over 20,000.

Peterborough ended the year with a loss of $105,698. Related to the local population, this fire damage amounted to $3.00 per person and was less than the average reported for the other cities, $4.50 per capita.

The extent to which automobile fires occupy the attention of fire departments is indicated by the fact that they represent over a seventh of all fires in the Canadian cities and nearly one-fourth in United States cities. In Peterborough they totalled 37 for the year.

The efficiency of the local fire department is demonstrated by its success in rapidly bringing under control the fires with which it had to cope and keeping damage to a minimum.

The fire department of the Canadian cities report no decrease in the number of "malicious" false alarms they are called upon to answer. Such alarms, which do not include those sent in purely in error, still constituted nearly twelve percent of the total. In Peterborough they amounted to eight percent.

Hit By Beam Man Falls, Dies

LINDSAY, May 31 — Knocked from the frame of a barn he was helping to build Wednesday, Mervin Campbell, 46, Eldon township, plunged 26 feet to the ground. He was dead on arrival at hospital in Lindsay.

Campbell, the father of three children, was working with 34 other farmers of the district near Kirkfield, 28 miles north-west of Lindsay. They were raising a barn for Campbell's brother, Gordon Campbell.

Campbell was standing on the frame as a beam, a purline plate, was being raised. The chain around the beam slipped. It swung around knocking him off the frame to the ground.

Colborne Village Votes To Remain Dry

COBOURG, May 31—(ENS)—The village of Colborne, 14 miles east of here, voted to remain dry in a plebiscite held Wednesday on the sale of beer and wine in hotel dining rooms and on a liquor store.

The vote against dining room sale was 317, and 295 in favor of it. Three hundred and twenty-three were in favor of the liquor store and 307 were against it, but the wets did not have the required 60 to 40 vote ratio.

Fire Fund Committee Named By Mayor

Mayor Swanston informed the Examiner today that the members of the Fire Fund Trust will be Judge S. L. Smoke, as chairman; the president of the Red Cross Society, who is now Mrs. Fred H. Hooper; T. J. Carley, KC; the president of the Fire Fighters' Association, who is currently Mr. A. E. Bennett, and the Mayor of the city.

This Trust is appointed to administer the fund which is now being subscribed in behalf of the families of the four men who died in the Zacks building fire of Saturday, May 19.

Citizens Block Service Station On Water Street

The city planning commission will recommend that the city council refuse to issue a building permit to G. Ferguson to build a service station on his Water St. N. property.

This decision was reached at the commission meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Ferguson purchased the Sanitary Ice Supply Company in March and recently submitted his request to the building commission for a permit recommendation.

James Dutton, chairman, stated that the main reason for refusing Mr. Ferguson's request was a petition he received signed by the majority of residents in the area objecting to the proposed service station.

Another objection to the recommendation was voiced by James Craig, who contended that residential frontages on the river such as this area should be preserved to as great an extent as possible. He expressed the belief that the erection of a service station in this residential zone would be detrimental to the area.

Both these objections were agreed to by committee members who unanimously voted that recommendation be withheld.

Death Of Man Hit By Car Judged Accidental By Jury

A verdict of accidental death was returned Wednesday by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of 27-year-old Thomas Francis McDonald of Norwood. The inquest was held in Norwood. Thirteen witnesses were heard by the five-man jury before they retired to reach a verdict.

McDonald was killed the night of April 28. At the inquest, several witnesses testified he was drunk. The pathologist's test of his blood showed .26 per cent alcohol. Dr. C. B. Waite, district provincial pathologist, said that from .27 to .42 per cent is required to produce a state of stupor.

Johnson McKay, RR 2, Norwood, testified that at about 3:10 a.m. he was driving east on Highway 7 in a thick fog, at a speed of about 15 miles an hour.

Form On Road

West of the subway in Norwood, he said he saw "a form" lying on the road. He swerved to the left and heard a bump as his wheels passed over something. He stopped and got out of his truck.

Going back, he said he found the body of a man on the road. He felt the man's pulse and there was none. He said he didn't know whether the body was cold at that time.

OPP Inspector Ralph Taylor said that a tire mark found on the back of McDonald's coat corresponded to the tread of the tires on McKay's truck.

In their verdict, the jury said that McDonald came to his death as a result of being hit by a vehicle, but there was nothing to show that McKay's truck was the first to hit him.

Appeared Drunk

Frank Haddlesey of Norwood said that about 2:30 a.m. on April 29, he and two others drove by the subway and saw a man on the sidewalk at the north side of the road. They went over to the man and found he appeared to be drunk.

Haddlesey said the man swore at them and asked them to leave him alone. "All he seemed to want to do was sleep," Haddlesey said.

Among McDonald's injuries were bruises, scrapes, a fracture at the base of the skull, broken collarbone, 14 ribs broken, partly splintered spinal column, multiple tears in both lungs and a ruptured heart, liver and spleen.

Dr. Waite said the injuries could have been caused by a vehicle either hitting or running over McDonald.

Foreman of the jury was Earl Hamlin, and the other members were: Harold Bolton, Ken Packenhouse, Robert Leeper and Stanley Flett. All are of Norwood.

9 Boys Receive School Letters

For participation in school sports, nine boys received school letters Wednesday at the PCVS senior assembly. The letters were awarded to boys with three years in one sport, two years in two sports, or a member of a COSSA senior basketball or football team.

This year four boys, Norman Hayward, Dan Griffin, Spencer Hope and Donald Scriver; all members of the COSSA junior football champions, received letters. They were recommended by Coach Alex Londry.

Five other letters went to members of the graduating class. They were: Robert Ward, for two years of outstanding play in football; Donald Ash, four years' school basketball and two years student manager of football teams; James Galoska, two years' football and two years track (this year Peterborough and District senior boys' champion); David Fortner, two years' football, three years' basketball and two years' track; and Drew Buckland, two years' football and three years in basketball.

G. B Goulding, physical education teacher, announced the awards, giving a brief roundup of the boys' sports activities. Mary Craw, president of the Student Council, presented each with a letter. C. S. Browne, principal, congratulated them.

50 Census Takers To Start Taking Stock

Among the 18,000 census enumerators who will descend on the homes of Canada Friday morning will be 30 for the city of Peterborough and 20 for the county. Within three weeks they hope to have every family in the Peterborough West district thoroughly interviewed in the first Dominion census since 1941.

Early this month the commissioner, A. J. McClellan, one of 260 in Canada, started the census operations for the Peterborough district. Enumerators were selected and finally classes were arranged. The rural enumerators under Roy Brown of Lakefield held the first class which ended on May 18 and was followed by the urban class under Mrs. M. G. McCartney, 341 Charlotte St.

"The census which is taken every ten years is not only necessary from the population angle as affecting representation in parliament, but it helps and assists all classes such as farming, labor, manufacturers, merchants, advertising agencies, dairy interests, and school boards to visualize the requirements of the future," said Mr. McClellan.

Stocktaking

"In short the census is a general stocktaking of Canada benefitting all classes whether they realize it or not."

Besides equipped with a certain amount of authority the enumerators will have a special ballpoint pen. It has been manufactured especially to take a special brand of ink, high in carbon content, needed to activate the electronic machine which will do the preliminary calculating Questions ranging all the way from the number of children to the type of plumbing will be answered by blacking in oblongs arranged strategically. If a mistake is made, the card will be thrown out of the caluculating machine.

Ask Them In

Mrs. McCartney said that the forms are difficult to fill in while standing on a verandah and asks that the people, both in the city and county, ask the enumerators into the home. There while sitting the work will be much easier and quicker.

Each enumerator will carry an identification card stating that he is authorized under the Statistics Act to collect information required and makes it obligatory to answer any question needed for the census survey. A refusal or willfully wrong answer makes an individual liable to a fine of not more than $100, a jail term of three months or both.

However if the enumerator comes up against a stubborn person such as a woman who won't give her age or a man who is suspicious of questions about income, he is expected to use persuasive powers. He has been instructed to emphasize the strictly confidential nature of the answers and his oath of secrecy.

If that method fails, the enumerator will mention the legal obligation and penalty. Failure to answer questions will then require a visit from one of the 850 field supervisors and if he fails, a visit will be received from a commissioner. Any cases of failure are then reported to the Dominion statistician for action.

Fire Burns 2 Cruisers, Ice House

Two Boats, Truck Worth $6,000 Lost At Bewdley

BEWDLEY, May 31 (ENS) — More than 200 volunteer firefighters battled a blaze which razed a combined storage and ice house, owned by Harry Klintworth, at the north edge of Bewdley at 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Two launches, valued at $2,000 each, and a truck valued at the same amount, were destroyed completely. The crafts, the Cathie owned by Peter Sidey, and the Wilda, owned by Ted Shenkles, both of Bewdley, were stored in the razed building.

Trucks Towed

The truck was among the cars and trucks on the lot immediately beside the gas station-home of Mr. Klintworth. It was parked closest to the burning building and after the others were towed away from the fire, the truck couldn't be saved. The cars and trucks were towed because they were too hot for men to drive them away.

Under direction of fire chief Robert Dawson the volunteers laid hose to a creek near the gas station. At first the workers had trouble. The creek was too low to work the pumper satisfactory. Finally they got it going.

While one line of hose was directed on the blazing building, a smaller line was throwing water on the gas station-home's roof to keep the fire from spreading further.

At 10:30 the storage building with all its contents and the truck were completely destroyed. The volunteers prevented it from catching the nearby buildings.

All the burnt property is believed to be fully covered by insurance.

Bobcaygeon Votes Wet-Dry

LINDSAY, May 31—Authorization to hold a vote on whether liquor stores or beverage rooms will be allowed in Bobcaygeon has been received from the Ontario Liquor Control Board. The village council promptly decided to hold the vote on July 18.

About 700 people will be eligible to vote on the two questions which appear on the ballot. The questions are: "Are you in favor of establishing a government-controlled store for sale of liquor?" and "Are you in favor of establishing a government-controlled store for the sale of beer only for resident consumption?"

A petition was recently presented to the village council requesting that permission from the Ontario board be obtained to hold a vote. To have either store in the village, 60 per cent must approve. On the previous vote four years ago, the "wets" lost by 54 votes.

Salary Increase Refused Police

PORT HOPE, May 31—Port Hope council again turned down requests for salary increases by the town police force at their meeting Monday night. This is the second approach the police have made to the council re salary raises in two weeks.

Two weeks ago, the council refused 5-3 to give two new constables a pay boost of $200 each and all other members of the department, including the chief, an increase of $100. Monday night the council voted the same way.

This refusal was sustained even after a warning give by police commission chairman Lorne Giddy that it was possible that "the whole force may resign in a body," because they weren't getting enough money.

The salary resolution was brought before Monday's meeting again because finance chairman J. M. Rosevar declared that the "discontented situation" within the force regarding money troubles was considered extremely important by the police committee.

House Passes Bill Give Pension Power

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters)—The House of Commons Wednesday passed through all its stages a bill to give the Canadian parliament power to legislate for old age pensions.

Patrick Gordon-Walker, Commonwealth relations secretary, explained that its purpose was to amend the British North America Act of 1867.

The effect of the British North America Acts 1867 to 1949 was that the Canadian parliament could amend the constitution of Canada except in matters of exclusive concern of the provinces.

Anything to do with old-age pensions related exclusively to the provinces. In that respect the Canadian constitution could not be amended by the Canadian parliament.

The bill, the British North America Act Bill, was passed through all its stages in five minutes without discussion.

2 1/4 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 1/4 tspns. Calumet Baking Powder
1/4 tspn. salt
1/2 cup shortening (part butter preferred)
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten light
3/4 cup milk
1 tspn. vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, sift three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually; cream until light. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time; beat smooth after each addition. Add vanilla (or instead, cream 1 1/3 tspns. grated orange rind with shortening). Turn into greased muffin pans, or paper cups set in muffin pans; fill 2/3 full. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Frost and decorate. Makes 30 cup cakes.

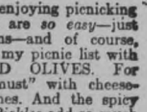
It's All The Rage . . . The new fad of making lovely tissue flowers using coloured tissue handkerchiefs. I've seen some of these flowers and they really are beautiful creations . . . and so effective when worn as a corsage or (singly) to highlight a hair-do. Or you may want to use them as a novel table bouquet. There are two brands of coloured tissues available in Canada—FACE-ELLE En Pastels for those who buy them at Drug and Toiletry counters . . . and GIBSON'S Tinted Tissues if you buy at Grocery Stores. Both Face-Elle and Gibson's are packed with three lovely pastel shades in the one box. About those flowers—they're easy to make but if you would like a free leaflet with simple instructions just write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Here's Your Chance to try one of those marvelous new C-I-L SPONGES in the handy dishwashing size! Simply write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—enclosing 10c in coin or postage stamps and I'll mail your "dishwashing" sponge to you, together with a folder telling all the things you can do with C-I-L Cellulose Sponges. There are several handy sizes for every purpose and I know you'll love them! They're velvet-soft when wet—nice for the bath—kind to your finest china. They're chemically pure—and so easy to keep clean. They float—and their square shape makes them easy to handle. Better write now for your C-I-L Cellulose Sponge.

All Good Salads have one flavour secret in common. Whether they're served, tossed and lusciously green in a wooden bowl—or colourfully arranged in glass fruit dishes . . . they're always flavoured with HEINZ VINEGARS! Yes, just as you make your salads with the best fruits and vegetables—make your salad dressings with the very best of vinegars! Ask your grocer tomorrow for Heinz White Vinegar—marvelous for light salads and smooth boiled dressings . . . and Heinz Malt Vinegar and Cider Vinegar—delicious for heartier salads. One more flavour secret . . . it's the aging and mellowing in wood that make Heinz Vinegars so very, very good!



Mr. Moth Won't Like This—but it's a very happy discovery for you . . . that's LARVEX! It's an absolutely sure way to mothproof your clothes for moths will starve to death rather than eat anything that's been Larvex-treated. And it's such an easy way to mothproof your woollens—coats—suits—dresses and rugs! Simply spray it on and it mothproofs the cloth for a whole year. What's more, after you've mothproofed a garment the Larvex way—it's ready for immediate wear. For there's no tell-tale odour at all! And you'll be pleased with the inexpensiveness of Larvex—costs no more to "Larvex" a suit than to get it dry-cleaned!

I Got A Shock the other day when I learned that one has to be careful in buying a product bearing such a famous name even as "Frigidaire". It seems that some stores which are not Authorized Frigidaire Dealers have got hold of some FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATORS and are selling them even though they cannot give the customer the well-known 5-Year Protection Plan offered by Frigidaire Products of Canada Limited. This Frigidaire of Canada warranty protects the buyer against any possible service expense on the sealed mechanism for five years. It's a safeguard to which you're entitled. Be sure you get it. When you buy a Frigidaire Refrigerator insist on getting the 5-year Protection Plan certificate bearing the name Frigidaire Products of Canada Limited, Leaside, Ontario.

I Love Those "Nude Look" Stocking Shades—don't you? Well, for just a few cents, you can have several pairs of stockings in the newest nude look colors . . . by tinting old, faded stockings with All-fabric TINTEX STOCKING DYES! Yes, you'll find the very "nudest" shades in all-fabric Tintex . . . versatile "Victory Beige", to wear with black, brown or beige—soft-as-a-shadow "Smoke Haze"—subtle "Wine Blush". Why not do as so many women do? . . . keep in step with fashion the economical Tintex way. Home-dyeing is easy and fool-proof with Tintex—just follow the instructions on the package. Ask for Tintex Stocking Dyes at your favourite drug, department or variety store. You'll like the price—just 10c a package!

Picnic Time is just about here! And even now I'm enjoying picnicking on the porch. For picnic meals are so easy—just sandwiches, or wieners and buns—and of course, pickles and olives. I always head my picnic list with WAGSTAFFE PICKLES AND OLIVES. For Wagstaffe Sweet Relish is a "must" with cheeseburgers or minced ham sandwiches. And the spicy nip of Wagstaffe Sweet Mustard Pickles add so much to a cold meat plate or meat sandwich. And when I bite into a big, juicy Wagstaffe Queen Olive—my, the things it does to my appetite! So to really enjoy your meals—I suggest you stock up now with several varieties of Wagstaffe Pickles and Olives.

Steam For The Engineer! Ever see a couple of youngsters playing train? They put their whole heart into it, as they do into any game . . . and the burn up a tremendous amount of energy! Yes, research shows that a normal, healthy child burns up almost twice as much energy per pound of weight as a hard-working grown-up! Well—here's good news, mother! HORLICKS is not only delicious—it's an extra-energy food drink. It practically doubles the energy value of milk—makes milk easier to digest, too. You see, Horlicks is a balanced food made from full cream milk, plus nutrients of wheat and malted barley. Ask for Horlicks tomorrow at your favourite food or drug store!

Hot, Dusty Korean Climate Worse Than Italy for Pats

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, May 31 —(CP)— The Patricias are beginning to squint. It's the glare.

The hot Korean sun has set the battalion to thinking about headgear.

Unlike Italy, where the Canadian Army's beret was practical year-round wear, Korea lacks cover for the campaigner. The soldier manning a mountain position usually is on a bald, treeless ridge or spur. On the move there are few hedges, vines or trees for him to pause under.

Faces that don't tan are taking a beating, especially the noses. Lieut. John Pearson of Winnipeg, for instance, has to keep a piece of paper or a handkerchief over his whenever he stops in the sun.

So the Patricias are going to wear United States Army caps, a cross between a baseball cap and a locomotive engineer's with a 2½-inch peak.

Dust and rain are two other factors that figure in summer campaigning in Korea.

Dirt roads, pulverized under military traffic into a heavy dirt flour two and three inches thick, almost take to the air in dense opaque clouds as vehicles move over them.

May Catch On

So far the Italian campaign trick of wearing a neckerchief over the nose and mouth while driving hasn't caught on, although the occasional military policeman at an intersection uses one.

US Army dust-respirators, which strap over nose and mouth, are expected to be available shortly.

Meanwhile drivers have at least eye protection. Goggles equipped with polarized glass are plentiful, and they have cushioned pads that insulate the eyes.

While prolonged exposure to dust can produce the same pulmonary complaints—and worse—that affect miners, it has been blamed already for a variety of ailments varying from headache, laryngitis and even dysentery.

Increasingly frequent rains settle the dust temporarily besides heralding the approach of the rainy season. First effect of the water on the flour-like surface is to pack it, like cement, and briefly there is a good road again. But as the fall continues, the texture softens into mud, and then grease into which the traffic tears deep ruts.

Still in battle-dress and wind-pants—long since tattered and shredded under the wear of campaigning—the Patricias soon will be issued their summer clothing, Canadian-made bush gear that is light, comfortable and tough.

That will at least render more bearable the sultry, stuffy atmosphere that accompanies the rainy season. Their poncho-groundsheets will keep them dry.

The rains usually fall during June, July and August. Records indicate a peak period of continuous downfall during June, tapering down to brief, but intense, evening showers in August.

Again like Italy, the rains have sharp, and immediate, effect on river levels.

Time and again camps have been washed out. Established in fine weather on dry-looking river beds they have been flooded by torrents that storm down overnight.

Slight Surprise

The Patricia's rear headquarters look for flat riverbanks for their camps. Even so, a tentful of drivers under Sgt. Ian Selkirk of Trail, BC, awoke one morning recently to find 10 inches of water under their camp cots.

Pte. Jim Rowland of Hamilton spotted his boots floating right-side-up at the far end of the tent, dry inside. Less fortunate were Cpl. Gordon Wilkins of Woodville, Pte. Clayton Garrison, Chatham, Pte. Olas Debolt of Moose Jaw, and Pte. Raoul LeFranc of Ottawa, all of whose belongings were sodden.

THEY RETURNED — Grime-faced Pfc. James E. Liore (left) of Coatsville, Pa.; Cpl. James O. Christensen of Sacramento, Calif., and Lt. William P. Ballint (right) of St. Clairsville, Ohio, get directions to the nearest showers from an unidentified MP on the Korean front, after returning to UN lines following four days of being trapped behind Red lines.

Haiti Folk Make Merry When Someone Drops Dead

By SIDNEY WEILAND

LONDON, May 31 (Reuters)—Natives of Marvial Valley in Haiti go wild when someone drops dead.

Funerals are about the only time young people can dance and make merry since that old black magic no longer is allowed to cast its spell.

A United Nations report released here said many Haitians detest the monotony of life following a government banning of voodoo, once almost a religion for them.

Now all the peasants can do is talk about magic, witchcraft and evil spirits. And they say hard times have come because the old gods are not worshipped anymore.

Churches have clamped down a rigid discipline forbidding natives to smoke, dance, sing, drink or gamble. Young people can feast and enjoy their traditional dances only when there is a death in the village.

Biggest Thrill

Demonic possession used to be the natives' biggest thrill. They believe voodoo gods enter the body and pass on their characteristics.

Because their is nothing else to do and modern forms of education and fun are slow to make their mark, some peasants in this Caribbean wilderness still carry on lesser kinds of black magic in secret.

And because voodoo is officially frowned upon, a great soul-searching has come to the famine-stricken, eroded valley.

The United Nations report says: "A large number of peasants say openly that the droughts and poverty that afflict the region have come to punish them for neglecting the old gods."

With the suppression of voodoo and the end of devil-defying ceremonial, the report says, the "principal traditional method of dealing with all those powers of evil is breaking down."

"Some of the methods used by both Roman Catholic and Protestant churches to fight such notions may tend to perpetuate them in changed forms rather than to destroy them," the report concludes.

SOCIAL SERVICE TRAINING

Nineteen universities or university colleges in the United Kingdom offer courses in social science.

VILLAGE PUMP—Myra Bridge, Lancashire lass, tries her hand at the centuries-old village pump outside the two-roomed English pub at the Canadian International Trade Fair at Toronto. Until 200 years ago, the pump supplied water for the residents of Marske, Whitby Bay, Yorkshire. Now it is part of the replica of the Tudor Arms pub over which Myra presides at the Trade Fair.

SHE'LL GO FAR—Ready for any climate is Cornelia McGinnis, 32-year-old New York secretary picked from 2,000 applicants for the job of accompanying a swank tourist party through Europe and Africa. She will act as secretary—with salary and expenses paid—to an exclusive group of 15 paying tourists, each of whom will put down $14,000 for a 37-day luxury safari. The parka will come in handy when they visit Hamerfest, Norway, 1,000 miles north of the Arctic circle.

Fertilizer Shortage May Cut Production

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP). — A critical world shortage in fertilizers is developing and this may hinder attempts to increase food production to feed the hungry masses, an eastern Ontario group of fertilizer experts was told on Wednesday.

G. J. Callister of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said that though the world's production of commercial fertilizers is at an all-time high, a lack of sulphur is becoming the main block to stepping up production to meet greater demands, particularly from Asia and the Far East.

The experts, representing the eastern section of Ontario fertilizer boards, met under the chairmanship of G. S. Peart, the agriculture department's associate director of production service.

File Appeal

BUENOS AIRES, May 31 (AP) —Lawyers for the closed independent newspaper La Prensa filed an appeal in civil court Wednesday demanding that the paper be returned to its owners. La Prensa was closed Jan. 26 by a news vendors' strike and subsequently was expropriated by congress. It had been a frequent critic of President Peron's government.

To Discuss Work

JERUSALEM, May 31—(Reuters)—Israel announced Wednesday it is ready to discuss with the United Nations the drainage work in the Huleh marshes which touched off the recent border clash with Syria. The statement, made in parliament by the foreign minister and acting premier, Moshe Sharett, followed reports that Gen. William Riley, United Nations' chief of staff in Palestine had told the security council Israel had resumed work on the marshes.

Will Use Sticker To Validate Licenses

TORONTO, May 31 — (CP) — Highways Minister Doucett announced Wednesday that current Ontario automobile licence plates will be validated in 1952 by a sticker on the lower righthand corner of the car windshield. He said the marker, to be printed on a yellow background, will save 750 tons of steel.

Oshawa Man Fined

Donald Heasman, 21, of Oshawa, was Wednesday fined $15 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving.

He was charged May 26 after his car was seen travelling in an erratic manner. A charge of illegal possession of liquor was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence.

Lorne Curtin, 21, also of Oshawa, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor. He was with Heasman at the time.

Old Style Of Public Ward Gone

Now Two To Three Beds In Each

(The following is a concluding part of the first of a series of occasional articles relating to Peterborough Civic Hospital, its facilities and operation.)

Until recent years, citizens of Peterborough who required to be hospitalized, could secure a private room at four to six dollars a day. Those days have passed, perhaps for ever. In this inflationary age the same accommodation will cost from ten to twelve dollars. This being the case may we suggest that a patient when entering the hospital, consider our semi-private wards, nearly all of which are two-bed wards with beds screened by curtains. We are rather proud of our public wards and would like to direct attention to them when such are needed. With the exception of three six-bed wards, in which patients requiring long hospitalization and being unable to meet the costs of more expensive accommodation, are assigned. Our public wards are small, not more than two or three beds in each. The old style of public ward of eight to ten beds has disappeared, so far as your Civic Hospital is concerned.

From time to time we hear remarks that visitors at the hospital find unoccupied beds, yet when a friend seeks accommodation he is told there is none available. This is often true, but there is usually a good reason. We shall explain, but first let it be understood that at no time is an emergency case refused. If ordinary space is not at hand temporary beds are immediately provided so that the patient will receive the best possible care.

Booking in Advance

In what is known as elective surgery or elective medicine, it is usual for the patient to engage hospital accommodation for a certain date in advance. The hospital having accepted the contract must provide the bed. To do this a bed may require to be vacant for twenty-four hours or more. If several patients have arranged to enter the hospital on the same date it is quite possible several beds might be vacant at the same time. This applies particularly to the beds in the large sections devoted to internal medicine and general surgery for both men and women.

It is obvious that beds devoted to special use such as contagious diseases, obstretrics and cynecology, cannot be used for general sickness, even though vacant beds may be available there, and a shortage in the general departments.

To give the best service to a community, in hospitals the size of the Civic, there should be a reserve of about twenty per cent unoccupied beds scattered about in the various hospital divisions.

These facts are released by the Board of Governors for the information of the citizens who have so generously supplied one of the most modern hospitals in the province. It is the expectation of Board of Governors to make releases of this nature, from time to time, descriptive of some features of the hospital that the people would be interested in reading.

THE DOOR WIDE OPEN signifies the first use of McGill University's huge physical science centre, meeting centre of some 1,500 "learned society" members in Canada. Saves Restaurant

ASHLAND, Ore., May 31 (AP) —Flames from a burning cottage appeared certain to spread to a nearby restaurant Wednesday. Then Dan Van Epps came along, driving his logging truck. With the help of bystanders he ran a logging chain around the cottage, jumped back into the truck and dragged the house, flames and all, off to an open field.

Customers' Corner

Courtesy doesn't add anything to the high quality or superior value of the food you buy at A&P.

But it is the ingredient that makes your shopping trip a pleasant experience rather than a tiresome task.

That is why the men and women who operate your A&P work hard not only to give you prompt and efficient service, but to be courteous and friendly, as well.

They know that even the pressures of rush-hour shopping are no excuse for rudeness.

Historic Indian War Canoe Mute Relic

VICTORIA, B.C. —(CP)— An historic Indian war canoe that sailed around the world now rests in Thunderbird Park here, sheltered by a long roof standing on four thick logs.

The "Tilikum" — Indian for "Friend"—was carved out of a solid 36-foot red cedar log, and was more than a half century old when she sailed from here one morning in May, 1901, bound round the globe.

The canoe returned in 1930, having spent some 25 years in gentle decay on the banks of the old Thames in England. Here the old craft will remain until time and elements have disintegrated her timbers.

Her story is tersely told in an inscription on one of the posts: "'Tilikum.' This dugout canoe, under command of Capt. J. C. Voss, FRGS, with only one seaman, sailed 40,000 miles around the world."

The full story of the epic voyage and of her quixotic little skipper is not known, partly because of the lapse of time and partly because her intended chronicler was a superstitious man.

The adventure began in 1901 when Norman Luxton, a young journalist, met John Voss, master mariner, at Victoria. Here they discussed the recently-completed voyage of Captain Joshua Slocom who sailed the "Spray" around the globe. Luxton told Voss he had been offered $5,000 for the true narrative of a similar voyage in a smaller vessel.

Eager Adventure

Voss, a small man, was adventurous in the grand tradition and eagerly accepted partnership in the venture. They bought the canoe from an Indian, refitted and strengthened her, built a tiny cabin and stepped three masts, hung 230 feet of sail. Then they put on provisions and on May 27, 1901 sailed out to girdle the globe.

Luxton never completed the trip. At Fiji he hopped a steamer for a visit to Sydney, Australia, where a fortune-teller told him to abandon the venture if he wanted to get home alive. When the Tilikum arrived at Sydney, Luxton sold out his share to Voss, and the latter signed a new hand and continued the voyage.

Storms and windless calms at sea, law suits and troubles ashore, a succession of hired hands, all followed in the wake of the Tilikum. Finally Voss sailed his big canoe into the Thames on Sept. 4, 1904.

He was acclaimed by the public and for a time the little skipper was a social lion. At last he returned to the sea, and 1913 found his at Yokohama building a small ship for another long journey. When his ship was completed Voss sailed out alone across the Pacific.

Somewhere on that voyage he "slipped his tether" and was never seen or heard of again.

Only the war canoe, freshly painted but with her masts gone, remains as a mute reminder of a high adventure.

Hypnotism Cuts Profits At Drugstore

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— A stranger walking into Ralph Pearson's drug store any night in the week would be amazed, to say the least, at some of the queer antics there.

What would you think, for instance, if you saw a man flying an imaginary warplane, another at the soda fountain kissing a woman who wasn't there, and a girl posed as the Statue of Liberty?

Regular customers are never surprised. They know it's just Pearson practising his hobby of hypnotism.

Besides having fun, Pearson accomplished a lot of good by putting people in trances. He has cured several of the smoking habit.

"I'm losing a lot of my cigarette business," he says. "But I don't mind. Most of the smokers I've cured are young people who shouldn't be smoking, anyway."

One schoolgirl told Pearson she hated school.

"I hypnotized her an quietly suggested while she was in a trance that school was a good thing and she should enjoy it," he recalled.

"After I woke her up, I said, 'How's school going lately?'

"'Fine,' she said. 'I can't wait to go in the morning.'"

Pearson cured another schoolgirl of biting her fingernails. Another stopped drinking coffee after one session with him.

A young man who was about to lose his job because he overslept every morning, now wakes up at 7 a.m. daily on the dot, Pearson claims.

"Too bad I can't hypnotize myself," the druggist added. "I stay up so late hypnotizing people, I'm too tired to get up in the morning."

The druggist has attracted so much attention with its hynotism, nobody watches the television set in his store any more.

"We'll either have to sell the store and go into the hypnotism business or stop this stuff," said Mrs. Pearson: "It's getting to be a three-ring circus around here."

PARIS, May 31 (Reuters)—The Western Powers will invite Andrei Vishinsky, Russian foreign minister, to a "Big Four" Foreign Ministers' conference to by-pass the deadlocked Paris talks of their deputies, usually reliable sources said Wednesday night.

Anglican Clergy Criticize Radio Religion

TORONTO, May 31—Criticism of radio programs in which Anglican clergy took part came from the Rev. E. J. Tucker, St. Mark's, West Toronto, at Wednesday's synod session of the Toronto Anglican diocese.

"One minister prayed for a girl with crinkly hair who wanted curly hair," he commented.

"I don't think I or any other member of the church is very much concerned whether hair is crinkly, curled, artificial or dyed," replied the Rev. Dr. B. R. English of St. Aidan's, who presented the radio committee report.

Don Wright, radio broadcaster, warned the synod that he, as a member of the synod, was embarrassed because of the poor quality of what is going out. He had been told that the CBC was wondering whether it was still practical to give time to religious broadcasts.

"I have heard rumors of anti-religious feeling among radio people," said the Rev. C. J. Frank, of Holy Trinity Church. "I have heard they are out to 'do in' the churches, particularly the Anglican Church. If there is any fire behind this smoke, it may be a result of the poor quality of the broadcasts."

Need Radio Technique

"We should eliminate the preachiness in what goes over the air. Our congregations have to suffer it, perhaps, but we can't inflict it on the public," Mr. Frank added. He suggested there was a need for a school on radio technique.

"This stuff about spreading the Kingdom of God by the best commercial methods is about 50 per cent bunk'" was the comment of Canon J. E. Ward, St. Stephen's. "It's like trying to make love to your best girl over the telephone. Admittedly, broadcasting has come to stay; perhaps it would be well that its methods should be taught in college."

Canon Ward thought that all commercial advertising might be proved illegal in Canada on a Sunday. "The CBC and the other stations outside it have a public trust. Surely the Christian Church has a right to some time on the air," he said.

Lellava was left tied in a swamp.

Bertrand was sentenced to two years less a day and Ranta to 18 months definite and three months indefinite.

Lellava's wife, facing a similar charge, pleaded innocent, and was remanded to June 6 for trial.

REALIZING EVERY WOMAN wants to look her best when facing a camera, film actress Jan Sterling demonstrates helpful beauty tips taught her by studio make-up men. A bit of clown white, carefully blended along her cheekbones, adds interest to her facial planes (left); lipstick, skilfully applied with a brush, enhances her portrait-lovely mouth (upper centre); and eye-shadow, smoothed on with a cautious finger, adds depth and radiance to her eyes (lower centre). She poses for a still picture (right), confident of her make-up even beneath the glare of brilliant lights and the searching eye of the photographer's camera.—

Extra Attention To Makeup Needed To Photograph Well

By JAN STERLING
Written for NEA Service

There's something about the searching eye of a camera that makes every woman want to look her best. This desire for portrait glamor seems to be universal—whether it's a graduate or bride recording an important milestone in her life; a teen-ager smiling her prettiest for her best beau; a mother capturing her youth on film for her children to remember; or like me a movie actress posing for stills.

Special effects require special effort. There are tricks of lighting which every experienced photographer uses to enhance the loveliness of his subject—but his skill alone is not enough. You must do your part as well, by choosing the correct clothes and hair-do and by giving a bit of extra attention to your make-up.

Mistakes Show

If you tend to be somewhat slap-dash about your everyday cosmetics, abandon this approach at picture-taking time. A smeary, wavering lipstick line may not look too outstandingly dreadful as you go about your daily tasks, but it'll scream for attention once it's caught on film.

If your attitude toward make-up is "the less the better," this theory, too, had best be discarded until after your trip to the photographers. Unassisted beauty which may look fresh, clean and natural in the flesh has a way of looking washed out when exposed to flash bulbs.

Women who insist upon facing the camera loking just as they usually do may find, when their proofs are ready, that their noses outshine their eyes, or that their eyebrows seem to have disappeared.

Days Ahead

Preparation for your picture should begin several days in advance. Shampoo and brush your hair so itll be clean and glossy enough to pick up highlights; set it so it'll be manageable and becoming. Never appear before a camera with stiff, rigid waves or tight, new curls.

Experiment with your clothes a bit also before the day of your appointment. Choose a neckline that enhances your face and neck. As a rule, classic styles and solid colors are best. Patterned clothes tend to look "busy" and extreme, last-word styles often look amusingly outdated within a couple of years.

As for your make-up, here's your chance to achieve the dramatic effects you may consider too glamorous for your everyday living. Studio make-up men have taught me that beauty is often pretty much an optical illusion based on light and shadow. You can create your own illusions, with the aid of make-up foundation.

Two Shades

You'll need two shades, one that matches your complexion and one that's slightly darker. If your nose is too broad, slenderize it in effect by applying your darker foundation along the sides of your nose, the lighter shade in a narrow line along the bridge.

If your face is too flat and broad, create a more interesting effect by shadowing in the area beneath your cheekbones. A bit of clown white, carefully blended upward toward your temples, will also heighten the planes of your face.

A too-long nose will seem shorter if you smooth on a little of the darker make-up just beneath its tip.

The same rule applies when your chin is too long or too pointed. Angular lines will be softened by the resultant shading.

Eyes Important

Your eyes are of utmost importance. Make them look as beautiful as possible with correct make-up. There's trickery in your eye-shadow box. Prominent eyes can be made to apparently recede when this make-up is smoothed on; average-looking eyes assume a new depth and radiance when lids are glossy and shaded.

With a few deft strokes of your eye-brow pencil, you can perfect a frame for your eyes. Just as surely as you make certain there are no straggly brows for the camera lens to pick up, make certain also that there are no sparse spots to give your brows an unfinished look. Particularly is it important, if your eyebrows end too soon, to round out their curve with an eyebrow pencil.

To give your complexion a soft mat finish, apply a generous quantity of powder over your foundation. But avoid a pasty look by carefully brushing away the excess with a complexion brush or a fluff of cotton.

Use Brush

Complete your make-up by applying lipstick with a brush. If this technique is unhandy for you, practice at home for a few days until you've mastered it. Thin or too-full lips seem particularly conspicuous when photographed; use your brush to broaden or narrow them as needed.

Here's one final trick employed by people who face the camera professionally: Make sure, just before the final click, that you moisten your lips so that the camera will catch a gleam.

English Company Guards Treasure Of Royal Houses

MONTREAL, April (CP). — A throne worth $30,000,000, ropes of pearls six feet long, and chests overflowing with jewels are not very startling to Hon. George Charles Hayter Chubb of London.

They are not his, of course, but Chubb's firm, a lock and safe company, has the job of guarding them among other almost priceless treasures of the world's monarchs.

The throne is the fabulous peacock throne of Persia and it is in a burglar-proof room designed by Mr. Chubb's company.

"The floor is literally strewn with expensive baubles, such as gold swords," he said during a recent visit here. "Chests are scattered about, spilling precious stones. There is even a globe of the world two feet in diameter, made of solid gold."

Guarding such treasure is an old story in the Chubb family. When his great-great-grandfather won a $500 prize for designing a good lock, King George III was so taken with it he sent all the Royal business to him. Since then business has snowballed

Right now Mr. Chubb is concerned with the British Crown jewels to be displayed at the Festival of Britain. The family guarded the valuables at the 1851 Festival, among them the Koh-I-Noor diamond.

Many Safeguards

To guard the magnificent diamond, Chubb's built a gigantic "parrot cage" around the gem. At night, when the display is closed, a spring was touched and the diamond sank into a massive iron box which in turn disappeared into a pedestal of solid masonry.

Chubb's will be doing a similar job with the British Crown jewels during the Festival of Britain this year.

The most unusual job the firm had to tackle was an order from an Indian maharajah for strong boxes for the jewellery of his 17 wives. Chubb's made the boxes, each with an individual lock and key. The women were delighted with this bit of privacy, but they underrated the ingenuity of the maharajah and Chubb's. The maharajah had a master key fitting all 17 boxes.

Unusual Search Reveals African Artist

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa —(CP)— The story of an African who changed the whole course of an industry in which he was once a laborer was told at the Port Elizabeth agricultural show by an official of the company.

Two years ago 30-year-old Freddie Mputing, an African from the Eastern Transvaal, was instrumental in bringing about a radical change in the company's output.

Workmen at the receiving end of a long kiln in which clay insulators were baked from time to time found clay animals hidden under the insulators. Unaware of their real artistic worth they often destroyed them.

One day a Johannesburg artist, Mrs. Marjorie Sangster, saw one of the figures and immediately recognized its value. The unknown artist had hitherto only been sought for the purpose of a reprimand for using company materials and time.

Narrowing the Search

The search was then instigated for another purpose, and was narrowed down to 20 Africans who were placed in a row and given clay to model.

The natural artist, Freddie, although unwilling to disclose his name because he thought he would be punished was unable to hide his talent and modelled a perfect figure.

Freddie's talents were given free rein, and he was set to the work he lovd. His models of animals, detailed with acute observation, were marketed and instantly created a demand.

Expansion in the ceramic field was started. Five potters were brought from Italy, Holland and England, and the output of glazed ware has reached about 3,000 items a day.

Freddie, who uses no tools but his hands and has had neither lessons nor guidance, continues to model his individualistic figures and critics predict a great future for him.

Girls Look Dressed Up In New Swimsuits

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Cool and porous cotton lends itself best to beachwear with a dressmaker touch. Nylon and rayon make sleek swim suits; cotton makes pretty swim suits.

These cotton suits, jersey-lined for practicality, are equally successful as sun suits or swim suits. They are made to fit through strategic use of zippers or through elasticizing. And they get along with soap-and-water just as readily as they slip into the sea for a dip.

The ballerina suits, done up in green-and-white cord-stripe, is a boon to girls with hips they'd like to conceal. Stem slim to the waist, this suit has green shoe string ties at the shoulders. The neck is round, scooped out and bound in green. At the waist, the skirt blossoms out, full and brief. It has an embroidered eyelet edge in flower design. The zipper is lined in matching fabric. It has romper bloomers.

A trim, neat swim suit with a tailored look is done up in black-and-white wicker weave. There's a white jersey lining. To the waist it looks much like a pretty summer dress with a white pique picture frame collar fastening halter fashion at the back of the neck. There are two slit pockets at the hips. But this dress top ends suddenly in tailored trunks. This suit, too, zips neatly down the back.

A beach ensemble, in the sprightly red-and-green tartan plaid of the Chisholm Clan, is made up of elasticized suit and an abbreviated cape lined in terry cloth. The maillot has slim straps, may be worn without them. The cape, nicely tailored, has simple slits for the arms. It provides a coverup when sun or sea breezes prove too much.

Girls Make Toys For Sick Kiddies

LONDON (CP)—Young daughters and members of Britain's Women's Voluntary Services have started a new social venture. The youngsters—from six to 16—have formed Busy Fingers Clubs.

The clubs aim to provide entertainments and presents for less fortunate children in hospitals and homes.

At East Grinstead in Sussex, children arranged a successful party for a ward they have adopted at the Queen Victoria Hospital and gave a toy to each of the 18 small patients. The Busy Fingers' members had stored paper from Christmas crackers which they made into gay hats. They played the piano, sang nursery rhymes, arranged games and introduced a magician to their little guests.

Another club has been formed at Birmingham. The girls meet every week to make toys for children in a local hospital. They gave small subscriptions for purchase of dolls to dress, books, games and other toys. The club is run on strictly business lines with a chairman, secretary and treasurer.

St. Alban's Guild Members Give Draw Prizes At Tea

their afternoon tea on Wednesday are the members of St. Alban's Guild.

This small group of women from the small congregation of St. Alban's Anglican Mission at Monaghan Rd. and Cameron St. arranged a most attractive tea room for the occasion and entertained more than 100 guests mostly friends in the south-end community.

They had set out small tables for serving and on each was a pretty bouquet of tulips, iris, lilacs or carnations. The windows were festooned with branches tied with simulated blossoms and the treasurer's table, set at the entrance to the tea room, was enhanced with a bouquet of lovely, long-stemmed pink carnations.

Tea cup reading, with two readers on hand to accommodate the crowd, was an interesting feature of the tea.

A draw which offered three prizes, a hand-made star pattern quilt, an embroidered luncheon cloth and a carving set, was another feature which paid well, and a crocheted doilie was raffled to make money for the choir fund.

Small Catherine Barnes officiated in the draws and the winners were Mrs. E. McMillan, 620 Monaghan Rd., quilt; Mrs. J. Jardine, 567 Hamilton St., carving set, and Mrs. J. Simmons, RR 5, luncheon cloth. Draw for the doilie was made by Paul Holloway and the winner was Mrs. D. Melville, 579 McKellar St.

Treasurer Mrs. Cyril Barnes also sold the tickets on the doilie and the draw tickets were sold during the tea by Mrs. Stevenson. These had been on sale by members for some time.

Bazaar tables offered a good selection of home baking and a wide variety of sewn articles, including aprons, tea towels, pillow cases and novelties. Mrs. Jas. McCormack, Mrs. Ken Boyd and Mrs. A. Bush were selling the baking and Mrs. S. M. Millard, Mrs. W. Thompson and Mrs. B. Maskell attended the bazaar table.

Brownies operated a candy booth and it was looked after by Jean Bowler and Kay Sibley with Mrs. H. Bowler assisting.

Mrs. J. Jardine convened the tea room and had as servers Mrs T. Alcock, Mrs. J. Jessen and Mrs. A. Davies. Small plates, decorated with paper lace doilies in pastel shades supplied with dainty sandwiches and cakes, were prepared in the kitchen by Mrs. Pollard, Mrs. J. Hamilton, Mrs Goldsboro and Mrs. F. Lake who also filled the tea cups.

Mrs. A. Moore, president of the Guild, and Mrs. G. Brooks, wife of the curate of St. Alban's welcomed the guests.

Flags, Global Map, Flowers Feature UN Theme

Stressing United Nations and the great need today for more unity among the nations of the world, the WMS of George St. United Church held a "United Nations Missionary Tea" this year, in place of their usual flower tea.

They carried out the theme, on Wednesday afternoon, with large flags outdoors summoning friends to the board room parlour and an arrangement of all the flags of the free nations held a prominent place in the tea room. A few of the tea attendants were dressed in costumes of India, China and Japan.

A globe map of the world was an effective centre on the tea table and it stood amid a charming arrangement of beautifully shaded tulips and tiny bouquets of lily of the valley, spiked with lighted pencil tapers.

Baskets filled with purple iris and purple and white lilacs filled corners of the room and the decorations were completed with another small global map and wall sketches of the design for the United Nations flag.

A very pleasing crowd attended this delightful tea. They were received by the president of the Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. E. H. Brown, assisted by Miss J. Shaffer and Mrs. J. Beatty.

Hostesses in the tea room were Mrs. R. Parnall, Mrs. W. Geo. P. Benton, Mrs. S. Wildman and Mrs. H. Girven and the tea pourers were Mrs. A. A. Mathews, Mrs. J. M. Fanning, Mrs F. Barritt and Mrs. W. P. Purdy.

Servers were supplied from Mrs. C. Hurl's group and were taking turns under her direction. They were: Mrs. H. Dulmage, Mrs. E. Rosborough, Mrs. J. Weaver, Mrs. J. Stenton, Mrs. W. Young, Mrs. A. Edmison, Mrs. J. Harrison, Mrs. R. Moore, Mrs. G. Marshall, Mrs. M. Bebee, Mrs. I. Ellicott, Mrs. J. McMahon, Mrs. R. Hetherington, Miss Sybil Harrison, Miss Pearl Mullen and Miss Lareta Sedgwick.

Tea convener was Mrs. W. Sheppard and her committee included Miss Thurza Allen, Mrs. J. C. Bateson, and Mrs. C. Turnbull. Mrs. Robert McKee and Mrs. James Tinney took over the duties of kitchen helpers throughout the afternoon.

Music in the tea room was supplied by Mrs. A. J. Weames and Miss D. White.

In an auxiliary room was a table with candy and greeting cards for sale which was operated by the Mission Band and they also displayed their mission study lesson in flannelograph and some Japanese lanterns they had made. The candy was most attractively boxed in simulated wagons.

Mrs. A. Olmstead who is in charge of Band was in charge and helped by her committee of Mrs. W. Sims and Mrs. G. Marshall. Attendants were Sylvia Young and Margaret Pritchard in Japanese dress, Wendy Outram in Chinese costume, Linda Payne and Gale Olmstead as Canadian Indian girl and boy.

The bake table was in charge of Mrs. Fred Burnham, Mrs. V. Boorman, Mrs. E. L. Sackville and Mrs. Roy Powell.

Mrs. J. Bickell and Mrs. Alex Fitzgerald were wearing Indian saris as they attended the treasurer's table.

Mrs. W. H. Morton arranged for the costumes and others were Mrs. J. Harrison, Mrs. W. A. Sims, and Mrs. Fred Burnham, Chinese; Mrs. G. Marshall, Japanese.

Decorating was done by Mrs. A. Metheral, assisted by Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. S. Wildman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin with a deep neckline of lace with tiny pearl buttons, ballerina length. Her veil was of tulle caught to a tiara of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Of Interest to Women

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Salads Can Appeal To Men Put Surprises Into Them

Being a rabid nibbler of rabbit food I have to hold a restraining paw on myself to keep from dishing up salads too often to you.

But this time, my hearties, I have you in my power! What with the weather for an ally, and so many of you begging (well, maybe not actually begging—but requesting) me to give you summer salad ideas, I'm chomping around right in my element.

I realize you may be having a litle spot of trouble with your favorite man when it comes to salads, for lots of wonderful boys were brought up by wonderful mothers to believe that meat and potatoes were the staff of life and pie was an extra dividend. Salads were superfluous. This basic training is hard to cope with. But I think a considerable majority of your beloved husbands will be won over with this

✧ ✧ ✧

He-Man Salad

You will need 2 cup coarsely chopped inner head lettuce, 1 cup each finely chopped celery and finely shredded cabbage, ½ cup shredded carrot and dill pickles (preferably kosher), cooked green peas or ½-inch pieces of asparagus tips. One-half cup of freshly cracked walnut pieces is optional but desirable. You will need either ½ cup mayonnaise or ¼ to ⅓ cup French dressing—depending on the kind of dressing your family prefers. Also anchovies in some form. This may be about 2 inches of anchovy paste from the tube or a couple of finely chopped anchovy fillets. (I bow thankfully to a reader in Calgary for the anchovy idea.) Rub the bowl with a cut clove of garlic and mix all ingredients—adding salt to taste as you toss the salad. Mix it all at the last minute before dinner.

Regardless of the fact that last week I met Mary Dahnke, the charming lady who is chief home economist for Kraft and perfected their world famous Miracle Whip—I still make my own mayonnaise and here is the how of it. You must obey the rules—no rule-of-thumb-cooking will do for this, for it is the scientific principle of emulsification that you are depending upon.

✧ ✧ ✧

Emem's Mayonnaise

Have salad oil cold in refrigerator—3 cups and a little more. In bowl put 3 egg yolks and add 1 tablespoon each salt, sugar and dry mustard. Beat with rotary or electric beater until thick, then add 1 tablespoon cold oil and beat until blended. Have standing ready the strained juice from 2 large lemons or ½ cup lemon juice. Put 1 teaspoon of lemon juice into bowl with your next tablespoon oil and beat until blended and continue until you have used up ½ cup cold oil, beating until blended and thick between every addition. Now you can begin to add the oil in larger amounts—as much as 3 tablespoons if it remains a very thick emulsion. Keep adding lemon juice too when you do oil. Continue until all oil is used. Now because some egg yolks are larger than others you may be able to use as much as 4 cups of oil before the emulsion becomes too soft. So use your own judgment. The only precaution you must observe is slow adding of oil at first. If the oil and egg yolk do separate start all over again with 2 more yolks, and use the separated dressing as if it were oil. Omit the seasonings of course on the second try. Keep covered and cold. For a change use fresh lime juice.

Put surprises into your salads.

✧ ✧ ✧

Asparagus Salad

Made this way takes a surprising turn. Shred leaf lettuce. On it place a half of a large peeled tomato. Surround with border of cottage cheese. On top of the tomato half place a bundle of short, cooked, cold asparagus stalks. Pour cold French Dressing over just before serving. Finely grated old cheddar cheese is a good addition to the French Dressing.

✧ ✧ ✧

Spring Salad

One medium-sized head lettuce, 2 cups coarsley diced tomatoes drained, 1 cup sliced cucumbers, 12 chive leaves, 6 mint leaves, ¼ cup sliced radishes. French dressing to moisten. Chop the chives and mint fine and add to salad and sprinkle a few over top when it is tossed.

Watch these columns in a week or so for some delicious aspic combinations.

DOROTHY DIX

Grandma Deserves Rest From Romping Children

DEAR MISS DIX: My married daughter has two children, aged 2 and 3 years. They all visit me daily, just plopping in and upsetting my routine, house and peace of mind. The children are into everything and break things all over the house. I have tried correcting them, but they don't listen. What can I tell my daughter and son-in-law to improve things? I don't want to hurt them but I can't take much more.

ANSWER: What a blessed world this would be if things only struck a happy medium! On my right hand is a pile of letters from grieving grandmothers who never see their married children or their grandchildren, and on my left hand are leters like this from grandmothers whose lives are disrupted by too much attention from the younger generation.

Her Housework Must Suffer

What I'd like to know is, when does your daughter get her housework done? It seems to me that with a husband and two small children she'd have so much to keep her busy home she wouldn't have time to be on your hands so much.

Having raised your own family, you certainly deserve a rest now, instead of having to cope daily with two youngsters who are undoubtedly adorable, but who are also at the most active and destructive age. They're too young to understand much correcting, and the best way to prevent breakage is to keep things out of their way. As for the fundamental problem of how to make their visits less frequent, could you engage the co-operation of the family doctor to tell daughter that your health does not permit these daily visits? He certainly would not be trifling with the truth, as you are obviously nervous and need more quiet.

Of course, you could tell your daughter yourself, but she'd probably pay more attention if the warning came officially. Her intentions undoubtedly are good; she may feel you enjoy having the youngsters around every day, and a gentle hint may be enough to make her see the light. Youth is thoughtless, but not hard. Children get used to being dependent on Mom for everything, and after marriage they continue to return to the paternal roof, toting the babies along and never realizing that the years are catching up with mother and she just can't stand the wear and tear of active grandchildren as well as she stood it with her own small fry.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 24. He is 41. We have been married six months. Within a week I realized our marriage was a mistake. Here are some of my difficulties. My husband was previously married and widowed. Has two children living with a married sister, all of whom visit us regularly; an ordeal for me. His ignorance nearly drives me to distraction. He has nothing to say in company. Evenings when I wish to dance or go to a place of amusement he claims fatigue and the necessity of arising at 7 in the morning, so we can't go out. I have no parents and was poor, so I married thinking a home would suffice, but too late I have learned that a support is insufficient for happiness. Do you think separation would be the best course for me to take?

MRS. D. R. N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your trouble is solely that you married without love and you are paying the penalty of a mercenary marriage. Your complaints against your husband are not worth considering. If he is not a brilliant conversationalist, you were bound to have known that before marriage. Nor are you ill-used because he does not wish to go out to places of amusement of evenings after a long day's work. And certainly you have no right to object to his sister and his children coming to see him. You are lucky that they do not live with you.

I agree with you that if you are so unhappy and discontented after six months of wedlock, it is better to end the farce of such a marriage at once rather than go through a long-drawn-out lifetime of misery. But if you do leave this good man, don't ask for alimony. Don't

6—In Memoriams

EDWARDS—In loving memory of our little granddaughter, Elenore.
She was only a little white rosebud,
A sweet little flower from birth,
God took her home to Heaven,
Before she was soiled on earth.
—Lovingly remembered by Grandma and Grandpa McFarland.

EDWARDS—In loving memory of my daughter, Elenore Edwards, who passed away six years ago, May 31, 1945.
She was a flower too sweet for earth,
Sent here but for a while,
God marked her when He gave her birth,
And took her with a smile.
—Lovingly remembered by mother and dad and brothers Gerald and Douglas.

KIERAN—In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear father, Arthur P. Kieran, who died on May 31, 1940. R.I.P.
More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow,
Lies within our hearts concealed.
—Inserted by his wife and daughter Maria A. and Catherine, 135 Rubidge St.

WILSON—In loving memory of a dear father, George Wilson, who passed away May 28, 1950.
What would I give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
—Ever remembered by Earl and Frances.

Actor Refuses To Make Accent Change

By POB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 31 (AP)—Dale Robertson is one southerner who refuses to let Hollywood "Yar kee-ize" him.

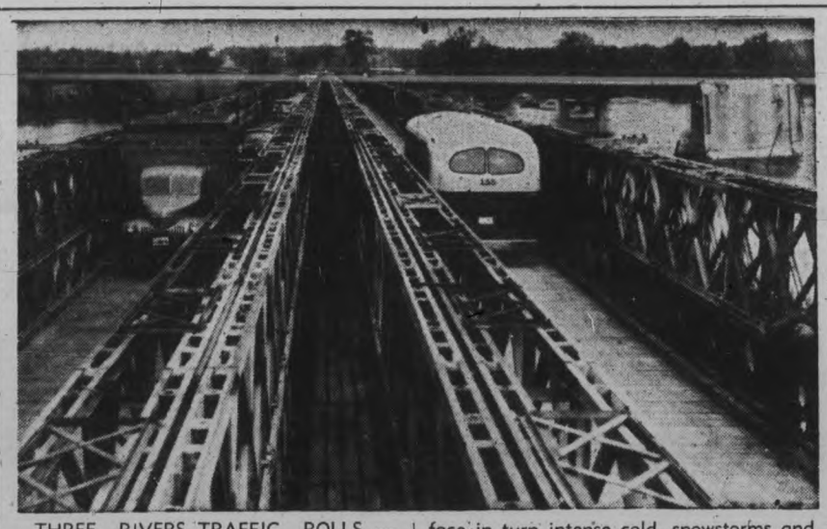
The handsome young actor is actually a southerner, hailing from Oklahoma City, Okla. But his accent is definitely south of the Mason-Dixon line. And it's going to stay that way, says he.

"Hollywood is a great place for advice," he drawled. "Everybody has his own idea about how to further your career, and the advice usually comes from people who never achieve anything themselves.

"They've all been telling me I should take lessons to get rid of my accent. They claim it will limit me in the parts I get. I say nuts to that. Sure, I could take a month or so of lessons and lose every trace of accent I ever had.

"But then what would I be? Just another actor. And tall, black-haired actors are $1 a gross in this town."

Need Trade Mark



Robertson said he has figured out his stand by observing the successful actors in the movies.

"All of them have accents of some kind," he said. "Its a trade mark for them; it makes them distinctive. Cary Grant has an accent. So does Randolph Scott. And where would Ronald Coleman be without his accent?"

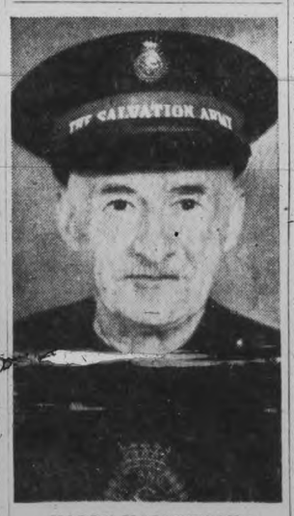
Playing butlers, he guessed.

Robertson said he learned his lesson as a small boy. The great Will Rogers was a friend of the family and urged the Robertsons to bring young Dale to Hollywood for movies. Mrs. Robertson didn't want to disrupt the entire family and decided against it. But she said she would send Dale to dramatic school.

"Don't do that," Rogers advised. "If everybody went to drama school and learned to speak good, think of all the night club impersonators that would be put out of work!"

THREE RIVERS TRAFFIC ROLLS — Three River came right back on to the highway again recently when the temporary Bailey bridge system which replaces the ill-fated Duplessis Bridge, a surviving section to be seen in the right background, was opened to traffic. Engineers had to face in turn intense cold, snowstorms and high spring water hazards as they drove the new span across the St. Maurice River. Said to be the longest work of its kind ever thrown across a river, it will restore nearly to normality the much dislocated transport facilities.

To Establish Fund For Cigarettes To Service Men



SASKATOON, May 31—(CP)—Once again the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire will look after providing troops with cigarettes.

Delegates at the final session Wednesday of the order's 51st annual meeting agreed to establish a cigarette fund for British and Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen serving outside North America.

Mrs. W. R. Walton of Oakville, Ont., third vice-president, reported that the Queen Mary carpet fund had reached $89,610.

HARRY ILLINGWORTH

Harry Illingworth, Salesman Turns 85

Working with the Salvation Army since he was a youth, Harry Illingworth, who is well known in Peterborough for his sales of the War Cry, is celebrating his 85th birthday today. He was born in a little country village near Leeds, Yorkshire.

While in England, Mr. Illingworth first began his work with the English War Cry, and won first prize in a contest sponsored by the magazine for sales work.

In 1920 he came to Canada and since has set a possible record for sales of the War Cry. His sales since he was 70 years old have amounted to more than 50,000 magazines.

When the Salvation Army celebrated 63 years in Peterborough, 2,000 historical booklets were printed for the occasion. Mr. Illingworth sold more than 1,400.

Galen F. Covert Wed In Guelph

Eramosa Road Gospel Hall, Guelph, beautifully decorated with spring flowers and lighted tapes in pink and white tones was the setting for a lovely double ring wedding ceremony when Mr. John Smart of Emmaus Bible College, Toronto solemnized the marriage of Phyllis Jean Kyle and Galen Frederick Covert.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald A. Covert of Peterborough and the bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. T. Kyle of Fergus.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of petal white shadow lace and net over satin. The gathered skirt was set off by a period waistline which fell in panels of lace and net to a chapel train. She wore her mother's wedding veil caught to a pleated halo of net and her flowers were stephanotis and lily-of-the-valley.

Her only atendant, Mrs. Bruce Gardiner of Guelph, was gowned in lilac silk net and wore a matching headdress and carried pink and lilac-shaded sweet peas with mauve statice.

Mr. Sam Carser of Toronto was groomsman and ushers were Jack Townsend of Welland and Wes Payson of Peterborough.

Before the ceremony Mr. Cecil Lyness sang The Lord's Prayer and during signing of the register I'll Walk Beside You.

The Elizabeth Room of the Royal Hotel was setting for the reception. Receiving the bride's mother wore a powder blue dress with navy accessories and corsage of violets. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore navy sheer with corsage of pink roses. Guests were from Peterborough, Welland, St. Catharines, Fonthill, Toronto, Kitchener, Owen Sound, Elora, Fergus and Sarnia.

During the reception Mr. Sam Carser sang The Lord is My Shepherd and In Heavenly Love Abiding.

For travelling the bride changed to a navy suit, shell pink flower hat and corsage of matching carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Covert will make their home in Peterborough.

Lakefield Council

say that no such petition was being circulated.

"That's worse than ever," said Councillor Morris.

Councillor Kingdon felt that council should have some assurance the majority of ratepayers wanted a vote. It's too early to bring that controversial question up again, he said.

Immediate Action

Councillor Fraser argued for immediate action because the waterworks committee had recently canvassed a majority of the ratepayers; if the matter were left in abeyance there would have to be another canvass.

Reeve Grant suggested that if the vote fails then the waterworks committee pay for the cost of the vote, estimated at nearly $200.

Councillor Jakins, chairman of the committee, said this proposal would have to come before the committee but he thought it "pretty small."

"It may be small," replied the reeve, "but it's good tactics. Those in favor of the waterworks were not active enough in the last election."

New Regulations

A reply was received from Dr A. E. Berry, chief sanitary engineer for Ontario. Council had queried him on the cost of switching from cesspools to private water systems, and what the requirements would be to meet the government health standards.

Dr. Berry, in his reply, gave no cost figure but said that at present a code governing plumbing installations is being drawn up. The regulations will not affect present installations unless they are harmful to the public water supply.

Reeve Grant said there was already a section of the health by-law protecting local residents from contamination.

Women Favor Racing Curb, Universal Military Training

HAMILTON, May 31—(CP)—The Ontario Provincial Council of Women Wednesday supported curbs on the transmission of racing information in Canada.

At the morning session of its semi-annual meeting, the organization passed a resolution urging Justice Minister Garson to introduce legislation proving such a curb.

The council also urged passage of legislation forcing telephone and telegraph companies to report knowledge of their equipment being used for such a purpose to the attorney-general of the province.

The council also hit at the price of hearing aids in a resolution urging removal of duty on such hearing aids, and suggested the manufacture of hearing aids in this country.

Favor Military Training

Universal military peacetime training for young men and women was supported in a resolution which the Council passed, for presentation to the organization's National Council.

In expressing its support of such a move on the part of the Canadian Government, the council qualified that expression by formally going on record as "being in favor of every possible effort by the citizens and government of Canada to ensure and preserve the peace of the world which we so ardently crave."

The resolution passed after considerable discussion.

Two other resolutions for presentation to the National Council dealt with postal rates and the sales tax.

The former resolution requested the national body to request a change in the Post Office Act, requiring submission to parliament of any proposed change in postal rates or "other matters."

Insufficient notice to the public regarding the recent rate increase in third-class postage and insufficient supplies in the postal department to meet the demand which followed the increase, were given as reasons for council's action.

The council stated its vigorous opposition to any amendment of the British North America Act which would allow the provinces to impose a 3 per cent indirect sales tax. The provinces already had the right to impose direct sales taxes, the resolution pointed out. Further, the council believed that public interest was best served by direct, not hidden, sales taxes.

Ex-Servicewomen Providing Awards At Music Festival

Elizabeth Smellie Branch 452 of the Canadian Legion has voted unanimously in favor of a donation of $25 to the Kiwanis Club to be used to purchase two awards for the 1952 Music Festival. Mrs Doug. Vasey, at the meeting this week, stressed the need for a greater public interest in this work.

Welfare convener reported the sending of flowers to the fire victims and stated that $10 had been sent to the Mayor's Fire Fund. Christmas project convener Edna Rule reported the purchase of netting for Christmas stockings and distribution of wool for knitting contributions for same.

Present Irma Allen requested a large turn-out at the Drumhead Service to be held Sunday, June 3. The parade is to fall-in at the CNR Freight sheds at 2.15 p.m. and proceed to east city bowl.

A report on the district meeting held in Madoc May 27th was given by Comrades B. Waters and G. Simpson.

A letter regarding the Peace Council was read and the president warned members against signing their names to any such documents should they be approached.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Shaw, nee Beatrice Curtis, was presented with a shower of gifts, contained in a large hamper decorated with red, white and blue.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee in charge.

DEAR MISS DIX: My boy friend is in the army, and may be gone two or three years. We are more or less engaged but have no definite date set for marriage. Should I accept dates with other boys and tell my boy friend or accept them and not tell him?

LENA

ANSWER: As you don't say anything about not accepting the dates, I think your feelings for your boy friend cannot be too involved, and I think this "more or less" engagment better be called off. Then accept all the dates you can get, but be sure to let your soldier know about them Don't be a sneak, or a liar. Whatever you do let it be in the open.

M. H. McIndoo Son Of Pioneer Cavan Family

Matthew H. McIndoo, son of a pioneer family of Cavan, and brother of Thomas W. McIndoo of that township, died on May 29 at his home in Fresno City, California. He was in his 92nd year.

Son of Matthew McIndoo and his wife, Mary Carter, Mr. McIndoo was born on his father's farm, lot 17, concession 12, about two miles and a half west of the Peterborough-Port Hope highway. In his teenage he went to Mount Pleasant to clerk in his brother-in-law's store and to learn that retailing business. Later he moved to Wingham, and entered into the dry goods and groceries business with an older brother.

In Citrus Fruit Business

Finally, 45 years ago, Mr. McIndoo left for California to join his three older brothers in citrus fruit business. One of the McIndoo men had gone to the Pacific coast nearly 75 years ago, and that branch of the family were among the pioneers in the development of orange groves in California.

Predeceased by his wife 18 years ago, Mr. McIndoo is survived by his brother, Thomas W. McIndoo, who is now the last of that Cavan family of eleven children. During his later years Mr. McIndoo had lived with his niece Annie Dean, in Fresno.

Mr. Thomas McIndoo still lives on the 12th concession of Cavan. The McIndoo farm was settled in 1820 by his grandfather, William McIndoo, and is now the property of Fred McIndoo, whose son represents the sixth generation of the family in this country. Its pioneering spirit directed Matthew McIndoo and his brothers to California in the early days of the establishment of the citrus fruit industry.

MOH Maintains Mosquitoes A Nuisance But Not Menace From Health Standpoint

"Mosquitoes are merely a nuisance not a menace from a health standpoint," Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH stated Wednesday.

Victims of repeated mosquito raids on the city will be glad to know that in the interest of public comfort, the Department of Health is supervising fogging operations in various parts of the city.

Sanitary Inspector R. M. MacPherson explained that there are seven or eight mosquito breeding areas in the city. Three of these have been fogged and the remainder will be under attack tonight and Thursday night.

"We hope that this fogging will alleviate the situation," Dr. Kelly remarked. "But we won't be responsible for alien insects that make visits from areas outside the city."

Nervous, Rundown; Food Caused Gas, Indigestion

Had Poor Appetite, Always Painful. Tells How She Tired. Limbs, Back Sore, Got First Real Relief By Taking Syntona.

MRS. ETHEL WENDELL

After the good results I got by taking Syntona Herbal Compound I do not hesitate to recommend this medicine to any person suffering as I did," said Mrs. Ethel Wendell, Port Burwell, Ontario, in a recent statement

"I was terribly rundown and had lost considerable weight. I had no appetite and what food I did eat caused gassy pains, heartburn and indigestion; I would belch up hot, sour liquids and get a full, heavy bloated feeling that nothing would seem to relieve. Constipation was a daily worry to me for years and I suffered from sore, painful back and limbs. I would get very bad headaches and was extremely nervous and tired all the time.

"A friend advised me to try Syntona and since I've been taking this medicine I can say I have not felt so good for years. I am free of pain, stomach distress, and constipation. Now I enjoy all my meals, I am keeping free of headaches, and my nerves are calmed down so that I sleep far better at night and can do my work without getting so awfully tired as I did before."

Many thousands of men and women like Mrs. Wendell have found relief from their suffering by taking Syntona. If you suffer similarly why not let this Pure Herbal Compound help you, too? A few days' trial should convince you of its merit.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt).

King George Has Lung Inflamation

Duke of Gloucester Likely Welcome Norwegian Monarch

LONDON, June 1. (Reuters) —The King has developed inflammation of the lung, it was officially announced from Buckingham Palace today. A bulletin signed by four doctors said:

"The King has been confined to his room for the past week with an attack of influenza.

"There is now a small area of catarrhal inflammation in the lung, but the constitutional disturbance is slight."

Earlier this week the 55-year-old monarch cancelled a visit to Northern Ireland due to start today. Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret arrived in Belfast this morning to fulfil his program.

The Duke of Gloucester, the King's brother, now is likely to greet King Haakon of Norway when he arrives Tuesday for an official visit.

Buckingham Palace officials could not yet indicate whether the King will be able to take part in other public events planned for next week.

A medical authority told Reuters that a small area of catarrhal inflammation could mean a small area of bronchitis. In advanced stages catarrhal inflammation of the lung could lead to pneumonia or bronchial pneumonia.

One of the doctors who signed the bulletin was a chest specialist.

UN Advance Slowed By Red Army

Chinese Bolstering Defences Rapidly, New Attack Hinted

TOKYO, June 1. (AP) — Chinese Communists bolstered defences today in ridge lines guarding their vital massing area in Red Korea. An Allied tank patrol rumbled back into Yanggu at the eastern end of Hwachon reservoir on the eastern front Friday noon for the second straight day. It had fought its way in Thursday. Friday it met no opposition.

Communist troops bitterly opposed Allied patrols along the 125-mile Korean front except at the two ends of Hwachon reservoir. Gains up to two miles were reported near Hwachon.

On the western front, an American staff officer said Chinese appeared to be digging in to "resist any further allied advance toward the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyonggang supply triangle."

In New Positions

Reds streamed into new positions north of the 38th parallel to defend the concentration area, starting point of their ill-fated spring offensives. They filtered into new positions by groups of 50 to 500. Some dragged new artillery pieces through the mud and set them up facing UN positions.

An American officer said the artillery movement may indicate the Reds plan new attacks in an effort to break up the UN counter-offensive. One purpose of the big allied drive was to try to touch off a Red infantry attack prematurely.

A United Nations tank patrol fought its way north of Yonchon on the road to Chorwon, Communist bastion in the west. Tank traps and artillery halted other armored units. And a hornets nest of Chinese resistance in the hills tied up American infantry in dozens of small but intense day-long fights.

(Reuters News Agency reported that Canadian and American troops hit heavy resistance as they tried to cross the Hantan River. The Hantan runs from east to west, south of Yonchon on the west central front and forms a natural barrier to any mass advance to the Communist base at Chrowon, Reuters said.)

Across the broad central approaches to Kumwha, UN forces held their ground against Red attacks, pulled back slightly or slogged a short distance forward. Allied units generally were held close to the 38th Parallel.

Plane Losses

In the air three more Russian-type jets were shot down. This brought to five the number destroyed in 24 hours by swift American F-86 Sabre jets and a B-29 Superfort.

Two American planes—an F-80 jet and an F-51 Mustang — crashed and burned Friday after-

UN ADVANCE

UN Officer Says Peace Wanted Not Appeasement

OTTAWA, June 1. (CP)—Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary-general, today called upon the Communists to say whether they would agree to a cease-fire in Korea "approximately along the 38th Parallel." He also warned that if the year-old fighting continues UN members will be expected to throw in additional forces and battle with all the strength that can be safely committed to the action. In a speech prepared for delivery before the United Nations Association of Canada, the secretary-general said:

"I believe that the time has come for a new effort to end the fighting in Korea. The United Nations forces there — as things stand today — have repelled the aggression and thrown the aggressors back across the 38th Parallel.

"If a cease-fire could be arranged approximately along the 38th Parallel, then the main purpose of the security council resolutions of June 25 and 27 and July 7 will be fulfilled, provided that the cease-fire is followed by the restoration of peace and security in the area.

The 38th Parallel is the line which separated the Republic of Korea from Communist-dominated North Korea before the Communists invaded South Korea last June 25. Some UN forces now are several miles north of the line.

Takes Two Sides

"It takes two sides to make peace," Lie said. 'We do not know whether the North Koreans and their supporters are ready to agree to a cease-fire, to be followed by negotiations. Until we do know, the members of the United Nations must continue to fight in Korea with all the forces that can safely be committed to the action."

Lie said the UN had three objectives in Korea: to repel the Communist aggression and restore peace, establish a free and independent Korea and restore the economy of the war-wrecked country.

"We must face the fact that the second objective, which was not accomplished in three years of effort before the attack last June, may take a long time before it is finally achieved," Lie said.

"But the first step, obviously, must be an end to the fighting."

Wind Change Saves Village From Burning

TIMMINS, June 1—(CP)—The winds changed and the rains came early today but a 10,000-acre forest fire still burned unchecked near the Quebec-Ontario border.

However, the big blaze no longer threatened the small village of La Reine, north of Lake Abitibi and just across the Quebec border.

The fire, which started late Wednesday, is burning uncontrolled in birch and jackpine, but forestry officials said it was racing to the north and east where there are no communities. Dense timberlands are in its path.

Lands Department officials said in Toronto today that a sudden change in the wind plus a light rain arrested—at least for the time being—the threat of destruction to La Reine and a Canadian National Railways station.

Work All Night

Heart of the fire was in Hepburn township, on the Ontario side near Lake Abitibi, about 110 miles northeast of here.

Thursday the fire burned to within two miles of a big Abitibi Power and Paper Company pulpshoved it in the opposite direcwood plant. A change in the wind tion.

Then the blaze moved in the direction of La Reine, a village of some 1,300 residents about 11 miles from the border.

Residents refused to go to bed Thursday night. They toiled throughout the night, spraying their homes with water and setting up emergency firefighting equipment.

Officials said 15 miles of bushland lies between the fire and the village. The railway station is about 12 miles away.

Dark Glasses Aided Canadian Down Red Plane

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP)—A pair of sun glasses helped Flt. Lt. Omer Levesque, DFC, bag the first enemy plane shot down by a Canadian in the Korean war.

The 31-year-old RCAF ace from Mont Joli, Que., told about it today when he arrived back in Canada after a tour of operations with the United States Air Force. He was in Korea nearly six months.

Levesque was also the first Canadian to destroy an enemy plane in the last war. His total bag was four destroyed and one propably destroyed.

Levesque, whose wife lives in Montreal, is on loan to the USAF.

This is how Levesque described his kill:

"It was just south of the Yalu river near the border of Manchuria. We were flying cover for some B-29s. You can't escort them, exactly, because they're too slow for the jet fighters. You rendezvous with them at the target.

"A couple of MIGs hopped across from Manchuria and took a pass at the B-29s.

"I tailed one in. I followed him in a turn twice. He tried to lose me in the sun but I had on dark sun glasses and could still see him. He thought he'd lost me.

"I guess I was about 1,500 feet away. I don't know about the speed but it must have been around 500 miles an hour.

"I hit him with a deflection shot. It seemed to damage his hydraulic system because he went into an uncontrollable roll and went down. . ."

Charge Outdated Methods Basis of Unequal Tax Load

OWEN SOUND, June 1. (CP)—Hit-and-miss assessment methods in some Ontario Municipalities may be the basis of unequal tax burdens within the community, Reeve Barry E. Atkinson of Sandwich East township said today. "Some municipalities are using as a basis of their taxation today, the assessment system they used at the start of the century," Reeve Takinson said in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual conference of the Ontario Mayors and Reeves Association.

Reeve Atkinson, representing a municipality bordering Windsor and containing both farms and industrial plants and population, said an "outmoded and unequal system" could make the homeowner subsidize business through unequal taxes.

The need of a standard assessment procedure was heightened by heavier municipal spending and taxation for new services.

Premier Frost, speaking Thursday night, told the mayors and reeves he was "sympathetic" to their urgings for "free and unallotted grants" from the provincial government.

Grants earmarked for specific purposes, as now, he said, were often "invitations to spend."

US President Intervenes In Iran Dispute

TEHRAN, Iran, June 1. (AP)— President Truman intervened personally today in Iran's oil crisis. He sent a letter to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh urging that negotiations be instituted with Britain for settlement of the present "explosive" situation.

(Reuters News Agency reported from London that Truman also sent a personal message on Iran to Prime Minister Attlee.)

Truman's letter was delivered by US ambassador Henry F. Grady at Premier Mossadegh's home this morning. Mossadegh is reported to be sick in bed with a fever.

Truman's note is reported to have urged negotiations within the principles of nationalization.

Reports circulated that Premier Mossadegh had summoned an emergency session of his cabinet after meeting Grady. These reports said he would read Truman's letter to a special session of parliament Saturday.

Costello Gets Slim Vote Lead

DUBLIN, June 1 (AP).—Prime Minister John A. Costello's coalition maintained a slim lead over comeback-seeking Eamon De Valera's Fianna Fail party today in the contest for control of the Republic of Ireland's parliament (Dail).

On the basis of incomplete election returns, the De Valera faction was by far the big winner—but the inter-party alliance forged by the present Premier gave his bloc a nine-seat lead, with 14 contests still to be decided.

As the tabulation of ballots in Wednesday's general election moved slowly ahead, the present government's group had taken 70 seats—De Valera's Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) had 61.

This was the distribution among Costello's bloc—Fine Gael (United Ireland—the Premier's party), 36; Labor 14, Farmers 6, Republicans 2, Independents allied with the coalition 12.

After leading throughout the count Thursday, the De Valera party fell behind early this morning.

Liberal Senator Dies Suddenly

OTTAWA, June 1— (CP) — Senator Robert William Gladstone, 71-year-old Liberal Senator for Ontario, died in Ottawa's Civic Hospital early today following a heart seizure. He entered the hospital only last night.

Senator Gladstone was a former Member of the House of Commons who was summoned to the Senate in September, 1949. His home town was Guelph.

His death reduced to 87 the membership in the 102-seat Upper Chamber. There were 78 Liberals, nine Progressive Conservatives and 15 vacant seats.

Senator Gladstone's death was the second among senators in three days. Last Tuesday Senator Lucien Moraud, 66-year-old Progresive Conservative representative in the Upper Chamber for the Quebec division of Lasalle, died in hospital in Montreal.

Gardiner Drops Hint Of Autumn Session

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP). — A hint of a possible fall session of parliament was dropped in the Commons Thursday night by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Discussing a study to be made by experts on the south Saskatchewan irrigation project, he said he hoped to obtain a complete report before the House meets again —"even if it means this fall."

Magistrate Rejects Change Of Venue

PEMBROKE, June 1 (CP)—Defence Counsel James A. Maloney Thursday demanded a change of venue for the trial of Lloyd Robert Wyse, 35, of Golden Lake, Ont., if Wyse is committeed on a charge of murdering Lloyd Barber, cab driver from Killaloe, Ont., April 13.

Barber was slain in the bathroom of his home. He received 13 stab wounds.

Mr. Maloney's request was made after a packed court room at the preliminary hearing here applauded when Crown witness talked back angrily at the defence lawyer during cross-examination.

Magistrate W. K. MacGregor, who had ordered the court room cleared of spectators after the applause episode, rejected Mr. Maloney's request. He said he had no power to recommend a change of place in any trial.

Finds Mistake Pays Dividends

TOLEDO, O., June 1—(AP)—A mistake Thursday night was worth a lot of money to Maurice L. Bly, a ticket seller at Fort Miami raceway here.

An unidentified bettor approached Bly's $10 window and asked for three tickest on a certain horse to win the fifth race.

Bly punched out three tickets on the No. 3 horse—but the bettor hadn't asked for that horse and refused to accept the tickets.

Bly was stuck with his $30 mistake because once tickets are punched there is no way to make a correction on the automatic totalizator machine.

But No. 3 was Rose Jester, a 40-to-1 longshot that won the race, paying $82.60 for a $2 bet.

Instead of being out $30, Bly collected $1,239.

Neasham Belle Wins The Oaks At Epsom

EPSOM, England, June 1 (Reuters)—Neasham Belle today won the Oaks, fillies' 12-furlong classic, over Epsom Downs. Chinese Cracker was second in a field of 16 and Belle of All third.

Neasham Belle, which started at 33-1, was ridden by Sam Clayton. Owner Maj. L. B. Holliday picked up a $42,798 prize.

Bookies laid 10-1 against Chinese Cracker and 5-1 against Belle of All.

Girl 8 Holds Her Own With Best Riflemen

MONTROSE, Scotland, June 1. (Reuters) — Eight-year-old Jean Purvus prefers a gun to a doll.

She peppered the bulls eye at a contest Thursday and astounded 400 of Britain's best riflemen taking part.

Jean's father, himself a crack shot, announced she would be competing this year in the country's premier shooting event at Bisley, Surrey.

"Just to get her used to tournament shooting," he explained calmly.

So curly-haired Jean will be standing up with the best of them, firing her little sawn-down rifle over a 25-yard range.

Pair Jailed 2 Years On Forgery Charges

WINDSOR, June 1—(CP) — Two men who left a trail of more than $1,000 in worthless cheques throughout Western Ontario Thursday were sentenced to two years in penitentiary.

Arthur C. Armstrong, 39, and Norman Benoit, both of Windsor, pleaded guilty to 16 charges piled up in a five-day spree.

Other centres victimized were Essex, Harrow, Tilbury, Chatham and Wallaceburg.

The men presented cheques, each supposedly made out to a Windsor transport driver, and took the balance in cash after purchasing some small article.

Armstrong was charged with 14 counts of forgery and Benoit faced 16 charges of uttering.

Aid For Universities, Report Urges

Recommends Radio Licence Fee Be Kept At $2.50, And More Money Spent To Develop Culture

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, June 1 —(CP)—The Massey Commission on Arts today urged the government to undertake an ambitious cultural program, involving federal aid to universities, big explansion schemes in the capital and CBC control over radio and television.

If implemented, the recommendations would run into millions of dollars, but the commission made no attempt to estimate the cost.

Culture, the commission observed, cannot be obtained "cheaply." If Canadians want a more generous and better cultural fare "we must pay for it."

Probably the biggest news to the average Canadian is the commission's recommendation that the annual $2.50 radio licence fee remain unchanged. The CBC, in its brief, intimated that the fee should be boosted to $5 to meet new financial burdens.

Instead, the commission suggested that a statutory grant, fixed for five-year periods, be made by parliament to cover the difference between what the CBC needs and what it gets from licence fees, commercial programs.

The 200,000-word report, two years in the making, was tabled today in the Commons by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Greater Nationalism

It emphasized the need for a greater nationalism, a greater Canadianism to give new vitality and meaning to an "anaemic" Canadian cultural life.

Canada, it intimated, was lagging far behind other countries. "Considerable" amounts of money would be needed before she could catch up.

The country's boundaries were threatened by a more powerful, but not more desirable foreign culture—the United States.

"The American invasion by film, radio and periodical is formidable,' said the commission. While much of it was good, there were those things, especially the "crime" and "horror" type of radio programs, which were "positively harmful."

Canada was consuming American culture while her own artists, writers, dramatists, painters and others went unrecognized.

Need Nourishment

To put new nourishment into Canada's cultural soul, the five-member commission outlined about 200 recommendations, touching on ballet and philosophy, totem poles and medical research. It urged that many of them be implemented immediately, even in the face of a third world war.

"We are defending civilization, our share of it, our contribution to it," said the commission, headed by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto.

"The things with which our inquiry deals are the elements which give civilization its character and meaning. It would be paradoxical to defend something which we are unwilling to strengthen and enrich — and which we even allow to decline."

In these times of crisis, "national morale is of paramount importance." Cultural things in time of war become a "spiritual weapon." They give "meaning to our unity . . . posters and pgptalks are not enough."

Most Significant

Most significant of the recommendations was one to grant federal aid to meet the appeal of financially-stricken Canadian universities.

The commission recommended grants on the basis of provincial population, to be spread among universities in each province on a basis of student registration.

Under an integrated system of national scholarships, about 10,000 undergraduates, about one-fifth of the current university student population, would be given assistance. Loans would be available for deserving college students.

Scholarships also would be available for about 160 post-graduates, undertaking work in the natural sciences, the humanities, social sciences and law.

Urge National Library

In the field of cultural development in the capital, the commission urged that a national library be built immediately and that the National Gallery be divorced from its meagre quarters in the National Museum and given a building of its own.

The National Museum should be renamed the "Canadian Museum of Natural History" and include a representation of Canadian geology, botany, zoology and natural resources.

The report recommended more space for the public archives; that quarters be expanded and that it should begin collecting all important historical material relating to Canada.

But the commission didn't stop there. It suggested the government might later establish a historical museum and a Canadian museum of science, as well as national aquarium, botanical and zoological gardens and to give support to similar ventures in other Canadian centres.

Radio Controversy

Though the commission was unanimous about these and other recommendations, disagreement cropped up on the controversial

3,000 Police Guard Queen

Irish Demonstrators Burn Customs Hut

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, June 1 (AP)—The Queen and Princess Margaret arrived here today for a four-day visit amid general police alerts against anti-British extremists.

As the Queen and her younger daughter stepped ashore from the cruiser Sheffield, police of County Armagh searched the countryside around Cross Ma Glen for demonstrators who early today burned down the Royal customs hut there.

The hut, a large one-storey building, burned to the ground along with bales of customs records. Extremists burned down many of these huts in 1937 to protest a visit then by the King and Queen.

The demonstrators again were protesting the continued union of Northern Ireland with the Crown. They want to unite the six northern counties with the Republic of Ireland.

In Belfast some 3,000 policemen, armed with pistols, were on guard to prevent incidents. Seven miles of rope were strung around the streets to keep back the crowds along the Royal route.

Today the Queen and the Princess were to visit a big farm and factory exhibition, lunch at city hall, and attend a government garden party and dinner.

Absolve Police In Shooting

Jury Finds No Blame In Ambush Killing

TORONTO, June 1 — (CP)— An inquest jury Thursday night absolved police officers of any blame in the fatal ambush shooting April 14 of John Hunter, 30.

The jury brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide in the death of Hunter under police gunfire during what law officers described as an attempted armed robbery of Caulfield's Dairy Bar, a branch of Borden's Dairy. Two other men, Evold Fleming, 22, and Douglas Odam, were wounded in the affray and face four charges each.

Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner for Ontario, said in his summary to the jury:

"Once a man is on the downward path and becomes an armed robber, that man is a potential murderer . . . the men who protect our citizens have to protect themselves and, in my opinion, these police officers are brave young men."

While waiting for the start of the hearing, Hunter's widow, mother of two young children, screamed shrilly and twice struck the face of Detective William Whalley, one of the officers in the dairy office the night of the shooting.

Evidence was that Hunter was carrying a sawed-off, double-barrelled shotgun when the gun battle with the police broke out.

$3,000 Blaze Razes Lakefield Barn

Fire destroyed the three-storey barn of Harold Deeth, Strickland St., Lakefield, Thursday afternoon. The barn was used as an implement shed and contained no livestock. Loss is estimated at more than $3,000.

Cause of the fire is unknown. Fire Chief Allan Clark said the barn had been rewired two years ago. The blaze is believed to have started in the hay mow in the upper storey.

Mr. and Mrs. Deeth were away from home when it broke out and their son John was at school.

At one time there was danger of the flames leaping the 25 feet between the barn and the house, but Assistant Fire Chief Gordon Scriver and the volunteer brigade were able to keep them under control.

When discovered, fire had too great a hold on the building for it to be saved.

Noticed By Neighbor

Flames were first noticed at 3:20 p.m. by a neighbor, Mrs. Stanley Richardson. She turned in the alarm. High school students had previously noticed smoke coming from the direction of the Deeth property, located on the northern outskirts of the village, but they dismissed it as a grass fire.

There had been nobody in the barn, to the knowledge of the Deeths, since morning.

The barn, of wooden frame construction, was burned down to the cement foundations. Destroyed with it were a tractor, a quantity of garden tools, and other equipment.

While firemen were fighting the blaze a five-gallon drum of gasoline exploded in the basement but nobody was hurt.

To fight the fire the volunteer brigade laid 1,500 ft. of hose from a water reservoir on Queen St. The village's two pumpers were used in relay to keep up the pressure.

60 Prospectors Race To File Mine Claims

SCHREIBER, Ont., June 1 (CP) —As the first streaks of dawn brightened the northeastern sky today, 60 prospectors were poised to race 120 miles westward to Port Arthur to file claims on a lead-and-zinc property 15 miles north of here.

The race was reminiscent of the wild dashes to record mining claims during the days when prospectors were staking out the golden riches of the Porcupine and other northern fields. But it had modern touches.

Eight of the men who staked claims when the property in this area was thrown open last midnight chartered planes to speed them to mining recorder's office. However, all had to wait for daylight before "revving up" and taking off on their flight over the lake - studded rock-and-bush country to the lakehead.

The first man to register the official papers at the Ontario Mines Department office in Port Arthur can claim the property, provided his papers are faultless and that he has complied with all the technicalities, such as the one that each claim must be 20 chains square, covering 40 acres.

US Congressmen Begin Seaway Tour

DETROIT, June 1 (AP).—After a visit here a Congressional delegation touring the route of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway was off by air today on its trip.

A giant air force C-54 transport plane is speeding the delegation from here to northern Minnesota's iron ranges and on to Niagara Falls and the east.

The delegation stopped off briefly at Selfridge Field Thursday. Its itinerary sent it on to Minnesota and it was due at the Soo locks later today.

The party includes members of the House of Representatives committee on public works and army engineers. When the tour is finished the committee will make recommendations to Congress.

RED ROSE TEA IS GOOD TEA!

Jewish Religion Explained To Kinsmen Club

One of the basic principles of Judaism is its universality, Rabbi Joseph Mayer told members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting Thursday.

The speaker said that Judaism is almost unique in its attitude toward other faiths. "It teaches that adherents of other faiths have been granted by God such revelation as is not suited to them, but does not invite proselytes. It holds that the ingathering of the Gentiles will take place at God's will."

However sincere, converts to Judaism were not spurned, he explained. "Human equality" and the "Golden Rule" are Jewish fundamentals. Therefore it is not necessary to become a proselyte. For the same reason, inter-marriage without conversion is condemned, since the Jewish life becomes difficult if not impossible in a mixed home.

Personal God

The demands of Judaism, Rabbi Mayer pronounced as "belief in a personal God in revelation, and to live a Jewish life. Belief in God means the acceptance of a sentient person both transcendent and imminent. God is accessible to every creature." He added that chance, determinism and plurality of persons are excluded.

The link between an immaterial God and a material world is revelation. In Judaism, God inspires all men by means of conscience and certain men whose capacity for good was or is superior to that of their fellowmen, by revelation.

Law Changes

Tradition and progress check each other in Judaism, he said. Custom adjusts law to changed circumstances. Revelation has room for varieties of thought.

Rabbi Mayer then turned to an outline of Jewish customs and feasts, explaining the dietary laws —biblical ordinances and rabbinical precepts pronibiting certain foods from the diet of the Jew.

"At the present day, the majority of the Jewish people cling with tenacity to the dietary laws, hallowed since the days of Sinai," he concluded.

Rabbi was introduced by Dr. L. Zacks. Dr. Zacks stated that Rabbi Mayer was born and educated in Germany and had his first ministry in n1936. Later he was imprisoned with his community. He escaped to England where he became a naturalized citizen and renewed his education at Jews' College. He entered his second ministry near London. In 1948 he came to this country and since that time has lived and carried on his ministry in Peterborough.

However "our desire to be firm in support of collective security against aggression," he said, "must not lead us to lose any opportunity for honorable negotiation.

No Appeasement

"We must not confuse peace with appeasement."

Lie also advocated the creation of a "United Nations Legion" made up of volunteers drawn from those countries which were unable to set aside special national contingents for use by the UN.

He paid warm tribute to the generosity of Canada in contributing to many worthy causes sponsored by the UN in proportion to resources and population, Canada's contribution was the highest of all, he said.

Canada was the first country to commit a specific military force to back up her UN obligations. The 25th Brigade — about 7,000 men—was created for UN service. The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, which entered the Korean war in February, now are fighting as part of the brigade. Canada also has three destroyers off Korea and an RCAF transport squadron carrying out a trans-Pacific airlift.

Red China came out with a frank admission that Communist troops need more and better supplies. Peiping radio quoted a returning Communist delegation as saying Red troops need "more planes, tanks, guns, anti-aircraft guns, anti-tank guns, trucks, food" and "all kinds of modern medicines."

1 Dead, 5 Hurt In Explosion

PORT ARTHUR, June 1. (CP) —A dynamite explosion blamed on a drill striking a forgotten charge Thursday killed George Westfall, 35, and injured four other men and a woman.

Injured were N. Sodaro, both of whose legs were blown off, F. Karihitila, A. Guarasci and W. Charyne, who were working with Westfall in an excavation pit, and Mrs. John Oger, an expectant mother who was struck by a rock fragment that had been hurled three blocks.

Witnesses said Westfall was holding a pneumatic drill when it struck the dynamite.

The blast occurred in a small excavation on property owned by the Canadian Oil Company. The city had sub-contracted to dig a pit for storage tanks and the workmen were carrying on cleaning-out operations.

Chunks of rock flew seven blocks.

Four other board of works employees in the pit were uninjured.

Pension Fight Big Issue In Parliament

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP)—The war pensions' fight has blown up into the biggest parliamentary battle over veterans' legislation in the last three years and one of the biggest since the war.

It was carried to new lengths Thursday when the three parties in opposition turned two meetings of the Commons' veterans committee into more than four hours of debate concerning a government proposal to help a minority of war pensioners who can't work.

Indications in the end were that the government is liable to find itself asked one way or another to consider an across-the-board increase in war pension rates for the first time since 1948.

Thursday's fight revolved around a motion by Col. A. J. Brooks (PC-Royal) which eventually was defeated by a recorded vote, 19-1. Capt. George Cruickshank (L-Fraser Valley) joined members of the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties in supporting Col. Brooks.

The gist of the argument is this:

The government has proposed to pay war pensioners who can't work and who can't get help through war veterans allowances an "unemployability supplement" of $20 a month for single, $40 for married men.

Violation of Principle

The opposition parties, backing a stand by the Canadian Legion, see this as a violation of the principle that pensions are awarded as a right, say it introduces a means test and should not be allowed to take priority over the real issue — an across-the-board increase for all pensioners.

(Maximum pension rates are $125 a month for a 100 per cent married, childless pensioner, $90 for a 100 per cent single pensioner. The scales work on a percentage basis with a 40 per cent pensioner getting 40 per cent of the maximum rates. Officials say roughly 90 per cent of all pensioners work. An estimated 6,000 of the 162,000 pensioners would be eligible for the new supplement at once.)

Col. Brooks' motion was that consideration of the $2,000,000 vote to finance the unemployability supplement be delayed until the committee has asked the government in the Commons for wider powers to make recommendations for increases in both the scales of pensions and war veterans allowances, paid to aged and needy overseas ex-servicemen.

Once it was defeated Capt. W. J. Henderson (L-Kingston City) came up with a motion that would ask the government to consider representations made by the Legion and other veterans bodies for at least a one-third increase in pension rates. Opposition members contended it was out of order.

The chairman was considering the point at adjournment. The motion indicated that at least some Liberal members are ready to back a request for higher pensions.

Casualties Light For Canadians

ON THE KOREAN WEST CENTRAL FRONT, June 1 (Delayed) — (Reuters) — Canadian troops, drying out in the sun after their first major encounter with the Communists—in torrential rains—totted up a "balance sheet" of losses and gains today and were satisfied.

They had suffered comparatively light casualties while one company alone claimed 200 to 300 Communists killed.

The action was fought some miles north of the 38th parallel.

After an almost unopposed advance from the Eighth Army's defensive positions, they struck tough opposition from reinforced Communist elements.

Able Company came under heavy fire in a valley as they tried to capture a commanding hill.

Dog Company met mortar and machine-gun fire on the peaks as they fought on the right flank of the main body. At one stage they were covered by a strong Communist group on three sides.

200 UE Delegates To Meet Here

Some 200 delegates and observers from UE locals in Ontario and Quebec will be in Peterborough Saturday and Sunday for the quarterly district council meeting. It will be in the Empress Hotel's Kawartha Room.

A quarterly meeting is frequently held in Peterborough because the two UE locals here are collective bargaining agents for 3,900 Peterborough workers.

George Wallace, president of Local 524, and Harold Collins, president of Local 527, will be joint hosts.

Keynote of the convention will be the drive for membership.

John Pare, Canadian vice president, and Ross Russell, organizing director, will bring in reports on union business.

C. S. Jackson, Canadian president, will give an address on policy.

Saturday night the delegates will relax and have some entertainment. A dance will be held at the Brock Street Summer Gardens to which the public is invited.

less than 15 members—at least seven of them representing government departments.

The committee should review the powers of the Municipal Board and the matter of property tax exemptions, he said.

The Premier proposed that municipal representation should balance the number of government officials, and should include delegates from the Mayors and Reeves Association, the Ontario Municipal Association and the Ontario Rural Municipal Association.

"Fundamentally there has to be a reallocation of taxing powers and responsibilities on all levels of our federal, provincial and municipal governments," he said.

The government didn't intend to minister to symptoms of tax problems, Mr. Frost said, but to examine the fundamental problem and prepare a thorough, long-range remedy.

CUSTOMS CLEARED

The amount of goods which passed through the local customs house during May amounted to $709,658.11 which was nearly $100,000 more than April's total of $612,076.02. The May total also greatly exceeded the amount cleared during the same month last year, $518,634.

Municipal Taxes No Longer Meeting Costs

OWEN SOUND, June 1 (CP). —The time has come when dollars collected from property owners will not pay for necessary municipal services, A. D. Simpson, Mayor of Stratford, said today.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual conference of Ontario Mayors and Reeves, Mayor Simpson said increased costs of education, sewerage, garbage removal, and other services left no alternative but to ask for outside help.

This help should not be classed as a subsidy or a reward for progressiveness, he said. It was a responsibility that must be shouldered by Provincial and Dominion Governments because the laws they set down were directly responsible for present conditions in Ontario municipalities

Expensive Business

Mayor Simpson emphasized the cost of repairing the connecting links of provincial highways which ran through municipalities. He said it was "grossly unfair" to ask municipalities and property owners to pay for resurfacing these highways since they were being broken down by out-of-town trucks licensed to carry as much as 29 tons.

The Mayor called for more equitable distribution of gasoline tax revenue collected by the provincial government within the boundaries of the municipalities in order to pay for connecting links. Otherwise the Department of Highways should assume all or most of the total cost of constructing and maintaining these roads, he said.

Two Girls Drunk Youths Arrested

LINDSAY, June 1—A drinking bout a week ago resulted in two youths, both under 21, and two girls, one 15 and the other 17, appearing Wednesday in Lindsay court.

Seventeen - year - old Kenneth Williams, Lindsay St., was placed on probation for two years and was ordered to pay costs amounting to $17.50. He was charged with supplying liquor to minors and obtaining liquor while a minor.

The other youth, Private Allen Magee, Camp Borden, was placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay costs of $16.50. He faced a charge of supplying.

The 17-year-old girl, who was found by police early last Saturday evening unconscious in Kawartha park, was placed on probation and paid $7 costs.

The police, finding the girl in the park unconscious, summoned a doctor who reported that she was intoxicated. An investigation began and later the two youths and 15-year-old girl became involved.

The younger girl was charged under the Training School Act and the case was remanded a week.

Say Unemployed Cut By 40,900

OTTAWA, June 1 —(CP)—The ranks of Canada's unemployed dropped by 40,900 in the fortnight between mid-April and the beginning of May. The decline was recorded in all regions.

The Labor Department in a report on the current employment situation Thursday said registrations for work at national employment services offices declined to 217,500 at May 3 from 258,400 on April 19.

This was a reflection, the department said, of rapid spring increases in employment in construction, agriculture and transportation industries. The strong labor needs of defence and related industries and unusually high labor requirements in logging also were factors.

There were shortage of machine shop workers, foundry workers and aircraft sheet metal workers in both Quebec and Ontario. Slow deliveries of iron and steel interrupted shipyard employment and expansion and caused scattered lay-offs in machinery plants in Ontario. Despite these factors there was a decline in registrations in the Ontario region to 44,200 from 50,400.

Tips For Recognizing Tent Caterpillars

TORONTO, June 1 — (CP) — Nature study note for tree owners plagued with this year's outbreak of tent caterpillars:

Identification of the two types of tent caterpillars is simple. If the white stripe down the back is continuous, the pest is malacosoma Americana, the eastern tent caterpillar. If the white line is broke into spots it's malacosma disstria, the forest tent caterpillar, which doesn't build as many tents as its cousin.

Best control method, says Virginia Coulter, entomologist at the Royal Ontario Museum, is to find and kill nests of eggs during the winter. Next best, if you're too late, is DDT spray and burning torches applied to the tents.

Most birds won't give any help eating caterpillars. Robins won't touch them. But the black-billed cuckoo, says Miss Couter, is man's most enthusiastic fighter against the leaf-eating pests.

Would Continue Rent Controls

HAMILTON, June 1 —(CP)—The Ontario Federation of the Trades and Labor Congress Thursday urged continuation of rent controls in Ontario until the Province's housing shortage is solved.

The recommendation was part of a 12-point program proposed by the union group to the legislature's select committe on rent controls meeting here.

The federation, representing 200,000 members in Ontario, also urged that controls be extended to cover both new dwellings and accommodations decontrolled since 1947.

Labor should be represented on local rent tribunals, the federation said, and a fair rental should be ensured to both tenants and landlords. It recommended a ceiling of no more than one-fifth of a tenant's income.

New low-rent housing construction, as well as rent controls, was needed to meet an anticipated increase of 10,000 industrial workers in Hamilton's expanding defence production, the federation's brief said.

Stop Right Turns At Red Light

Pedestrians are often blamed for accidents on the roads. It is true that they are often to blame. They cross the road without looking, or else dodge in and out at the wrong time, causing motorists to swerve violently. Nevertheless we feel that the present regulations do not give the pedestrian a fair deal. He wishes to cross the road at a busy intersection. He must wait until the light on the opposite side turns green. So far, so good. The light turns green. The pedestrian tries to cross the road, only to find his way blocked by a car turning. So long as cars were not allowed to turn at all at intersections the problem would not exist. They must be allowed to turn under certain circumstances, but this should be more strictly controlled.

* * *

Under the present regulations a car is allowed to turn to the right or left when the green light is visible. At certain busy intersections (George and Charlotte Streets in Peterborough, for example) cars are not allowed to turn left. If the red light is showing a car is not allowed to proceed forward, but it may turn to the right only, so long as it has been brought to a halt at the intersection and the driver ensures that the road is free of pedestrians. More often than not cars that turn right when the light is red do not trouble to stop at all and expect pedestrians to leap for safety (steel is harder than flesh, and the battle is to the strong).

* * *

It is time that turning to the right at the red light should be prohibited here, as it is in the States and in every European country that we know. It is confusing to visitors from other countries, and Canadian drivers, unaware of the prohibition in other countries, can get themselves into serious trouble through ignorance of it. There is little use in changing our road signs to correspond with those in the U.S. if we continue to retain this practice.

Religion On The Air

Strong criticism of religious broadcasts was voiced in the synod of the Anglican diocese of Toronto on Wednesday. One member stated that a minister had prayed for a girl with crinkly hair who wanted curly hair. Another member, Canon J. E. Ward, gave his opinion as follows: "This stuff about spreading the Kingdom of God by the best commercial methods is about 50% bunk. It's like trying to make love to your best girl over the telephone." Other speakers expressed disquiet at the poor quality of the broadcasts.

We are afraid that these strictures are only too true in many cases. Serious-minded people are alienated by the crude sensationalism, tawdry music and the intellectual emptiness of much broadcast religion. The first Christians were in many instances "simple people," that is to say, single-hearted, but they were no fools, as anyone who has ploughed diligently through the involved arguments of the Pauline epistles will be the first to say. Many of them were poor, but they were deeply versed in the Old Testament as well as being steeped in Hellenistic culture.

Christianity is not a patent medicine, and those who try to "sell" it by the same means are on the wrong track. By all means let us have religious broadcasts. There are many that are inspiring. They are a comfort to the sick and bedridden. It is a pity that there are too many cases of blatant appeals to the lower instincts wrapped up in religious clothes; they tend to discredit religion as a whole in the minds of many.

The Kingsmere Ruins

Canada is poorly supplied with ruins, the majestic ruins of old abbeys and castles that dot the landscape of Europe. When a building has outlived its purpose it is usually torn down to make room for a new one. There are, of course, the disused shacks that one sees from time to time in the country, but a really good ruin must be made of something more durable than wood, something that confers on the ruin a nobility that the original building may never have possessed.

The late Prime Minister Mackenzie King had the right idea. If there were no ruins it was necessary to invent them. He acquired stone work from various sources such as the old Parliament building, the British House of Commons, the Ottawa branch of the old Bank of British North America and the Ottawa residence of a former Premier of Quebec, and had them re-erected in the grounds of his country home at Kingsmere in picturesque groupings. Doubtless the building of the Bank of British North America in its heyday was a hideous piece of Bankers' Renaissance, but the entrance, set apart like a triumphal arch in pleasing wooded surroundings, has an air of dignity and beauty.

There is something eighteenth century about sham ruins. Eccentric English country gentlemen suffering from an overdose of Sir Walter Scott's novels erected them in their grounds for their own private joy and delectation. They could also show them to their guests and laugh secretly when they took them to be genuine. By all means let us have more of them—so long as they are mock ruins.

Forest Fires Caused By Spontaneous Combustion?

The dreadful hazard of forest fires is once again with us, and we are being urged, quite rightly, by the authorities to be especially careful when we venture into the woods not to drop cigarette ends, to extinguish camp fires and to avoid dropping lighted matches. There is no doubt that serious fires can be started in this way if circumstances are favourable to combustion. The public as a whole has been thoroughly educated in this matter. There will always be a few careless people who thoughtlessly endanger lives and property by omitting proper precautions, but broadly speaking most campers and tourists are fire-conscious.

We wonder how many forest fires are caused by spontaneous combustion? At this season of the year it must be very hard to start a fire with lush green vegetation on all sides—later on in the year it is a different story. Decaying undergrowth sodden with rain can cause fires. It would be of interest to know what proportion of the blame for forest fires can be attributed to this cause? We invite our readers to offer their opinions, and if they believe that spontaneous combustion is an important contributory cause what measures if any could be taken towards minimizing the risk from that quarter?

We Acknowledge The Compliment

A number of hard things are said about the press, some of them true, others not so true or else widely off the mark. We do not indulge in tears of self-pity every time that we are used as somebody else's whipping-boy; pressmen have had to develop hard and horny carapaces in order to survive. We have been at times described as venal, trivial, sensational, gin-sodden and irresponsible. In countries less happy than our own these vague accusations have been considered sufficient pretext to muzzle us or send us off to Siberia—such a bracing climate!

Though in the course of years we have become inured to mud-slinging we still respond with pathetic eagerness to a pat on the back. Our latest bouquet comes from Sir Cecil Weir, chairman of the United Kingdom Dollars Export Board. Sir Cecil occupies a key position in Britain's effort at economic recovery; thus his words carry considerable weight. He singles out the Canadian press for a special word of praise in a recent statement. Without the aid of newspapers, he says, his task and the policies of Britain's government would have been almost impossible. Canadian newspapers, in addition to the presentation of United Kingdom products in their advertising space, had led in fostering public realization that only by purchasing British could Canada sell to Britain. Today, he continued, British trade names, thanks to their constant appearance in newspapers, had become household standbys in Canada.

A statement from the office of Mr. Pearson, Minister for External Affairs, underlines the improvement in Anglo-Canadian trade, for which the press has been so largely responsible. Next year Canada expects to export half as much again to the United Kingdom as she exported last year, according to the U.K. import programme from Canada. This means more jobs, more markets and more money for Canadians. It is a direct result of increased Canadian purchases from the United Kingdom. Britain has a high name for the quality of her goods the world over, and now that she is paying more attention than heretofore to the special needs of her overseas markets in the matter of prompt delivery, attractive packaging and adaptation to local conditions, not to speak of competitive prices, there can be little hesitation in recommending British goods to the discerning Canadian buyer. In cases where the high quality is not maintained the press does not feel itself hindered by sentimental considerations from stating the facts. We are accustomed to high standards and cannot be treated as a dumping-ground for inferior goods. The British realize this, and are making every effort to send us goods of high quality. So long as this continues we shall continue to play our part in fostering Anglo-Canadian trade to the mutual benefit of both countries.

An old timer assures us that fifty years ago women never thought of doing some of the things they do today. That is undoubtedly why they did not do them.

Russian Ally Or Kremlin Puppet?

By O. M. GREEN

THE crushing defeat of Mao Tse-tung's fifth and greatest offensive in Korea can hardly fail to be a crucial test of Russo-Chinese relations, with consequent influence on the Korean war. Undoubtedly many people, not only in America, agree with the recent statement by Mr. Dean Rusk (United States Assistant Secretary of State) that the Peking regime may be "a colonial Russian Government—a Slavic Manchukuo on a larger scale." But all available evidence is against this interpretation of Soviet-Chinese relations.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN the Chinese Communist Party was formed in 1921, the writings of Lenin and Stalin showed clearly that their aim was to use China to attack the West through Western possessions in Asia. But soon after Chiang Kai-shek's breach with the Communists in 1927, Japan's aggressiveness in Manchuria, Mongolia and China became the chief preoccupation of the Soviet, and for 19 years Moscow did nothing to help the Chinese Communists. On the contrary in the first year or two of Japan's invasion all their help was given to Chiang Kai-shek.

✧ ✧ ✧

AFTER 1946, however, this policy was revised. The way was made easy for the Communists to establish themselves in Manchuria and to collect the huge stores of Japanese arms there. The subsequent Communist victories were hailed by Soviet writers as proof of the essential rightness of the Lenin-Stalin policy and as an important stage in the furthering of the proletarian revolt in South-East Asia.

✧ ✧ ✧

LET us now consider the present position of the Chinese Communists, numbers of whom have been trained in Moscow. Of the three principal Communist leaders, Mao Tse-tung appears always to have been faithful to the Cominform line and to take Marxism-Leninism as his bible. "Internationally we belong to the anti-imperialist front headed by the Soviet Union" he wrote in 1949, "and we must rely on the genuinely friendly help of this front." Liu Shao-chi, second most powerful figure after Mao, declared to the W.F.T.U. (Communist-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions) Conference in Peking in November 1950, that "all Soviet States and parties must unite in military formation under Soviet leadership."

✧ ✧ ✧

THE belief once prevalent that Chou En-lai, the Chinese Premier, was "of milder mood" than his fellows has scarcely been borne out by events. One may recall that admiration for Russia was a strong influence in his joining the Communists as a 22 year old youth in Paris. In general the Chinese Communist Party has drawn its inspiration from Moscow and followed the line of uniting its efforts with the Soviet's in the common war on imperialism. But this does not necessarily mean its blind acceptance of Moscow's orders.

✧ ✧ ✧

A CURIOUS report has lately been put about by Mao Tse-tung's friends that he had never read Stalin's works until 1942 when they were first available in Chinese, and then he found that by independent thinking, based on the writings of Marx and Engels, he had arrived at the same conclusions as Stalin. In other words, Mao is held up as the mental equal of Stalin, not his pupil. Whether this is true or not, it may be recalled that Mao comes from Hunan, the province of China which has always most resented outside control.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER point not to be overlooked is the marked difference between China and the Satellite States in Europe. The latter are an entirely artificial creation of Russia's. But in China the whole work has been done unaided by the Communists themselves, from far-off days when Mao, Chou En-lai and others began by organizing unions and teaching Marxism among the peasants and urban workers. That is something which Chinese pride will not forget if ever it comes to a clash of wills with Moscow.

✧ ✧ ✧

LASTLY, why did Mao have to stay in Moscow negotating the Sino-Soviet treaty for two months from December 16, 1949, until February 14, 1950, and to send for Chou En-lai half-way through the bargaining, if the relation of Peking with the Kremlin was only that of pupil to master? The closeness of the Russo-Chinese association is obvious. It is useful to the Chinese Communists politically and also as a means of borrowing technical experts. But the Chinese have never voluntarily accepted foreign dictation; and although it is improbable that Mao went into Korea without a full understanding with Russia, no other conclusion is possible than he acted as an ally, not as a puppet.

✧ ✧ ✧

NOW that China finds it not so easy to drive the United Nations forces from Korea, the next stage in Korea becomes of intense interest. As an ally, China is in a position to make stiff demands on Russia. She has to save her "face"; her prestige in Asia and her own plans for internal progress are at stake. On Russia's reply may depend whether the Communists' defeat leads to far graver dangers in Korea or becomes the first stage towards peace.

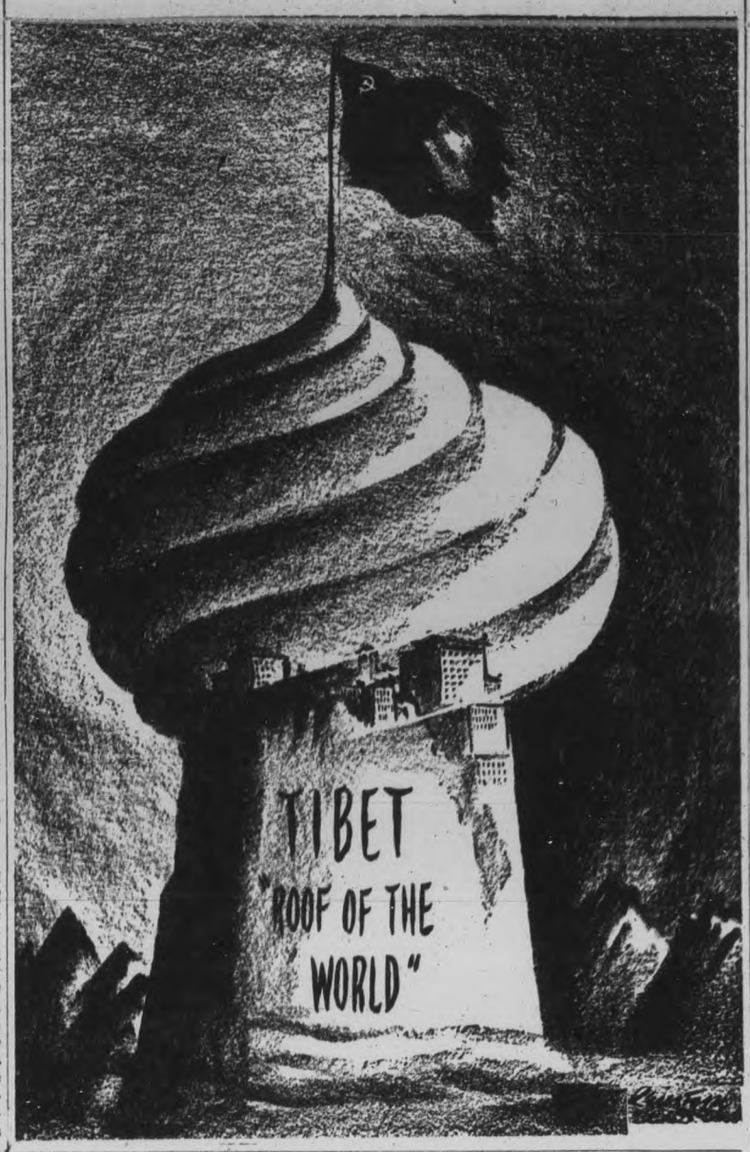
Naughty

(Dispatch from Nottingham, England)

Cleopatra, whose swaying hips and roving eyes excited a lot of men and irked a lot of women way back in 88 B.C. is still at it. The sloe-eyed beauty of the Nile, and former Egyptian queen, who harmed Julius Caesar and Marc Antony among others, had been scheduled to quiver her way through a festival pageant—"Women Through the Ages"—which Nottingham will present this summer.

The red-hot question raised Wednesday was whether history's ladies of dubious morals should be portrayed alongside such figures as Florence Nightingale and Nurse Edith Cavell.



A decision on the matter will be taken by the pageant committee next week.

Miss Nellie Smith, 48-year-old author and producer of the pageant, declared, "Both sides must be shown or I resign."

Miss Emily Roseblade, head of the most powerful women's organization in town, retorted icily: "Cleopatra has no place beside the good women."

The men of Nottingham kept out of the argument.

Where Are The Baked Beans?

By BON VIVANT

BOSTON.—Family affairs having decreed that I should visit the metropolis of the New England states, it pains me to report that Boston is no longer the home of the baked bean. I doubt very much whether it is as strong on cod as the jingle

"A wonderful city is Boston,
The home of the bean and the cod;
Where Lowells spoke only to Cabots,
And Cabots spoke only to God."

would have one believe. My travelling companion, seeking no doubt to sate his appetite with native foods, did order beans, and was coldly refused. I think his nerve failed him when it came to the cod question, and he lived exclusively on banana splits. These were the largest, and the most expensive samples of this confection I have ever seen.

The United States is a wonderful country. I can personally report they have more freight vans to the mile than any place else in the world. I know this because these leviathans, travelling at high speeds, scared the wits out of me on more than one curve. I can also report that if you are going to Boston, shun route No. 20. After driving for hours on this route, after leaving Albany, I began looking for the spires of Boston. Imagine my horror when I discovered I had covered only 37 miles. Of course it was through the mountains, so perhaps some allowance should be made. The recommended route, followed by all knowledgable New England pathfinders, is route No. 2.

I ALSO discovered on my tour, and to my sorrow, that the Truman-MacArthur question is a lively one. In fact a very mild defence of President Truman, made while restoring my worn tissues in a cocktail lounge in Amsterdam, the carpet capital of the Mohawk Valley, so aroused one motherly soul, loaded to the gills—with patriotism, that she went about the place trying to induce some clean-cut American boy to pop me in the eye. Fortune, however, favoured the visiting delegate, and I escaped without this little attention.

One of the highlights of the tour was the procurement of a flashlight. My companion, who had been elected navigator, found his bi-focals unable to cope with the dimmish light as night began to fall, and close checking on the map was required. A flashlight seemed the solution, so we set about getting one. Service stations didn't have them, general stores were just out, although they did offer the suggestion they had heard a fellow down the road a piece had some. It turned out he didn't.

Finally, in desperation, we stopped in a small village, and entered the only lighted business place to be seen, hoping to get a lead on a flashlight. This emporium was the local tonsorial parlor, and wonder of wonders, displayed a wide choice of the desired article. Now I don't suppose finding a flashlight in a barber shop is not to be expected, but it did strike me as somewhat unusual. With this useful addition to our Boy Scout compass, a 1906 guide to the Alleghenies and our map we felt much safer.

ONE of the things upon which I made a close check was prices. With our budget still green in my memory, this seemed a useful bit of knowledge to acquire. Among things I noted were household appliances. Considerably less than in Canada, even before the new taxes. Radios, television sets, and the like, were displayed in profusion, and even sets with what appeared to my untutored eye to be very large screens were priced, in the table models, well below $200.

Men's clothes appeared to be about the same price as they are here. I can't say anything about those displayed for the ladies, as to price, but from what I did observe they appeared to be made of snappier materials, and to offer a wider choice of styles. Food, however, was very much higher than in Canada. And—dare I mention the horrid word—liquor, was also higher than here. A popular brand of rye, selling in Ontario for $4.50, was priced at $5.50. It tasted much the same, and I presume had the same effect, if taken in sufficient dosage.

I STOPPED in Brockton, which was once the shoe centre of the New England states, but has retrogressed of late years due to labour troubles, I was told. Here, very good looking shoes for both sexes were extremely reasonable in price. I also was told, and saw signs advertising the fact, that shoes classed as factory rejects, can be bought for $3.00 and $4.00 a pair. I had a chance to examine some of these shoes, and so far as I could see there wasn't a thing wrong with them.

I repeat, the United States is a wonderful country, but suffers from one great fault, too many people. Evidences of great wealth are apparent on every side, especially in the New England states, but the number of motor cars on the road is appalling. We followed a six lane turnpike for 40 miles from Worcester to Boston, and only once were we able to get over 40 miles per hour, and that for only a brief stretch.

WE were also somewhat baffled by the quaint system of highway signs. Apparently the business district in the towns around Boston is designated as "centre". We carefully avoided the signs directing us to the place for which we were headed which had centre tacked on the end. We found, to our chagrin, on arrival, the place we wanted was two blocks from the business section, or centre, we had been carefully avoiding for two hours, under the impression it was an entirely different place.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man: but every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. (James 1: 12-14.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. (Matt. 26: 41.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever. (I John 2: 15-17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The fear of the Lord tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil. (Prov. 19: 23.)

Letter To The Editor

FEELS SHAME FOR PRESS

Sir: I'm sorry that you found it necessary to sully the pages of the Examiner with an account of the forthcoming divorce of Rita Hayworth and the Ali-Khan: On whom be peace. We realize of course that you must print the news as you find it: But couldn't you please put it in some small corner where no one would see it? We all realize of course that through the press these egotistical people are getting all the free publicity they so badly crave. People that mock and scoff at all we hold dear. Marriage and purity in the home. Women that regard their past husbands as an Indian regards the scalps around his belt. Men that regard women as mere playthings to be had at ten a penny. Fix it so that we can look up to the press and not feel ashamed when the paper-boy comes around.

Fanaticism

(Bertrand Russell in The New York Times)

Fanaticism consists in believing that some one thing is more important than everything else put together. Suppose you believe, like the Seventh-Day Adventists, that the Sabbath ought to be observed on Saturday, not on Sunday; you may be right or you may be wrong; in any case, your belief does not in itself make you a fanatic. But suppose you judge everyone by his opinion on this one subject; suppose that, at election time, you are willing to vote for a militarist or a pacifist, a Conservative or a Socialist, provided he agrees with you about this one matter of the Sabbath: in that case you are a fanatic.

Every one who has ever stood for Parliament knows how many kinds of fanatics there are: anti-vivisectionists, anti-vaccinationists, prohibitionists, those who hold that the British are the Lost Ten Tribes, and believers in the Great Pyramid and its Divine Message. I call these people fanatics only if the views of a candidate on the one issue that interests them determine their votes.

Change Of Heart

(Bertrand Russell in The New York Times)

Some people will tell you that all would be well if we all underwent a change of heart. I think this is quite true, but it is not a very useful truth, since we do not know how to bring about such a change of heart. St. Francis of Assisi, who disliked the wars between Christians and Moslems, visited the Sultan in the hope of converting him, but—alas—the Sultan remained a Mohammedan. George Lansbury visited Hitler to expain how much better things were managed in Poplar than in Prussia, but Hitler remained a Nazi. And I fear that if a Western saint were to visit Stalin, the Marshal would not change his opinions one jot.

War Over Juliet's Bed Ended By Two Rival Cities

By CESARE BRUSINI.

VERONA, Italy, June 1 (AP).—The war between Verona and Vicenza over the theft of the bed of Juliet comes to an end this month.

The two rival cities have been on armed guard for a year or more, ever since a group from Verona stole Juliet's bed, a tourist drawing card at the mediaeval castle of Montecchi, near Vicenza.

The thieves—later identified as university students from Verona—left a note where the bed of Juliet had been. It said.

"I am fed up with spending my vacations on this hard alcove. Romeo, too, complains all the time of such hardship. Therefore—we return to Verona. Distinguished salutations."

The note written on a scroll, was signed in Gothic: "Giulietta Capuleti."

This was a climax in the war which had lasted for centuries, ever since William Shakespear made famed the "Lovers of Verona" who actually happened to be born in nearby Vicenza — if they ever were born at all.

Verona Celebrates

The abduction of Giulietta's bed led to a number of celebrations—in Verona at least. "Juliet is completely ours now" was the comment heard in the ancient city hall square. "She can sleep back home again, her bed is here. Boo! to the ugly Vicentine . . ."

There was a lull in the war while the Vicentini carefully prepared their counter-stroke. One night they entered Verona, broke into a local castle, stole the coat of arms of Mastino Della Scala—a prominent Veronese citizen and one of the city heroes.

Then the first talks of peace started. Finally an agreement was reached. In Romeo and Juliet's time Romeo had been an exile in Mantua not far off. Why, then, not choose Mantua for the exchange of the "war" booty?

Mantua will greet the delegations of the two rival towns. The booty will be returned — the Vicentine will have back their bed and the Veronese their coat of arms.

MOMENT OF PEACE — A group of GIs, tired after a running pursuit of the Chinese Reds under the hot Korean sun, rests against a house still standing by the roadside. The weapons on the ground in the foreground are Russian-made "potato masher" hand grenades, left behind by the fleeing Reds.

WHITBY, June 1. (CP)—Mrs. M. H. Page of Toronto, charged wth cruelty to 63 purebred dogs, said in court Thursday that she would have been constantly with the animals could she have found living accommodation near their kennels. The dogs were found locked in a barn at nearby Pickering. The Toronto Humane Society charged Thursday that the dogs were kept without food and water for more than 36 hours at a time. The case was adjourned for one week.

Hotel Clerk Gives Bing Crosby Brush-off But Bellhop Comes To Rescue, Saves Day

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP) Bing Crosby left town Thursday leaving behind an embarrassed night clerk at a downtown hotel and a happy bellhop.

The bellhop solved Bing's troubles after he had been given the brush-off at the desk on his arrival Tuesday night.

The clerk didn't recognize groaner Crosby—unshaven and dressed in a leather jacket and cheap dungarees—and told him no rooms were available.

It was the radio star's vacation dress—he has been on a month-long holiday from Hollywood—that caused all the trouble.

He had started for the door when bellhop Ray Morrison recognized him, heard his troubles and started him via the freight elevator to the seventh floor.

Morrison fixed things on his own, disregarding the night clerk, and soon had Bing and his producer, Bill Morrow, lodged in two rooms along with nine pieces of baggage.

Bing is known as the "tipping man" and the bellhop wasn't sorry.

Lakefield To Ask County To Issue School Debentures

LAKEFIELD, June 1 (ENS)—Lakefield wants the county council to issue debentures covering the cost of building the new Lakefield and District High School.

The idea is that the county, because of its credit standing, can issue debentures at less cost than the smaller municipalities.

Councillors Ken Jakins and Al Fraser, movers of the resolution, also requested that the other interested municipalities write to the county council urging the county to issue the debentures.

Councillor Ken Morris was against the proposal. He thought the village was shirking its responsibility by handing over the debenture issue to the county council.

Reeve Grant said that when Lakefield made the agreement the county council did not have the authority to issue debentures for this purpose.

Although the county would float the debentures only the municipalities in the high school area would be levied.

Petes Take Fourth Ball Win For Firm Grip On Top Spot

Racking up their fourth win in as many starts, this time over Staffords 5-2 in Toronto last night, the Petes took a firmer grip on first place in the Viaduct Major League. In the second half of the twin bill, Ed Whitehill's crew bunched blows better to earn the duke in seven stanzas. On earned runs it should have been 3-2 with the visitors leaving 10 men stranded to nine for Staffs.

Nobby Clarke pitched four-hit ball and fanned five but was relieved in the fifth when he hit a wild streak to walk home a run. Bill Edger went good in a relief role, allowing but one safety, though Nobby got credit for the win, his second to date. They were given air-tight support all through, with a Denofrio-Plato-Stewart double-play a defensive highlight. The losers booted four. Lefty Barnes replaced Red Severnuk on the home hill to start the seventh.

Led the Hitters

George Brabin led the winners at bat with a double and single in three tries, Johnny Denofrio hitting a two-bagger and single in four, and Fred Plato driving in three runs with two timely singles in four trips to the platter. Joe Stewart got the other hit. Hosking clicked for two blows in three to stop Staffords at bat, and Stephens got two for four, Hayes having a single. They got no extra-base blows.

Staffords scored a run in the first chukker when Stephens singled to left, moved up on a hit by Hayes and raced around on a single by Sheretko. Their other marker came in the fifth on four straight walks to Hayes, Hosking, Sheretko and Stoneburg. Apart from these two innings, the Toronto team only once got a runner as far as second.

Two runs tallied for the Petes in the fourth on a double to left by Denofrio, a single by Plato, a miscue by the pitcher and Brabin's clutch clout. They added a brace next time up on walks to Lowrey and Huntley, a steal by Joe, a wild pitch to advance the runners, and a timely thump by Plato to centre. The final tally came in the sixth when Stewart singled off third, was sacrificed by Brabin, took third on a wild pitch and raced home on an error in left field. They threatened in every inning but the first. The box score;

Dutch Houtz Shuts Out Montreal 1-0

By The Associated Press.

Dutch Houtz, Syracuse left-hander, is doing his best to keep Montreal from running away with the International League race.

The 26-year-old veteran ended Montreal's nine-game win streak with a neat 1-0 victory. In addition to shutting out the Royals with five singles, Houtz had a hand in the only run of the game. A walk, sacrifice, Houtz' infield single and Augie Bergamo's single did the job in the fifth. It was Clarence Podbielan's third loss.

Houtz walked seven but left 11 stranded as Syracuse scooted past Rochester into second place by one percentage point. The Chiefs trail the leaders by seven full games.

Although Montreal's winning ways ended, Springfield continued on its dreary losing streak. Toronto handed the Chicago Cub farmhands their 10th straight loss 5-2. Johnny Ostrowski drove in two runs with a double in the three-run fourth inning off loser Bert Ilaminni. Irv Medlinger, down from St. Louis Browns, was the winner.

Edges Rochester

Ottawa knocked Rochester out of second place by coming from behind for a 6-5 edge. Bob Habenicht, after his fifth win, was knocked out in the seventh when Rochester's 5-0 lead shrunk to 5-4. Stan Jok's homer, two errors and a stolen base gave Ottawa two runs and the game in the eighth. Fred Gerken was the winner.

Buffalo continued its surge toward the first division now just a half game away, by bombing Baltimore 13-4. The Bisons scored 10 runs in the fourth when 13 went to bat. The first 10 men up scored with nobody out. George Moskovich added the final blow with a three-run homer. Fred Hancock and Arch Wilson also homered for Buffalo and Howie Moss for Baltimore.

Have Eye On Prize

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP).—When the Canadian open starts July 4 at Toronto Mississauga, Vancouver's two top professional golfers will be shooting for a chunk of the $15,000 prize money. Fred Wood, pro at Shaughnessy, said Thursday he will join Stan Leonard, Canadian professional champion, in the open. Leonard will later defend his Canadian PGA title at Hamilton.

HIS NAME is Arctic Prince but he was no frigid flyer in the Epsom Derby. Here he is cantering home by himself for an easy win. It was an all-Irish victory as the three money horses were all bred in Ireland, and the owner, Big Joe McGrath, is from Ireland. Horses behind Arctic Prince are (left to right), Sybil's Nephew, second; Signal Box, third; and Le Tyrol, fourth.

King Favored To Take Savoie In Fight

TORONTO, June 1 (CP). — L'il Arthur King and Armand Savoie are ready for a Monday fight that Toronto expects to be the best here in years and likely to clarify the Canadian lightweight picture.

For King, 23-year-old Toronto Negro who holds the British Empire crown and lost the Canadian crown only because of inaction, the fight brings him back to his starting place.

It means to slugging Savoie of Montreal, as well as King, a possible go at the world crown which changed hands recently when Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., lost an upset decision to James Carter in New York.
